CONTINUATION OF FISCAL NOTE ANALYSIS
HB 407

An act providing statutory immunity for the Alaska State Emergency Response Commission and the Hazardous Substance Spill Technology Review Council and their members while acting within the course and scope of their official duties unless gross negligence or intentional misconduct is involved. Gross negligence, intentional misconduct or acts which fall under federal law are excluded from this immunity statute.

This bill will make it easier to get qualified members to serve on these very sensitive and important Commissions. The Division of Risk Management is in favor of this legislation.

STATE OF ALASKA
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
JUNEAU

January 16, 1992

*The Honorable Ben Grussendorf
Speaker of the House
Alaska State Legislature
State Capitol
Juneau, AK 99801-1182*

Dear Speaker Grussendorf:

Under the authority of art. III, sec. 18, of the Alaska Constitution, I am transmitting a bill providing immunity for the Alaska State Emergency Response Commission (Alaska SERC), local emergency planning committees (LEPCs) established by Alaska SERC, and the Hazardous Substance Spill Technology Review Council (HSSTRC) and their members from civil damages and costs resulting from any acts or omissions occurring within the course and scope of their official duties under AS 46.13, unless the act or omission constitutes gross negligence or intentional misconduct or may be the subject of relief under an applicable federal law.

This bill adds a new section to AS 46.13 which at present does not address the question of the liability of the Alaska SERC, LEPCs, or HSSTRC nor the personal liability of the members of these entities.

State officials and members of the public serve on Alaska SERC, LEPCs, and HSSTRC. In performing tasks related to hazardous substance emergency planning and preparedness, community right-to-know reporting, toxic chemical release reporting, and the management of hazardous substances, the individuals appointed to these entities serve to protect the health and welfare of the citizens of this state.

The potential exposure to liability arising from these statutorily authorized activities may dissuade qualified and otherwise interested members of the public from accepting appointments to the Alaska SERC, LEPCs, and HSSTRC. In order for the Alaska SERC, LEPCs, and HSSTRC to function effectively and to encourage the participation of qualified individuals, AS 46.13 should provide immunity for these entities and their members for any act or omission occurring within the course and scope of their statutorily authorized activities, except for those acts or omissions which constitute gross negligence or intentional misconduct or which may be the subject of relief under applicable federal law.

I urge your prompt consideration and passage of this bill.

Sincerely,

The Honorable Bill Hudson
Chairman
House Special Committee on Oil and Gas
P.O. Box V
Juneau, AK 99811

Dear Representative Hudson:

HB 407 was recently referred to your committee after introduction by the Governor. This bill would provide immunity to the members of the Alaska State Emergency Response Commission (SERC), the Local Emergency Planning Committees (LEPCs) created under the SERC, and the Hazardous Substance Spill Technology Review Council (HSSTRC or TRC) for their acts or omissions which are in accordance with their official duties, unless the act or omission constitutes gross negligence or intentional misconduct or which may be the subject of relief under an applicable federal law.

As explained in the Governor's transmittal letter, state officials and members of the public serve on the SERC, the LEPCs and the RTC. Each of these entities is charged with tasks relating to hazardous substance emergency planning and preparedness, community right-to-know reporting, toxic substance release reporting, and the management of hazardous substances. The potential exposure to liability arising from these statutorily mandated activities may discourage qualified individuals from accepting appointments to the SERC, LEPCs and RTC.

The success of the SERC, LEPCs and RTC are critical to the success of the State of Alaska in emergency preparedness when dealing with oil spills or other hazardous substance releases. Enclosed herewith is a legal opinion relating to this issue that may be of interest to the members of your committee when reviewing HB 407. We are also enclosing statutes from other states which have adopted this kind of immunity for members of their SERC, and the federal law allowing for citizen suits against members of a SERC. HB 407 would not affect this federal law.

