DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY

POSITION PAPER - CSSB 275(SA)

Neutral

May 7, 1985

CSSB 275 (State Affairs): An Act relating to the release of motor vehicle records.

The committee substitute addressed the concern the department had with the original bill in regard to releasing data to those with a legitimate need.

In the Anchorage area, DMV now allow individuals to research the vehicle registration records themselves. This legislation will require the department to set stricter guidelines concerning access to registration information. This will eliminate the opportunity for open individual research, therefore, one motor vehicle representative position will be necessary to screen requests to determine eligibility and perform the record search when necessary.

It is recommended the first two lines of subsection AS 28.05.061(f) be changed to read as follows:

"(f) The department shall provide written notice at the time of application for motor vehicle registration"

At the time of application, the department is already required to provide written notice of other sections of law. With this amendment, this new data could be incorporated with the other information. Also, when a person renews registration at a field office there is no application, thus, there would be no written notice if the amendment is not made.

Analysis for Senate Bill 275

An Act relating to release of motor vehicle records

Section 1

This section amends Chapter 5 of Title 28, Motor Vehicles by repealing the current law which requires the Department of Motor Vehicles to release all vehicle and drivers license information upon request. Under Senate Bill 275, only a federal, state, municipal or judicial agency could obtain this information. There would be no charge for such a request.

Section 2

This section would allow the Department of Motor Vehicles to release (after payment of a fee) records relating to motor vehicle and drivers license registration to the following:

- 1) The vehicle owner, license holder or driver named in the record.
- 2) Other members of the public if they have the written authorization of the vehicle owner or license holder.
- 3) Any business determined by the Commissioner of Public Safety to have a legitimate need for receiving a copy of the record requested.

The Department would also be required to maintain for a year, the name of the any individual that received a copy of vehicle or drivers license registration information. The Department would also be required to add information to vehicle registration applications explaining the above.

Unless otherwise provided in this bill, all records maintained by the Department of Motor Vehicles are confidential and private.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY

POSITION PAPER

Senate Bill 275

Senate Bill 275 "An Act relating to release of motor vehicle records."

While the bill appears workable there are additional needs to be addressed.

A contract currently exists with R.L. Polk Company, a national firm, to provide them with a complete motor vehicle record and monthly updates on magnetic tape. These records are used by them for research and vehicle safety matters, i.e. recalls of particular vehicles by manufacturers for defect corrections. Additionally, wrecker services dealing with vehicles whose owners are unknown through impounds obtain copies of microfiche which have the state's motor vehicle records. Another need not addressed is private enterprise acting as government agents through contracts to provide service to the state. These three are legitimate needs that need to be accommodated in legislation.

The bill would preclude certain persons now utilizing information from having access. These persons or organizations include private investigation agencies; collection agencies; private individuals wanting to identify trespassing vehicles on their property; automobile insurance industry; attorney services; and, surprisingly, private individuals who purchase cars and do not transfer appropriate paperwork, at some later time lose their paperwork and don't even know who they bought the car from.

In the absence of the now existing opportunity for individual research with DMV records, one motor vehicle representative position would be necessary to screen and accommodate requests for information.

MEMORANDUM

TO: State Affairs Committee Members

FROM: Senator Jan Friks JM

SUBJECT: Background on SB 275, an Act relating to the release of motor vehicle records.

In March of this year, an Anchorage man was indicted for attempted murder after firing eight shots at a stranger he thought was harassing him. Among his possessions, the Troopers found a list of the names and addresses of 600 Anchorage residents whom he thought were bothering him and a map with X's marked on their homes. The assailant had received this information from the Division of Motor Vehicles by merely providing a license plate number and paying a $2.00 fee for each number.

Currently, any person can contact the Division with a license plate number and, after paying the $2.00 fee, will be given the name and address of the registered owner of the vehicle.

There is no justifiable reason why this information should be available to the general public. Not only can it lead to an invasion of privacy of the vehicle owners, it could possibly result in liability for the State.

Senate Bill 275 will restrict access to this personal information. It will authorize the Division to release records only to the vehicle owner, license holder, or driver, to a person who has the owner's authority, to a legitimate lienholder on the vehicle, or to a government agency.

Senator Vic Fischer brought this situation to my attention after one of his constituents notified him of the enclosed newspaper account. Together we ask that you act favorably on this bill before a comparable incident leads to a more serious ending.

Assault target on list

Names and maps found in home

By LARRY CAMPBELL and SHEILA TOOMEY

Daily News reporters

A Hillside man indicted Wednesday for attempted murder kept a list of approximately 600 Anchorage residents he believed were harassing him.

The alphabetized list was accompanied by a map with X's marking homes of those people, some of whom apparently never knew the accused assailant.

Carl R. Snyder, 39, was arrested by Alaska State Troopers on March 12 after allegedly firing at least eight shots at Kenneth Myers outside the victim's home. Myers was one of the people on the list.

Snyder was indicted Wednesday on a charge of attempted murder. He is presently being held at Cook Inlet Pre-trial Facility in lieu of $500,000 bond.

Snyder, interviewed at the jail Thursday evening, said the list of names he'd gathered were not intended as a "hit list," but were of people he believed were sent by his ex-wife to harass him and his two sons shortly after the couple were divorced early last year. Snyder refused to identify his former wife.

The slight, soft-spoken Snyder said he was "stressed-out" the night of the shooting. In addition to a difficult divorce, he had lost his job and been forced to drop out of college, he said.

"The situation got away from me," he said. "Thank goodness nobody got hurt."

Snyder said the fact that he failed to "hit" Myers even though he was firing from about 25 feet away, leads him to believe that subconsciously he intended to miss.

