III. ANALYSIS (See Fiscal Note Preparation Instructions, Section III)

This bill provides supplemental funds to the Department of Law to initiate training for the Revised Criminal Code. A detailed training plan is attached which spells out the steps which should be taken over the next 15 months to prepare members of the Criminal Justice System for implementation of the revised code. It is therefore important that training begin in the very near future. A phase I budget is included with the attached training plan which spells out the use of the funds to be provided by this bill. A separate Fiscal note has been prepared for phase II training, funds for which are requested in CSHB 262.

REVISED CRIMINAL CODE-TRAINING PROGRAM

The second session of the tenth Alaska Legislature adopted a new criminal code for the state. The new code is a sweeping and comprehensive revision of Alaska's criminal law. The code becomes effective on January 1, 1980. The eighteen month delayed effective date was specified to allow sufficient time to devise and implement a training program to ensure that all segments of the criminal justice system would be familiar with the code once it went into effect. Though envisioning this training program, the Legislature failed to provide funds for its development and implementation. The funding of a training program is critical to ensure a smooth transition from existing law to the new criminal code.

The attached pages discuss in detail the training program to be conducted by the Department of Law. The program has two phases. The first begins on April 1, 1979 and continues until June 30, 1979. During April and May of this year a criminal code manual will be prepared by the Department of Law. The manual will include the provisions of the new criminal code, the relevant corresponding sections of the prior criminal code, the commentary adopted by the legislature expressing its intent in passing the criminal code, cross-references for each statute to other relevant provisions in the criminal code, a derivation chart listing the states upon which the revised criminal code was based and a compilation of judicial decisions in states having statutes similar to those appearing in the new criminal code. The manual will be approximately five-hundred pages and will be distributed to all district attorneys, public defenders and judges. Extra copies of the manual will be available at cost to members of the defense bar.

The first phase of instruction will begin in Sitka in early June for all district attorneys. A twelve-hour session conducted over two days is planned. Training manuals will be distributed at or before the session. All members of the eight district attorneys offices will leave the session with a working knowledge of the criminal code along with a manual which will address many of the questions which will arise once the code becomes effective.

Also being held in Sitka at the same time as the district attorney's conference is the annual judicial conference. Members of the criminal division of the Department of Law will present an overview of the criminal code at the judicial conference and distribute the criminal code manual. Also envisioned is a program on the new criminal code to be presented at the Alaska Bar Association Convention in Sitka prior to the judicial conference.

The second phase of the training program will commence on July 1, 1979. Drafting will begin on a criminal code work book which will be distributed to all law enforcement officers (both state and municipal) in Alaska. The work book will be drafted in conjunction with the efforts of the Department of Public Safety Academy to devise a training program for new recruits. The work book will emphasize those provisions of the criminal code which are of particular relevance to peace officers (i.e., assault, disorderly conduct, homicide, theft, joyriding). A number of questions regarding the statutes will also be included. These questions will be answered by the officers at the training sessions described below. An instruction manual will also be prepared which will be used by the eight prosecuting attorney instructors who will be assigned primary responsibility for training law enforcement officers.

In early fall a five-day intensive review of the criminal code will be conducted in Anchorage. Eight prosecuting attorneys, one from each of the eight state district attorney offices located in Ketchikan, Juneau, Anchorage, Bethel, Nome, Kenai, Fairbanks, and Kodiak will attend this session.

Each of the eight prosecuting attorney instructors with the assistance of the attorney coordinator will be responsible for the training of all law enforcement officers in their city and surrounding communities. The five day meeting will acquaint the prosecuting attorney instructors with the training program for law enforcement officers.

Instruction of law enforcement officers will be conducted from October 1 to December 15, 1979 by the attorney coordinator and the prosecuting attorney instructors. The primary sessions will be held in the eight cities having district attorney offices. The sessions will be two days long, with several sessions contemplated in the larger communities. All local law enforcement offices as well as officers from surrounding communities having less than five peace officers will attend these sessions. Similar sessions will also be held in surrounding communities having five or more peace officers.

Upon completion of the training program for law enforcement officers, the coordinating attorney will begin work on sample complaints to be used in charging under the criminal code. Work will also begin in conjunction with the court system on a set of jury instructions to be used with the criminal code.

