SB 291 cont. - SB 307 1663

SB SENATE BILL NO. 291 by the Rules Committee by request of 291 the Governor, entitled:

"An Act relating to the effective date of the monetary terms of collective bargaining agreements; to the approval of the monetary terms for collective bargaining agreements for more than one year; to the coverage and exclusion of certain classes of employees from collective bargaining agreements; to the exclusion of covered employees from certain provisions of the personnel laws; and providing for an effective date."

was read the first time and referred to the Labor and Management Committee.

Fiscal note accompanying SENATE BILL NO. 291 is zero.

Governor's transmittal letter follows:

August 6, 1979

The Honorable Clem Tillion
President of the Senate
Alaska State Legislature
Juneau, Alaska 99811

Dear Mr. President:

Under the authority of Article III, Section 18, and Article II, Section 9, of the Constitution of the State of Alaska, I am transmitting a bill making certain amendments to the collective bargaining and personnel laws for public employees.

The bill's purpose is to avoid in the future the kind of problem which caused this special session and to eliminate some ambiguities, anomalies, and redundancies in the existing law.

Section 1 does two things. First, it prescribes that new monetary terms of collective bargaining agreements may not go into effect until after they have been approved by way of an appropriation, that is, at the first of the next fiscal year. Henceforth, all financing will be prospective. Because of this, it is my intention to sign the companion appropriation bill before I sign this one so that those appropriations and the monetary terms they finance can be retrospective and will not be affected. Second, section 1 prescribes that multi-year contracts will be financed as a contractual obligation. If the monetary terms are not open to renegotiation during the life of the contract, the moneys are appropriated at the outset and will be paid. As a practical matter, the appropriation bill will contain the first year's money in agency budgets and second and third years' moneys as separate appropriations, unitemized, for future fiscal years. For example, there could be a section reading, "There are appropriated in fiscal years 1981 and 1982 moneys sufficient to pay the monetary terms of collective bargaining agreements for the general government unit for the period July 1, 1981, through June 30, 1983." As a matter of law, however, if section 1 of this bill is enacted, once the first year's moneys are appropriated, the remainder will be as well no matter what formula is used.

The first amendment in section 2 merely brings the code up to date to say with more precision what it already says, that is, that the Public Employees Relations Act covers the ferry system. The second amendment adds directors, deputy directors, and assistant directors of divisions to the class of persons whom the collective bargaining laws do not cover. These officers are managers. They simply do not belong in the same class as those persons who are covered by collective bargaining.

Section 3 excludes retirement and social security from the subjects of collective bargaining. They are by their nature matters of public policy best left to legislative control.

Section 4 excludes covered employees from the statutory grievance procedures before the personnel board. Covered employees are all afforded grievance procedures under their contracts. Two proceedings are redundant and merely create confusion.

Section 5 excludes covered employees from the statutory pay plan. Their contracts cover their pay. (They are already excluded from the statutory leave plan for the same reason.)

Section 6 repeals an archaic provision of the labor law requiring approval of the commissioner of transportation for ferry system labor contracts.

Finally, delayed effective dates are placed on those sections of the bill which require revision to existing bargaining agreements or other advance preparations.

While modest in scope, these amendments will go a long way toward making the collective bargaining process more workable and fairer for both the employee on the one hand and the public employer on the other. I urge its prompt enactment.

Sincerely,

Jay S. Hammond
Governor

LETTER OF INTENT
FOR SENATE BILL 291

In his letter of transmittal for Senate Bill 291, appearing on pages 6 and 7 of the August 6, 1979 Senate Journal, Governor Hammond recommends that future sessions of the Legislature make open-ended appropriations to fund collective bargaining agreements that span more than one fiscal year.

The Senate Finance Committee wishes to go on record as being opposed to the use of "open-ended" or "continuing" appropriations to fund collective bargaining agreements. It is the Committee's feeling that adoption of this style of appropriation by future legislatures would relinquish legislative control over personal service appropriations throughout state government.

FROM: J. H. Hogan, Director

SUBJECT: SB 291/HB 505

The above referenced bills relate in part to the approval of the monetary terms for collective bargaining agreements for more than one year. In the first paragraph on page 7 of the Senate Journal for August 6 (attached) you will note the Governor suggests the following language be included in future appropriation acts to provide multi-year appropriations:

"There are appropriated in fiscal years 1981 and 1982 moneys sufficient to pay the monetary terms of collective bargaining agreements for the general government unit for the period July 1, 1981, through June 30, 1983."

What the Governor is in essence suggesting is that you make an open-ended appropriation for the increased personnel service costs. To do as he suggests could cost the Legislature a substantial degree of control over the rate of increase in personal service costs throughout State government. For example, how would you apply a vacancy rate in the budget if it were construed that you had already appropriated the full cost of employees under contract?

If the Legislature chooses to pass either of these bills during this special session, you may want to insert in the record some reference to indicate future legislative study of the use of a continuing appropriation to fund collective bargaining agreements. That way you would clearly reserve judgment on the Governor's suggested method.

POSITION PAPER

Senate Bill No. 291

"An Act making a special appropriation to the Department of Fish and Game for shooting and firearm safety programs; and providing for an effective date.

SB No. 291 provides $5,000,000 to the Department of Fish and Game to administer grants to municipalities and public and private organizations for the development and operation of public shooting ranges and related facilities, and to administer programs involving education and training in the safe use of firearms.

The Department believes that firearm safety programs may reduce the number of deaths and injuries resulting from firearm accidents. During the past decade, between 10 and 29 deaths resulted from firearm accidents each year.

The Department of Health and Social Services supports the concept of firearm safety programs.

Letter of Intent to accompany SB 305 by the Resources Committee

It is the intent of the Senate Resources Committee that the Department of Natural Resources, as part of the planning for recreational facilities south of the Alaska Range, consider the feasibility of recreational facilities at such alternative sites as Curry Ridge, Larson Lake, Byers Lake and the Chulitna River. The Department should also consider the possibility of establishing several small recreational centers, and not necessarily one large complex.