The Honorable Bill Hudson

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT

1. Recitals

There currently exist liability concerns by persons who contribute their time and service to the State Emergency Response Commission ("SERC"), Local Emergency Planning Committees ("LEPCs"), and the Hazardous Substance Spill Technology Review Council ("HSSTRC"). By providing protection against liability costs, this memorandum of agreement is intended as an interim method of insuring that such persons will be willing to provide assistance to the SERC, LEPCs, and the HSSTRC. This agreement is entered into between the Department of Law, the Division of Risk Management in the Department of Administration, and the Commissioner of Environmental Conservation on behalf of the SERC, LEPCs, and the HSSTRC.

2. State Defense of Claims

The State of Alaska (State) agrees to defend the SERC and its members, SERC-approved LEPCs and their members, and the HSSTRC and its members against all non-insured claims arising from their acts or omissions occurring within the course and scope of statutorily authorized activities on behalf of the SERC, SERC-approved LEPCs, and the HSSTRC. When defense is provided under this agreement, the State will select and retain counsel to represent the members and entities covered by this agreement. The State will not be obligated to pay expenses of defense counsel independently retained by members and entities without the approval of the Division of Risk Management.

3. Indemnification

The State agrees to indemnify the SERC, SERC-approved LEPCs, the HSSTRC, and their members for non-insured judgments arising from their acts or omissions occurring within the course and scope of statutorily authorized activities on behalf of the SERC, SERC-approved LEPCs, the HSSTRC, except that the State will not indemnify for judgments for damages resulting from gross negligence or intentional misconduct, or for punitive damages.

4. Definition of Non-Insured Claims and Judgments

As used in this agreement, "non-insured claims" and "non-insured judgments" refer to all or a portion of a claim or judgment (including a settlement) for which a member or entity covered by this agreement or a member's employer is not protected by a policy of insurance. Where a portion of a claim is insured, the State will endeavor to arrive at a cooperative agreement with the insurer for proration of defense costs and assignment of defense counsel. In the event of inability to reach such agreement, the State will, with prior written approval, reimburse the member covered by this agreement for reasonable non-insured defense costs and attorney fees incurred in defense of claims.

5. Notice of Claim

A member or entity covered by this agreement against whom a claim is made must submit a written request for defense to the State of Alaska, Division of Risk Management within 30 days of knowledge or receipt of a claim.

6. Conditions

The State will appear and defend a member or entity covered by this agreement unless and until it is determined by the State that the claim does not arise out of acts or omissions occurring within the course and scope of statutorily authorized activities on behalf of the SERC, SERC-approved LEPCs, or the HSSTRC, or that the acts or omissions complained of amounted to gross negligence or willful misconduct, in which case the State may reject defense of the claim. The State's obligation to defend and indemnify is further conditioned upon cooperation of the member or entity in defense against the claim. The member or entity shall not, except at their own cost, admit liability, voluntarily make any payment, assume any obligation, or incur any expense, without prior approval of the Division of Risk Management. Failure to provide timely notice of a claim, conduct prejudicial to the State's position, or failure to cooperate in defense voids the State's obligations under this agreement.

7. Recision of this Agreement

This memorandum of agreement may be revoked by the State upon 30 days notice to the entities covered by this agreement.

PROPOSED MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT

1. The State agrees to defend members of the State Emergency Response Commission (SERC), SERC approved Local Emergency Planning Committees (LEPCs) and their members and members of the Hazardous Substance Spill Technology Review Council (HSSTRC), against all non-insured claims arising from acts or omissions occurring within the course and scope of statutorily authorized activities on behalf of SERC, SERC approved LEPCs, and the HSSTRC. The State further agrees to indemnify SERC members, SERC approved LEPCs and their members, and HSSTRC members for non-insured judgments against SERC members, approved LEPCs and their members, and HSSTRC members with the exception that the State will not indemnify for judgments for damages resulting from gross negligence or intentional misconduct.

