Alaska State Veteran's Benefits

The state of Alaska provides several veteran benefits. This section offers a brief description of each of the following benefits.

- Housing Benefits
- Employment Benefits
- Education Benefits
- Other State Veteran Benefits

Alaska Veteran Housing Programs

Veterans Land Discount/Purchase Preference

The Veterans Land Discount program allows certain veterans to a 25% discount on the purchase price of state residential/recreational land. The discount may be used only once during the veteran's lifetime and may not be used in conjunction with the veterans preference.

Under the Veterans Land Sale Preference, before offering to the general public any unoccupied residential land by auction, a veteran has the exclusive opportunity purchase the land at a restricted sale at fair appraised market value. Parcels that are offered under this preference must be five acres or less, classified as settlement land and zoned for residential use only.

Property Tax Exemptions

Real property owned and occupied as the primary residence and permanent place of abode by a qualified disabled veteran whose disability was incurred or aggravated in the line of duty and whose disability has been rated as 50 percent or more by the military service or the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, is exempt from taxation on the first $150,000.00 of assessed valuation. Contact your local municipal tax assessor's office by March 15 for exemption for current year.

Veterans Housing and Residential Loans

The Alaska Housing Finance Corporation (AHFC) administers the Veterans Mortgage Program which offers financing for qualified veterans at lower interest rates. Active duty service in the Armed Forces, Public Health Service, NOAA or service as a cadet at the US Military, Air Force, Coast Guard or Naval Academy may qualify. Loans are generally processed rapidly, require little or no down payment, and often include lower interest.

AHFC also offers a Veterans Interest Rate Preference, in which a veteran receives a one percent lower interest rate on the bank loan when purchasing a new home. Ask the bank handling the financing to implement this program for you. AHFC grants a preference to veterans for the rent or sale of a portion of its low cost housing projects units.

Alaska Veterans and Pioneers Home (AVPH)

The AVPH at Palmer provides high-quality, long-term assisted-living care for Alaska residents who are honorably discharged veterans. The newly remodeled Home will serve 59 veteran pioneers (over 65) and 20 non-veteran pioneers. Residents receive comprehensive personal care specifically tailored to each individual. Veterans are eligible for a per diem payment from the Department of Veterans Affairs that is applied towards their cost of care.

Alaska Veteran Employment Programs

Employment Preference Rights

Workplace Alaska in the Division of Personnel in the Department of Administration is the on-line recruitment process for all the states classified service positions. Every vacancy in the classified service, except those requiring registration with Job Service, are posted on the homepage and are available for on-line application. Vacancies are advertised in the Sunday editions of the Fairbanks News Miner, Juneau Empire, and Anchorage Daily News along with recruitment phone lines.

Veterans who possess the necessary qualifications for a given state job classification and served on active duty and received an honorable or general discharge during the dates listed on the employment application, are eligible for a state employment hiring preference.

Veterans Employment Services

The Veterans Services Section of the Employment Security Division of the Alaska Department of Labor and Workforce Development promotes employment, economic stability, and growth by operating a no-fee labor exchange that meets the needs of employers, job seekers, and veterans. The service provides job placement, job matching and referral, vocational counseling, and job search assistance.

Military Credit Towards State Retirement

Certain members of the various state retirement programs may be eligible for additional credit for up to five years military service. Military service will increase your retirement service and monthly benefits. Although military service is not membership service, in certain cases it may count toward vesting and retirement eligibility. Visit site below, click on the retirement system of interest, scroll to Military Credit.

In the National Guard and Naval Militia Retirement System, anyone with at least 20 years of combined Alaska guard service, guard service in any other state, active military service and the reserves of them, of which at least 5 years must have been satisfactory service in any branch, may receive a small benefit upon separation from the Alaska army guard, air guard, or naval militia if you meet minimum eligibility provisions.

Affirmative Action Plan

The State of Alaska 1998 Affirmative Action Plan affords all present and prospective state employees in the executive branch an equal opportunity for employment regardless of their veteran's status - among many other factors.

The state will ensure there are no impermissible or artificial barriers for veterans or disabled veterans to cross in applying for state jobs, provide on-the-job training and assistance in locating qualified disabled applicants, recruit and employ qualified persons with disabilities and Vietnam era vets for state jobs, and sets up an informal complaint procedure. The plan is administered by the Office of Equal Employment Opportunity in the Division of Personnel.

Alaska Education Benefits

Free Tuition for Spouse or Dependent of Armed Services Member

The spouse or dependent of an armed services member who died in the line of duty or who died as a result of injuries sustained while in the line of duty or who was listed by the Department of Defense as a Prisoner of War or as Missing in Action is entitled to a waiver of undergraduate tuition and fees the students must be in good standing in a state supported educational institution in Alaska.

High School Diplomas

Operation Recognition, a nation-wide effort, recognizes that many World War II veterans went off to war and never returned to high school to get a diploma.

In Alaska, the Department of Education and Early Development may award diplomas to World War II vets living in Alaska, including Alaska Territorial Guard members, who served during the period of August 7, 1940 to July 5, 1947 and were honorably discharged or died in active service or were released from active duty because of a service-related disability. A family member may apply on behalf of a veteran who is deceased or incapacitated. Even ex-GIs with a Graduation Equivalency Diploma could apply.

Other Alaska State Veteran Benefits

Recording Veterans Report of Separation Form

A veteran may record, without fee, the original or a certified copy of his or her Armed Forces Report of Separation (DD-214 Form) at any State Recorder's office of the Department of Natural Resources.

The Recorder's office maintains 14 District offices throughout the state, overseeing 34 recording districts that record, index, and archive all of the documents that create the Official Public Record of the state of Alaska.

Disabled Veterans Parking Permits

Disabled Parking Permits are also obtained from the DMV, available to persons at least 50 percent disabled or medically handicapped, including persons disabled in the line of duty while serving in the Alaska Territorial Guard. Applicants must show reception of at least 50 percent disability compensation from an affidavit signed by a physician licensed to practice in Alaska.

Veterans License Plates

Veterans License Plates, with the word 'veteran' and the symbol of each branch of service, are available from the Division of Motor Vehicles upon submission of written proof of veteran status for a $30 biennially fee. Alaska National Guard members may also purchase special plates for $30. Pearl Harbor Survivors, former POWs, and Purple Heart recipients may receive a special plate at no charge. A Disabled Veteran can register one vehicle without charge and receive a specially designed registration plate that displays recognition of the disabled veteran. With proof, persons disabled in the line of duty, who are 50 percent disabled or medically handicapped as a consequence of military service, are eligible. The plate does not display the standard handicap symbol and does not carry with it special parking privileges; however the standard wheelchair logo may be available depending upon the level of disability as described below. Gold Star Family members may also register one vehicle without charge for license plates through the Division of Motor Vehicles.

Hunting and Fishing Licenses

Resident hunting and sport fishing licenses are available at no charge to honorably discharged veterans with a 50 percent or greater service-connected disability and Alaska residency. Applicants must have lived in Alaska for 12 consecutive months immediately preceding the application.

