Date: February 28, 2018

I respectfully request that you calendar HB 20 for a hearing in the Senate State Affairs Committee. You have received a copy of the most recent version of the bill, the sponsor statement, a summary of changes, the associated fiscal note and additional support materials.

The bill adds elected officials, either appointed or elected, to the group of individuals with the authority to solemnize marriage. Under current law only religious leaders, judicial officers of the state, and individuals who have become "marriage commissioners" are authorized to solemnize a marriage.

The staff assigned to this resolution is Sara Perman who can be reached at 465-6597. Please do not hesitate to contact my office if we can provide any additional information.

Sponsor Statement House Bill 20

House Bill 20 expands the number of people eligible to solemnize (i.e. commemorate or memorialize) a marriage. Currently, religious leaders, judicial officers of the state, and individuals who have become "marriage commissioners" have the authority to marry individuals in Alaska. This group specifically includes:

- Ministers;
- Priests;
- Rabbis;
- Commissioned officers of the Salvation Army;
- Principal officers or elders of recognized churches or congregations that traditionally do not have regular ministers, priests, or rabbis;
- Marriage commissioners; and
- Judicial officers of the state.

House Bill 20 adds language to include elected officials, appointed or elected, to the group of individuals with the authority to solemnize a marriage. Currently, anyone can perform a marriage ceremony as long as they first obtain a marriage commissioner appointment from the Alaska Court System, which can be time consuming and includes providing the court with personal information and paying $25.

This bill expands the individuals with authority to perform marriage ceremonies to include officials who hold public office and have sworn to uphold the constitution and the law. The bill has real practical advantages, particularly in rural communities. For example, if a couple in a remote Alaskan village are set to be married on a date and the minister becomes ill, the local mayor or assembly person could perform the marriage on short notice. In addition, couples who may not be affiliated with a particular religious organization would be able to have an elected official perform their wedding without having to go through the time-consuming of arranging for a marriage commissioner appointment for another person.

Finally, the bill reduces the cost of operating the court system by allowing elected officials to perform some of the work currently performed by judges and magistrates.

House Bill 20

"An Act relating to marriage solemnization; and authorizing public officials in the state to solemnize marriages."

CS for House Bill 20 (JUD) – Explanation of Changes

Introduced Version J to CS Version O

In House State Affairs HB 20 version A was amended, inserting “; nothing in this paragraph requires or obligates an individual holding an elective public office in the state to solemnize marriage” into the language. This change made clear that elected officials would not have a duty to perform marriage solemnization.

CSHB20 Version D was amended to include “for any reason, including for reasons of religious scruple or conscience.” This change allows elected officials to cite religious scruples or conscience as a reason not to solemnize a marriage.

CSHB20 Version J was amended to delete “an individual holding an elective public office in the state may refuse to solemnize a marriage for any reason, including for reasons of religious scruple or conscience.” Adds a new subsection that reads “nothing in this section creates or implies a duty on a person authorized to solemnize a marriage under (a)(1), (3), or (4) of this section to solemnize marriage”

Re: Testimony on HB 20

Dear Senator Meyer:

We wish to submit comments on the following bill in the State Affairs Committee:

CS for HB 20 (JUD) – “An Act relating to marriage solemnization; and authorizing elected officials in the state to solemnize marriages.”

Alaska Family Action is in support of the Judiciary CS for HB 20. We had earlier expressed opposition to HB 20, as introduced, but our misgivings were addressed as a result of an amendment adopted by the House Judiciary Committee. We appreciate the amendment maker, Rep. Chuck Kopp, and the bill sponsor, Rep. Matt Claman, for accommodating our concerns.

The Judiciary CS for HB 20, while authorizing elected officials to solemnize marriages, makes it clear that nothing in the bill “creates or implies a duty or obligation” for any elected official to solemnize any marriage. In addition, CSHB 20 (JUD) extends this provision to ministers, priests, and religious groups – clarifying they are under no duty or obligation to solemnize any marriage.

Our initial concern was that the added “authority” for elected officials to solemnize marriages might too easily be construed as a “duty.” We believe that the law should protect the right of elected officials to refuse to solemnize any marriage, and the Judiciary CS for HB 20 achieves this goal.