The final phase of the training program will be conducted at the eight district attorney offices during May 15-June 30. The attorney coordinator will conduct reviews of selected areas of the code as well as address problems that have arisen since the code's implementation.

REVISED CRIMINAL CODE-TRAINING PROGRAM

The second session of the tenth Alaska Legislature adopted a new criminal code for the state. The new code is a sweeping and comprehensive revision of Alaska's criminal law. The code becomes effective on January 1, 1980. The eighteen month delayed effective date was specified to allow sufficient time to devise and implement a training program to ensure that all segments of the criminal justice system would be familiar with the code once it went into effect. Though envisioning this training program, the Legislature failed to provide funds for its development and implementation. The funding of a training program is critical to ensure a smooth transition from existing law to the new criminal code.

The attached pages discuss in detail the training program to be conducted by the Department of Law. The program has two phases. The first begins on April 1, 1979 and continues until June 30, 1979. During April and May of this year a criminal code manual will be prepared by the Department of Law. The manual will include the provisions of the new criminal code, the relevant corresponding sections of the prior criminal code, the commentary adopted by the legislature expressing its intent in passing the criminal code, cross-references for each statute to other relevant provisions in the criminal code, a derivation chart listing the states upon which the revised criminal code was based and a compilation of judicial decisions in states having statutes similar to those appearing in the new criminal code. The manual will be approximately five-hundred pages and will be distributed to all district attorneys, public defenders and judges. Extra copies of the manual will be available at cost to members of the defense bar.

The first phase of instruction will begin in Sitka in early June for all district attorneys. A twelve-hour session conducted over two days is planned. Training manuals will be distributed at or before the session. All members of the eight district attorneys offices will leave the session with a working knowledge of the criminal code along with a manual which will address many of the questions which will arise once the code becomes effective.

Also being held in Sitka at the same time as the district attorney's conference is the annual judicial conference. Members of the criminal division of the Department of Law will present an overview of the criminal code at the judicial conference and distribute the criminal code manual. Also envisioned is a program on the new criminal code to be presented at the Alaska Bar Association Convention in Sitka prior to the judicial conference.

The second phase of the training program will commence on July 1, 1979. Drafting will begin on a criminal code work book which will be distributed to all law enforcement officers (both state and municipal) in Alaska. The work book will be drafted in conjunction with the efforts of the Department of Public Safety Academy to devise a training program for new recruits. The work book will emphasize those provisions of the criminal code which are of particular relevance to peace officers (i.e., assault, disorderly conduct, homicide, theft, joyriding). A number of questions regarding the statutes will also be included. These questions will be answered by the officers at the training sessions described below. An instruction manual will also be prepared which will be used by the eight prosecuting attorney instructors who will be assigned primary responsibility for training law enforcement officers.

In early fall a five-day intensive review of the criminal code will be conducted in Anchorage. Eight prosecuting attorneys, one from each of the eight state district attorney offices located in Ketchikan, Juneau, Anchorage, Bethel, Nome, Kenai, Fairbanks, and Kodiak will attend this session.

Each of the eight prosecuting attorney instructors with the assistance of the attorney coordinator will be responsible for the training of all law enforcement officers in their city and surrounding communities. The five day meeting will acquaint the prosecuting attorney instructors with the training program for law enforcement officers.

Instruction of law enforcement officers will be conducted from October 1 to December 15, 1979 by the attorney coordinator and the prosecuting attorney instructors. The primary sessions will be held in the eight cities having district attorney offices. The sessions will be two days long, with several sessions contemplated in the larger communities. All local law enforcement offices as well as officers from surrounding communities having less than five peace officers will attend these sessions. Similar sessions will also be held in surrounding communities having five or more peace officers.

Upon completion of the training program for law enforcement officers, the coordinating attorney will begin work on sample complaints to be used in charging under the criminal code. Work will also begin in conjunction with the court system on a set of jury instructions to be used with the criminal code.

The final phase of the training program will be conducted at the eight district attorney offices during May 15-June 30. The attorney coordinator will conduct reviews of selected areas of the code as well as address problems that have arisen since the code's implementation.