State Camping Pass

The legislature granted Disabled Alaskan Veterans (DAV) the right to receive one Alaska State Park Camping Pass free of charge. The DAV Camping Pass, which is valid in all developed Alaska State Park campgrounds, is good for two years.

To receive a free DAV camping pass, an eligible disabled veteran must present proof of a service connected disability and Alaska residency at either the Anchorage or Fairbanks DNR Public Information Centers (see below). Proof of residency can be in the form of an Alaskan Driver's License, Alaska Sport Fishing License, Alaska Voters Registration Card, or other documentation suitable to the department that proves Alaska residency.

Alaska Marine Highway Pass

A one-year pass on the ferries of the Alaska Marine Highway is available for veterans having a service-related disability. This pass entitles the disabled passenger and an attendant (if required by a physician) to travel at 50% of the regular passenger fare, between Alaska ports only, on all vessels, year-round.

Governor's Veterans Advocacy Award

Individuals who demonstrate an extraordinary personal concern, compassion, and commitment to veteran causes, veterans, and their families are eligible for the annual Governor's Veterans Advocacy Award. A winner could also have formed a new, innovative or creative volunteer program or project that benefits vets. Accomplishments must have been performed on a volunteer basis. Governor's Veterans Advocacy Award will be presented on Veterans Day, November 11th.

Military and Veterans Memorial Landmark Property

The Military and Veterans Landmark Property Program formally recognize memorials around the state built to honor the military and veterans of the armed forces. Information about the memorials is important to understanding the sacrifices made by veterans in Alaska and America, the role of the military, and the history of our nation's wars.

Information about memorials will be preserved by the State of Alaska as an important part of its history. A record of each approved Landmark Property will be maintained by the Department of Military and Veterans Affairs, including a list of properties to be kept, to facilitate visitation to memorials for those interested in doing so. The state will provide an attractive, numbered certificate, suitable for framing, at no cost.

Wartime Letters - The Legacy Project

The Legacy Project is a unique and meaningful way to honor all veterans by preserving letters written by soldiers on the front and letters written to them from home.

A national, volunteer non-profit agency, known as The Legacy Project, began collecting letters from any American wartime period to preserve these treasured documents and therefore heighten appreciation of them.

Letters can be ones personally written or received, or written by a relative. These may include eyewitness accounts of battles or acts of heroism, encounters with famous military leaders, love letters, or any other irreplaceable messages or little-known stories that will offer historians and future generations a better understanding of those who served and sacrificed for country.

Birthday Cards from the Governor

Birthday greetings from the Governor are available to veterans 80 years and older. Veterans or family or friends of veterans should contact the governor's office at least four weeks in advance and supply the name and address of the person to receive the card and appropriate proof of age.

Re: SB 214

Dear Senator Huggins:

On behalf of the Alaska Professional Hunters Association (APHA), we have reviewed SB 214 relating to special nonresident military hunting and sport fishing licenses for members of the military who do not qualify as residents under AS 16.05.415. We conclude that this bill represents a threat to the guide requirement in State law for non-resident hunting of bears and other big game species. This conclusion arises from analysis of the bill and review of applicable case law. However, an amendment to the bill which determined that military personnel (but not their dependents) who have been in the State for some extended period (e.g., one year or longer) might be treated as quasi-residents would redress some of these concerns. In addition, specific findings that military training provides sufficient assurance that these "quasi-residents" do not necessarily require the services of a licensed guide for safety and other purposes could be helpful. Such express findings would in effect recognize qualified military personnel as a special class deserving special treatment. Basing the proposed exception on such special considerations would make it less likely that it could be used to attack the guide requirements for other non-residents.

Alaska's guide requirement is predicated on considerations of hunter welfare and safety, resource management, and enforcement of hunting regulations. AS 16.05.407-408. Federal and state courts have upheld as legitimate and rational similar restrictions concerning nonresident hunters. See O'Brien v. State, 11 P.2d 1144, 1151 (Wyo. 1986) (upholding guide requirement for hunting big or trophy game as rational means of ensuring "proper game management, protection of hunter welfare and safety, or better enforcement of the game [and] fish laws"); Clajon Production Corp. v. Petera, 854 F.Supp 843 (D. Wyo. 1994) (upholding a resident license preference regulation that reserved a certain percentage of big game hunting licenses for state residents); DeMasters v. State, 656 F.Supp. 21 (D. Mont. 1986) (upholding Montana statute limiting the number of yearly nonresident elk hunting licenses as an effective management tool for the purpose of wildlife conservation). The State has consistently maintained that the guide requirement is not motivated by economic protectionism.

Any action that says, in essence, that these considerations of public safety and resource management are not legitimate and compelling (and are waived) with respect to one group of nonresidents (military members and dependents of military members on active duty and permanently stationed in Alaska) but are compelling with regard to all other nonresidents, weakens the rational basis of the requirement. As a result, differential treatment of all non-resident military on active duty and stationed in the State (regardless of how long they have been in the State) and their dependents is likely to expose Alaska's guide requirement to federal constitutional equal protection challenge. While the right of nonresidents to hunt on equal footing with residents is not itself protected by the Privileges and Immunities Clause of the Constitution, see Baldwin v. Fish and Game Commissioner of Montana, 436 U.S. 371, 388 (1978), a court may look into the reason behind the distinction. Courts are generally likely to find distinctions related to public safety or resource management to be reasonable but distinctions based on economic protectionism are suspect.

SB 214 would establish such differential treatment. The measure would amend AS 16.05.407 to eliminate the guide requirement for both non-resident military members and their dependents hunting brown bear, grizzly bear, mountain goat, or sheep if those military members are on active duty and permanently stationed in Alaska.

This raises a significant issue. Exempting a specific group of persons from the nonresident guide requirement based on nothing more than their status as members of the military and dependents of military members raises questions about the basis for retaining guide requirements for other nonresidents. If the State intends to argue that the objectives of public safety and resource management related to big game hunting are the purposes of the guide requirement for nonresidents, exempting certain nonresidents for no reason other than their military status, with no particular showing that the exemption furthers resource management and safety, indicates that commercial or economic purposes are the remaining rationales for guide requirements for other nonresidents. Once guide requirements are rendered fundamentally commercial, these requirements become subject to attack under a commerce clause analysis. See Conservation Force, 301 F.3d 985 (9th Cir. 2002). The Ninth Circuit has struck down nonresident guide requirements under the Commerce Clause. See Id.; see also O'Brien at 1152.

In 2005, Congress passed the Reaffirmation of State Regulation of Resident and Nonresident Hunting and Fishing Act ("Reaffirmation Act"), which disclaimed Federal interest in regulating taking of fish and wildlife within individual states, leaving it to the states to regulate hunting. As a result, some Courts since have dismissed challenges to measures that are claimed to impose differential burdens on residents and nonresidents with regard to hunting. See, e.g., Minnesota ex rel. Hatch v. Hoeven, 456 F.3d 826, 831-32 (8th Cir. 2006) (holding as moot a Commerce Clause challenge to North Dakota regulations imposing a more restrictive hunting regime on nonresidents and finding that, since the Reaffirmation Act, it was no longer the case the Congress had not spoken, which was a requirement for the Commerce Clause to apply). Even with such beneficial precedent on the books, it is far from certain that a Court would find a Commerce Clause challenge to the guide requirement moot or meritless, as the case law interpreting the Reaffirmation Act is not yet highly developed. Furthermore, a Court viewing the guide requirement as an economic measure rather than a resource management and public safety measure would be more likely to strike it down on other grounds than the Commerce Clauses since, as noted above, a Court is generally less likely to find the guide requirement to be justified if it is motivated by economic protectionism rather than public safety or resource management.

