Loan Transitional Funds

I have scanned the various Eagle River/Chugiak Borough Loan Transitional funds, and the various legal opinions relating to the difficulties involved in loaning the new Borough funds.

The final recommendation of Stewart Hall was that we await a Supreme Court determination.

I agree that would be desirable, but the difficulty is we don't know when that is going to occur. In the meantime, the new Borough is under serious pressure to prepare itself to perform its functions.

I would like to suggest that we consider a different approach:
1) The State would advance to the Borough $200,000 of future shared revenues; 2) An amount would be withheld annually from future shared revenues to amortize the advance over a five year period.

This will take some refinement, but it seems to me it might avoid the legal problems that are presently tying us up.

Mr. Jay Hogan, Director
Division of Legislative Finance
State Capitol, Room 409
Juneau, Alaska 99811

Dear Mr. Hogan:

Pursuant to your request, the following are our comments on three bills:

SB 102, asking a special appropriation to the Department to assist in the allocation of assets and liabilities under section 9(b), ch. 145, SLA 1974;

SB 111, asking an appropriation of a supplementary organizational grant to the municipality established under ch. 145; and

SB 112, seeking an appropriation to accomplish a study identifying a method or methods of allocating the assets and liabilities of the Greater Anchorage Area Borough between the two municipalities.

By way of background, may I refer you to a copy of a recent letter to Representative Sam Cotten, Chairman of the House Community and Regional Affairs Committee, on the same subjects.

The Department is vitally concerned that the allocation of assets and liabilities of the Greater Anchorage Area Borough between the municipalities be accomplished expeditiously and on a rational basis. To that end, because there are no Alaska precedents upon which to construct a methodology, the Department would encourage an appropriation that would allow us to retain a consultant. Any recommendation or recommendations identified would, after review by the parties, be placed before the Local Boundary Commission and made part of the Commission's order. It has been suggested that the fee for consultant's services would cost $25,000, hence, the request contained in SB 112.

Mr. Jay Hogan

February 6, 1975

As an alternative, where it would be necessary for the Commission to perform the necessary allocation on an item or category basis, consultants' services would be more costly. Mr. Norm Levesque, Greater Anchorage Area Borough Finance Director, in testimony given the afternoon of February 3 before joint hearings of the respective Community and Regional Affairs Committees, indicated that $100,000 would be a minimal figure for consultants' work. Mr. Levesque's suggestion is, I understand, the basis of the request made in SB 102.

Our letter to Representative Cotten also suggests that the Legislature concern itself with providing interim transitional assistance to the newly-established borough. An organizational grant of $25,000 has been paid; SB 111 asks additional assistance, although Mayor Lee Jordan of the Chugiak-Eagle River Borough has suggested that transitional costs through the period ending June 30, 1975 might approximate $200,000. The committee should know that the transitional grant was first provided in the Municipal Code revision of 1972. It contains a provision by which the Department was directed to pay additional assistance to boroughs incorporated since January 1, 1968. Three grants have been made: one each in the amount of $25,000 to the Haines Borough, the North Slope Borough and Chugiak-Eagle River, although at least in the latter two instances funds returned have been altogether insufficient to defray initial costs of borough government operation.

Please contact me should you wish further information with respect to these three bills.

Sincerely,

Lee McAnerney
Commissioner

Enclosure

January 24, 1975

The Honorable Sam Cotten
Alaska House of Representatives
Pouch V
Juneau, Alaska 99811

Dear Mr. Cotten:

You have asked our perceptions with respect to interim financial assistance for the Chuglak-Eagle River Borough during the period of its transition.

The Chuglak-Eagle River Borough was incorporated under procedures set forth in Chapter 145, SLA 1974. In August, 1974, a majority of the voters approved separation of the area from the Greater Anchorage Area Borough and organization of a second-class borough. Subsequently, on December 3, 1974, residents elected a mayor, seven-member assembly, and five-member school board. Pursuant to AS 29.18.180, the Department has transmitted to the officers of the municipality an organizational grant of $25,000. This is the limit of direct assistance to the municipality currently authorized by State law.

