March 11, 1971

The Honorable George H. Hohman
Chairman, House Finance Committee
House of Representatives
State Capitol Building
Juneau, Alaska 99801

Dear Mr. Hohman:

Subject: House Bill 260

I have discussed HB 260 with Miss Donna Spragg, Assistant Attorney General.

I am informed that under present law (AS 44.19.975)
commission members receive the per diem of State employees rather than board members. Last year they received $21 per day. She is under the impression they would now be allowed $30 per day under the existing statute. At present, of course, they are not allowed compensation but there is no limit on the number of meetings.

As you know, under the proposed legislation members would receive the same per diem as other board and commission members ($35 per day) but they would be limited to 2 meetings per year.

Let us assume 11 members on the commission with two meetings of 4 days each, the per diem would total about $3,080.

Again, let us assume the same 11 members with round trip air fares twice of about $150, which would equal a total of $3,300 in addition.

I hope this information is of some assistance to your committee in its deliberations.

Sincerely,

FISCAL ANALYSIS

This bill would have no direct impact on the general fund. School district support is computed on the basis of instructional units, rather than number, experience, and training of teachers. The salary schedule established in AS 14.20.220 3(d) for (SOS) teachers outside school districts is above the minimums set by HB #263.

However, an analysis of salary schedules paid by school districts in 1970-71 reveals a significant number of districts (list attached) paying below the minimum that would be established HB #263 at the Bachelors and/or Masters levels. Since around 70 percent of the instructional unit cost is made up of teacher's salaries it appears as if increase in the minimum salary law would necessitate an increase in the instructional unit allotment at same point.

SENATE BILL No. _____

Between Lines 17 through 15 of _____

Sec. 17.05.105 SICK LEAVE BANK. A school district board, or the board of directors of the state-operated school system, may establish a sick leave bank to enable a teacher, because of unusual circumstances, to draw not more than twice the number of days of sick leave the teacher has accumulated. The board may establish and administer the sick leave bank independently or jointly with teachers.

HOUSE BILL NO. 266, as approved Friday by the House, contains three technical errors. On line 11, "State-operated School district" should read "State-operated School system" and on line 12, the reference to "district teacher" should read only "teacher" to include both teachers from the district schools and the State-operated schools. The same applies to the phrase "of the district" on line 15; it should be deleted. These technical changes are incorporated in the proposed floor amendment.

As passed by the House, the bill would contain no statutory limits for the use of sick leave from the proposed bank. The amendment limits any teacher's withdrawal of sick leave from the bank to twice the number of days of sick leave the teacher has accumulated.

Mr. Overstreet, of the Juneau/Douglas school system, says that Juneau/Douglas budgets approximately six days of sick leave per teacher per year. For the 189 teachers in his system, this amounts to a cost to the district of approximately $40,300 per year in salary payments to substitute teachers.

RESOURCES COMMITTEE REPORT ON
HOUSE BILL 209

This Act will appropriate $50,000 for the purpose of site acquisition and construction of improvements at the Southeastern Alaska Fair site in Haines. Originally called the Chilkat Community Fair, this event has developed to the point where it now is truly a regional fair, but it has suffered from the lack of a permanent site or facilities.

Since the exact amount of the site acquisition costs have not yet been determined, the committee has offered an amendment to indicate that the amount being appropriated is "up to" $50,000. A further amendment offered by the committee will delete the schedule of expenditures in order to allow the fair committee some additional flexibility in the use of these funds.

Marty Farrell, Chairman
House Resources Committee

SOUTHEAST ALASKA STATE FAIR, Inc.

The SOUTHEAST ALASKA STATE FAIR was organized in Haines, the year of 1969. The State Fair grew out of the local Chilkat Valley Fair.

The objectives of the SOUTHEAST ALASKA STATE FAIR are: to have a fair participated in by all of Alaska, especially the people in Southeast Alaska; to stimulate interest and pride in the native products of Alaska; to stimulate interest and pride in the creative arts and crafts; to stimulate interest and pride in agricultural and domestic arts; and to provide a showcase for area and state work.

In 1970 approximately 700 exhibits more than filled the American Legion Hall, and over 1500 people visited the Fair from many communities in Alaska and Canada. The State Fair is expected to double in number of exhibits this year.

Following is a list of Departments and Attractions expected in the 1971 Fair.

Baked Goods & Confections	Native Arts
Canned & Preserved Foods	Nature Study
Fine Arts	Needlework
Flowers	Photography
Hobbies & Crafts	Vegetables
Knitting	Wild Produce
Livestock	Youth
Carpentry	Pioneer Arts

There will be a Pet Show, Style Show, Horse Show, Livestock Show and demonstrations sponsored by the various departments, commercial and educational displays, concessions and entertainment features, and an Auction of certain exhibited items will close the Fair.

