This fiscal note is based on the assumption that 50 individuals will be licensed initially, with a growth rate of at least 5 new applicants each year. The revenues to be generated are assuming licensees will pay $50 per year and renew on a biennial cycle. If expenditures are authorized by program receipts, program costs will be covered by the revenue generated.

SB 438: An Act relating to common interest community managers.

SB 438 proposes to establish a new category of licensure for common interest community managers and provides that this new licensing program be administered by the Department of Commerce and Economic Development.

Although a relatively simple licensing procedure is established in the bill, we question the rationale behind one section of the bill. Specifically, Section 08.15.020 exempts from licensing as managers certain individuals, including public accountants and attorneys. However, the exemption does not address realtors who act as common interest community managers and who often, like public accountants, serve in that capacity. The practical aspects of daily property management involves much more than accounting skills (as referenced by the continuing education requirements, i.e., law of common interest communities, business, accounting). The department therefore questions the reason for exempting public accountants and attorneys and not realtors, and further suggests that realtors either be included in the exemption or that the exemptions be dropped as inappropriate.

A further concern involves the number of persons who would be required to be licensed by this bill. It has been indicated to the department that this bill will affect only forty or fifty people statewide, because the bill would license only "professional" common interest community managers ("professional managers" are persons apparently employed full-time in the business of property management). However, we are uncomfortable with this information because, in our view, the scope of this bill is considerably more broad. Section 08.15.010 states that the department shall license as a manager any individual who is managing a common interest community established under AS 34.07 or AS 34.08. The language in .010 does not limit the requirement to "professional managers," or to persons whose major source of income comes from property management. The Corporations Section of the department has indicated that a substantial portion of the approximately 4,000 registered nonprofits in this State are homeowner-type associations. We are not opposed to the current language, but wish to draw this matter to the Legislature's attention. We have based our fiscal note on the suggestion that this bill affects only a small number of persons. If that representation is incorrect, it would affect the amount of our fiscal note on this bill.

In summary, the department does not oppose the licensing of common interest community managers, so long as the licensing of common interest community managers can be supported through licensing fees, but we do have the concerns identified above.

CSSB 438 (L&C): An Act relating to common interest community managers.

CSSB 438 proposes to establish a new category of licensure for common interest community managers and provides that this new licensing program be administered by the Department of Commerce and Economic Development.

The committee substitute differs from the original bill by removing public accountants from the exemption section of the bill, thereby resolving the department's initial concern over the inequitable treatment of accountants and realtors.

The department's other concern (i.e., that the bill would apply to more than 40 or 50 people statewide) has been alleviated with the new subsection (c) in Sec. 08.15.020, which exempts an individual who is an officer or member of an executive board or horizontal property regime, thereby narrowing the scope of who is considered to be a "professional manager."

The department, therefore, supports the licensing of common interest community managers so long as the licensing of common interest community managers can be supported through reasonable licensing fees.

MEMORANDUM

March 15, 1988

TO: Senator Rick Halford, Co-Chairman
Senator John Binkley, Co-Chairman
Senate Finance Committee

FROM: Senator Jan Faiks
President of the Senate

SUBJECT: SB 438 "An Act relating to common interest community managers."

CSSB 438 (L&C) is currently before the Senate Finance Committee. This bill adds a new chapter to Title 8 of the Alaska Statutes, requiring the licensing of common interest community managers.

Common interest communities are regulated in AS 34.07 (horizontal property regimes) and 34.08 (common interest communities). These communities include properties in which the owners of individual units in a building or other real property jointly own the common areas. The most common example is the condominium.

Common interest communities frequently employ a professional manager to handle the affairs of the community association, and various businesses bid to obtain these contracts. As you know, AS 34.07 and 34.08 are complex, and impose many legal requirements on the operation of common interest communities. Unfortunately, at the present time only a small percentage of persons working as professional managers are really qualified to do so.

Moreover, managers frequently have sole-signature authority over the reserve accounts of community associations. In Alaska, these accounts can total several hundred thousand dollars. There have already been cases of managers embezzling significant sums from local community associations.

To make certain that those who act as professional managers possess the minimum level of knowledge necessary to do so, and to ensure that certain standards of integrity are maintained, I believe that those who act as the professional managers of community associations should be licensed by the state. Accordingly, CSSB 438 (L&C) does the following:

Section 1        Makes AS 08.01, relating to centralized licensing, applicable to common interest community managers.

Section 2        Gives the Department of Commerce and Economic Development the authority to perform all necessary administrative duties with respect to the licensing of managers. No independent board is created to perform this function.

Section 3        Adds a new chapter to AS 08:

Sec. 08.15.010    (a) An individual, 18 years of age or older, who is managing a common interest community, shall be licensed by the department on payment of a fee and proof that the individual has not engaged in conduct that is grounds for imposing disciplinary sanctions under AS 08.15.040.

(b) An individual licensed under (a) may renew the license if the person takes 24 hours per year of approved classes in the law of common interest communities or in business or accounting.

Sec. 08.15.020    Exempts certain persons from licensing requirements, including (a) officers or employees of AHFC or of a bank or other financial institution; (b) an attorney licensed in the state; (c) an officer or member of the board of a common interest community who is managing that community; or (d) an employee of a common interest community other than the manager.

Sec. 08.15.030    Authorizes the department to set licensing fees.

Sec. 08.15.040    Specifies grounds for imposing disciplinary sanctions on a manager.

Sec. 08.15.050    Specifies the types of sanctions which may be imposed for committing an act under .040.

Sec. 08.15.060    Makes the Administrative Procedure Act applicable to regulations and proceedings under this chapter.

Section 4        Makes a technical change to AS 34.08.490(b).