It is understood that the Alaska Supreme Court has taken under advisement arguments offered in behalf of certain residents of the municipality directly challenging the incorporation process. Plaintiffs-appellants allege that ch. 145, SLA 1974 is local and special legislation adopted in violation of a constitutional prohibition against such legislation where general law procedures have been established. Defense of the challenge has been undertaken, in part, by the municipality. A portion of the organizational grant has been used to retain services of counsel.

Department comments are confined to two general matters.

By section 9(b) of Chapter 145

Upon incorporation of a borough . . . as provided in this Act, the local boundary commission, after due notice and hearings to parties concerned, shall prepare an order providing for an equitable allocation between the Greater Anchorage Area Borough and the municipality incorporated [i.e., the Chuglek-Eagle River Borough] of assets and liabilities, whether real or intangible, and including but not limited to bonded or other indebtedness, respecting the area incorporated as to a power or function succeeded to by a municipality . . .

To date, faced with the challenge to the Borough's incorporation, the Department has been reluctant to initiate, in behalf of the Commission, an extensive effort in satisfaction of this requirement. I tell you frankly that the research that would underlie an allocation is beyond the capacity of the Department; had we the resources, we would undoubtedly engage a consultant to complete the necessary work. Our approach would, most likely, embody retention of a consultant familiar with the internal accounting processes of the Greater Anchorage Area Borough and ask that, in satisfaction of the requirement imposed by the above-quoted language, he recommend alternative methodologies which would produce equitable allocations. The several recommended methodologies, with comments as to their appropriateness by officials of the affected municipalities, would be offered to the Commission. We would ask that the Commission select one, incorporating its features into an initial order directing officials of the respective municipalities to complete the allocation consistent with the guidelines described. The burden of action would fall on the municipalities but, when they could not agree, we would ask the Commission to retain jurisdiction and dispose of remaining elements. I am advised that the cost of entering into agreement with a third party to examine Greater Anchorage Area Borough records and suggest alternative methodologies, retaining the services of the consultants through the period of entry of final order by the Commission, should approximate twenty to twenty-five thousand dollars. Additionally, to defray the costs of review of alternative methodologies by the municipalities, the Legislature may want to consider direct financial support.

One alternative to this relatively "limited" approach would be a full-fledged examination of Greater Anchorage Area Borough funds with detailed recommendations involving allocations from each. Third-party examination of these funds would involve considerably more effort by a contractor and, concomitantly, considerably more cost. Finally, should the Department and Commission operate without benefit of expert opinion, as laymen it is likely that any final order would invite judicial review.

Our second concern is for the new municipality itself. By section 9(c) of Chapter 145

. . . [A] power or function which is being exercised on the effective date of this Act by the Greater Anchorage Area Borough within an area incorporated under this Act and which is succeeded to by the borough . . . incorporated [i.e., the Chugiak-Eagle River Borough] shall continue to be exercised by the Greater Anchorage Area Borough until the [new borough] incorporated under this Act assumes the power or function which shall be not later than the close of the fiscal year of the Greater Anchorage Area Borough during which incorporation occurs [i.e., June 30, 1975]. However, in the case of incorporation of a borough under provisions of this Act, the Greater Anchorage Area Borough shall continue to assess and collect borough taxes levied within the municipality for the borough fiscal year in which incorporation occurs until the close of that year, and thereafter as necessary to enforce collection of the taxes, and shall also collect, or receive, other revenues pertaining to the area incorporated for that fiscal year; the taxes and other revenues collected or received shall be remitted as promptly as possible, consistent with this subsection, to the new municipality on a basis fairly reflecting the division of powers and functions during transition between the Greater Anchorage Area Borough and the municipality. The Local Boundary Commission shall by order determine the allocation of tax and other revenues under this section.

January 24, 1975

Thus, until the Local Boundary Commission renders a final order on allocation of assets and liabilities, including current tax receipts and shared revenues, or until June 30, 1975--whichever is earlier--the Chuglak-Eagle River Borough may expect to receive no income.

