ARCTIC WINTER GAMES

January 18, 1980

The Honorable John C. Sackett
State Capitol

*I - will take

John*

Dear Senator Sackett:

Again, thanks for letting me send you this letter which will be the first of several to keep a busy legislature posted on the 1980 Arctic Winter Games' progress and to ask for your continuing support.

Since the inception of the games at Yellowknife, Northwest Territories in 1970, the Arctic Winter Games' travel has been partially funded by the State, as I feel it should be. To help with this funding Governor Hammond has proposed a special appropriation for $50,000, as noted on the attached sheet. This request represents about 75 percent of the total travel costs for the 306 athletes and support personnel.

Through the assistance of state funding, Alaska is able to send more competent athletes, from all parts of the State, to the competition. Not only is this an honor to the various participants, but it will be of benefit for good continuing international relations between Canada and the State of Alaska.

For your information, the budget, special appropriation for 1980 Arctic Winter Games and the list of 1980 games coordinators is enclosed.

Should any further information be needed, please do not hesitate to call me at 344-6809.

Regards,

Don Cather

1980 Arctic Winter Games
 Meet your host

For the second time since the inception of the Arctic Winter Games, Whitehorse is once again honored by hosting this great northern rendezvous of sports and culture with participants attending from all parts of the north — from Kelchikan to Cambridge Bay and from Beaver Creek to Baker Lake.

Whitehorse last hosted these games in 1972 and, although the face of the city may have changed somewhat over the past eight years, that warm and friendly northern attitude remains unchanged. Yukon's capital city is now home for about 17,000 residents who enjoy many of the comforts which go along with life in a cosmopolitan city. As Canada's largest city north of 60°, Whitehorse has a good variety of restaurants and shopping facilities offering visitors a wide choice from specialty shops to department stores or from fine European cuisine to fast food take-outs.

With the onslaught of the tens of thousands of gold seekers who stormed the Chilkoot Pass from Skagway, Alaska to the head of Bennett Lake between 1896 and 1898, came the construction of the White Pass & Yukon Route railway. With the driving of the last spike in June, 1900, an integrated overland and river transportation system was born. Goods and people were transported over the coast mountains from Skagway to Whitehorse by rail where they continued on to Dawson City by sternwheeler down the Yukon River.

Dawson was the jewel of the Yukon and claimed capital status until 1953 when the capital was transferred to Whitehorse just three years after it was officially incorporated as a city.

After the golden bubble of the Klondike Rush burst, Whitehorse remained as a small and relatively insignificant town. It stayed that way until 1942 when thousands of American and Canadian army personnel arrived to build the Alaska Highway. The boom ceased by the end of the war, but Whitehorse had become an important communications and transportation center, accessible by road, rail and air.

1980 Arctic Winter Games

Special Events

Stage shows, exhibits, dances, native events, tours — all part of the Special Events program planned for the 1980 Arctic Winter Games. The object is to crystallize the unique personality of the Yukon and present it to the hundreds of guests who are coming to Whitehorse. Every community in the Yukon is being encouraged to take part — pooling the talents and imagination of dozens of individuals to paint a picture of the Yukon's colorful past, exciting present and challenging future. Prominent in the program will be a portrayal of the cultural heritage of Yukon Indians. And the spirit that brought thousands to the Klondike in search of gold on the trail of '98 will come to life once more in Whitehorse.

Alaska and the Northwest Territories are not to be overlooked either. Capsules of the arts and lifestyles of these northern areas will complete the Special Events program of the 1980 Arctic Winter Games — providing a true insight to the many diverse cultures of the entire North American Arctic.

Games Society

The Arctic Winter Games Society is incorporated under the Societies Ordinance of the Yukon Territory to organize and stage the 1980 Arctic Winter Games. The Society is headed by a Board of Directors of prominent Whitehorse citizens and is growing to encompass dozens of committees and hundreds of hardworking individuals.

The Arctic Winter Games Society is organized in three main divisions. The Sport Division consists of a separate committee for each of the 15 sports on the Games program, and is charged with the task of hosting competition. The Administration Division is handling the 'logistics' aspects of staging the Games — the ways and means of accommodating and feeding a thousand participants, providing sports facilities, local transportation needs and staging the ceremonies that add much color to the program.

The Special Events Division is preparing historical, artistic and cultural events to complement the sports program.

As host to the 1980 Arctic Winter Games, the Society is impartial with respect to the three participating areas. It is not involved in trials to select athletes who will represent the Yukon.

Sports

The basis of the Arctic Winter Games philosophy is to provide an opportunity and incentive for northern athletes to improve their skills. Competition in Whitehorse will be strong — in quest of the golden ulu awards.

There will be 15 sports in the Games program including Badminton, Basketball, Curling, Figure Skating, Hockey, Judo, Shooting, Cross-Country Skiing, Table Tennis, Volleyball and Wrestling, with competition about equally divided between junior age and open class events. Top Canadian officials will serve as judges and chief referees, providing an opportunity for northern officials and athletes alike to increase their knowledge of each sport.