2. As used in paragraph 1 of this agreement, "non-insured claims" and "non-insured judgments" refer to all or a portion of a claim or judgment for which the defendant or the defendant's employer are not protected by a policy of insurance. Where a portion of a claim is insured, the State will endeavor to arrive at a cooperative agreement with the insurer for proration of costs and assignment of counsel. In the event of inability to reach such agreement, the State will reimburse the defendant for non-insured costs and attorney fees incurred in defense of claims.

3. A defendant against whom a claim is made must submit a written request for defense with the State of Alaska, Division of Risk Management within 30 days of knowledge or receipt of a claim. The State will appear and defend the defendant unless after investigation it is determined that the claim does not arise out of acts or omissions occurring within the course and scope of statutorily authorized activities or that the acts or omissions complained of amounted to gross negligence or willful misconduct, in which case the State may reject defense of the claim. The State's obligation to defend and indemnify is further conditioned upon cooperation of the defendant in defense against the claim. Failure to provide timely notice of a claim, conduct prejudicial to the State's position or failure to cooperate in defense voids the State's obligations under this agreement.

4. It is understood that there currently exists genuine liability concerns by persons who contribute their time and service to the SERC, LEPCs and the HSSTRC. By providing protection against liability costs, this memorandum of agreement is intended as an interim method of insuring that such persons will be willing to provide assistance to the SERC, LEPCs and the HSSTRC. It is further understood that the State will present a bill and seek legislation which will provide defense and indemnification similar to that provided by this agreement. This memorandum of agreement may be revoked by the State upon 30 days notice.

Your opinion request seeks answers concerning potential liability of members of the above identified committees. I could go into a lengthy legal analysis of tort liability exposure, governmental immunities and qualified immunities but time constraints ^{1/} require that for now the solution to your concerns be met with a general statement of the law plus a state assurance of protection from non-insured liability exposure.

The short answer to liability exposure is that, generally, there is liability exposure for negligence which has been a legal cause of injury unless immunity is granted by law or court decision. Governmental agencies and employees are immune from liability for discretionary function negligence. AS 09.65.070 (municipalities); AS 09.50.250 (state). This form of immunity extends to high level planning activities which probably would be found by our courts to encompass most official actions of SERC, LEPC and HSSTRC members. Additionally, "member[s] of the governing body, a commission, or a citizen's advisory committee of a municipality of the state" are immune from liability for ordinary negligence occurring within the course and scope of official duties. AS 09.17.050.

As you acknowledge in your opinion request letter, liability is mostly hypothetical but the fear is real enough to

I am retiring from state employment at the end of October and thus, I am unable to devote the necessary research time needed for a careful analysis. justify a request for some degree of protection. As above noted, there exists only a slight potential for liability for negligence in planning for and implementation of responses to discharges of oil and hazardous substances. The best way to resolve the fear of liability and the cost of defense against the threat of liability is by contractual or legislative indemnification.

Attached is a proposed memorandum of agreement. The agreement extends a guarantee of defense of claims arising within the authority granted the respective committees and their members by state and federal law. The agreement also extends a guarantee of indemnification for damages for negligence. This memorandum of agreement should quell fears of committee members and will provide interim protection pending legislatively extended protection.

Concerning legislative action, I or my successor will draft a proposed bill which would immunize members from liability but, as you are well aware, such a bill would not easily pass into law and may well be watered down substantially as it winds its way through the hearing committees. I would anticipate that as a part of preparation of an explanation for justification of such a law that an extensive legal opinion memorandum will be prepared. The department's analysis will be provided to you.

Following is a restatement of questions raised by your letter along with an answer.

Question 1. What liability, if any, may exist for the SERC or the Council as state agencies or entities.

Answer. State agencies are liable for non-discretionary negligence. Discretionary (immune) activities are high level planning activities which are determined on a case by case basis. To quote the Alaska Supreme Court, the distinction between planning level (immune) and operational level (not immune) activities depends upon "the type of decision that is being made, examined within an analytical framework which is sensitive to the policies underlying the discretionary function or duty exception." Carlson v. State, 598 P.2d 969, 972 (Alaska 1979).

