House of Representatives Letter of Intent for Senate Bill 216

“It is the intent of the House of Representatives that Bridge #503, which crosses the Gerstle River on the Alaska Highway, and was designated as the Black Veterans Recognition Bridge by Chapter 42, SLA 93, be also concurrently recognized as a historical monument honoring the contributions of the 93rd, 94th, 95th, 97th Battalions and 388th Regiment, commonly referred to as the “Black Engineer Corps”. Because of the significant contributions to the construction of the 1,522 mile long Alaska Highway during World War II by these soldiers, it is our intent that the Black Veterans Recognition Bridge be recognized as a significant point on the Purple Heart Trail on the Alaska Highway.”

Sponsor Statement SB 216: Purple Heart Trail

The Purple Heart medal is a United States military decoration awarded in the name of the President to those who have been wounded or killed in service to their country. SB 216 seeks to recognize and honor recipients by establishing a Purple Heart Trail in Alaska.

The Purple Heart Trail is a national project to designate portions of the interstate highway system as "The Purple Heart Trail System", reminding Americans of the sacrifices made by their men and women in uniform. The original Purple Heart Trail was established in the Commonwealth of Virginia at Mt. Vernon and runs the length of the Virginia Highway.

Today, the Purple Heart Trail extends across the nation. Signage drawing attention to the designation is placed at appropriate intervals along the highways to stimulate thought and discussion among adults and children alike in contemplating the history of this nation, and those who have sacrificed for it.

Alaska's participation in this national effort is long overdue. We have a strong military tradition; an estimated 73,000 resident veterans, approximately 25,000 active duty military, and more serving in the National Guard. In recent months, many returning Alaskan soldiers have been honored with the Purple Heart Medal.

The Alaska Highway, completed during World War II by the US Army to serve as a supply route, is an apt choice for the designation as "Purple Heart Trail System". Signs designating the Purple Heart Trail will be seen by both visitors and residents alike and will demonstrate that Alaska recognizes and honors the sacrifices made by our wounded and fallen soldiers.

Please join me in supporting the establishment of a Purple Heart Trail in Alaska.

Subject: Letter of Support

Dear Senator Ellis:

The purpose of this letter is to express our unconditional support of the initiative of Chapter 593 of the Military Order of the Purple Heart to secure Alaska's participation in the National Purple Heart Trail System. The idea of designating major highways as portions of a National Purple Heart Trail originated in Virginia in 1992. Since that time, the trail has extended with designations across much of the Lower 48.

The Interstate Highway System, seen as a tangible symbol of our freedom -- the ability to get up and go anywhere, anytime -- provides an opportunity for a visible and poignant reminder of the sacrifices of Americans who have shed blood to protect our freedom. For those states that participate in this trail system, a simple highway designation with appropriate signage does just that.

Given the significant military population in our Great State and the many thousands of veterans who make Alaska home, we see our participation in this program as both a fitting tribute to serving military and our veterans and as an important reminder of their service and sacrifice. To all who travel Alaska's stretch of the Purple Heart Trail, our participation in this designation program says we recognize the sacrifice, we care about those who do and have served our country and we remember freedom is not free.

We strongly encourage your support of this important initiative.

Senator Johnny Ellis
Representative Don Young
Representative Berta Gardner

We are proud to offer our strong support for Alaska to be a part of the "Purple Heart Trail". We think its simple visible message is well deserved by those who bravely gave so much of themselves in defending this nation.

This worthy project can be of great benefit to our community and the State of Alaska. We believe that those who see the signs will have a better understanding of the sacrifices made by those who wear the Purple Heart. We believe that the traveling public, whether Alaskans or visitors, will realize that we care about our wounded veterans. We further believe that the signs will bear witness that we in Alaska not only care about our wounded veterans, but we are willing to put forth the effort to visibly display our deepest fondness for their sacrifice.

Many who travel our roads will surely know or be related to a wounded veteran or a veteran who lost their life in defense of our nation. The warm feeling they obtain will certainly be in their minds as they traverse the roads of our great state. By showing them we care we can instill a kind Alaskan memory of their travels, and hopefully we will see them again.

Be it known to all that the community of TOK Alaska will be proud to be part of the Purple Heart Trail. We support it and we encourage all Alaskans to support it as well.

Sincerely yours,

Speaker Harris and President Green,

I am writing to express my support for Alaska House Bill 283, the Purple Heart Trail Act and the version introduced into the Alaska State Senate, SB 216 and to urge the legislature pass this bill and create a Purple Heart Trail in our state.

Over 20 states have seen fit to designate some portion of their road system as the Purple Heart Trail and place signs with replica Purple Hearts along the roads. These signs would honor those veterans who have earned a Purple Heart and would help to bring their heroic actions and sacrifices to the attention of Alaskans.