For the record, we believe entities in the private sector, especially small businesses, should enjoy the same freedom that is allowed elected officials under this bill. They should be under no “duty or obligation” to solemnize, celebrate, or participate in any marriage, especially when doing so would violate a sincerely held religious belief. However, we also recognize that extending such protections is beyond the narrow scope of this particular bill.

Sincerely,

Please support HB20.

As a non-religious person, I would like to be able to have the same liberty as people of faith, to have a local trusted official preside over my wedding (someone not associated with a church).

Non-religious Alaskans have to go through the fee and registration process to be married since there is not a simple free secular option.

I am encouraging you to support the passing of HB20. Since an elected official ALREADY occupies a position of trust, there is NO valid reason why they should not solemnize a wedding. I personally applied for marriage commissioner status to solemnize a wedding ceremony for a friend 17 years ago. If I can do so, why should not an elected official do so without further paperwork?

Please support the passing of House Bill 20.

CS for HB 20 (JUD) – “An Act relating to marriage solemnization; and authorizing elected officials in the state to solemnize marriages.”

Alaska Family Action supports the Judiciary CS for HB 20. Although we earlier expressed opposition to HB 20, as introduced, our misgivings were largely resolved as a result of an amendment adopted by the Judiciary Committee. Dear Rep Kreiss-Tomkins:

I write in support of HB 20 regarding the solemnization of marriage that is being sponsored by Rep. Matt Claman.

In my opinion, I think this would allow a wider access to formal marriage ceremonies, particularly in smaller communities where officials and clergy that are already granted this privilege, may not be available.

Re: Opposition to HB 20, relating to marriage solemnization

Dear Representative Kreiss-Tomkins:

We are writing to express our opposition to House Bill 20:

“An Act relating to marriage solemnization; and authorizing elected public officials in the state to solemnize marriages.”

HB 20 proposes to add elected officials to the list of persons who are authorized under law to solemnize marriages. Currently, those authorized to solemnize marriages include religious leaders (ministers, priests, rabbis), judicial officers, and marriage commissioners.

Alaska Family Council is concerned that the “authority” to solemnize a marriage can, especially with respect to public officials, be easily construed as a “duty” to solemnize a marriage.

Religious leaders can and do refuse to solemnize marriages for any number of reasons. For example, they can decline if the persons seeking marriage do not comply with the marriage requirements of a particular religion, or church. The First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution, as well as Article I, Section 4 of the Alaska State Constitution, would presumably protect the right of religious leaders to decline to solemnize a marriage for reasons that are purely sectarian.

Unfortunately, recent legal and political developments make it less clear that public officials enjoy the same freedom to refuse marriage solemnization for reasons of individual conscience or religious belief.

In Wyoming, the case of Judge Ruth Neely has drawn national attention. The following is a statement from the attorneys representing Judge Neely, that sums up the relevant facts of her case. This statement is accessible on the website for Alliance Defending Freedom:

<https://www.adflegal.org/detailspages/case-details/an-inquiry-concerning-the-honorable-ruth-neely>

“Judge Neely has served as the municipal judge in Pinedale, Wyoming, for over 21 years. In that position, she hears cases that involve traffic and parking violations, animal-control issues, and miscellaneous criminal misdemeanors like public intoxication and shoplifting.

Judge Neely has no authority to solemnize marriages as a municipal judge.

“Judge Neely has also served as a part-time circuit court magistrate for approximately 14 years. In that capacity, she has the authority to do things like administer oaths, issue subpoenas, conduct bond hearings, issue warrants, and solemnize marriages. Although Judge Neely ‘may perform the ceremony of marriage’ as a magistrate, she has no legal obligation or duty to do so.

“In December 2014, a reporter in Pinedale who suspected that Judge Neely’s religious beliefs prevented her from serving as a celebrant for same-sex marriages asked her whether she was ‘excited’ to perform same-sex weddings. In response, Judge Neely stated that she believes that marriage is the union of one man and one woman, and therefore, she would be unable to perform same-sex weddings. A few days later, an article appeared in the Sublette Examiner quoting Judge Neely as saying that, because of her religious beliefs, she would ‘not be able to do’ same-sex marriages and that she had not ‘been asked to perform’ one. [emphasis added]

“In March 2015, the Wyoming Commission on Judicial Conduct and Ethics filed a complaint against her, alleging judicial misconduct and seeking her removal from both judicial positions. The commission claimed that by merely communicating her religious beliefs about marriage and her inability to serve as a celebrant for same-sex marriages, Judge Neely failed to follow the law and manifested bias and prejudice.