We recognize and agree with the desire to avoid imposing undue burdens on our military members, and to acknowledge and honor them for their service. However, to preserve the constitutionality of Alaska's guide requirement for non-resident hunters, we would strongly counsel against authorizing any exception to the guide requirement for both nonresident military and their dependents. If exceptions are warranted, they must be clearly predicated on the unique status of military personnel, their training, and other factors.

Sincerely,

William P. Horn

Gov. Highlights Big Game Hunting to Troops

07-188 Governor Palin Highlights Hunting Opportunities to Returning Alaska Troops

September 6, 2007, Juneau, Alaska - Governor Sarah Palin today informed Alaska National Guardsmen and women serving in combat that big game hunting opportunities will be available when they return from combat zones this fall.

"I heard from many Alaskans serving overseas during my trip to Kuwait in July," said Governor Palin. "One of the most frequent questions was about the status of hunting seasons upon their return. While I can't grant our troops the chance to hunt in closed areas or in places with species restrictions, I do want to recognize them and help them hunt this late fall or winter when they get home."

Regulations adopted by the Board of Game affect hunters with Tier II subsistence permits and Alaska's drawing hunt permits. In a letter to the commanders of the Alaska Army and Air National Guard, the Governor also explained that service members unable to participate in hunts themselves may transfer Tier II subsistence permits to substitute Alaska hunters. The Alaska Department of Fish and Game will also re-issue permits for service members who were successful in obtaining lottery permit hunts but were unable to use them.

Service members are encouraged to contact their local ADF&G office to learn more about the hunting opportunities that may be available to them. Information may also be found at the ADF&G Division of Wildlife Conservation web site:

Senator-

While I support the members of our military, I feel that to grant them special priveleges for hunting Alaska big game as residents is going too far. They are volunteers in the military; they are not there because they were forced to be.

This bill would give them an unfair advantage over other non-resident hunters, and add additional pressure to already limited resources. The military supplies them with housing, and other perks civilians don't get, and this amounts to another giveaway of state resources to a special interest group.

Sincerely,
Vikki Gross

We always ask that any new licensing legislation start with the new calendar year. Licenses and forms are already printed and at the vendors. Trying to educate vendors about a new license is very hard when the stock they have shows they are to charge a certain fee. We are working with Fred Meyer and WalMart employees and to bring them up to speed mid-season doesn't work. Even though we can send new forms for the new license, it means someone in a store has to throw out the old stock. Very difficult. We have over 1600 vendors to deal with. Hope this helps explain the process better.

Subject: New Legislation - Non-resident Active Military hunting and fishing licenses

Tim,

Senator Huggins has pre-filed a bill that will allow non-resident military personnel to obtain hunting and fishing licenses at a resident rate. Leg Legal included a January 1, 2009, effective date.

Is there a reason why the effective date would need to be delayed a year? Or could the legislation take effect sooner, e.g., July 2008, or even immediately upon adoption? How much lead time would the Department need to implement the legislation, change the text on the applications and in the reg books, etc. ? Are there other departmental issues that would need to be considered when determining an effective date?

Thanks, Tim.

Follow Up Flag: Follow up

Jody,

The residency requirements for permanent fund dividends are very specific and contained in AS 43.23... They would not be affected by a change to the residency requirements for fish and game licenses found in AS 16.05.415. Potential jurors are selected randomly by a computer from the list of all adults who apply for the Alaska Permanent Fund Dividend. Since the change to fish and game license requirements would not affect the eligibility for PFD's it also would not have any effect on jury pools.

Since the proposed change would not affect any of our programs, the Department of Revenue would have no objection to the legislation.

Thank you very much for asking.

Subject: Proposed Legislation regarding Residency Requirements for Hunting/Fishing licenses

Good morning, Jerry.

Debbie Grundmann suggested I contact you. Senator Huggins is considering sponsoring legislation that would, if passed, allow military personnel to receive a resident hunting and fishing license immediately upon being stationed here in Alaska instead of having to wait out the 12-month residency requirement.

Would you have any concerns about such legislation relative to other residency requirements in statute? For example, could a change in the license for military personnel affect the permanent fund dividend residency requirements? Are the residency requirements for Fish and Game licenses tied to any other residency requirements, e.g., jury duty?

Would your department support such proposed legislation?

Thank you.

ANALYSIS: (Attach a separate page if necessary)

In 2006, ADF&G received $52,100 in sport license and big game tag sales from military personnel. If all military personnel could purchase licenses and tags at resident rates, the amount brought in would drop to $20,200, meaning a loss of $31,900 to the Fish and Game Fund. In addition, since the agency receives federal grants with a 25% matching requirement, this could translate into a $39,900 total annual loss to ADF&G in federal and nonfederal funds.

Sponsor Statement for SB 214

"An Act relating to big game hunting by non-resident members of the military service and their dependents; and providing for an effective date."

Senate Bill 214 allows non-resident active-duty military personnel and their dependents to qualify for resident-rate big game hunting licenses immediately upon report date without having to meet the current 12-month residency requirement.

The vast majority of states have unique licensing statutes for active-duty military personnel. At least 45 states offer resident license rates, without regard to actual residency status, to active-duty personnel or personnel stationed in the state. Eight of those states, including Alaska, require personnel to be stationed in state for a specific period of time. At twelve months, Alaska's waiting period, as provided by AS 16.05.415(c), is by far the longest among the states. Because military personnel are transferred around the world, often without having any real say in where they are stationed, they are not similarly situated to others who choose to move to Alaska voluntarily. The fact that transfers are involuntary and frequent means that they may be unable to establish the qualifications for normal residency and ever be able to take advantage of state resident preferences. SB 214, if enacted, benefits active-duty military members and their dependents by waiving the 12-month waiting period.

Current statute, AS 16.05.340 (d), entitles non-resident military members stationed in Alaska to special military licenses at the resident rate for sport-fishing and small game hunting. This provision does not extend to big game licenses and tags. If military members who have not reached residency status want to go big game hunting, they must now purchase big game licenses at the non-resident rate plus big game tags at one-half the non-resident rate. SB 214, if enacted, would allow them to purchase both big game licenses and tags at resident rates.

The January 1, 2009, effective date allows the Department of Fish and Game time to revise, print, and distribute application forms that reflect accurate information and to work with vendors and applicants to achieve compliance with the new law.

Dear Senator Huggins,

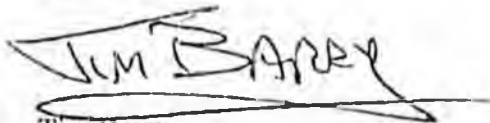

In a recent letter to Commissioner Lloyd, you informed him of your intention to introduce a bill in the 2008 legislative session to allow military personnel in Alaska to qualify for resident hunting and fishing licenses upon their report date, rather than having to be here for twelve months. Since then, the bill has been filed and assigned a number (Senate Bill 214). The Commissioner has asked me to respond to your letter.

