Sponsor Statement Senate Joint Resolution 23

“Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alaska relating to contracting state debt for postsecondary student loans.”

Senate Joint Resolution 23 places a constitutional amendment before the voters in the fall 2014 general election. This proposal to amend Article IX, sec. 8, of the Alaska Constitution is to authorize state General Obligation (GO) debt for the purpose of funding state education loans for Alaska students.

Currently, state GO debt may only be authorized for capital improvements or housing loans for veterans.

Financial market conditions once allowed the Alaska Student Loan Corporation (ASLC) to offer competitive, low-cost education loans to a significant percentage of Alaska students without State support. Those conditions no longer exist and appear unlikely to occur again in the foreseeable future. As a result of these changed conditions, Alaska students and families are receiving decreasing levels of state support in meeting postsecondary education costs.

Senate Joint Resolution 23 will establish a cost-effective way to finance state education loans by leveraging the State’s outstanding general obligation credit ratings. Doing so will not only achieve lower costs of funds than what is otherwise available through current alternative financing structures, but will also permit some relaxation of the loan underwriting criteria which currently results in a 41% denial rate on loan applications.

These loan programs represent a critical component of the State’s student financial aid system and its efforts to enhance the workforce development pipeline in order to build and maintain a healthy state economy.

I appreciate your consideration and seek your support of SJR 23.

RE: Letter of Support for SJR 23

Dear Senator Fairclough,

In my capacity as the Alaska Student Loan Corporation's (ASLC) Executive Officer and as Executive Director of the Alaska Commission on Postsecondary Education (ACPE), I am writing to express support for SJR 23 – a proposal to permit the issuance of state debt to finance Alaska education loans.

The State of Alaska has a long-standing tradition, for more than forty years, of supporting residents in their pursuit of postsecondary education and training with robust state education loan programs. In 1988, to relieve the state general fund of the annual costs of these programs, the Legislature created ASLC as an enterprise agency of the state with the authority to issue revenue bonds in the financial markets to fund loans and agency operations. While for most of the intervening years this structure has been an effective means of aiding students and their families, changes to the financial markets in the wake of the 2008 market collapse necessitated program modifications that, in turn, have negatively impacted the cost and availability of state loans.

In light of the rising costs of postsecondary education and its increasing importance to Alaskans' ability to fill the high skill, high wage jobs in Alaska's economy, it is now more important than ever that state residents have access to low-cost education funding resources.

SJR 23 provides an opportunity through which ASLC could leverage the State of Alaska's outstanding credit to achieve the lowest possible costs of financing for state education loans and make loans more widely available. This approach to funding education loans is the most efficient, long-term means to ensuring this valued program continues to be available for the next generation of Alaskans.

Thank you for your commitment to ensuring Alaskans have an opportunity to pursue their educational goals and for your leadership in sponsoring SJR 23.

Sincerely,
