SENATE BILL NO. 337

IN THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF ALASKA

TENTH LEGISLATURE - FIRST SESSION

A BILL

For an Act entitled: "An Act making a special appropriation to the Department of Natural Resources, feed grain project; and providing for an effective date."

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF ALASKA:

* Section 1. The sum of $400,000 is appropriated from the general fund to the Department of Natural Resources, for Fiscal Year 1978 and the remainder of Fiscal Year 1977, for the purpose of surveying, clearing, and breaking 2,000 acres of land, and clean-up of burn residue, to test the production of feed grains on a commercial scale in interior Alaska, and for the baseline data study for the project.

* Sec. 2. This Act takes effect immediately in accordance with AS 01.-10.070(c).

The primary purpose of this land clearing operation is to test an alternative method of clearing land when the vegetative cover consists primarily of heavy moss cover and black spruce timber.

Technicians of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service have devised this system and believe that it has a number of significant advantages over the conventional method of bulldozing all material--including the top soil that adheres to the roots of the vegetation--into large "berm piles". Those berm piles are then burned or allowed to decompose over the next 20 years or so.

The clearing process proposed is explained in some detail in the accompanying correspondence from Mr. Burt Clifford, U.S. Soil Conservation Service.

Recent estimates for clearing and breaking costs received from Mr. Dennis Green, heavy equipment contractor in Delta Junction and generally recognized in that area as one of the most qualified and reasonable land clearing contractors, yield the following cost data regarding the clearing method to be tested:

Clearing	$100/acre
Clean-up of burn residue	$20/acre
"Breaking"	$30/acre
TOTAL	$150/acre

Mr. Green recently completed clearing 2,000 acres of somewhat similar timber for a private individual, using the conventional "berm pile" method. His charges were $338,000.

It is hoped that the alternative method of land clearing that will be used on the test plot will result in a number of advantages:

1. No loss of top soil since the vegetation and any soil adhering to the roots will only be moved the width of a bulldozer blade;
2. No berm piles to inhibit farming operations, reduce acreage available for production and provide an eyesore;
3. Lower costs--since the vegetation will be moved to a much shorter distance than with the conventional methods of clearing land.

Contractors in the Fairbanks-Delta Junction area who are expected to bid on the large clearing project (60,000 to 70,000 acres), if the legislature ultimately approves such a project, recently stated to Dr. C. E. Lewis, Agricultural Economist, University of Alaska, that at least 2,000 acres should be included in the test plot. They stated that anything less would not yield significant data on which they could base contract bids.

Dear John:

I am sure you are trying to wind down this Legislative Session, but there is one piece of legislation that I feel is extremely important to our industry - the tourism industry.

That Bill affects the tourism revolving loan fund which provides the State's participation of $3 million rather than the $1 million that was established previously. This piece of legislation would certainly help the smaller members of this State industry develop their individual businesses.

I would certainly appreciate, as I am sure the balance of the industry would, your support as this piece of legislation comes before you. The Bill No. is 338.

MEMORANDUM

May 10, 1977

SUBJECT: Appointment of Free Conference Committee

TO: Senator Robert H. Ziegler, Sr., Chairman BHD
Senate Rules Committee

FROM: Billy G. Berrier, Director of Legal Services

You have asked whether it is in order for the presiding officer to appoint a Free Conference Committee without having first appointed a Conference Committee. Technically, such an appointment is not in order.

Rule 41 of the Uniform Rules provides for both a Conference Committee and Free Conference Committee. In relevant part it states:

"If the members of the committee on conference cannot agree on amendments or one or both houses refuses to adopt its report, it is then in order to appoint a Committee on Free Conference."

However, the rule also provides:

"It is in order at any time to grant powers of free conference to the committee on conference."

The net result is three possible types of committees. These are:

- (1) Committee on Conference,
- (2) Committee on Conference with powers of free conference,
and
- (3) Free Conference Committee

There is no distinction between the powers of a Committee on Conference with powers of free conference and a Committee on Free Conference. Since it is in order to grant free conference powers to the Committee on Conference at any time it follows that it is in order to grant these powers at the time the committee is appointed.

Although technically improper the usage of referring to a Conference Committee with powers of free conference as a Free Conference Committee has become routine since the only significant difference is the time in which the appointment may take place.

Although the proper procedure when it is desirable to grant powers of free conference at the outset would be appointment of a Committee on Conference with powers of free conference there is no serious question that initial appointment of a Free Conference Committee by the presiding officer would, in light of the well established usage, be considered as a Conference Committee with powers of free conference and the technical distinction would be ignored.

III. ANALYSIS (See Fiscal Note Preparation Instructions, Section III)
According to the Department of Administration, Labor Relations Research section there will be no cost for annual leave transfers but increased costs from a large transfer of underutilized sick leave which is not cashed out upon termination.

Assume:

Average of 135 participants
Average donation of 18 days sick leave
Average of $1580 (21.65 day in working month)
Benefits at 25.5 percent
Inflation at 6% annually
135 p . 18 d ÷ 21.65 d/m = 112.24 mo.
X $ 1580
$117,339
X 1.255
222,560*