Fish and Game staff have had an opportunity to review the legislation, and to consult with the Attorney General's office about it. I believe that the questions you asked in your letter have been answered, in communications between Fish and Game staffers and your aide, Jody Simpson. If you have any more questions or need further information from our agency, please contact me at any time, and I should be able to get you in touch with the right people here.

In your letter, you asked if Fish and Game would support such legislation. As I have informed Jody, our preliminary analysis of the bill indicates that it will have a fiscal impact on the department's budget (our initial estimate is that our fiscal note will be at least $31,000 dollars a year). While of course we are very supportive of the dedication and service of our men and women in uniform, our only concern with SB 214 would be that we would need the lost revenue replaced. As long as the fiscal note can be covered, I have no reason to think our department would object to the bill as currently written.

It has always been a genuine pleasure and honor to work with you and your staff, and I look forward to a fruitful working relationship again this session. Feel free to contact me any time for any reason.

Sincerely,

Tim Barry

Below are some guidelines to help determine whether or not you meet the residency requirements to purchase/receive a State of Alaska resident sport fishing, hunting, trapping, or commercial crewmember license:

Per Alaska Statute 16.05.940(27), resident means, "a person who for the 12 consecutive months immediately preceding the time when the assertion of residence is made has maintained the person's domicile in the state and who is neither claiming residency in another state, territory, or country nor obtaining benefits under a claim of residency in another state, territory, or country..."

"Residency" is further defined and explained in Alaska Statute 16.05.415(a) &(b). "(a) a person ... is a resident if the person,

(1) is physically present in the state with the intent to remain in the state indefinitely and to make a home in the state;

[Note:

a. you must be physically present in Alaska in order to obtain a resident license.

b. you must intend to remain in the state indefinitely and to make your true and permanent home in Alaska. Living in Alaska for a short period of time, 6 months or less, and spending the majority of the year somewhere else probably does not constitute the intent to remain indefinitely. Consideration is given to other factors. See below.]

(2) has maintained the person's domicile in the state for the 12 consecutive months immediately preceding the application for a license;

[Note: for the previous 12 consecutive months you must have maintained a livable dwelling in Alaska. Consideration is given to the type of dwelling maintained here vs. the type of dwelling maintained somewhere else.]

(3) is not claiming residency in another state, territory, or country; and

[Note: you cannot have voted as a resident in another state, registered your car or have a driver's license in another state unless required by that state's laws to do so; Alaska law requires that a person who resides in the state and is not employed must register their vehicles in Alaska within 60 days of entering the state in accordance with AS 28.10.212; additionally a person who is employed in Alaska or takes an action that indicates an intention to acquire residence in the state must register their vehicles within 10 days. A person establishing residency in Alaska must obtain an Alaskan drivers license within 90 days and must surrender any out of state drivers license in accordance with AS 28.15.011 & 021. You may not hold a "resident" hunting or fishing license in another state, and may not have held one during the past 12 months.]

(4) is not obtaining benefits under a claim of residency in another state, territory, or country.

[Note: you cannot be claiming residency for COLA retirement benefits in another state, paying resident vs. nonresident taxes in another state, receiving subsidized or free benefits available only to a resident of another state, or gaining any advantage provided to residents of another state, etc.]

(b) A person who establishes residency in the state under (a) of this section remains a resident during an absence from the state unless during the absence the person

(1) establishes or claims residency in another state, territory, or country; or

(2) performs an act, or is absent under circumstances, that are inconsistent with the intent required under (a) of this section.

[Note: You may not have made any public or private declaration that indicates an intent to maintain a domicile anywhere but Alaska.]

"Domicile" is defined in Alaska Statute 16.05.940 as "the true and permanent home of a person from which the person has no present intention of moving and to which the person intends to return whenever the person is away;"

[Note: the purchase of round trip tickets or the making of return plans each time a person travels to Alaska would probably constitute evidence that the person's true and permanent home was elsewhere than Alaska. The location of household goods, the location where the spouse or family members of the household live and work, the location where children attend school, and other factors will also aide in determining where the true and permanent home is.]

Per Alaska Administrative Code 5 AAC 39.975(30) and 5 AAC 92.990(14), evidence of domicile includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(A) statements made to obtain a license to drive, hunt, fish, or engage in an activity regulated by a government entity;

(B) affidavit of a person who may know an applicant's domicile;

(C) place of voter registration;

[Note: see (3) under "Residency" above.]

(D) location of residence owned, rented, or leased;

[Note: see (1&2) under "Residency" above. The courts also look at the number of months you spend at a domicile located in another state vs. the number of months you spend in Alaska. For example, if you spend 9 months in another state and 3 months in Alaska, your residency in Alaska could be in question and will be taken into consideration along with other factors.]

(E) location of storage of household goods;

[Note: if your household goods are located in another state, it appears that you have not made your home here.]

(F) location of business owned or operated;

[Note: if your business is located in another state, you may need to explain to enforcement how your business is operated. On the other hand, you will not qualify as a resident merely by virtue of an interest in, or employment or contractual association with and Alaska-based business, see AS 16.05.415(g).]

(G) residence of spouse and minor children or dependents;

[Note: You are unlikely to be considered a resident of Alaska if your immediate family is living in another state or claiming another state as their residence while you consider Alaska your home.]

(H) governments to which taxes are paid;

[Note: see (4) under "Residency" above.]

(I) whether the person has claimed residence in another location for the purpose of obtaining benefits provided by the governments in that location."

[Note: see (4) under "Residency" above.]

If you are a member, or a dependent of a member, of the military or U.S. Coast Guard stationed in Alaska, you should also review the provisions of AS 16.05.415(c)-(d) and AS 16.05.940(27(C)-(D)).

If you have any questions about whether or not you meet the residency definition to obtain a sport or commercial crewmember license, please contact your local Department of Public Safety/Alaska Wildlife Troopers.

LEGISLATIVE RESEARCH REPORT

REPORT NUMBER 08.064

STATUTORY RESIDENCY REQUIREMENTS FOR DETERMINING HUNTING AND FISHING LICENSE FEES FOR ACTIVE-DUTY MILITARY PERSONNEL

PREPARED FOR SENATOR CHARLIE HUGGINS

BY CHUCK BURNHAM, LEGISLATIVE ANALYST

You asked about residency requirements related to hunting and fishing licenses for active-duty military personnel. Specifically, you wished to know the residency requirements in other states used to determine licensing fees for those personnel.

NON-RESIDENT ACTIVE-DUTY SOLDIERS

The vast majority of states have unique licensing statutes for active-duty military personnel.¹ At least 45 states offer resident license rates, without regard to actual residency status, either to all active-duty personnel (18 states) or to only those personnel stationed in state (27 states).² Eight of these states, including Alaska, require military personnel to be stationed in state for a specific waiting period—most often sixty to ninety days—prior to qualifying for resident rates. At twelve months, Alaska's waiting period, as provided by AS § 16.05.415(c), is by far the longest among the states; however, AS § 16.05.340(d) provides that non-resident military members stationed here are entitled to special military licenses at the resident rate, except for big game licenses and tags, which may be purchased at one-half the regular nonresident rate. Therefore, for typical sport fishing and small game hunting, the waiting period for non-residents stationed in Alaska appears to be moot.