Please note, however, that section 8 of the Act compels the new municipality to enter decisions with respect to exercise, in FY 76, of mandatory areawide powers and directs that decisions be made with respect to assumption or relinquishment of all other powers currently exercised by the Greater Anchorage Area Borough. The GAAB's responsibility in the area lapses on June 30, 1975. Section 9(c). Thus, within a very constricted time frame, officials of the Chuglak-Eagle River Borough must concern themselves with assumption of current optional powers, implementation of all functions assumed, and construction of a FY 76 budget. This is no small task for a community with but $25,000 of cash assets to its credit. Additional interim financial assistance has been publicly discussed and I would respectfully suggest that officials of both affected municipalities may want to be heard on this subject. The Department is, of course, within the resources allocated to it, ready to assist officials of both municipalities in the problems of transition although, as you may know, direct support by the staff of the division specifically charged with responsibility for technical assistance is rendered more difficult because of the absence of staff available in an Anchorage-area office.

I would like to take this opportunity to advise you that this request has the full endorsement of the Local Boundary Commission.

I would welcome the opportunity to examine the matter in more detail with you. If the Department may be of further assistance, please contact me.

Sincerely,

Lee McAnerney
Commissioner

SUBJECT:

Senate Bill No. 114

Senate Bill No. 114 provides for a special appropriation to the Department of Revenue, disaster relief fund, in amount of $400,000.

There is no necessity of making a special appropriation to the Department of Revenue to provide funds to pay claims for refund caused by disaster losses of individuals or corporations for income tax purposes as such refunds are paid routinely from the General Fund.

Also there is no necessity to make a special appropriation to cover refunds of tax paid on motor fuel lost or destroyed or alcoholic beverages lost or destroyed providing legislation passes to cover this type of refund (Senate Bills No. 32 and 198).

If the $400,000 appropriation to disaster relief fund is for more general relief it might more properly be made to the Office of the Governor or to the Department of Military Affairs that are better equipped to evaluate disaster claims.

During the 1975 session of the Alaska State Legislature, other disaster relief legislation passed as follows:

Chapter 17 -- provided an appropriation of $380,000 to meet shortfalls in revenue and to pay extraordinary expenses incurred by boroughs, cities, municipal utility systems and school districts in the area declared as a natural disaster area by President Ford's proclamation of November 14, 1974.

Chapter 158-- provided an appropriation of $1,000,000 to the Department of Military Affairs for the payment of extraordinary expenses incurred by boroughs, cities, municipal utility systems and school districts in the area declared as a natural disaster area by President Ford's proclamation of November 14, 1974, provided that extraordinary expenses otherwise compensated for may not be compensated for under this Act.

Chapter 209-- In the general appropriations Act for operating and capital expenses of the state, under General Government in the Office of the Governor there is an appropriation for the Contingency Fund in amount of $750,000 which is $500,000 higher than the normal appropriation of $250,000.

Attached is a copy of Senate Bill No. 114, an Act making a special appropriation ($400,000) to the Department of Revenue for the disaster relief fund.

Attached also is a copy of Senate Bill No. 91, an Act authorizing the Governor to make funds available to match federal funds under the Disaster Relief Act of 1974.

Senate Bill No. 91 provides in part that the governor shall administer the grants and shall determine the eligibility of individuals according to specified factors.

It appears to the writer that the appropriation of $400,000 provided in Senate Bill No. 114 for the disaster relief fund would more properly be made to the office of the Governor or another agency equipped to evaluate disaster claims.

There is no necessity of making a special appropriation to the Department of Revenue to cover claims for refund of individual or corporate income tax due to losses occasioned by a disaster. Such refunds are paid from the general fund. Also there is no necessity to make a special appropriation to cover refunds of tax paid on motor fuel lost or destroyed by disaster providing legislation passes to cover this type of refund which is not presently in the Motor Fuel Oil tax statutes.

It would be appreciated if you contact the sponsor, Senator Frank Ferguson to clarify this matter before this Department does any further research on Senate Bill No. 114. Thanks.

