The meeting of the Senate Judiciary Committee was called to order by Chairman Ray at 1:30 p.m. All members were present. Senator Rick Halford also was in attendance.

The first order of business was Senate Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for House Bill 163 (Jud) -- Relating to harassment of persons lawfully engaged in hunting, fishing, camping, or trapping. The bill was returned to the Committee for additional amendments.

Mr. Jay W. Nelson, Director of the Alaska Environmental Lobby, testified and pointed out three areas of major concern. The first being that the bill is perceived as being directed at environmentalists and that these groups resent the implementations. Secondly, he pointed out that at the present time there are no cases of harassment in this state and that the bill was initiated because of a case in British Columbia and in Massachusetts. He also pointed out that in private discussions he had with legislators, the consensus was that this statute would most likely never be used because of law enforcement being sparse in this State and, therefore, what is the necessity for this bill. Senator Josephson voiced his concerns and suggested that Mr. Nelson should perhaps use a reverse tactic, rather than make the accusation that the Legislature doesn't act until a problem exists. He pointed out that this piece of legislation was not directed to any environmentalist groups in the State, but the problem has occurred in other states, and, therefore, was initiated as a preventative measure and that harassment of hunters will not be tolerated in Alaska. Mr. Nelson agreed with Senator Josephson, but feels that should this bill pass, it will not effect "environmentalists" in this state and reiterated that it would most likely not be enforceable. Senator Pettyjohn pointed out that guides who feel they have a vested interest in certain game areas, are actually using harassment tactics on hunters. Senator Josephson supports this legislation and explained his reasoning to the committee.

Senator Ray referred to Alaska Statutes Section 16.05.926 and stated he felt this section is superfluous, as it is already covered in the Alaska Statutes Section 16.05.925. Senator Rick Halford advised the committee that he had spoken to the prime sponsor and suggested that the section be deleted. Senator Pettyjohn concurred with the deletion and pointed out a number of problems that could occur if that section were not deleted.

Mr. Ron Somerville, representing the Alaska Sportsman Council, testified in support of the bill and the deletion of the AS 16.05.926 and reiterated to the committee that the bill was not directed to environmental groups. He also pointed out that this legislation would address seal hunting on the Pribilof Islands and marine mammal management in Alaska game reserves which are both "high priority issues." He further stated that Green Peace and other organizations have addressed these priorities and stressed the importance of establishing ground rules now, so that it is not just for the sports hunters but for commercial enterprises as well.

Senator Ray suggested on line 17, page 1 to insert the words "harassing or" after the word "hindering", whereupon Ms. Horetzki, from the Dept. of Law, advised against this insertion and explained this would prohibit action rather than speech and explained that the first amendment allows people to speak their minds.

Senator Pettyjohn moved an amendment to delete Alaska Statutes Section 16.05.926, and on page 2, lines 7 and 10, deleting references to that section, and there being no objections, it was so ordered.

Senator Pettyjohn moved to pass the bill from committee, as amended, with individual recommendations. All members signed "Do Pass".

The second order of business was Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 228 (C&RA) -- relating to state aid for Indian tribes located on certain federally established Indian reserves, whereupon Senator Ziegler, the prime sponsor, referred to Mr. Lee Sharp's letter of June 13th which explained that this bill would have no effect on the Juneau Indian Village.

Mr. Steven S. Anderson, attorney for the Metlakatla Indian Community, testified in favor of the bill. Mr. Anderson submitted written testimony and briefly explained that the main purpose of the bill is to extend the benefits of these state revenue sharing programs to the Metlakatla Indian Community. At present, under Alaska state law, only state municipalities which have been created by state law are eligible to receive revenue sharing monies. Although Metlakatla is organized under federal law, they actually perform the same type of governmental functions as state law municipalities do. He went on to explain that the bill had been drafted to apply only to the Metlakatla Indian Community, and explained that after the passage of the Native Land Claims Settlement Act, it is the only remaining Indian reserve in Alaska; that they have functioned as any other community, providing public works and services without state revenue sharing and that the citizens who are non-members of the Metlakatla Community do not have the same rights as the members. He cited the example that, non-members can not vote for Metlakatla's twelve-man governing council. Senator Ray stated that if the non-members could not vote, then perhaps the state should not provide them with money. Mr. Anderson responded that the limited amount of non-members have all the governmental benefits as everyone else, except the right to vote for mayor or council, although this doesn't apply to school board and the expenditure of funds.