¹ Our research did not generally include states' administrative regulations or policies. Although we believe our research to be thorough, there may be additional laws regarding hunting and fishing licensing residency provisions for active-duty military personnel that were not located by our efforts due to variations in wording and construction. Although our focus was primarily on residency requirements, we included other provisions for military personnel related to hunting and fishing licenses wherever we located them.

² Only two states—Hawaii and Washington—do not address military personnel in their statutory licensing regimes for hunting and fishing. The three additional states that do not provide any special residency considerations for military personnel are Alabama, Oklahoma, and West Virginia.

BENEFITS FOR BONA FIDE RESIDENTS AND OTHER PROVISIONS

Eighteen states offer the following benefits to service members who are bona fide state residents but are assigned elsewhere:

- ◆ free licenses (six states);
- ◆ waiver of the requirement for licenses (two states);
- ◆ waiver of the license requirement while home on furlough (ten states).³

Four states offer one or more of these benefits to all active-duty personnel, regardless of residency. Among these, Arkansas may be the most generous with its offer of free licenses to all active-duty personnel.

Other states variously offer military personnel reduced fee licenses, specific benefits for combat service, replacement or transfer of licenses when deployment interferes with hunting or fishing seasons, and/or special hunts, fisheries, or other privileges.⁴ Table 1 summarizes states' statutory requirements on the topics discussed above. Table 2 lists statutory citations and details of the information summarized in Table 1 for all fifty states.

I hope you find this information to be useful. Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have questions or need additional information.

³ In addition, at least twelve states variously specify that military personnel who were residents when they entered the service or who maintain the state as their "home of record" are considered residents for licensing purposes even while stationed elsewhere.

⁴ As you may know, Governor Palin recently directed the Alaska Department of Fish and Game, Division of Wildlife Conservation, to reissue or allow transfers of hunting permits obtained through a state lottery and Tier II subsistence permits for soldiers deployed in connection with military operations in Iraq. Additional information on this matter is available through the Division of Wildlife Conservation website at <http://www.wildlife.alaska.gov/index.cfm?adfg=permits.military>.

Notes: This table is a summary of states' statutory provisions regarding residency requirements for active-duty military personnel with regard to hunting and fishing licensing. Please review the text of the underlying statutes for specific provisions and requirements, which vary substantially among states. Our research did not include states' administrative regulations or policies. Although we believe our research to be thorough, there may be additional applicable laws that were not located by our efforts due to variations in wording and construction. Although our focus was primarily on residency requirements, we included other provisions for military personnel related to hunting and fishing licenses wherever we located them.

1) Unless otherwise noted, military personnel are required to conform with seasons, bag limits, and other regulations regardless of whether licenses or permits are required for hunting and/or fishing.

2) "Active-duty" refers to military personnel currently serving under federal control.

3) At least twelve states specify that military personnel who were residents when they entered the service or who maintain the state as their "home of record" are considered residents for licensing purposes even while stationed elsewhere.

4) Alaska's, as provided by AS § 16.05.415(c), is by far the longest at twelve months; however, AS § 16.05.340(d) provides that non-resident military members stationed in the state are entitled to special military licenses at the resident rate, except for big game licenses and tags, which must be purchased at one-half the regular nonresident rate. Therefore, for typical sport fishing and small game hunting, the waiting period for non-residents stationed in Alaska appears to be moot.

Notes: The laws listed are those that we located in states' fish and wildlife statutes using the search terms "military," "armed services," "armed forces," and "national guard." Our research did not generally include states' administrative regulations or policies. Although we believe our research to be thorough, there may be additional laws regarding hunting and fishing licensing residency provisions for active-duty military personnel that were not located by our efforts due to variations in wording and construction. Although our focus was primarily on residency requirements, we included other provisions for military personnel related to hunting and fishing licenses wherever we located them.

"Active-duty" refers to military personnel currently serving under federal control.

Unless otherwise noted, military personnel are required to conform with seasons, bag limits, and other regulations regardless of whether licenses or permits are required for hunting and/or fishing.

Re: SB 214

Dear Senator Huggins:

On behalf of the Alaska Professional Hunters Association (APHA), we have reviewed SB 214 relating to special nonresident military hunting and sport fishing licenses for members of the military who do not qualify as residents under AS 16.05.415. We conclude that this bill represents a threat to the guide requirement in State law for non-resident hunting of bears and other big game species. This conclusion arises from analysis of the bill and review of applicable case law. However, an amendment to the bill which determined that military personnel (but not their dependents) who have been in the State for some extended period (e.g., one year or longer) might be treated as quasi-residents would redress some of these concerns. In addition, specific findings that military training provides sufficient assurance that these "quasi-residents" do not necessarily require the services of a licensed guide for safety and other purposes could be helpful. Such express findings would in effect recognize qualified military personnel as a special class deserving special treatment. Basing the proposed exception on such special considerations would make it less likely that it could be used to attack the guide requirements for other non-residents.

Alaska's guide requirement is predicated on considerations of hunter welfare and safety, resource management, and enforcement of hunting regulations. AS 16.05.407-408. Federal and state courts have upheld as legitimate and rational similar restrictions concerning nonresident hunters. See O'Brien v. State, 711 P.2d 1144, 1151 (Wyo. 1986) (upholding guide requirement for hunting big or trophy game as rational means of ensuring "proper game management, protection of hunter welfare and safety, or better enforcement of the game [and] fish laws"); Clajon Production Corp. v. Petera, 854 F.Supp 843 (D. Wyo. 1994) (upholding a resident license preference regulation that reserved a certain percentage of big game hunting licenses for state residents); DeMasters v. State, 656 F.Supp. 21 (D. Mont. 1986) (upholding Montana statute limiting the number of yearly nonresident elk hunting licenses as an effective management tool for the purpose of wildlife conservation). The State has consistently maintained that the guide requirement is not motivated by economic protectionism.

Any action that says, in essence, that these considerations of public safety and resource management are not legitimate and compelling (and are waived) with respect to one group of nonresidents (military members and dependents of military members on active duty and permanently stationed in Alaska) but are compelling with regard to all other nonresidents, weakens the rational basis of the requirement. As a result, differential treatment of all non-resident military on active duty and stationed in the State (regardless of how long they have been in the State) and their dependents is likely to expose Alaska's guide requirement to federal constitutional equal protection challenge. While the right of nonresidents to hunt on equal footing with residents is not itself protected by the Privileges and Immunities Clause of the Constitution, see Baldwin v. Fish and Game Commissioner of Montana, 436 U.S. 371, 388 (1978), a court may look into the reason behind the distinction. Courts are generally likely to find distinctions related to public safety or resource management to be reasonable but distinctions based on economic protectionism are suspect.

