Commissioner

Dear Mr. Hohman:

Re: House Bill 735

After careful review of the amendment to House Bill 735 proposed by your Committee, it is our opinion that this amendment would make the Bill almost meaningless.

As you know the purpose of this Bill is to change the existing Remote Housing Program from a self-help program limited to $7,500 per unit to a more flexible program capable of being administered in conjunction with various Federal low-rent programs (primarily the President's Indian Housing Program). Since it is our philosophy that State money should be used only where Federal money is not available, this Bill provides that only persons not eligible for Federal programs would be eligible for this program. Therefore, with the amendment proposed by your Committee the only persons eligible would be residents of rural areas who are age 55 or older with an income of more than $6,000 to $7,000, depending on locality, but with an income less than the amount needed to secure housing through conventional means. As you are aware the elderly persons residing in the rural areas are the poorest persons within our State. While we do not have exact figures as to how many persons would be eligible, it would appear that the number would be quite small. Because this program would, of necessity, have to be available only in villages receiving housing under other programs to keep the administrative costs within reason, the number of persons eligible to participate in this program during any given year would be almost insignificant.

Although this program is intended to be a subsidized home ownership program, your remarks indicate that you would like to see it used as a program to build Pioneer Homes in rural areas. While we certainly support the need for additional Pioneer Homes we don't see how they could be provided through this Bill.

As you are aware, the elderly persons of Alaska have the severest housing problems of any age group. While the lower income elderly persons who are Alaskan Natives will be eligible to receive housing

The Honorable George Hohman

under the President's Indian Housing Program there will still remain a need for adequate housing for elderly persons in other groups. We would recommend funding of a comprehensive study to precisely identify the needs for elderly housing and prepare a comprehensive legislation program to meet these needs.

In summary, let us say that while we support your desire to assist the elderly in securing housing, we feel that House Bill 735 should be passed without the proposed amendment.

If you require additional information concerning this Bill please contact us.

Very truly yours,

Kenneth Gain

Debt Service based on that presently authorized and new authorizations as follows:
 1972 - 71.0 million; 1974 - 60.0 million; 100.0 million each two years thereafter.
 Refer to pages 12 and 13 of the Budget Document Supplement for Fiscal Year 1972-73.

This bill does not have any effect on the General Fund as these debts are due to bondholders regardless if this bill passes or not. This bill is for the sole purpose of protecting the State from going in default on debt service in the slight chance a mistake takes place in the budget and/or appropriation act; which would stop a payment because of appropriation limits. This bill has been recommended by Bond Counsel.

SUBJECT: House Bill 775 - Kotzebue
Combined Facilities
DBA 13-0401

The data you have requested on House Bill 775 is attached. The House Journal of February 23, 1971, set up $323,200 for the Kotzebue Combined Facilities. An additional $65,000 was transferred from the Barrow Combined Facilities to the Kotzebue Combined Facilities for a total of $388,200.

Bids were requested for the Basic Bid plus an additive Alternate No. 1. Alternate No. 1 was for the space programmed for Department of Public Safety and the Department of Fish and Game. Funds were not adequate to award Alternate No. 1.

H.B. 775 appropriates $80,000 to construct the space that was contained in Alternate No. 1 for Public Safety and Fish and Game. This space is needed to adequately house Public Safety and Fish and Game.

February 22, 1971

The Honorable Gene Guess
Speaker of the House
Alaska State House of Representatives
State Capitol Building
Juneau, Alaska 99901

Dear Mr. Speaker:

Pursuant to the uniform rules of the Legislature, I am submitting a bill which would lapse a total of $29,925,575 in appropriations made last year for general State building projects. Most of the projects for which appropriations were made were funded through the Alaska State Housing Authority pursuant to the direction found in House Concurrent Resolution 62 (am) of the last session of the Legislature. Additionally,

the correctional facility at Anchorage has been financed through general obligation bonds approved by the voters.
Of the $32,925,600 appropriated for the projects the following would remain after passage of this bill:

Barrow Combined Facilities	$ 450,000
Kalsin Bay Highway Maintenance Shop	264,000
Kotzebue Combined Facilities	323,200
Nome District Highway Complex and Office Building	1,800,000
Trim Highway Maintenance Shop	284,025
	$3,881,225

The passage of this proposed legislation will, of course,
make the additional $29,925,575 available for other general fund purposes.

Sincerely,

William A. Egan

The Honorable Eugene Guess
Speaker of the House
Alaska State Legislature
Juneau, Alaska 99801

Dear Mr. Speaker:

Pursuant to the Uniform Rules of the Legislature, I am submitting a bill requested by the Department of Education which will permit recognition of less-than-full-time special education students for computing support under the public school foundation program by converting the students to a full time equivalency formula. This method is currently used for computing support under the foundation program for vocational education students [AS 14.17.041(c)].