List, maps in Hillside home

MAR 22 1985

"Nobody could have bungled it that badly," he said.

Snyder said Myers was acquainted with his ex-wife and harassed Snyder "on her behalf." Snyder said that he had followed Myers several times prior to the night of the shooting and said Myers had also followed him on occasion.

Even though the two live in the same Hillside neighborhood, Myers insists he never knew either Snyder or the man's ex-wife. He also denied following Myers.

According to trooper reports, the assailant waited for Myers that Tuesday afternoon outside the victim's office at Surveyors Exchange on DeArmon Road and followed Myers home.

Myers pulled into his driveway followed by the assailant. Both men got out of their vehicles and the assailant immediately began firing at Myers with a handgun.

"He caught me totally by surprise," Myers said. "I never even knew this guy."

Myers escaped by dashing behind a snowbank and running to the back of his house while the assailant stopped to reload. After firing a few more shots at the house and windows, the suspect tried to back his car out of the driveway but got stuck in a ditch.

Snyder was trying to dig his station wagon free when troopers arrived and arrested him, they said.

Later that evening, authorities armed with a search warrant seized the lists, the map and other books about weapons and the CIA, according to Snyder's oldest son, Chris.

Troopers and prosecutors have declined to comment on the case.

The 15-year-old said he had helped his father compile the list. They began early last year, a few months after his stepmother had moved out, the youth said. Strangers in cars, sometimes with cameras and binoculars, roved the secluded street in front of their home.

"We started taking down license numbers because we wanted to check these people out," the young Snyder said Thursday evening. "People were driving around the house, sometimes 12 or 15 times, and we just wanted to know who they were."

Armed with scribbled license plate numbers, Snyder or his son would go to the Department of Motor Vehicles office on Dowling Road and, for a $2 fee, obtain the names and addresses of the registered owners of the cars.

"It got to where I was going there so much I got to know a couple of the women there," the youth said. "Sometimes, we'd compare them to names in the phone book. The list started getting bigger and bigger — kinda out of proportions."

Another man on the list was Larry Wilmarth, owner of the survey equipment supply company Myers works for.

"I'd like to know myself why I was on that list," Wilmarth said. "I don't think I've ever met the guy. There's another Wilmarth on the list, too, a distant relative of mine. But he's been dead 11 years now."

The name gathering ceased last summer, and so did the harassment, the youth said. But every so often, Snyder would spot news reports of drug arrests and find that names of those arrested on drug charges matched the names he and his son had gathered.

"We figured maybe we were on to something with these drug people," the younger Snyder said. "We had figured that my stepmom was involved with some of these people, and maybe they were worried that we knew something."

Myers and Wilmarth deny any involvement in drugs.

In fact, Myers added, a trooper checking out the names on Snyder's list jokingly said "I was one of the more boring people he'd ever investigated."

Dear Mitch:

The Alaska Credit Union League represents all of Alaska's credit unions and their 360,000 members. Our organization is concerned with the implications of SB 275 introduced April 9th. This bill, entitled "An Act relating to release of motor vehicle records" would have a severe impact on the credit unions and other financial institutions in Alaska.

We understand the intent of the legislation is to reduce the State's liability for access to Department of Motor Vehicles records by individuals who may not have reasonable use for this information. However, the language of the bill at the present time restricts access for use by a wide variety of institutions who do have legitimate need for this information. Particularly, credit unions use this information as an aid in locating individuals who are delinquent in paying their legal obligations, among other purposes.

We believe an additional subsection should be added to Section 2 (d) which states:

(4) a business or institution identified as having a legitimate purpose for locating the owner of the vehicle named in the record.

Thank you for your consideration of our request for amendment of this legislation. If we may provide additional information, or be of assistance, please give me a call.

Sincerely,

Nancy B. Usera

POSITION PAPER

Senate Bill 275

Senate Bill 275 "An Act relating to release of motor vehicle records."

While the bill appears workable there are additional needs to be addressed.

A contract currently exists with R.L. Polk Company, a national firm, to provide them with a complete motor vehicle record and monthly updates on magnetic tape. These records are used by them for research and vehicle safety matters, i.e. recalls of particular vehicles by manufacturers for defect corrections. Additionally, wrecker services dealing with vehicles whose owners are unknown through impounds obtain copies of microfiche which have the state's motor vehicle records. Another need not addressed is private enterprise acting as government agents through contracts to provide service to the state. These three are legitimate needs that need to be accommodated in legislation.

The bill would preclude certain persons now utilizing information from having access. These persons or organizations include private investigation agencies; collection agencies; private individuals wanting to identify trespassing vehicles on their property; automobile insurance industry; attorney services; and, surprisingly, private individuals who purchase cars and do not transfer appropriate paperwork, at some later time lose their paperwork and don't even know who they bought the car from.

In the absence of the now existing opportunity for individual research with DMV records, one motor vehicle representative position would be necessary to screen and accomodate requests for information.

REVENUE

(D.L. Compact - Increase D.L. Fees) This bill doubles most driver licensing fees. Estimated increase for FY87 for revenue is $575,000. At the present time, on a cost per year basis, the Alaska driver's license costs less now than in 1961, because the duration of the license was increased from three to five years in 1978, and the fees were not changes. Also, on a cost per year basis, only Wyoming charges less for a driver's license than Alaska.

(National Guard License Plates) Estimate based on 3,000 new registrations the first year at $30, plus the $10 increase for 2,500 personalized license plates each year. The revenue estimates for this item could vary depending on the number of National Guard members who obtained the special plate.