SB 214 would establish such differential treatment. The measure would amend AS 16.05.407 to eliminate the guide requirement for both non-resident military members and their dependents hunting brown bear, grizzly bear, mountain goat, or sheep if those military members are on active duty and permanently stationed in Alaska.

This raises a significant issue. Exempting a specific group of persons from the nonresident guide requirement based on nothing more than their status as members of the military and dependents of military members raises questions about the basis for retaining guide requirements for other nonresidents. If the State intends to argue that the objectives of public safety and resource management related to big game hunting are the purposes of the guide requirement for nonresidents, exempting certain nonresidents for no reason other than their military status, with no particular showing that the exemption furthers resource management and safety, indicates that commercial or economic purposes are the remaining rationales for guide requirements for other nonresidents. Once guide requirements are rendered fundamentally commercial, these requirements become subject to attack under a commerce clause analysis. See Conservation Force, 301 F.3d 985 (9th Cir. 2002). The Ninth Circuit has struck down nonresident guide requirements under the Commerce Clause. See Id.; see also O'Brien at 1152.

In 2005, Congress passed the Reaffirmation of State Regulation of Resident and Nonresident Hunting and Fishing Act ("Reaffirmation Act"), which disclaimed Federal interest in regulating taking of fish and wildlife within individual states, leaving it to the states to regulate hunting. As a result, some Courts since have dismissed challenges to measures that are claimed to impose differential burdens on residents and nonresidents with regard to hunting. See, e.g., Minnesota ex rel. Hatch v. Hoeven, 456 F.3d 826, 831-32 (8th Cir. 2006) (holding as moot a Commerce Clause challenge to North Dakota regulations imposing a more restrictive hunting regime on nonresidents and finding that, since the Reaffirmation Act, it was no longer the case the Congress had not spoken, which was a requirement for the Commerce Clause to apply). Even with such beneficial precedent on the books, it is far from certain that a Court would find a Commerce Clause challenge to the guide requirement moot or meritless, as the case law interpreting the Reaffirmation Act is not yet highly developed. Furthermore, a Court viewing the guide requirement as an economic measure rather than a resource management and public safety measure would be more likely to strike it down on other grounds than the Commerce Clauses since, as noted above, a Court is generally less likely to find the guide requirement to be justified if it is motivated by economic protectionism rather than public safety or resource management.

We recognize and agree with the desire to avoid imposing undue burdens on our military members, and to acknowledge and honor them for their service. However, to preserve the constitutionality of Alaska's guide requirement for non-resident hunters, we would strongly counsel against authorizing any exception to the guide requirement for both nonresident military and their dependents. If exceptions are warranted, they must be clearly predicated on the unique status of military personnel, their training, and other factors.

Sincerely,

William P. Horn

We always ask that any new licensing legislation start with the new calendar year. Licenses and forms are already printed and at the vendors. Trying to educate vendors about a new license is very hard when the stock they have shows they are to charge a certain fee. We are working with Fred Meyer and WalMart employees and to bring them up to speed mid-season doesn't work. Even though we can send new forms for the new license, it means someone in a store has to throw out the old stock. Very difficult. We have over 1600 vendors to deal with. Hope this helps explain the process better.

Tim,

Senator Huggins has pre-filed a bill that will allow non-resident military personnel to obtain hunting and fishing licenses at a resident rate. Leg Legal included a January 1, 2009, effective date.

Is there a reason why the effective date would need to be delayed a year? Or could the legislation take effect sooner, e.g., July 2008, or even immediately upon adoption? How much lead time would the Department need to implement the legislation, change the text on the applications and in the reg books, etc. ? Are there other departmental issues that would need to be considered when determining an effective date?

Thanks, Tim.

Jody,

The residency requirements for permanent fund dividends are very specific and contained in AS 43.23... They would not be affected by a change to the residency requirements for fish and game licenses found in AS 16.05.415. Potential jurors are selected randomly by a computer from the list of all adults who apply for the Alaska Permanent Fund Dividend. Since the change to fish and game license requirements would not affect the eligibility for PFD's it also would not have any effect on jury pools.

Since the proposed change would not affect any of our programs, the Department of Revenue would have no objection to the legislation.

Thank you very much for asking.

Good morning, Jerry.

Debbie Grundmann suggested I contact you. Senator Huggins is considering sponsoring legislation that would, if passed, allow military personnel to receive a resident hunting and fishing license immediately upon being stationed here in Alaska instead of having to wait out the 12-month residency requirement.

Would you have any concerns about such legislation relative to other residency requirements in statute? For example, could a change in the license for military personnel affect the permanent fund dividend residency requirements? Are the residency requirements for Fish and Game licenses tied to any other residency requirements, e.g., jury duty?

Would your department support such proposed legislation?

Thank you,

This is to confirm advice that I have given about the potential impact of SB 214. If the original bill language, MINUS section 2, is adopted, then the concerns I have raised about defending Alaska's guide requirement go away. Also, under that original language, there would no longer be any ability for recent (less than 12 months) military arrivals to engage in personal use or subsistence opportunities, as they would still be defined as nonresidents. The advantage in defining them as residents as in the current proposed CS, related to the bill's original intent to exempt this class of people from the guide requirement. If that is no longer a goal, then the original language, minus section 2, seems to me to present fewer problems.

Senator-

While I support the members of our military, I feel that to grant them special priveleges for hunting Alaska big game as residents is going too far. They are volunteers ir the military; they are not there because they were forced to be.

This bill would give them an unfair advantage over other non-resident hunters, and add additional pressure to already limited resources. The military supplies them with housing, and other perks civilians don't get, and this amounts to another giveaway of state resources to a special interest group.

Gov. Highlights Big Game Hunting to Troops

07-188 Governor Palin Highlights Hunting Opportunities to Returning Alaska Troops

September 6, 2007, Juneau, Alaska - Governor Sarah Palin today informed Alaska National Guardsmen and women serving in combat that big game hunting opportunities will be available when they return from combat zones this fall.

"I heard from many Alaskans serving overseas during my trip to Kuwait in July," said Governor Palin. "One of the most frequent questions was about the status of hunting seasons upon their return. While I can't grant our troops the chance to hunt in closed areas or in places with species restrictions, I do want to recognize them and help them hunt this late fall or winter when they get home."

Regulations adopted by the Board of Game affect hunters with Tier II subsistence permits and Alaska's drawing hunt permits. In a letter to the commanders of the Alaska Army and Air National Guard, the Governor also explained that service members unable to participate in hunts themselves may transfer Tier II subsistence permits to substitute Alaska hunters. The Alaska Department of Fish and Game will also re-issue permits for service members who were successful in obtaining lottery permit hunts but were unable to use them.

Service members are encouraged to contact their local ADF&G office to learn more about the hunting opportunities that may be available to them. Information may also be found at the ADF&G Division of Wildlife Conservation web site:

Installation of six (6) major signs (approx 5'x12'), six (6) minor signs (4.5'x3'), and three (3) informational kiosks along locations on the Richardson and Alaska Highways. The cost for initial installation includes the concrete foundations and crash supports that breakway in an accident. A contractor will install these signs under the direction of the Department.