Over 900 competitors will take part — all residents in the north for at least six months prior to the March 10 opening date. Team trials being held in Alaska, Yukon and Northwest Territories will determine the athletes to represent each area.

At the conclusion of the week-long event, hundreds of exhausted participants — and Games organizers — will witness the presentation of the official Games flag to the area taking home the most ulu awards.

In addition to the competitive sports program, gymnastics will be presented as a demonstration sport, with the hope that growing interest and enthusiasm will permit its inclusion in the competitive program of future Arctic Winter Games.

Finances

About half of the operating budget for the 1980 Arctic Winter Games is provided by a grant from the Canadian Government through the Department of Fitness and Amateur Sport, while the balance is made up through contributions from the municipal and territorial governments and the private sector. Contributions include cash, goods and services from dozens of private companies throughout Yukon and southern Canada.

Each participating area is responsible for the costs involved in selecting its competitors and transporting them to and from the Games in Whitehorse. Each area pays an annual membership fee to the Arctic Winter Game. In addition, the international governing body of the Arctic Winter Games.

Ione J. Christensen,
Commissioner

The 1980 Arctic Winter Games represent the second opportunity for Yukon to host a large contingent of athletes and spectators. Our first hosting of the Games in 1972 was a great success. With the benefit of our previous experience, our aim this time must be for a better, more polished performance. Time is getting short - there is less than a year left in which to accomplish a great deal of work. We must all get involved, lending support to the large number of working committees that are being formed - there is an area in which each and every one of us can lend a helping hand, even if only in a small way.

Naturally, there are many rewards that can accrue from the hosting of a large event such as the Arctic Winter Games, but the greatest reward, surely, is the feeling, as hosts, that our guests will go home determined to return at some future date to experience more of the openness and friendliness of Yukon and Yukoners. But friendliness is not enough. Good hosts are relaxed, and relaxation comes from being prepared. And if we are to be prepared, we must get involved - NOW.

Games symbol

Three interlocking circles on a blue background form the Games symbol. They represent the uniting of the north through athletics and cultural exchange. Medals for the Arctic Winter Games take the form of an Eskimo ulu, a razor-sharp utility knife. The ulu awards, cast in gold, silver and bronze, are treasured by winning competitors as the highest award in northern athletics.

John H. Parker,
Commissioner

It is again our pleasure to join our northern neighbours in friendly rivalry in the field of sport in the forthcoming Arctic Winter Games which are being held in Whitehorse, Yukon. I know the youth of the Northwest Territories look forward to the challenge because those selected to attend the games have been victorious at local, regional and territorial playdowns held in the Northwest Territories prior to assembling in Whitehorse.

This unique challenge has encouraged mass participation and fostered the expansion of sports and recreation in the remote communities of the Northwest Territories, thereby providing an attainable goal for those who would otherwise be isolated from such competition. I am confident that the representatives of the Northwest Territories will leave a lasting impression of good will and will be a credit to the communities they represent.

Jay S. Hammond
Governor

A contingent of approximately 300 Alaskan athletes will make their way to Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, in March of 1980 to participate in the Sixth Arctic Winter Games.

These young competitors were selected for excellence in their given sport during qualification trials throughout the State. The Alaskan team will be meeting in the spirit of fun and sportsmanship with their counterparts from the Yukon and Northwest Territories of Canada.

The Arctic Winter Games have continued to promote enthusiasm and unity among the people in the north and Alaskans are pleased and privileged to actively compete in this unique athletic and cultural exchange.

III. ANALYSIS (See Fiscal Note Preparation Instructions, Section III)

Personal Services: This provides for 2.0 temporary loan award clerks for the months of May and June to handle the 1980-81 student loan requests.

Loans: $1,820,000 is needed to meet current outstanding loan awards plus estimated demand for 1979-80. This is largely the result of students remaining in school at a much higher rate than the past. For seven years the cancellation rate has been about 18 to 20 per cent. This year it is only 5 per cent and awards exceed the appropriation.

SUBJECT: Student Loan Funds - Current Year

DATE: February 20, 1980

We have a supplemental budget request, SB 425, in for $1.3762 million for current student loans. This is sufficient to fund all loans awarded through 1-24-80. We have not awarded any loans since that date. We have, however, been receiving loan applications. Presented below is our projected need to fully fund all requests for this year.

2-14-80 to 6-30-80 (proj)	220	-	-	275,000

In other words, if we wish to fully fund all loan applicants this year, including summer session, we would need about $455,000 in addition to the present supplemental request.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Frank Spargo, Budget Analyst
Division of Budget and Management

FROM: Kerry D. Romesburg, Executive Director
Alaska Commission on Postsecondary Education

DATE: February 1, 1980

Three questions have been raised in conjunction with the current need for a supplemental for the Alaska Student Loan Program. Each is addressed below:

1. What are the exact (as best can be estimated) number and dollars involved in the program for this year?

Response

The total number of loan awards as of 1-31-80 was 4,788. There will be no further awards made beyond this total unless cancellations occur in unpredicted numbers or additional funds (beyond the request) are received.