The dates of the Fair for 1971 are August 26, 27, and 28. Catalogs will be available in June. For additional information contact Box 263, Haines, Alaska 99827, or the Cooperative Extension Service, Box 109, Juneau, Alaska 99801.

SUBJECT: House Bill 279

I discussed this subject with Representative Moore before he introduced H.B. 279.

It is my understanding that under the statutes creating the Rural Development Agency and outlining its functions, it would be impossible to use RDA monies for maintenance or repair of buildings being used for the Head Start Program in rural villages.

Under H.B. 279, the Agency would be able to administer the amount appropriated specifically for maintenance of buildings used for the Head Start Program.

Mr. Don Perkins, Director of the Rural Development Agency, is willing to take on this additional task. It would undoubtedly require separate fiscal coding and the establishment of special fiscal and accounting procedures.

The Committee might consider limiting the amount to be used for any one project as is now done with RDA grants.

If I may be of any further assistance, please call me.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

HEAD START PROGRAMS IN RURAL ALASKA

The Head Start Program began in Alaska in 1965 under the auspices of the Alaska State Department of Education with a sub-contract with the Bureau of Indian Affairs. Later that year after the formation of ASCAP (Alaska State Community Action Program), the previous name of Rural Alaska Community Action Program, Inc., the Community Action Program became the grantee for the Head Start funds in rural Alaska. The 1970-71 fiscal year will be the sixth year of administering the Head Start Programs for Rural CAP.

Currently, we are funding 33 village programs with approximately 1,600 children enrolled. Presently, we are employing the following native personnel -- 38 teacher-directors; 57 teacher-aides; 36 cooks; 1 cook-aide; 1 cook-janitor; and 56 janitors for a total of 169 employees. The program is administered through the Child Development Staff in Anchorage with Field Training Supervisors and Assistants being stationed throughout rural Alaska. The Rural CAP Head Start Program operates on an annual cost per child expenditure of $813 compared to $2,100 per child in the Fairbanks Head Start and $2,700 per child in the Anchorage Head Start. This is the lowest cost per child program in the United States with the exception of Puerto Rico.

- A. Parent involvement in PACs--Most parents of Head Start children are directly involved in the Head Start Program through the Policy Advisory Committee.
- B. Parent Volunteers--Parents are asked to be volunteers in the Head Start classroom to assist the paid staff in all regular and special activities.

II. PARENT INVOLVEMENT

- A. Policy Advisory Committee -- There is no question that Head Start has had an impact on the educational system in rural Alaska. For the first time, parents have been directly involved in the decision-making process relating to the education of their children through the Village Policy Advisory Committee. Each of the 36 Head Start Program Villages has a Policy Advisory Committee that is composed of at least 50 percent parents of Head Start children. Village staff members are hired and when necessary hired by the Village Policy Advisory Committee with the approval of the Village Council. A State Policy Advisory Committee, which is composed of regional representatives from the local Village Policy Advisory Committee, is responsible for making policies regarding the overall program with the approval of the Naval CAV Board of Directors.
- B. Building -- All villages provide their own building and provide maintenance of it for the Head Start Program.
- C. In-kind Donations -- Donations from the village to the Head Start Program are required in the amount of 20 percent of the total program. The fact that village in-kind contribution totals have been consistently above the required 20 percent is a definite indication of community involvement in the Head Start Program.
- D. Policy -- The Policy Advisory Committee in the village makes all decisions regarding the policies of their local Head Start Program. Following objectives of OHO, Naval CAV, and Child Development Guidelines, the Village PAC can approve changes within their program budget as it affects the local Head Start Program; they can approve the purchase of necessary equipment; they make decisions regarding daily activities of their program; they make decisions regarding class scheduling and the hours to be worked by the staff members; and they make decisions regarding the program's activities reflecting their Native culture.

- C. Parent Consultants-- This year several parents, to be selected by the State Policy Advisory Committee, will be trained to become consultants to other villages in all areas of parent involvement.

III. NUTRITION

- A. Staff Training--This past summer a highly successful Cook's Workshop entitled "Food and Nutrition for Young Children" was held for 31 Head Start cooks at the University of Alaska at Fairbanks. This class has helped the cooks prepare more nutritious meals, learn how to prepare menus for a week at a time, and utilize native foods in the Head Start classroom.
- B. Parent Training--Through the Parent Involvement Coordinator, evening sessions will be conducted for parents in nutrition.
- C. Meals and Snacks-- A nutritious snack is served twice each day and a hot meal is provided at noon for the Head Start Program.