House of Representatives Letter of Intent for Senate Bill 216

“It is the intent of the House of Representatives that Bridge #503, which crosses the Gerstle River on the Alaska Highway, and was designated as the Black Veterans Recognition Bridge by Chapter 42, SLA 93, be also concurrently recognized as a historical monument honoring the contributions of the 93rd, 94th, 95th, 97th Battalions and 388th Regiment, commonly referred to as the “Black Engineer Corps”. Because of the significant contributions to the construction of the 1,522 mile long Alaska Highway during World War II by these soldiers, it is our intent that the Black Veterans Recognition Bridge be recognized as a significant point on the Purple Heart Trail on the Alaska Highway.”

SENATOR JOHNNY ELLIS
SENATE MAJORITY LEADER

Sponsor Statement SB 216: Purple Heart Trail

The Purple Heart medal is a United States military decoration awarded in the name of the President to those who have been wounded or killed in service to their country. SB 216 seeks to recognize and honor recipients by establishing a Purple Heart Trail in Alaska.

The Purple Heart Trail is a national project to designate portions of the interstate highway system as "The Purple Heart Trail System", reminding Americans of the sacrifices made by their men and women in uniform. The original Purple Heart Trail was established in the Commonwealth of Virginia at Mt. Vernon and runs the length of the Virginia Highway.

Today, the Purple Heart Trail extends across the nation. Signage drawing attention to the designation is placed at appropriate intervals along the highways to stimulate thought and discussion among adults and children alike in contemplating the history of this nation, and those who have sacrificed for it.

Alaska's participation in this national effort is long overdue. We have a strong military tradition; an estimated 73,000 resident veterans, approximately 25,000 active duty military, and more serving in the National Guard. In recent months, many returning Alaskan soldiers have been honored with the Purple Heart Medal.

The Alaska Highway, completed during World War II by the US Army to serve as a supply route, is an apt choice for the designation as "Purple Heart Trail System". Signs designating the Purple Heart Trail will be seen by both visitors and residents alike and will demonstrate that Alaska recognizes and honors the sacrifices made by our wounded and fallen soldiers.

Please join me in supporting the establishment of a Purple Heart Trail in Alaska.

Subject: Letter of Support

Dear Senator Ellis:

The purpose of this letter is to express our unconditional support of the initiative of Chapter 593 of the Military Order of the Purple Heart to secure Alaska's participation in the National Purple Heart Trail System. The idea of designating major highways as portions of a National Purple Heart Trail originated in Virginia in 1992. Since that time, the trail has extended with designations across much of the Lower 48.

The Interstate Highway System, seen as a tangible symbol of our freedom -- the ability to get up and go anywhere, anytime -- provides an opportunity for a visible and poignant reminder of the sacrifices of Americans who have shed blood to protect our freedom. For those states that participate in this trail system, a simple highway designation with appropriate signage does just that.

Given the significant military population in our Great State and the many thousands of veterans who make Alaska home, we see our participation in this program as both a fitting tribute to serving military and our veterans and as an important reminder of their service and sacrifice. To all who travel Alaska's stretch of the Purple Heart Trail, our participation in this designation program says we recognize the sacrifice, we care about those who do and have served our country and we remember freedom is not free.

We strongly encourage your support of this important initiative.

TO: State of Alaska
Senator Ted Stevens
Senator Johnny Ellis
Representative Don Young
Representative Berta Gardner

We are proud to offer our strong support for Alaska to be a part of the "Purple Heart Trail". We think its simple visible message is well deserved by those who bravely gave so much of themselves in defending this nation.

This worthy project can be of great benefit to our community and the State of Alaska. We believe that those who see the signs will have a better understanding of the sacrifices made by those who wear the Purple Heart. We believe that the traveling public, whether Alaskans or visitors, will realize that we care about our wounded veterans. We further believe that the signs will bear witness that we in Alaska not only care about our wounded veterans, but we are willing to put forth the effort to visibly display our deepest fondness for their sacrifice.

Many who travel our roads will surely know or be related to a wounded veteran or a veteran who lost their life in defense of our nation. The warm feeling they obtain will certainly be in their minds as they traverse the roads of our great state. By showing them we care we can instill a kind Alaskan memory of their travels, and hopefully we will see them again.

Be it known to all that the community of TOK Alaska will be proud to be part of the Purple Heart Trail. We support it and we encourage all Alaskans to support it as well.

Sincerely yours,

Speaker Harris and President Green,

I am writing to express my support for Alaska House Bill 283, the Purple Heart Trail Act and the version introduced into the Alaska State Senate, SB 216 and to urge the legislature pass this bill and create a Purple Heart Trail in our state.

Over 20 states have seen fit to designate some portion of their road system as the Purple Heart Trail and place signs with replica Purple Hearts along the roads. These signs would honor those veterans who have earned a Purple Heart and would help to bring their heroic actions and sacrifices to the attention of Alaskans.

Alaska has the highest number of veterans per capita of any state, with an estimated 73,000 veterans that call our state home. Those veterans, along with the active duty military that serve in our state and the members of the Alaska National Guard deserve all the recognition they can get. Designating the Alaska Highway and a portion of the Richardson Highway as the Purple Heart Trail would be an appropriate way to honor the many Alaskans that have earned a Purple Heart and the many others that have served our country in the Military.

Please consider passing either HB 283 or SB 216 this session and honoring those who have done so much for our country.

Sincerely,

DON YOUNG

I want to personally thank each and everyone one of you for taking the time out of your busy workload to work on the Purple Heart Trail issue (SB216/HB283). I have sort of made this a personal crusade and I have been working hard on this issue for about a year now. It is a real joy to see it moving forward in the legislative process. I can assure you that Alaska veterans are gaining a sincere and larger appreciation for the work that you "our Juneau supporters" are putting forth for veterans. Please continue with your caring efforts and don't let them down.

Representative Gardner and Senator Ellis have gone out of their way to help me get this going and I am so very appreciative for their devoted assistance. I want to extend that appreciation to those of you who now have this issue before you and I want to thank you in advance for your future endeavors on behalf of our wounded combat vets.

I firmly believe that the Purple Heart Trail will do two things: one it will establish a visible honor for "ALL" wounded and deceased combat veterans, and two it will provide visual proof to all who travel the Purple Heart Trail that Alaska not only cares but that we show we care.

The Purple Heart Trail already exists in 42 other states as well as Guam. I just want Alaska to be part of something very special. I submit that the many Alcan travelers who see these signs, and know or be related to someone who was killed or wounded in battle, will be very appreciative to Alaska for showing that we care.

On behalf of our wounded combat vets I thank you for your support and I anxiously await the day this important legislation is passed in Juneau.

20 wounded soldiers receive Purple Heart

Twenty with combat injuries honored for 'warrior spirit'

Twenty Purple Heart medals rested in the serving tray Tuesday while 19 Fort Richardson-based soldiers wounded in Iraq stood at attention as best they could -- some leaning on canes, one missing a leg, a few with injuries to the head.

One by one the medals were pinned on their chests by Maj. Gen. Stephen Layfield, the senior Army commander in Alaska, who sternly told about 200 onlookers to "never ever miss the chance to say thank you" to the men -- all of whom are members of the 4th Brigade Combat Team (Airborne), 25th Infantry Division.