Senator Josephson questioned that if this bill were passed, would it be opening up a potential for other native groups and could Metlakatla be treated in this special manner. In Mr. Anderson's opinion, it could because the Metlakatla Community did not participate in the Native Land Settlement Act, they are the only Indian reserve in Alaska, and equitably speaking, other Indian communities are "incorporated" under state law. They receive federal funds as well as revenue sharing money as long as they live in or near a first or second class city. This perhaps creates a double payment standard, but with Metlakatla this would not happen.

Mr. Anderson responded to Senator Eliason's questions regarding federal benefits, stating that these benefits are also extended to other native tribes and reservations.

Senator Ray questioned whether or not the use of fish traps had been abolished, whereupon Mr. Anderson responded that the use of fish traps had not been abolished.

Discussion was had by the committee as to why the Metlakatla Indians opted not to petition for the Native Claims Settlement Act. It was pointed out that at the time of the petition, the people chose to remain a traditional Indian reservation.

Advantages were discussed and the reasoning behind the trade off and perhaps the principle value was the "fish traps" which was used to provide revenues for their community, but because of this trade off they did not receive the monetary benefits that the others did.

Mr. Anderson strongly expressed that they are not asking for anything special, but only that the Alaska citizens who live in Metlakatla be able to receive the comparable benefits which other Alaskan natives receive.

Discussion was had in reference to the non-members who live in Metlakatla and it was suggested that perhaps state aide should be provided to those non-members (approx. 100). Mr. Anderson, reminded the Committee that the members are Alaskan citizens, too.

Senator Josephson briefly summarizes Mr. Anderson's testimony and feels that basically at the time of the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act, the native reserves (seven total) were each given the right by election to either affiliate with a regional corporation, and become a village corporation under the act and take revenues and benefits of the act and go into the corporate shareholder mode or to opt out and retain their reserve status, by opting out they did not foresee that they would be creating a disability in terms of not being eligible for state programs.

Mr. Anderson explained that prospect of the Alaskan citizens who reside there, because other state citizens located in other locations in the state receive their share of these monies, using gym and library as an example, with the exception of the Alaska citizens who live on the Metlakatla reserve.

Senator Eliason questions revenue sharing before the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act if it did exist and what the federal cutback were at this time. If in fact because of the cutbacks is this not what the push for this bill all about, this of course being the case.

Senator Ray expressed his concerns of the broadening of the use of the word "local government" instead of "municipality". Ms. Tamara Cooke, representing Legislative Legal Counsel and drafted the bill, explained that the definition of "municipality" did not apply to the Community of Metlakatla.

Senator Josephson requested that should the bill pass from Committee he would like to have a "letter of Intent" explaining why Metlaktla is receiving this treatment, because he foresees other unincorporated communities requesting the same. Chairman Ray requested that Senator Josephson write a letter of intent, and rescheduled the bill for Friday, June 17th.

Re: SB 228 (Relating to State aid for Indian tribes located on federally-established Indian reserves)

Dear Senator Ziegler:

Assistant Attorney General Larry D. Wood of the Department of Law office in Fairbanks recently brought this bill to my attention. In particular, he noted that the provisions of the bill would apply to an "Indian tribe located on a federally established Indian reserve." Neither "Indian tribe" nor "federally established Indian reserve" are defined or further identified in the bill.

As you may know, there is considerable uncertainty regarding those terms and concepts in Alaska. However, everyone seems to agree that the Metlakatla Indian Community qualifies as an "Indian tribe located on a federally established Indian reserve." Accordingly, if it is your intent to ensure that the Metlakatla Indian Community may receive state aid, we believe it would be desirable to amend the bill to reach only the Metlakatla Indian Community. We recognize that this may present some problem under the prohibition on local and special legislation in Art. II, sec. 19 of the Alaska Constitution. However, that provision of the Constitution prohibits local and special legislation only if a general law cannot be made applicable. Given the uncertainty regarding the concepts of "Indian tribe" and "federally established Indian reserve," we believe there is sufficient justification for limiting the reach of this bill to the Metlakatla Indian Community.

We will be happy to work with you, a designated legislative committee, or the Legal Affairs Division of the

Subject: CSSB 228 (C&RA)

Dear Senator Ziegler:

Following your telephone conversation this morning I reviewed CSSB 228 (C&RA) to determine whether it would have any effect on Juneau area Indian tribes or the Indian-owned property on Willoughby Avenue often referred to as the Juneau Indian Village or the village.

It is my reading of the bill, particularly in light of the intent section, that it will have no effect on any Juneau area Indian tribe or on the village. The bill affects only those Indian tribes located on a "federally established Indian reserve" and there are no federally established Indian reserves in Juneau. In fact, all Indian reserves in Alaska except the Annette Island Reserve (Metlakatla) were revoked by Section 19(a) of ANCSA.