Alaska has the highest number of veterans per capita of any state, with an estimated 73,000 veterans that call our state home. Those veterans, along with the active duty military that serve in our state and the members of the Alaska National Guard deserve all the recognition they can get. Designating the Alaska Highway and a portion of the Richardson Highway as the Purple Heart Trail would be an appropriate way to honor the many Alaskans that have earned a Purple Heart and the many others that have served our country in the Military.

Please consider passing either HB 283 or SB 216 this session and honoring those who have done so much for our country.

Sincerely,

DON YOUNG

I want to personally thank each and everyone one of you for taking the time out of your busy workload to work on the Purple Heart Trail issue (SB216/HB283). I have sort of made this a personal crusade and I have been working hard on this issue for about a year now. It is a real joy to see it moving forward in the legislative process. I can assure you that Alaska veterans are gaining a sincere and larger appreciation for the work that you "our Juneau supporters" are putting forth for veterans. Please continue with your caring efforts and don't let them down.

Representative Gardner and Senator Ellis have gone out of their way to help me get this going and I am so very appreciative for their devoted assistance. I want to extend that appreciation to those of you who now have this issue before you and I want to thank you in advance for your future endeavors on behalf of our wounded combat vets.

I firmly believe that the Purple Heart Trail will do two things: one it will establish a visible honor for "ALL" wounded and deceased combat veterans, and two it will provide visual proof to all who travel the Purple Heart Trail that Alaska not only cares but that we show we care.

The Purple Heart Trail already exists in 42 other states as well as Guam. I just want Alaska to be part of something very special. I submit that the many Alcan travelers who see these signs, and know or be related to someone who was killed or wounded in battle, will be very appreciative to Alaska for showing that we care.

On behalf of our wounded combat vets I thank you for your support and I anxiously await the day this important legislation is passed in Juneau.

20 wounded soldiers receive Purple Heart

Twenty with combat injuries honored for 'warrior spirit'

Twenty Purple Heart medals rested in the serving tray Tuesday while 19 Fort Richardson-based soldiers wounded in Iraq stood at attention as best they could -- some leaning on canes, one missing a leg, a few with injuries to the head.

One by one the medals were pinned on their chests by Maj. Gen. Stephen Layfield, the senior Army commander in Alaska, who sternly told about 200 onlookers to "never ever miss the chance to say thank you" to the men -- all of whom are members of the 4th Brigade Combat Team (Airborne), 25th Infantry Division.

The ways they were injured were as varied as their wounds. Some were riding in vehicles that were blasted apart by projectiles. Some were hit by roadside bombs. Some were walking on patrols and shot by unseen snipers.

But Staff Sgt. Chad LeBlanc, of Anchorage, may have had the most unusual tale to tell. He was stationed at an outpost south of Baghdad and was just preparing to lie down for the night inside his "can" -- a small mobile trailer just large enough for two bunks -- when he heard the sound of mortar fire outside.

Sticking his head out the door, LeBlanc just had time to see a mortar blast into a neighboring trailer -- one that was usually occupied by his buddy, Sgt. 1st Class Joshua Ferguson, who just then was away on leave in Alaska.

Shrapnel from the blast hit LeBlanc in the stomach and limbs and burnt his face and arms. Before falling into shock, he managed to find help.

"I ran about 25 meters to where the medics were and laid down on the ground and told them what happened," he recalled. "Then they put me on a helicopter, I went to Baghdad -- and that was it."

In an operating room, doctors removed 14 pieces of shrapnel from LeBlanc's arm and a big chunk from his side. The shrapnel that entered his stomach had to be removed through his back -- an operation that has since made the 32-year-old Alaskan less mobile.

He knows it could have been worse. He could have been inside the trailer that took the direct hit -- Ferguson's trailer. As it happened, however, his buddy didn't make it through their deployment unscathed either.

Returning to their unit -- a team within the 425th Brigade Special Troops Battalion that trains Iraqi army forces -- Ferguson was badly wounded about five weeks later when his vehicle was struck by an armor-piercing projectile.

The blast tore up his lower legs and shattered his left knee. Ultimately the leg would have to be amputated. On Tuesday, Ferguson was standing in the ranks with the other Purple Heart recipients, supported by a cane and a prosthetic leg.

"I set a record getting out of Walter Reed (Medical Center) for an amputee," Ferguson said, noting how anxious he was to return to Fort Richardson and his family. Now he's hoping to remain in the military -- he's served 11 years so far -- and in Alaska.

"If I could stay here until I retire in nine years, that would be perfect," he said.

Spc. William Swails, a native of Rockingham, N.C. -- who received his second Purple Heart on Tuesday after suffering shrapnel wounds to his hand and arm -- is hoping to remain on active duty in Alaska too. His wife, Chastity, is currently enrolled in the nursing program at the University of Alaska Anchorage.