As the current statute reads, only full time special education students are recognized. It is often desirable, however, to integrate certain students into the regular school program for a portion of the school day. This proposal has the advantage of reducing the social stigma of complete segregation and allows a better use of teaching resources by permitting trained personnel to serve a larger number of students.

Sincerely,

William A. Egan

Public School Foundation Program

Special education program approval and subsequent special education foundation funding will be dependent upon two major considerations:

1. Annual Plan of Services, Exceptional Children (Form 65-202-24):

Particular attention should be paid to these sections of the narrative portion of the Annual Plan of Services:

- a. A statement outlining the criteria and procedures used to screen, identify, diagnose and place exceptional children.
- b. A statement of philosophy about the education of exceptional children with indication of acceptance of this philosophy by the local school board.
- c. A statement indicating the scope and sequence of placement options available or planned for identified population of exceptional children.
- d. A description of the methods or procedures used to evaluate the success of existing or anticipated programs of special education.
- e. Commentary on the nature of organizational and administrative problems at the local level and ways of eliminating or reducing such problems.
- f. Description of the kinds of help, support and guidance which are needed by the district to initiate, strengthen and evaluate programs for exceptional children.
- g. The Annual Plan of Services should completely describe services in all categorical programs for example, speech therapy, deaf and hearing impaired, trainable mentally retarded. Integrated resource support programs for exceptional children should also be described in detail.

2. Full Time Equivalencies (FTE): This will be determined by levels of services offered exceptional children. (See figure one)

Level 1: Level 1 will include those exceptional children in need of minimal special education programming. Programs might include services to mildly speech handicapped youngsters or remedial reading instruction to mildly handicapped exceptional children. In all cases service delivery systems will be integrated resource support programs.

Program Responsibility

The exceptional child remains in the classroom all day. The regular teacher has full responsibility for the child but receives assistance from special education resource personnel.

Level 2: In addition to regular classroom instruction from one fourth to one half of this child's educational program must be of a special services nature. The instruction or therapy could consist of several different sessions with different specialists, or the time could be spent in a self-contained special education resource support room. Examples of services provided at this level would be more intensive speech therapy, intensive remedial reading, braille, or adaptations in certain basic skill subjects.

Program Responsibility

The exceptional child maybe removed from the regular classroom for brief periods of resource support or receive extra assistance from a special teacher within the regular classroom. The regular teacher has the primary responsibility for the child. The special teacher has the responsibility for specific special programs.

Level 3: Level 3 children would be those who can profitably receive in addition to the regular educational program between one half to three-fourths "special" supportive instruction.

Program Responsibility

The exceptional child receives special services for a majority of the day and is the shared responsibility of the special and regular teacher.

Level 4: Children at Level 4 would be those who are so severely educationally handicapped that they must receive intense special education programming. The most severely handicapped children at this level might spend the entire school day in special education classes. This level would apply to children in special education classes in the regular schools and also to those who attend special service centers. This level also includes hospitalized and homebound children.

Integrated resource programming at Level 4 must include an intensive visible level of support for both the exceptional child and the regular class teacher. Pupil-teacher ratio at this level must be kept within a range of 5 to 15 pupils to one professional special educator. Resource support specialist should work with no more than 3 to 7 regular classroom teachers. A ceiling of perhaps twenty-five children must be established for the enrollment in regular classes which contain special students. To keep any single class from becoming a "catch-all" for handicapped children and to maintain the characteristics of a regular class, a limit must be placed upon the number of handicapped children assigned to any one room under a resource support program. The number of special children in the class must be adjusted according to the needs of the handicapped children assigned to the class and the availability of assistance for the teacher. Special education teachers at this level should offer evidence of diagnostic prescriptive educational monitoring.

Program Responsibility

The exceptional child receives intensive specialized services. The special education teacher has full responsibility for the exceptional child.

STATE OF ALASKA

WILLIAM A. EGAN, GOVERNOR

DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER

P. O. BOX 1467 — JUNEAU 99801

April 15, 1972

To Representative George Hohman and Members of House Finance

Re: House Bill #780

As an Intern, I feel it is relevant to acknowledge support for this bill.

As an Intern, I do not expect to make a profit financially from this program but I do feel that $700.00 a month does not supplement for living costs, transportation, recreation or clothing adequately.

This program does not have such tangible results as people seem to believe but is, in fact, a future oriented program giving young people a chance to gain a valuable background for public service of which you are all a part. For a period of six months in Juneau, I am drawing pay from the State to perform a public service. My plans are to always be a part of Alaska's continuing growth and through such opportunities as this program, I can someday be of value to Alaska more directly.

Legislators must realize this is our "bread and butter". We must ask for this raise to supplement our living costs; a profit is not intended.

Because our salary is $700.00 per month, we do not receive that amount. As of this date, our net pay amounts to $504.00 per month. With the $100.00 per month proposed raise, we would net approximately $560.00 per month.

On the following sheet I have broken down my realistic costs to justify the raise as very reasonable and sincere.

Your sincere belief in our trustworthiness of the facts and figures is deeply sought.

Sincerely,
