In recent years, there has been an increase in public interest in the initiative as an alternative to the regular legislative process. What this may bring, only time will tell. I believe that the legislature should take this into account in terms of voter information.

AS 24.30.035 mandates a fiscal note with all new legislation having a fiscal impact on the state. The fiscal note sets out an estimated appropriation required for implementation of that legislation.

However, when an initiative is certified by the Lieutenant Governor to be placed on the ballot, no appropriation estimate is required. Therefore, the electorate has no official estimate of the cost, other than those quoted by advocates for or against the initiative. Oftentimes, advocates, in honest zeal, tend to emphasize certain factors of an initiative while de-emphasizing other factors.

HB 692 provides that a completely neutral party, the Division of Budget and Management, prepares a fiscal note on each initiative to be placed on the ballot. The fiscal note will be published in the Voter's Pamphlet and sent to all registered voters.

Thus, the legislature can guarantee that all relevant financial aspects of an initiative will be fully explained, in an unbiased and impartial manner, and the voter can have all the pertinent financial data at his or her fingertips.

Very truly yours,

Hugh Malone

III. ANALYSIS (See Fiscal Note Preparation Instructions, Section III)

The full funding requirements of Community Schools for FY-79 include the following:

Entitlements pursuant to the Statute and the department: $1,549,845 operational grants
 Regulations: $ 160,600 planning grants

Included in the operational grants estimate is an amount of $22,168 which would prevent any district from receiving less in FY-79 than it received in FY-77. The total, then, is $1,710,445. The Governor's request of $1,212,700 leaves a difference of $497,745, which, in its absence, will require an allocation proration of 70.9 per cent of entitlements.

Legislative Board of Retirement Benefits analysis and recommendations on:

House Bill No. 698

The board endorses the attached fiscal note as its fiscal analysis of HB 698.

The board unanimously recommends that HB 698 do not pass; one member was absent.

The question of fractional credit for all outside service should be addressed as a whole, not just for BIA service. The law (see Ch. 128, SLA 1977) which goes into effect on July 1, 1978, discourages the crediting of outside service of any type, and yet this bill would seem to expand the definition of outside service.

SUMMARY OF HOUSE BILL NO. 698

Provides that persons teaching in Bureau of Indian Affairs schools in Alaska qualify to receive partial year service credit.

III. ANALYSIS (See Fiscal Note Preparation Instructions, Section III)

Bill authorizes transportation costs, accommodations, and telephone/telegraph charges on trips during session. Both transportation and telephone or telegraph charges are already permissible and therefore their inclusion in the bill is redundant.

Insofar as accommodations are concerned, it is almost impossible to forecast what the presiding officers may authorize in any one year. Normally, per diem runs about equal to transportation on any given trip, although there are occasions where extreme exceptions to this rule take place. Based on that assumption, however, and, also assuming accommodations would be authorized in a legislator's home town (reimbursable basis), the above amounts have been estimated based on the current budget of $19,100 for session travel. Any significant trip contemplated by large groups of legislators, such as those reported by the press (Wash DC for d-2 purposes) would be in addition to this estimate. (Continued)

Dear Mr. Osterback

The Old Harbor City Council, The Native Corporation and the people directed me to wire you in support house bill number 701 regarding extending ferry system and House bill 702.

The importance of passage of this legislation is imperative for benefits involving, making better living standards of all the communities it will serve. It will have impact on our economic growth. The benefits of moving equipment and vehicles, at this time we have eleven (11) pick-ups, One grader, and boom truck which has been waiting since August to be transported to Old Harbor, If transportation were available this amount would more than double, the food being supplied here by air is 13 cents per pound with that plus mark-up oldsters and big families have to do without.

Can you please convey some of my very limited reasons to the yellow house members and ask there kind support.

Sincerely;

Rep. Alvin Osterback

Dear Rep. Osterback:

I am writing about the problem of getting freight shipped in to my home town of King Cove. At present, the Coast Guard has required of all but one of the boats that used to ship freight into King Cove to close down. There will be one more run, scheduled for February 14, but then that boat will have to go into dry dock for about 6 months, and our town will be left without any marine freight.

This does not create as much of a problem for the canneries as it does for the small business man or the private citizen. The canneries can charter a boat to haul in their freight, but the small business man cannot afford to do that. I run a night club and even if I could make that sort of arrangement for my supplies, the wholesalers who supply my liquor cannot ship my orders unless the carrier is licensed to ship and the person to whom the shipment is consigned is licensed to receive the shipment. Therefore, I have to depend on air freight, which is too expensive. I urgently request that you do all you can to help us get a ferry run into King Cove once a month so that King Cove will not have to suffer.

Yours very truly,

Dear Mr. Hubbard:

This is to confirm our telephone conversation today. I declared the many and extreme difficulties involved in trying to ship to the Aleutians, specifically to King Cove.

The shipping firms attempting to serve from Seattle, are unable to respond because of equipment not meeting Coast Guard Standards (Alaska Marine Shipping); or because of previous commitments are unable to handle freight to King Cove (the Aleut Corporation's sharing of its ship the Pribilof).

Shipping of frozen items has long been a need met only partially by any shippers.

Another very serious problem too often left unmentioned is that of loss of items in transit. This appears to be the result of ship and dockside pilferage, together with a carelessness in record keeping of shipped material by shipping firms.

Damage to items shipped is declared to be no responsibility of the shipping firm. I know of no in-transit insurance available for shipment of any items, such as frozen meats.

I have also been informed by Alaska Marine that in order to ship with their firm, my supplies would need to be consigned to some ship or ship captain. This appears to me to be highly discriminating.

Items of the U. S. Department of Agriculture surplus food commodities shipped from Seattle via Western Pioneer have never arrived at King Cove. (note attachment).

Air shipments to King Cove are limited by price (38¢ per pound from Anchorage to King Cove via Reeve Aleutian Airlines), and by size to that of such small airplanes as Widgeons, Cherokees, and Cessnas. Thus, building supplies, refrigerators, etc. must come by ship from Seattle.

Many of us here believe the extension to the Aleutians of the Alaska Marine Highway System would return many fold the investment in increased gross area product from the Aleutian consumers and producers!

Thank you for your courteous attention in wrestling with these difficult problems.

Yours truly,

Dear Representative Osterback:

This letter is in reply to your August 12, 1977 telephone call to Mr. Doug Berton, Marine Highway Traffic Manager, regarding extension of the M/V TUSTUMENA's routing to King Cove and Sand Point.

The Alaska Marine Highway Systems (AMHS) is continuing its evaluation of the Galliett-Silides report which recommends extending AMHS to several of the Southwestern communities not now served. The vessel proposed would probably be similar to the off shore utility vessels utilized by the oil industry.

Our preliminary thought is that the 13-year old M/V TUSTUMENA may have to be replaced within the next three to five years because of the severe operating conditions that prevail in the Gulf of Alaska and the nearly continual battering that the ship is now exposed to. A year around extension of service to Sand Point and King Cove would nearly double the ship's open ocean travel thus further shortening its remaining service life.

I have asked Director Bill Hudson to plan a couple trips with the M/V TUSTUMENA later this fall and before the winter weather sets in.

Honorable Alvin Osterback -2-

August 24, 1977

We will survey the running times, navigation problems, dock facilities and conditon, and traffic opportunities at that time.

We will keep you advised as this plan develops.
