AK Industrial
Development
Authority
(terms used)

HOUSE BILL NO. 620, by Reps. Koponen and Herrmann. Redefines "business enterprise" as used in relation to the Alaska Industrial Development Authority (AIDA) to mean ". . . a single proprietorship, corporation, firm, partnership, or other association of persons organized in any manner, for any business purpose, [other than on a nonprofit basis]."

Language is added to the definition of "project" to include, as a "project" under AIDA, ". . . (D) a public service facility including a (i) student, cooperative, or other nonprofit housing facility; (ii) social services facility; (iii) school, pre-school, or nursery facility; (iv) clinic or health center; of (v) multi-purpose community center;".

Provides Act takes effect July 1, 1984.

Introduced February 13 and referred to the House Special Committee on State Loans, Finance.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Rep. Uehling, Loans Chair, and other Loans Committee members

FROM: Representative Niilo Koponen

RE: HB 620

DATE: April 17, 1984

In 1977 Greater Fairbanks Family Headstart ran into the problem of obtaining longterm financing for the purchase of a facility because Headstart was a non-profit facility. I was the director of the Greater Fairbanks Headstart at that time. Greater Fairbanks Family Headstart had been the consistent recipient of the Federal contract for Headstart services for several years. Although occupying our own facility would have been more desirable in many respects, without a potential source for longterm financing we found ourselves restricted to locating in rental facilities at a greater cost to the government.

More recently, the Hillcrest Home for Boys in Fairbanks has been faced with a similar problem. Hillcrest is federally chartered and has 160 acres of federal land which can be used only for juvenile male care. The Hillcrest facility is 80% complete, but Hillcrest needs a longterm loans source to finish the facility.

In looking for a solution to these types of problems, allowing AIDA to provide longterm financing for loans seems to be the most logical choice. As noted in the 3/23/84 House Research Report, none of Alaska's other special state loan programs contain prohibitions regarding making loans to non-profits with the exception of programs which loan only to individuals, and the nonconforming and rural owner occupied housing assistance loan programs. The other alternative is continued reliance on direct grants with all of the problems which that entails.

Since House Bill 620 was introduced, I have been contacted by Play 'n Learn, the largest childcare provider in Fairbanks. Play 'n Learn has 3 facilities and would like to build another. According to its director Ms. Patty Merrit, to do this they need a longterm financing source. They have sufficient collateral to satisfy the local bank, but there is no program for a longterm financing for a non-profit such as themselves. Ms. Merrit investigated the federal Small Business Administration program but found that it is available to non-profits only if they are a native American organization or an organization of or for the handicapped.

House Special Committee on State Loans

Memorandum

Date: April 19, 1984
To: Members, House Special Committee on State Loans
From: Rep. Rick Uehling, Chairman
Subject: Questions from hearing on HB 620 - AIDA

The following questions are those brought to the Committee by Mr. Bert Wagnon, Executive Director of the Alaska Industrial Development Authority, relating to the addition of non-profit groups as eligible participants in the AIDA programs.

1. A review of the general status of non-profits dealing with credit status/ratings as it would pertain to conventional loans.
2. How would you foreclose on a non-profit entity for non payment of a loan?
3. Can the organization/trustees of a non-profit entity personally guarantee a loan?
4. Upon liquidation of a non-profit, what happens to the assets of the entity?
5. Can you identify any unique constraints about making loans to non-profits?
6. Are there differences between various kinds of non-profits, such as those which are "503(c)" and those which are not, which would make a difference in their being acceptable for consideration under the AIDA program?
7. Where do most non-profit entities get their funds now?

Mr. Wagnon will be in touch with an accountant from Peat Marwick & Mitchell, and the Committee staff will contact Legal Affairs. We hope to have answers to the questions for our meeting at 5 p.m. on Tuesday, April 24th.

RE: Eligibility of Nonprofit Organizations for State Loan Programs
Research Request 84-077

Lisa McLaren of your staff asked that we determine which State loan programs are allowed to make loans to nonprofit organizations.

The State loan programs listed below have no statutory or regulatory prohibitions that preclude loans to nonprofit organizations. However, nonprofit organizations would be required to meet all of the loan criteria of these programs. It is possible that some nonprofits would find it difficult to meet these loan eligibility requirements.