The ways they were injured were as varied as their wounds. Some were riding in vehicles that were blasted apart by projectiles. Some were hit by roadside bombs. Some were walking on patrols and shot by unseen snipers.

But Staff Sgt. Chad LeBlanc, of Anchorage, may have had the most unusual tale to tell. He was stationed at an outpost south of Baghdad and was just preparing to lie down for the night inside his "can" -- a small mobile trailer just large enough for two bunks -- when he heard the sound of mortar fire outside.

Sticking his head out the door, LeBlanc just had time to see a mortar blast into a neighboring trailer -- one that was usually occupied by his buddy, Sgt. 1st Class Joshua Ferguson, who just then was away on leave in Alaska.

Shrapnel from the blast hit LeBlanc in the stomach and limbs and burnt his face and arms. Before falling into shock, he managed to find help.

"I ran about 25 meters to where the medics were and laid down on the ground and told them what happened," he recalled. "Then they put me on a helicopter, I went to Baghdad -- and that was it."

In an operating room, doctors removed 14 pieces of shrapnel from LeBlanc's arm and a big chunk from his side. The shrapnel that entered his stomach had to be removed through his back -- an operation that has since made the 32-year-old Alaskan less mobile.

He knows it could have been worse. He could have been inside the trailer that took the direct hit -- Ferguson's trailer. As it happened, however, his buddy didn't make it through their deployment unscathed either.

Returning to their unit -- a team within the 425th Brigade Special Troops Battalion that trains Iraqi army forces -- Ferguson was badly wounded about five weeks later when his vehicle was struck by an armor-piercing projectile.

The blast tore up his lower legs and shattered his left knee. Ultimately the leg would have to be amputated. On Tuesday, Ferguson was standing in the ranks with the other Purple Heart recipients, supported by a cane and a prosthetic leg.

"I set a record getting out of Walter Reed (Medical Center) for an amputee," Ferguson said, noting how anxious he was to return to Fort Richardson and his family. Now he's hoping to remain in the military -- he's served 11 years so far -- and in Alaska.

"If I could stay here until I retire in nine years, that would be perfect," he said.

Spc. William Swails, a native of Rockingham, N.C. -- who received his second Purple Heart on Tuesday after suffering shrapnel wounds to his hand and arm -- is hoping to remain on active duty in Alaska too. His wife, Chastity, is currently enrolled in the nursing program at the University of Alaska Anchorage.

Spc. Justin Tauriainen, who grew up in Anchorage -- and returned by motor home to a large throng of friends and family greeting him at the Muldoon overpass last week -- received a Purple Heart as well.

On May 21, his armored engineer vehicle was struck by "multiple IEDS," the improvised explosive devices his unit was charged with removing. Tauriainen, 23, sustained shrapnel wounds to his head, back, hands and legs.

Before pinning the medals on the assembled soldiers -- Sgt. Casey Wright of Tucson, Ariz., was unable to attend the ceremony -- Layfield emphasized their collective bravery.

"We're forever in your debt," he said. "We acknowledge your sacrifice and we acknowledge your warrior spirit and we acknowledge what you did for our country."

Purple Heart Trail was initially established in the Commonwealth of Virginia from its start point at Mt. Vernon, VA. Through positive legislative support of the Virginia General Assembly and through the leadership of two of its governors, The Honorable George Allen (now U.S. Senator) and incumbent Governor James Gilmore the trail now extends down Virginia highway 235 (the Mt. Vernon Parkway) to US Route #1, thence to I-95. All of I-95 is designated the Purple Heart Trail from the Potomac River in Alexandria, on the Maryland border, down to the State of North Carolina. It branches off at Fredericksburg on Virginia Highway 3 (the Kings Highway) to Stafford County and thence to the George Washington Birthplace National Monument in Westmoreland County, VA. Another leg goes eastward on I-64 at Richmond, the state capital, to the city of Norfolk. The Virginia Department of Transportation has placed 'Purple Heart Trail' signs at all rest stops on I-95 and I-64 and at other special points along the total trail.

Current Purple Heart Trail

Ultimately, the Purple Heart Trail will be extended from Virginia to all other states and major cities of the United States. Historically, the Purple Heart Trail concept was inspired by the George Washington Chapter #1732 of Fredericksburg/Spotsylvania, VA, in 1992. In convention of the Order, the delegates voted to approve a resolution establishing a symbolic Purple Heart Trail throughout the 50 states. With the Commonwealth of Virginia being the home of the two distinguished general officers involved in the development of the Purple Heart, Generals Washington and MacArthur, the Department of Virginia members of the Order took the lead to institute The Purple Heart Trail in Virginia, with a memorial marker to be erected and dedicated at Mt. Vernon as the start point of the trail.

In 1996, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth approved the first step in establishing the Purple Heart Trail parallel to I-95 and that portion of Virginia Route 3 from Washington's birthplace in Westmoreland County, VA, to his boyhood home at

<http://www.purpleheart.org/purple-heart-trail.html>

Ferry Farm in Stafford County, VA. In 1998, through subsequently legislative fiat, the trail was extended to Norfolk, VA, ending at the tomb of General Douglas MacArthur on Interstate 64 from Richmond (I-95) to Norfolk and to Mt. Vernon. The purpose of the Purple Heart Trail is to commemorate the patriotic American heritage given to us by George Washington and General MacArthur and for the people of Virginia, and ultimately all the states, to memorialize those service persons who have had the Purple Heart medal bestowed on them or their next of kin for wounds received in combat in defense of our nation.

By marking these trails with appropriate signage, it was conceived that the automobile and the Interstate Highway System represent very tangible symbols of our freedom; the ability to get up and go anywhere anytime. While taken for granted by so many, this and so many other freedoms we enjoy as Americans have been earned through the sacrifice of millions of Americans who have shed their blood and the many who have died in defense of freedom and liberty. The signage was intended as a reminder that freedom is not free and would stimulate thought and discussion among adults and children alike in contemplating the bountiful heritage enjoyed by all Americans as part of their legacy.

Major highways are the ideal setting for this virtual trail, and ultimately, the Military Order of the Purple Heart would like to see the entire Interstate Highway System, conceived by General Dwight D. Eisenhower during his tenure as President of the United States, designated as major portions of the Purple Heart Trail. Instructional kits have been developed and are in the hands of all Department Commanders on how to initiate necessary legislation in their respective states to implement the continued growth of the Purple Heart Trail System.

National Commander Louie Spinelli has accepted expansion of the trail as a major thrust of his leadership during his term of office. We who are on the forefront of this great effort, can take great pride in establishing this system as a most noble and patriotic endeavor of the Military Order of the Purple Heart that will become an indelible part of our continuing service to this great nation. If your state is not yet on board, we encourage all local chapters to take this up within the scope of their Americanism projects. Most legislatures have been found to be most receptive in support of legislative initiatives required to implement the program. The mood of the country is also such that many salons would welcome the opportunity to offer the necessary legislative language to make it happen. God Bless America, our home, sweet home!