III. ANALYSIS (See Fiscal Note Preparation Instructions, Section III)
 This bill provides supplemental funds to the Department of Law to initiate training for the Revised Criminal Code. A detailed training plan is attached which spells out the steps which should be taken over the next 15 months to prepare members of the Criminal Justice System for implementation of the revised code. It is therefore important that training begin in the very near future. A phase I budget is included with the attached training plan which spells out the use of the funds to be provided by this bill. A separate Fiscal note has been prepared for phase II training, funds for which are requested in CSHB 262.

REVISED CRIMINAL CODE-TRAINING PROGRAM

The second session of the tenth Alaska Legislature adopted a new criminal code for the state. The new code is a sweeping and comprehensive revision of Alaska's criminal law. The code becomes effective on January 1, 1980. The eighteen month delayed effective date was specified to allow sufficient time to devise and implement a training program to ensure that all segments of the criminal justice system would be familiar with the code once it went into effect. Though envisioning this training program, the Legislature failed to provide funds for its development and implementation. The funding of a training program is critical to ensure a smooth transition from existing law to the new criminal code.

The attached pages discuss in detail the training program to be conducted by the Department of Law. The program has two phases. The first begins on April 1, 1979 and continues until June 30, 1979. During April and May of this year a criminal code manual will be prepared by the Department of Law. The manual will include the provisions of the new criminal code, the relevant corresponding sections of the prior criminal code, the commentary adopted by the legislature expressing its intent in passing the criminal code, cross-references for each statute to other relevant provisions in the criminal code, a derivation chart listing the states upon which the revised criminal code was based and a compilation of judicial decisions in states having statutes similar to those appearing in the new criminal code. The manual will be approximately five-hundred pages and will be distributed to all district attorneys, public defenders and judges. Extra copies of the manual will be available at cost to members of the defense bar.

The first phase of instruction will begin in Sitka in early June for all district attorneys. A twelve-hour session conducted over two days is planned. Training manuals will be distributed at or before the session. All members of the eight district attorneys offices will leave the session with a working knowledge of the criminal code along with a manual which will address many of the questions which will arise once the code becomes effective.

Also being held in Sitka at the same time as the district attorney's conference is the annual judicial conference. Members of the criminal division of the Department of Law will present an overview of the criminal code at the judicial conference and distribute the criminal code manual. Also envisioned is a program on the new criminal code to be presented at the Alaska Bar Association Convention in Sitka prior to the judicial conference.

The second phase of the training program will commence on July 1, 1979. Drafting will begin on a criminal code work book which will be distributed to all law enforcement officers (both state and municipal) in Alaska. The work book will be drafted in conjunction with the efforts of the Department of Public Safety Academy to devise a training program for new recruits. The work book will emphasize those provisions of the criminal code which are of particular relevance to peace officers (i.e., assault, disorderly conduct, homicide, theft, joyriding). A number of questions regarding the statutes will also be included. These questions will be answered by the officers at the training sessions described below. An instruction manual will also be prepared which will be used by the eight prosecuting attorney instructors who will be assigned primary responsibility for training law enforcement officers.

In early fall a five-day intensive review of the criminal code will be conducted in Anchorage. Eight prosecuting attorneys, one from each of the eight state district attorney offices located in Ketchikan, Juneau, Anchorage, Bethel, Nome, Kenai, Fairbanks, and Kodiak will attend this session.

Each of the eight prosecuting attorney instructors with the assistance of the attorney coordinator will be responsible for the training of all law enforcement officers in their city and surrounding communities. The five day meeting will acquaint the prosecuting attorney instructors with the training program for law enforcement officers.

Instruction of law enforcement officers will be conducted from October 1 to December 15, 1979 by the attorney coordinator and the prosecuting attorney instructors. The primary sessions will be held in the eight cities having district attorney offices. The sessions will be two days long, with several sessions contemplated in the larger communities. All local law enforcement offices as well as officers from surrounding communities having less than five peace officers will attend these sessions. Similar sessions will also be held in surrounding communities having five or more peace officers.

Upon completion of the training program for law enforcement officers, the coordinating attorney will begin work on sample complaints to be used in charging under the criminal code. Work will also begin in conjunction with the court system on a set of jury instructions to be used with the criminal code.