The village is a 1964 townsite plat known as the Juneau Indian Village Addition to the Juneau Townsite. The federal townsite trustee conveyed property to Alaska Natives occupying property within the Juneau Indian Village Addition by means of deeds entitled "Native Restricted Trustee Deed." The deeds, pursuant to 43 USC 733, provided that the land shall not be alienated or encumbered without the consent of the Secretary of Interior, and shall not be subject to taxation, to levy and sale in satisfaction of debts, contracts or liabilities, or to any claim of adverse occupancy or law of prescription . . .

With the consent of the Secretary of Interior the restricted status of much of the village property has been lifted and the property conveyed to non-natives. The village is now a patchwork of restricted and non-restricted titles. In any event, the village created by the Juneau Indian Village Addition townsite plat was not then, and is not now, a federally established Indian reserve and would not be affected by CSSB 228 (C&RA).

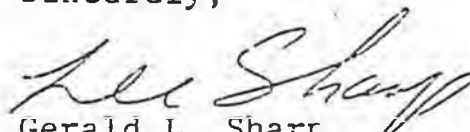

The Honorable Robert H. Ziegler, Sr.
Re: CSSB 228 (C&RA)

June 13, 1983

In reading sections 27 and 28, the addition of the phrase "Indian tribe and" to the sections of Title 29 being amended caused me some concern over the fact that "Indian tribe" was not defined and could be read to mean any Indian tribe. However, upon reading AS 29.95.020 (a), (b) and (c) as amended by sections 26 through 28 of the bill, it becomes clear that the term "Indian tribe" is limited to Indian tribes qualifying for state aid under AS 29.88 and AS 29.89.

In summary, I do not believe the subject bill would have any effect on the Juneau Indian Village on Willoughby Avenue nor on any Indian tribe in the Juneau area.

Sincerely,

Re: CSSB 228

Dear Senator Gilman:

At your request we have reviewed the proposed CSSB 228. You asked whether the bill would affect the State's relationship with unincorporated communities or Native village governments. The bill amends the revenue sharing (AS 29.88 and AS 29.89) and municipal assistance (AS 43.20.016) programs to include Indian tribes located on federally established reserves which were not revoked by the Alaska Natives Claims Settlement Act (ANCSA), 43 U.S.C. 1601-1628. The only community which fits this description is the Metlakatla Indian community.

We see no legal problem with including Metlakatla as a recipient of the various programs established to benefit local governments. However, we believe that the use throughout the bill of the term "Indian tribe", and the omission of any reference to Metlakatla, may suggest to a reader not intimately familiar with AS 29 and ANCSA, that the effect of the bill is much broader. This effect could be avoided by replacing all references to "Indian tribe" with "the Metlakatla Indian community." We believe that the specific reference to Metlakatla would not cause the bill to be viewed as a local or special act in violation of Alaska Const. art. II, § 19, because it would have precisely the same effect as the use of the term "Indian tribe" as defined in CSSB 228 -- that is, "Indian tribe" as defined in the bill is a class of one, Metlakatla being the only federally established Indian reserve in Alaska not revoked under ANCSA. In order to simplify the statute and avoid confusing the reader we suggest referring to Metlakatla specifically, as well as identifying it as the only federally established Indian reserve in Alaska.

We note that AS 29.89.050 "State Aid to Native Village governments" is amended in the bill, to clarify that Metlakatla may not qualify both as a local government and as a Native village government. We have advised in the past that AS 29.59.050 could be challenged on equal protection grounds by an unincorporated community which is not a Native village. We suggest repealing AS 29.89.050, and supplanting it with a provision for aid to unincorporated communities generally.

The Honorable Donald E. Gilman

May 16, 1983

As a general practice in drafting legislation affecting Native villages in Alaska, you should consider including a provision of legislative intent to the effect that neither the act nor any action taken under it shall be interpreted to either expand or diminish the authority or jurisdiction any Native village council may have. This would reduce the possibility that any legislative act benefitting Native village communities may be interpreted to alter the relationship between the State and those communities.

We hope that this brief response is helpful in your consideration of CSSB 228.

Very truly yours,

SENATE JUDICIARY LETTER OF INTENT
CS FOR SENATE BILL 228 (C&RA)

The purpose of Senate Bill 228 is to extend to the Metlakatla Indian Community the benefits of two ongoing state revenue sharing programs, the Municipal Assistance Fund, AS 43.20.016, and the Municipal Tax Resource Equalization Program, AS 28.88.010 et seq. Under existing state law, the Metlakatla Indian Community is not eligible to participate in these programs because it is not technically a state-law "municipality." Senate Bill 228 applies only to the Metlakatla Indian Community and does not affect the legal status or rights of an Indian Reorganization Act entities, traditional councils or village or regional corporations organized under the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act.

