III. ANALYSIS (See Fiscal Note Preparation Instructions, Section III)

SB 400 would require payment from the general fund to industrially injured workers and beneficiaries of those killed in the course of employment the difference from the rates being paid under old statutes and current statutory compensation rates.

Schedule 1 lists current permanent total disability cases and yearly cost of SB 400. Costs should remain relatively the same for the next several years as some cases will be added and will offset any decrease resulting from deaths.

Schedule II lists the number of beneficiaries receiving deaths benefits and costs if current benefits were paid. The State average weekly wage in 1972 of $232 was used as the individual's average weekly wage since many files in the older cases did not indicate the deceased's average weekly wage if earnings exceeded $81.00 a week, which was the maximum wage for calculating the compensation rate. As the surviving spouse is paid the maximum compensation allowed and as children attain the statutory age yearly costs will decrease accordingly.

Costs of increasing temporary disability compensation cannot be accurately calculated. Only those cases of injury prior to June 11, 1972 would be subject to benefits and most temporary disability is ended after two years with average length of temporary disability in FT 1973 lasting 3.4 weeks. Of FY 1972 cases, approximately 50 remain on temporary compensation with cost of increasing compensation to current rates varying from $9.00 to $48.00 a week per case. Approximately 50 cases remain open for all years previous to 1972. Based on our experience with extent and reoccurrence of temporary disability our best estimate is that costs to increase rates of temporary compensation would equal $100,00 but considerably decrease during the next few years.

III. ANALYSIS (See Fiscal Note Preparation Instructions, Section III)

SB 400 would require payment from the general fund to industrially injured workers and beneficiaries of those killed in the course of employment the difference from the rates being paid under old statutes and current statutory compensation rates.

Schedule 1 lists current permanent total disability cases and yearly cost of SB 400. Costs should remain relatively the same for the next several years as some cases will be added and will offset any decrease resulting from deaths.

Schedule II lists the number of beneficiaries receiving deaths benefits and costs if current benefits were paid. The State average weekly wage in 1972 of $232 was used as the individual's average weekly wage since many files in the older cases did not indicate the deceased's average weekly wage if earnings exceeded $81.00 a week, which was the maximum wage for calculating the compensation rate. As the surviving spouse is paid the maximum compensation allowed and as children attain the statutory age yearly costs will decrease accordingly.

Costs of increasing temporary disability compensation cannot be accurately calculated. Only those cases of injury prior to June 11, 1972 would be subject to benefits and most temporary disability is ended after two years with average length of temporary disability in FY 1973 lasting 3.4 weeks. Of FY 1972 cases, approximately 50 remain on temporary compensation with cost of increasing compensation to current rates varying from $9.00 to $48.00 a week per case. Approximately 50 cases remain open for all years previous to 1972. Based on our experience with extent and reoccurrence of temporary disability our best estimate is that costs to increase rates of temporary compensation would equal $100,00 but considerably decrease during the next few years.

SUBJECT: Fiscal Notes

Robert L. Thomas, Deputy Commissioner
Department of Education

You have asked for a Fiscal Note on Senate Bill 405 which is identical to House Bill 696. These Bills are companion pieces of legislation to accompany House Concurrent Resolution 59, which likewise is identical to Senate Concurrent Resolution 25.

The Fiscal Note then, covers in affect, all four pieces of legislation since there were not fiscal implications in either House Bill 696 or Senate Bill 405, but rather they were merely implementing statutes which cleaned up some terminology and provided some additional definitions and terminology.

The Fiscal Note then, for Senate Concurrent Resolution 25 also serves for House Concurrent Resolution 59, since they are identical.

ATTACHMENT "A" to Fiscal Note on SCR-25

ASSUMPTION NO. 1:

The military base schools will be funded through the Foundation Program Payments to the operating school districts, with a supplemental amount paid directly to the districts on behalf of each child from an appropriation to the Department of Education for that purpose.

ASSUMPTION NO. 2:

The supplemental amount to be appropriated to the Department of Education and distributed to the districts is intended to cover the full cost of education of a child when added to the foundation support for that child.

ASSUMPTION NO. 3:

The appropriate supplemental amount per child is arrived at by deducting from the tuition computations those funds paid by the district for debt service since there is no debt service connected with operation of the military base schools. The supplemental amounts, then, that result from this recomputation are $260.68 for Anchorage and $356.49 for Fairbanks.

ASSUMPTION NO. 4:

The State-Operated Schools appropriation would be reduced by the amount of funds which would have been allocated for the operation of Ft. Richardson, Elemendorf, Ft. Wainwright, and Eielson Base Schools.

ASSUMPTION NO. 5:

Pupil Transportation Funds in the State-Operated Schools appropriation for military schools would be reduced by the amount of their contracts and added to the Pupil Transportation Fund in the Financial Support Programs BRU.

ASSUMPTION NO. 6:

The Anchorage Central Office Administration of the State-Operated School System would be proportionately reduced as a consequence of less administrative overhead. The amount or ratio of military to rural services has not been determined, but for purposes of this computation is assumed to be 70% devoted to rural schools and 30% devoted to military school operation.

ASSUMPTION NO. 7:

The Foundation Support Unit is computed at its present level of $20,250.

ASSUMPTION NO. 8.

The required local share, i.e., roughly 10% would not apply, and 100% of basic need would be used.

ASSUMPTION NO. 9:

Inflation and impact costs will increase at the rate of 15% per year.

ASSUMPTION NO. 11:

Increased district administration costs due to the increase in support services, i.e., purchasing, etc., might require a portion of the savings from reductions in the S.O.S. Central Office, therefore reducing the net overall saving estimated for '75.