State loan programs that do not exclude nonprofit organizations are:

- Municipal Bond Bank
- Agriculture Revolving Loan Fund - HAVE NOT
- Alaska Medical Facility Authority - 1 loan to Fairbanks hospital
- Alternate Technology and Energy Revolving Loan Fund
- Bulk Fuel Revolving Loan Fund
- Child Care Revolving Loan Fund
- Commercial Fishing Revolving Loan Fund
- Fisheries Enhancement Revolving Loan Fund
- Mining Loan Fund
- Power Project Fund - Does loan to electrical coops
- Rural Electrification Revolving Loan Fund
- Residential Energy Conservation Fund - Nothing in regs to preclude it. hasn't happened yet
- Historical District Revolving Loan Fund

ARC - is giving loan extension but not approving any new loans

Community and Regional Affairs' Housing Assistance Loan Fund (HALF) is able to make loans to nonprofit organizations through its rural non-owner occupied program. Although no loans to nonprofit organizations have been made through this program, there has been one loan to a municipality. HALF has two other programs, the nonconforming and rural owner occupied programs, that cannot loan to nonprofit organizations because of owner occupancy requirements. Has not given any loans to a non-profit (has 1 to municipality) but has no problem doing so

Representative Koponen
March 23, 1984
Page 2

Two loan programs, the Alaska Housing Finance Corporation and the Scholarship Revolving Loan Fund, can only make loans to individuals. All organizations, whether profit or nonprofit, are ineligible for these loans.

Dear Representative Uehling:

As you may recall, this fall a hearing was held by a subcommittee on loans and there was considerable discussion on assistance to the small borrowers.

Our SBA purchase program has been active in this area and a bill is pending in the legislature which would perhaps be of assistance to some Alaskans. We support the intent of this bill, but would like to offer a technical amendment which would read as follows:

*Sec. 2. AS 44.88.159(c) is amended to read:

(c) The interest rate on a loan purchased by the authority with money in the small enterprise loan account that is not from the proceeds of the sale of a series of bonds is the lesser of (1) the prevailing prime rate adopted by the United States Small Business Administration, or (2) [EQUAL TO] the most recent index of Aa corporate bond yield averages as published by Moody's Investors Service. However, if the interest rate established in accordance with this subsection would be less than 10 percent, the interest rate on the loan is 10 percent.

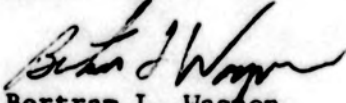

Our reason for suggesting such an amendment is that it is possible that someone might construe the existing language to be interpreted to mean that once the lesser of 1 or 2 fell below 10% no loans could be made. Our suggested alternative would hopefully clarify any such ambiguity.

Representative Uehling
January 30, 1984
Page 2

The effect of this bill would be to reduce our purchase rate on SBA loans from the present 12.7% to 11%. The Authority feels this is a responsible piece of legislation in that we only purchase the U.S. Government guaranteed portion and the yield should reflect the risk as well as move with the market which it does under S.B. 254.

If I can answer any questions please advise.

Sincerely,

Bertram L. Waggon

Sectional Analysis of SBA Bill

Section 1: This section deletes the reference to a project, as defined in AS 44.88.220. This deletion is requested to ensure that there is no difficulty with the Authority purchasing the SBA guaranteed portion of working capital and inventory loans. Presently, it could possibly be interpreted that the Authority is prohibited from buying these loans because of the project description of AS 44.88.220(6).