IV. HEALTH EDUCATION

- A. Health Education for the Children-- The Head Start Children are continuously taught proper health and sanitary habits. Each child has his own comb and toothbrush to use. Also, proper hand washing and cleanliness are highly stressed areas of the Head Start Program.
- B. Health Education for the Parents--Through the Village Policy Advisory Committee and the Parent Involvement Coordinator, even sessions for parents include training in good health habits.

VI. CAREER DEVELOPMENT

- A. Career Mobility--All Head Start employees at the village level have the opportunity to develop a career in Early Childhood Education or a related field. We have had cooks and janitors work their way to becoming the teacher-director of their program. On-site college credit courses are offered to all Head Start employees through a Supplementary Training Grant given to the Alaska Methodist University, and 57 students received college credit under the Supplementary Training program last year. At present we have 77 teachers and aides and 8 cooks and janitors enrolled at Alaska Methodist University. Of the 77 teachers and aides, 57 do not have high school diplomas but are enrolled in college credit courses. Five of the teachers without high school diplomas were able to pass the G.E.D. without any assistance. Alaska is the first state that has brought the university to the village with on-site courses. This has brought about great institutional change. We sincerely believe that Head Start in a short time will be the vehicle for education courses for Native teachers, and this is certainly a first in our state.

2. Training of Village--Experienced village Head Start teacher-directors and aides have the opportunity to attend regular classes at Alaska Methodist University or the University of Alaska during the summer. (All this is possible through the Supplementary Training and Leadership Development grants). In addition, new Head Start village employees, including cooks and janitors, receive training with college credit during the summer at Anchorage Community College. This past summer, 56 experienced village staff members earned at least three college credits at Alaska Methodist University or at the University of Alaska, and 40 new teachers and aides received training and earned college credit at Anchorage Community College. An additional 31 Head Start cooks earned three credits at the University of Alaska in a course on "Food and Nutrition for Young Children."

WHAT ARE THE NEEDS OF PRE-SCHOOL CHILDREN IN RURAL ALASKA

There are approximately 170 villages in rural Alaska. Presently, we are operating programs in 33 of these villages which is less than one-fourth of all the villages. At the present time, we have requests from 85 villages for Head Start Programs. There is no question that virtually every village in Alaska would want a Head Start program if funds were available. The needs of pre-school children in rural Alaska are as follows:

1. Increased Participation--We need to be able to provide Head Start Programs for at least an additional 85 villages.
2. Increased Program Funds--With the Central Administration undergoing very few changes except for the addition of Field Training Supervisors, we would be able to add 80 new programs this year if funds were available. At the present time, the rural Alaska Head Start Program is operating approximately on $813 per year per child.
3. Research & Evaluation Funds--In the past six years there have been no formal evaluations done through psychological testing and statistical reporting of Head Start children anywhere in the State of Alaska. We need a grant for approximately $25,000 in order to do a comprehensive evaluation.
4. Improved Medical Services--Through the Public Health Service there is a well-baby clinic for children from 0 to 2 years of age and a pre-school clinic for children who are entering the public school. However, at this time, there are no Federally funded programs specifically designated to provide medical services for children between the ages of 3 and 5 years of age.

INTRODUCTION:

The purpose of House Bill No. 282 as stated in the Declaration of Policy is to establish a uniform policy for the fair and equitable treatment of persons displaced as a result of Federally assisted programs in order that the displaced persons will not suffer disproportionate injuries as a result of a program designed for the benefit of the whole.

This same need was recognized in 1968 when the Federal government passed the 1968 Relocation Act and further by the State of Alaska, in passing our present law in 1969. However, the experience gained in the last two years indicated that the provisions of the present law, while providing a much needed program and making available assistance and payments not previously allowable, were insufficient to carry out a humane relocation program. For example, we in the Department of Highways have found that due to the housing situation in most parts of Alaska, the additive payments made to displaced owners and tenants have been the maximum allowable under present limits and in most cases should have been substantially higher. Many agencies causing displacements in the same area or neighborhood were providing different services and different relocation payments because they were operating under many different regulations and guidelines.

A need for uniform land acquisition policies as well as a need for uniform and expanded benefits and services to displaced persons was apparent. These needs were recognized by the Federal government and on January 2, 1971 the "Uniform Relocation Assistance and Real Property Acquisition Policies Act of 1970" became law. This law greatly expanded the benefits and services available to displaced persons and established that they would be administered uniformly by all Federal Agencies and would also apply to all Federally assisted projects or programs.