The final phase of the training program will be conducted at the eight district attorney offices during May 15-June 30. The attorney coordinator will conduct reviews of selected areas of the code as well as address problems that have arisen since the code's implementation.

REVISED CRIMINAL CODE-TRAINING PROGRAM
(Prepared March 29, 1979)

The second session of the tenth Alaska Legislature adopted a new criminal code for the state. The new code is a sweeping and comprehensive revision of Alaska's criminal law. The code becomes effective on January 1, 1980. The eighteen month delayed effective date was specified to allow sufficient time to devise and implement a training program to ensure that all segments of the criminal justice system would be familiar with the code once it went into effect. Though envisioning this training program, the Legislature failed to provide funds for its development and implementation. The funding of a training program is critical to ensure a smooth transition from existing law to the new criminal code.

The attached pages discuss in detail the training program to be conducted by the Department of Law. The program has two phases. The first begins on April 1, 1979 and continues until June 30, 1979. During April and May of this year a criminal code manual will be prepared by the Department of Law. The manual will include the provisions of the new criminal code, the relevant corresponding sections of the prior criminal code, the commentary adopted by the legislature expressing its intent in passing the criminal code, cross-references for each statute to other relevant provisions in the criminal code, a derivation chart listing the states upon which the revised criminal code was based and a compilation of judicial decisions in states having statutes similar to those appearing in the new criminal code. The manual will be approximately five-hundred pages and will be distributed to all district attorneys, public defenders and judges. Extra copies of the manual will be available at cost to members of the defense bar.

The first phase of instruction will begin in Sitka in early June for all district attorneys. A twelve-hour session conducted over two days is planned. Training manuals will be distributed at or before the session. All members of the eight district attorneys offices will leave the session with a working knowledge of the criminal code along with a manual which will address many of the questions which will arise once the code becomes effective.

Also being held in Sitka at the same time as the district attorney's conference is the annual judicial conference. Members of the criminal division of the Department of Law will present an overview of the criminal code at the judicial conference and distribute the criminal code manual. Also envisioned is a program on the new criminal code to be presented at the Alaska Bar Association Convention in Sitka prior to the judicial conference.

The second phase of the training program will commence on July 1, 1979. Drafting will begin on a criminal code work book which will be distributed to all law enforcement officers (both state and municipal) in Alaska. The work book will be drafted in conjunction with the efforts of the Department of Public Safety Academy to devise a training program for new recruits. The work book will emphasize those provisions of the criminal code which are of particular relevance to peace officers (i.e., assault, disorderly conduct, homicide, theft, joyriding). A number of questions regarding the statutes will also be included. These questions will be answered by the officers at the training sessions described below. An instruction manual will also be prepared which will be used by the eight prosecuting attorney instructors who will be assigned primary responsibility for training law enforcement officers.

In early fall a five-day intensive review of the criminal code will be conducted in Anchorage. Eight prosecuting attorneys, one from each of the eight state district attorney offices located in Ketchikan, Juneau, Anchorage, Bethel, Nome, Kenai, Fairbanks, and Kodiak will attend this session.

Each of the eight prosecuting attorney instructors with the assistance of the attorney coordinator will be responsible for the training of all law enforcement officers in their city and surrounding communities. The five day meeting will acquaint the prosecuting attorney instructors with the training program for law enforcement officers.

Instruction of law enforcement officers will be conducted from October 1 to December 15, 1979 by the attorney coordinator and the prosecuting attorney instructors. The primary sessions will be held in the eight cities having district attorney offices. The sessions will be two days long, with several sessions contemplated in the larger communities. All local law enforcement officers as well as officers from surrounding communities having less than five peace officers will attend these sessions. Similar sessions will also be held in surrounding communities having five or more peace officers.

Upon completion of the training program for law enforcement officers, the coordinating attorney will begin work on sample complaints to be used in charging under the criminal code. Work will also begin in conjunction with the court system on a set of jury instructions to be used with the criminal code.

The final phase of the training program will be conducted at the eight district attorney offices during May 15-June 30. The attorney coordinator will conduct reviews of selected areas of the code as well as address problems that have arisen since the code's implementation.