Spc. Justin Tauriainen, who grew up in Anchorage -- and returned by motor home to a large throng of friends and family greeting him at the Muldoon overpass last week -- received a Purple Heart as well.

On May 21, his armored engineer vehicle was struck by "multiple IEDS," the improvised explosive devices his unit was charged with removing. Tauriainen, 23, sustained shrapnel wounds to his head, back, hands and legs.

Before pinning the medals on the assembled soldiers -- Sgt. Casey Wright of Tucson, Ariz., was unable to attend the ceremony -- Layfield emphasized their collective bravery.

"We're forever in your debt," he said. "We acknowledge your sacrifice and we acknowledge your warrior spirit and we acknowledge what you did for our country."

Purple Heart Trail was initially established in the Commonwealth of Virginia from its start point at Mt. Vernon, VA. Through positive legislative support of the Virginia General Assembly and through the leadership of two of its governors, The Honorable George Allen (now U.S. Senator) and incumbent Governor James Gilmore the trail now extends down Virginia highway 235 (the Mt. Vernon Parkway) to US Route #1, thence to I-95. All of I-95 is designated the Purple Heart Trail from the Potomac River in Alexandria, on the Maryland border, down to the State of North Carolina. It branches off at Fredericksburg on Virginia Highway 3 (the Kings Highway) to Stafford County and thence to the George Washington Birthplace National Monument in Westmoreland County, VA. Another leg goes eastward on I-64 at Richmond, the state capital, to the city of Norfolk. The Virginia Department of Transportation has placed 'Purple Heart Trail' signs at all rest stops on I-95 and I-64 and at other special points along the total trail.

Current Purple Heart Trail

Ultimately, the Purple Heart Trail will be extended from Virginia to all other states and major cities of the United States. Historically, the Purple Heart Trail concept was inspired by the George Washington Chapter #1732 of Fredericksburg/Spotsylvania, VA, in 1992. In convention of the Order, the delegates voted to approve a resolution establishing a symbolic Purple Heart Trail throughout the 50 states. With the Commonwealth of Virginia being the home of the two distinguished general officers involved in the development of the Purple Heart, Generals Washington and MacArthur, the Department of Virginia members of the Order took the lead to institute The Purple Heart Trail in Virginia, with a memorial marker to be erected and dedicated at Mt. Vernon as the start point of the trail.

In 1996, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth approved the first step in establishing the Purple Heart Trail parallel to I-95 and that portion of Virginia Route 3 from Washington's birthplace in Westmoreland County, VA, to his boyhood home at

<http://www.purpleheart.org/purple-heart-trail.html>

Ferry Farm in Stafford County, VA. In 1998, through subsequently legislative fiat, the trail was extended to Norfolk, VA, ending at the tomb of General Douglas MacArthur on Interstate 64 from Richmond (I-95) to Norfolk and to Mt. Vernon. The purpose of the Purple Heart Trail is to commemorate the patriotic American heritage given to us by George Washington and General MacArthur and for the people of Virginia, and ultimately all the states, to memorialize those service persons who have had the Purple Heart medal bestowed on them or their next of kin for wounds received in combat in defense of our nation.

By marking these trails with appropriate signage, it was conceived that the automobile and the Interstate Highway System represent very tangible symbols of our freedom; the ability to get up and go anywhere anytime. While taken for granted by so many, this and so many other freedoms we enjoy as Americans have been earned through the sacrifice of millions of Americans who have shed their blood and the many who have died in defense of freedom and liberty. The signage was intended as a reminder that freedom is not free and would stimulate thought and discussion among adults and children alike in contemplating the bountiful heritage enjoyed by all Americans as part of their legacy.

Major highways are the ideal setting for this virtual trail, and ultimately, the Military Order of the Purple Heart would like to see the entire Interstate Highway System, conceived by General Dwight D. Eisenhower during his tenure as President of the United States, designated as major portions of the Purple Heart Trail. Instructional kits have been developed and are in the hands of all Department Commanders on how to initiate necessary legislation in their respective states to implement the continued growth of the Purple Heart Trail System.

National Commander Louie Spinelli has accepted expansion of the trail as a major thrust of his leadership during his term of office. We who are on the forefront of this great effort, can take great pride in establishing this system as a most noble and patriotic endeavor of the Military Order of the Purple Heart that will become an indelible part of our continuing service to this great nation. If your state is not yet on board, we encourage all local chapters to take this up within the scope of their Americanism projects. Most legislatures have been found to be most receptive in support of legislative initiatives required to implement the program. The mood of the country is also such that many salons would welcome the opportunity to offer the necessary legislative language to make it happen. God Bless America, our home, sweet home!