“The commission brought these charges even though Judge Neely has never been asked to solemnize a same-sex marriage, no law requires magistrates to serve as a celebrant for any marriage, magistrates may decline to perform weddings for a host of secular reasons, and Judge Neely has an unblemished record of integrity, impartiality, and scrupulous compliance with the law in her more than 21 years of judicial service.

“In February 2016, the commission filed with the Wyoming Supreme Court a recommendation that Judge Neely be removed from office. The commission recommended that Judge Neely be removed not only from her position as a part-time circuit court magistrate, the position in which she may but need not perform weddings, but also from serving as a municipal judge, a job in which she is not even permitted to solemnize marriages.

“In April 2016, Judge Neely filed a petition with the Wyoming Supreme Court objecting to the commission’s recommendation. She also filed a brief explaining that it would violate the United States and Wyoming Constitutions to remove her from office for stating her religious beliefs about marriage.”

The case in Wyoming has yet to be resolved. But it underscores our concern with HB 20, that when a public official is vested with the “authority” to solemnize marriages, this can be easily be construed as a “duty” to perform marriages – or at least limit their reasons for declining to do so.

As a practical matter, HB 20 seems unnecessary because any elected official can already apply for the temporary authority to solemnize a marriage by seeking a one-day marriage commissioner appointment. The process for seeking such an appointment is explained on the Alaska Court System website at the following link:

<http://courts.alaska.gov/trialcourts/trialcts.htm#comm>

Alaska Family Council believes that HB 20 is unnecessary, and potentially could lead to situations in which elected officials suffer punitive consequences merely for declining to solemnize marriages for reasons of personal conviction or religious belief.

Sincerely,

Honorable Representative Matt Claman
State Capitol Room 118
Juneau, Alaska 99801

Dear Representative Claman,

Alaskans Together For Equality (ATE) supports House Bill 20 as written: "An act relating to marriage solemnization; and authorizing elected public officials in the state to solemnize marriages."

ATE represents thousands of members across the state of Alaska. We are a statewide, nonpartisan, civil rights organization whose mission is to advance civil equality for all Alaskans through education, grassroots organizing and advocacy, with a primary focus on lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender Alaskans. ATE believes a solid foundation of equal civil rights across institutions and practices enables all Alaskans to maximize economic opportunities, create healthy lives and build resilient communities – making for a stronger Alaska.

HB20 empowers elected public officials in both urban and rural areas to perform marriages for all eligible couples. Many areas in Alaska are remote. The inclusion of elected public officials in marriage solemnization eases the burden on communities in identifying the proper officials and scheduling marriage ceremonies.

Thank you for addressing this important issue.

Sincerely,

FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2018 LEGISLATIVE SESSION

Analysis

HB020 broadens application of AS 25.05.261(a), Who may solemnize, by adding the category of elected public officials to those legally eligible to perform this service.

The bill similarly broadens the circumstances covered by AS 25.05.281, Marriage solemnized by unauthorized person; if a person falsely claiming to be an elected official solemnizes a marriage and that marriage is consummated on the belief that the individuals have been lawfully married, the marriage is valid.

This bill has no programmatic or fiscal impact to the Department of Health and Social Services.

FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS

STATE OF ALASKA
2017 LEGISLATIVE SESSION

Analysis

HB020 broadens application of AS 25.05.261(a), Who may solemnize, by adding the category of elected public officials to those legally eligible to perform this service.

The bill similarly broadens the circumstances covered by AS 25.05.281, Marriage solemnized by unauthorized person; if a person falsely claiming to be an elected official solemnizes a marriage and that marriage is consummated on the belief that the individuals have been lawfully married, the marriage is valid.

This bill has no programmatic or fiscal impact to the Department of Health and Social Services.