This total now includes those loan awards which were deleted from our system in mid-December due to a system problem.

The total funds currently obligated (as of 2-1-80) are $9,917,143. This also includes the accounts re-instated.

Based upon the current loan cancellation rate, which is only 5.06%, we will have a total of 4,546 active loan awards by fiscal year end. If this holds, we will need a total of $9,520,457 for loans (based upon a 4.00% cancellation - since dollar amounts are lower than loan accounts).

1979-80 project need	$9,520,457
1979-80 appropriation	8,150,000
Supplemental need	$1,370,457

Hence our supplemental need is for $1.37 million.

2. How did the need for the supplemental arise? What is to prevent this from happening again?

Response

Each year, we plan for approximately a $1 million over award. This means for a $8.15 million appropriation, we will award approximately $9.15 million in awards. Historically, we have experienced a cancellation rate of 18% on total number of loans and of 15% on total funds required. That is, we may award 5,000 loans, but realistically, only 4,100 students will actually use their loans. Students fail to attend, or drop out, for a variety of reasons, but the result is a built-in savings on the original loans awarded.

This year the cancellation rate is only 5.06%. We can only guess as to why this reduced rate has occurred, but according to most sources, the students are staying in school because there are so few job opportunities available. In other words, it is a reflection of the economy.

In any case, this has resulted in a direct over-expenditure of $896,500 simply because we planned for a greater cancellation rate than that which occurred.

However, we are in need of $1.37 million. This leaves an over expenditure of $473,500 which needs explanation. For the current year, our "red-line" was $9.15 million. We now know this was too high, but that was what we administratively established based upon our seven-year history. In mid-December, we found out that accounts were being deleted from our loan system data base. We have now found the problem and have established procedures to assure that it will not be repeated. There were 348 student award accounts deleted and until February 1, 1980, these accounts had not been restored. With these accounts missing, our total loan encumbrance was grossly understated, and our awards division thought they had more funds available than was the case. By the time we reached our "red-line" of $9.15 million, we were in actuality, well over that limit. As the accounts were restored, the total continued to grow. Unfortunately, as we were restoring the accounts, we continued to make new awards. We found out rather abruptly, that we had not only reached our "red-line" limit, but we were in immediate need to halt all further awards and seek a supplemental to our existing budget.

We will not establish such a high over-award limit in the future. In fact, since we have missed so badly this year, in our future loan cycles we will not over-award beyond the current 5% rate. In terms of the account deletion problem, this simply should not occur again. We now have safe-guards in place to assure that the file security will remain intact.

3. How much is needed to fund temporary employees for the months of May and June?

Response

We hire award clerks at range 9-A. Currently we estimate needing two temporary clerks for those months. The cost for these clerks would be $6,000. If the Legislature raises the salaries of exempt employees, the cost will go up accordingly.

SUBJECT: Student Loan Program Funds; Request for Supplemental

DATE: January 29, 1980

One and one-half years ago when we were in the process of putting together projections to illustrate the demand on the student loan program funds our best guess was in the 3100-3200 student range with an average loan of nearly $2,500. As we actually moved into the FY 80 we began to receive indications that our demand estimates would be low. We decided to wait however until January before we would actually give up on our earlier projections because we knew from years of past experience that a very high proportion of students drop out of school after the first semester or first quarter and thus, free-up loan funds for availability during the Spring semester. This has not happened this year either.

We now know that our earlier projections based on both trend lines and our knowledge of what was happening in higher education enrollments across the nation missed the mark by a mile!

Based on our assessment of the current demand on the loan program as of 24 January, the number of loans is approaching 4800 (instead of the 3000 projected) and the amount is approaching $10,000.0 (instead of the $8,150.0 projected).

Therefore, in order to support the known demand for loan funds for the remainder of FY 80 we are submitting this request for a supplemental in the amount of $2,000.0.

Your cooperation and understanding in this request is solicited.

The Honorable John C. Sackett
State Capitol

Juneau, Alaska 99811

Dear Senator Sackett:

Again, thanks for letting me send you this letter which will be the first of several to keep a busy legislature posted on the 1980 Arctic Winter Games' progress and to ask for your continuing support.

Since the inception of the games at Yellowknife, Northwest Territories in 1970, the Arctic Winter Games' travel has been partially funded by the State, as I feel it should be. To help with this funding Governor Hammond has proposed a special appropriation for $50,000, as noted on the attached sheet. This request represents about 75 percent of the total travel costs for the 306 athletes and support personnel.

Through the assistance of state funding, Alaska is able to send more competent athletes, from all parts of the State, to the competition. Not only is this an honor to the various participants, but it will be of benefit for good continuing international relations between Canada and the State of Alaska.

For your information, the budget, special appropriation for 1980 Arctic Winter Games and the list of 1980 games coordinators is enclosed.

Should any further information be needed, please do not hesitate to call me at 344-6809.

Regards,

Don Cather