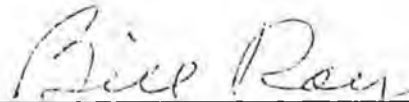

The Committee believes that in fairness the Metlakatla Indian Community must be distinguished from other Native organizations in Alaska with respect to state revenue sharing. The Metlakatla Indian Community has a legal status in Alaska that is absolutely unique. Because the Metlakatla Indian Community elected to forgo the benefits of the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act, the reservation status of the Annette Islands Reserve was preserved. Metlakatla was the only reserve in Alaska to make this choice. Thus section 19 of the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act extinguishes all previously existing federal Indian reserves in Alaska but specifically excepts the Annette Islands Reserve. As a federal Indian reservation, located on federal trust land, the Community cannot incorporate under state law.

It is true that the Metlakatla Indian Community is eligible for various federal assistance programs made available to tribes throughout the United States. However, the Metlakatla Indian Community enjoys no special advantage vis-a-vis other Alaska Native groups in this regard. Section 2(c) of the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act provides that the Act does not diminish the responsibility of the federal government to Alaska Natives and Alaska Native groups. The various federal statutes extending benefits to Indian tribes have therefore been amended to provide that the term "tribe" includes the traditional councils, the Indian Reorganization Act entities, and the village and regional corporations located in Alaska. These entities, as well as the Metlakatla Indian Community, therefore receive federal aid under the Indian Self-Determination Act and other federal programs. Unfortunately, this federal aid for Indian entities throughout the United States has substantially eroded. According to the Bureau of Indian Affairs, the federal cutbacks in Indian programs under the Reagan administration have averaged 45%. The Metlakatla Indian Community must now look to other sources for funding.

With respect to state aid, the Metlakatla Indian Community is at a special disadvantage compared to non-Native and predominately Native communities in Alaska. The Metlakatla Indian Community provides substantial governmental services for the approximately 1300 persons who reside on the Annette Islands Reserve, including both members and non-members of the Community. Its governmental expenses are commensurate with these responsibilities, averaging approximately $1.7 million per year. But because the Metlakatla Indian Community is chartered under federal, not state, law, it is not eligible for the state revenue sharing benefits that are extended to other Alaska communities. In contrast, the other Native communities in Alaska, at least those of a size comparable to Metlakatla, are incorporated under state law and the Alaskans resident there enjoy the indirect benefits of state revenue sharing. For example, the City of Hydaburg is organized as a first class city and is eligible to receive state revenue sharing. At the same time, this predominately Native community also receives substantial federal benefits, under the Indian Self-Determination Act and other programs, because of the presence there of the Haida Corporation, an ANCSA village corporation, and the Haida Cooperative Association, an Indian Reorganization Act entity set up pursuant to section 16 of the Indian Reorganization Act. The Metlakatla Indian Community is eligible to receive the federal but not the state benefits. Senate Bill 228 will eliminate this disparity of treatment between state citizens by extending the state revenue sharing benefits that other Alaska communities now enjoy to the Metlakatla Indian Community.

At the Committee hearing, concern was expressed that the phrase "local government," referring both to state law municipalities and to the Metlakatla Indian Community, was unnecessarily broad. The Committee has discussed this matter with legislative counsel and recommends that this language be eliminated and that the phrase "municipality and federal Indian reserve tribe" be used to refer to the legal entities eligible for revenue sharing under these two state programs. The existing definition section, clarifying that the "federal Indian reserve tribe" refers only to Metlakatla, should be retained.

IV. Analysis for SB 230

Section 1 of the bill changes the date of declaration of dividend value from September 1 to December 1 of the dividend year. This has the positive effect of potentially expanding the processing period, allowing the department more time to evaluate applications prior to payment.

Section 2 of the bill changes the payment period and allows one additional calendar month in which to make payments. This will allow a much more orderly processing of payments.

Section 3 of the bill extends the deadline for filing the 1982 dividend application from October 15, 1982 to October 15, 1983. This extension will allow payment to those persons who were qualified for the 1982 program but for one reason or another either they did not file or their applications were lost in the mail or in processing. The department currently has, in-house, approximately 1,800 late-filed applications and 1,200 written contacts from persons who also failed to file. We estimate the total eligible non-filers to be as high as 10,000, assuming 2 percent of the eligible Alaskans failed to file. This extension would require the department to provide the following services and to incur the related expenditures.

Assumption: The goal of this section is to ensure that every eligible Alaskan has maximum opportunity to obtain the $1,000 1982 dividend. The department assumes a responsibility for an affirmative approach at finding those Alaskans and availing them of the extended opportunity.