9 BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF ALASKA:

10 * Section 1. AS 14.14.060(a) is amended to read:

11 (a) When the borough school board by resolution consents, the 12 [THE] borough assembly may by ordinance require that all school money be 13 deposited in a centralized treasury with all other borough money. The 14 borough administrator shall have the custody of, invest and manage all
15 money in the centralized treasury. However, when the borough school
16 board by resolution consents, the borough assembly [, WITH THE CONSENT
17 OF THE BOROUGH SCHOOL BOARD,] may by ordinance delegate to the borough
18 school board the responsibility of a centralized treasury.

19 * Sec. 2. AS 14.14.060(c) is amended to read:

20 (c) The borough school board shall submit the school budget for 21 the following school year to the borough assembly by April 1 [FOR
22 APPROVAL OF THE TOTAL AMOUNT]. However, the budget shall be submitted

1 school board with a statement of the sum to be made available. If the
2 assembly does not, within 30 days, furnish the school board with a
3 statement of the sum to be made available, the amount requested in the 4 budget is automatically approved. By May 31, the assembly shall appro-
5 priate the amount to be made available from local sources from money
6 available for the purpose.

7 * Sec. 3. AS 14.14.060(e) is amended to read:

8 (e) The borough school board is responsible for the design [CRI-
9 TERIA] of school buildings, including but not limited to on site access
10 roads, utilities, and other auxiliary features related to school services
11 and facilities. To the maximum extent consistent with education needs, 12 a design of a school building shall provide for multiple use of the 13 building for community purposes. Subject to the approval of the assem-
14 bly, the school board shall select and employ the appropriate profes-
15 sional personnel to develop the designs. The school board shall submit 16 preliminary and subsequent designs for a school building, including but
17 not limited to on site access roads, utilities, and other auxiliary
18 features related to school services and facilities, to the assembly for 19 approval or disapproval; if the design is disapproved, a revised design
20 shall be prepared and presented to the assembly.

21 * Sec. 4. AS 14.14.060(f) is amended to read:

22 (f) The borough school board shall provide for all school con-
23 struction and major rehabilitation or repair of school buildings and 24 off-site facilities within the funds provided by the borough assembly.
25 The borough school board shall provide custodial services and routine
26 maintenance for school buildings and shall appoint, compensate, and 27 otherwise control personnel for these purposes. The borough school
28 board may by resolution delegate to the borough assembly the responsi-

2 THROUGH THE BOROUGH ADMINISTRATOR, SHALL PROVIDE FOR ALL MAJOR REHABIL-
3 ITATION, ALL CONSTRUCTION AND MAJOR REPAIR OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.]

4 However, if that responsibility is delegated the [THE] recommendations
5 of the school board shall be considered in carrying out the provisions
6 of this section.

7 * Sec. 5. AS 29.33.050 is amended to read:

12 borough assembly has only those powers with respect to education or to 13 borough school boards that are granted by statute.

14 (b) A military reservation within an organized borough is not part

DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATION

April 18, 1975

Senator Bill Ray, Chairman

Pouch V

Juneau, Alaska 99811

SUBJECT: CS--SB118

Dear Senator Ray:

Senate Bill 118 should not be enacted because it meddles in the internal organizational affairs of boroughs. It would remove the ability of borough assemblies to require central treasuries for investments and other purposes, permit school boards to ignore assembly budget format requirements, take away assembly control of architect selection, and otherwise remove control of school functions and expenditures from the assembly.

As long as education is a borough function as mandated by State law, and as long as local money is required, assemblies should retain at least as much authority to carry out their responsibilities as they now have. This is particularly true with respect to the school construction which is initially financed 100% from local monies provided by borough assemblies.

The Chugiak-Eagle River Borough fiasco is an example of what can happen when the State Legislature meddles in local affairs where problems should be left for local officials to resolve.

The MSB Assembly urges your opposition to CS--SB118. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Wesley M. Howe

COMMITTEE REPORT

It is the intent of the Senate Health, Education and Social Services Committee, in passing out Senate Bill 118, to delineate the powers of school boards and borough assemblies with regard to budgeting and building.

Senate Bill 118 gives school boards the right to deposit their money in a central borough treasury, at the school board's option. School boards are also given more control over school design and construction.