Section 2: This section is an effort to resolve the difficulty of differential rates being applied to the same loan program. Presently the maximum rate allowed by the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) on loans guaranteed by them is the prevailing prime rate plus: 2-1/4% if the loan is less than seven years; or 2-3/4% if the loan is longer than seven years. The present AIDA "buy rate" for the SBA guaranteed portion is Moody's Aa corporate index - in essence, AIDA is loaning funds to the banks at this rate. The bank may then add 1-1/2% to this rate for loans under $100,000, or 1% to this rate for loans over $100,000. Generally, there has not been a problem, but with two different rates, particularly one being a "short term" rate (SBA/Prime) and one being a "long term" rate (AIDA/Moody's Aa) the potential exists for the rates to be such that AIDA effectively cannot buy these loans. For instance, the present (mid-March) rates are: Prime = 10.5%; Moody's Aa = 12.4%. For a loan of less than 7 years, the SBA ceiling is 12.75% (10.50% + 2.25%). AIDA will "buy" this loan (i.e. provide funds to the bank) at 12.4%, and allow the bank to charge 1 to 1-1/2% in excess of the 12.4%. Since the SBA ceiling is lower, it will be the effective rate. So the bank would have to loan funds to the borrower at 12.75%, and get funds from AIDA at 12.4%. This spread is inadequate to induce the bank to sell SBA loans to AIDA. This does not mean that a bank will not make an SBA loan based upon some other source of funds, however it does significantly lessen the possibility that a bank will make an SBA loan (the SBA estimates that AIDA purchases 70% of all new SBA guaranteed loans in Alaska).

A simple way to eliminate this problem would be to tie the AIDA rates to prime. However this could create a situation where a borrower was confronted with rates in excess of 20% (prime exceeded 20% during 1980 and 1981, and peaked at 17% during 1982). Section 2 represents a compromise. It sets the AIDA buy rate at the lesser of prime, or Moody's Aa, with a 10% floor. This should allow AIDA to "stay in the SBA business" even if Moody's Aa exceeds prime, as in the example, but still protects the borrower from the egregious rates that could result from being strictly tied to prime. The rationale for the 10% floor is that if rates drop below 10%, AIDA assistance should not be needed.

*Sec. 2. AS 44.88.159(c) is amended to read:

(c) The interest rate on a loan purchased by the authority with money in the small enterprise loan account that is not from the proceeds of the sale of a series of bonds is the lesser of (1) the prevailing prime rate adopted by the United States Small Business Administration, or (2) [EQUAL TO] the most recent index of Aa corporate bond yield averages as published by Moody's Investors Service. However, if the interest rate established in accordance with this subsection would be less than 10 percent, the interest rate on the loan is 10 percent.

Our reason for suggesting such an amendment is that it is possible that someone might construe the existing language to be interpreted to mean that once the lesser of 1 or 2 fell below 10% no loans could be made. Our suggested alternative would hopefully clarify any such ambiguity.

Dear Representative Uehling:

As chairperson of the House Special Committee in Loans, I want to encourage you to pass HB 620 this session. Non-profit corporations should have equal access to loans, provided they can meet the necessary criteria. It is most frustrating to me to be told that non-profits should "get grants" or "receive government aid" rather than pay their own way. However, the lack of loan programs available to non-profit corporations leaves little choice.

HB 620 makes good sense. It jeopardizes no one; it costs nothing and it frees non-profits from the need to always ask for government support.

The enclosed letters (approximately 80) are from other Fairbanks residents who support HB 620. Together we urge your quick action.

Thank you!

Sincerely,

Dear Alaska Legislator,

As a parent with children enrolled in a non-profit child care program, I support the passage of HB 620. It is my understanding that this bill would allow the Alaska Industrial Development Authority to lend to non-profit organizations. I believe that non-profit organizations should have equal access to funds for borrowing, provided they meet the financial criteria, as private businesses.

Please lend your support to this bill, which would cost the State nothing extra but would encourage growth and development in our communities.

Dear Alaska Legislator,

As a citizen concerned about non-profit child care centers, I support the passage of HB 620. It is my understanding that this bill would allow the Alaska Industrial Development Authority to lend funds to non-profit organizations. I believe that these organizations should have equal access to funds for borrowing, provided they meet the same financial criteria, as businesses organized for profit.

I urge you to lend your support to this bill, which would cost the State nothing but would encourage growth of vital services in our communities.

Sincerely,

Dear Alaska Legislator,

As a citizen concerned about non-profit child care centers, I support the passage of HB 620. It is my understanding that this bill would allow the Alaska Industrial Development Authority to lend funds to non-profit organizations. I believe that these organizations should have equal access to funds for borrowing, provided they meet the same financial criteria, as businesses organized for profit.

I urge you to lend your support to this bill, which would cost the State nothing but would encourage growth of vital services in our communities.

Sincerely,