Question 2. What liability, if any, do the members of the SERC accrue due to their activities, or inactivity, as SERC members? If there is liability, will the state represent and indemnify the members should an award be made?

Answer. Planning decisions by SERC members are usually going to fall within the category of "discretionary" immune activities. 2/ Where activities or inaction cross the line into operational negligence, members will be protected pursuant to the terms of the Memorandum of Agreement (MOA).

Question 3. If the state will represent and indemnify the SERC members, are there any limits?

Answer. The state will represent, without monetary limit, for ordinary negligence claims occurring within the course and scope of authority granted by law. By way of example, the state would represent the member on a claim that while intoxicated, the member slandered a SERC consultant if the state's initial investigation led to a conclusion that the conduct occurred within the course and scope of official duty but, at most, only ordinary negligence occurred. If the state investigative determination was proven to be wrong concerning the degree of negligence, the state would not pay a judgment where the fact finder determined that the defendant's conduct rose to the level of gross negligence or intentional misconduct.

Question 4. [Are the answers to questions 2 and 3 the same as to the HSSTRC and its members?]

Answer. Yes.

Question 5. Where a LEPC is formed under the auspices of a local government, does the local government run the risk of liability?

Answer. Yes, the local government runs the same risk as the state but the MOA will protect against non-insured liability.

Question 6. What are the liability risks to an LEPC or its individual members?

Answer. If a LEPC is "a commission, or a citizen's advisory committee of a municipality of the state" its members are immune for ordinary negligence for action or inaction within the course and scope of official duties but are subject to liability for gross negligence. AS 09.17.050(a)(4). If a LEPC is a state agency commission the answer to question 2 would be applicable along with the caveat of footnote 2 concerning "employees." The 2/ AS 09.50.250 protects "employees" of the state. It is probable that the court would broadly construe "employee" to include the seven public members listed as potential appointees in AS 46.13.010.

Hon. Dennis D. Kelso
Department of Environmental Conversation

October 29, 1990

MOA provides indemnification for those circumstances where otherwise there would be liability exposure because the commission is a state rather than municipal agency or where the individual defendant happens to be a non-governmental person.

Question 7. If there are liability risks associated with activities of an LEPC, will the State represent and indemnify the LEPC, the local government under which it is formed, and its members? Are there limits to the coverage for gross negligence or intentional acts? If so what are examples of acts that might trigger a limitation on coverage?

Answer. The MOA provides for representation of the LEPC and its members to the extent that no insurer has coverage obligations. If a local government is the alter ego of the LEPC, the municipality would also be defended where the plaintiff named the municipality as a defendant. The state will represent where there has been a determination that, at most, the defendant's conduct was only ordinary negligence but will not indemnify for conduct found to constitute gross negligence or intentional misconduct.

It is not possible to predict the degree of negligence for any specific type of conduct. Negligence may be ordinary, gross, or willful. Ordinary negligence is the failure to use ordinary care. Gross negligence is a failure to exercise even that care which a careless person would use, while willful negligence describes intentional conduct in disregard of an obvious risk occurring under circumstances that make it probable that harm to the plaintiff will result. W. Prosser, The Law of Torts § 180-85 (4th ed. 1971).

SUBJECT: Liability of State,
Members of the State
Emergency Response
Commission (SERC),
Local Emergency
Planning Committees
(LEPCs) and the
Hazardous Substance
Spill Technology
Review Council

On behalf of the State Emergency Response Commission (SERC), I am requesting an opinion concerning the potential liability arising from the activities of the SERC, the Hazardous Substance Spill Technology Review Council, or the Local Emergency Planning Committees (LEPCs). Members of the SERC are appointed by the Governor under the Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act, Title III (SARA Title III), Administrative Order 103, and House Bill 566 which passed last session. The SERC is required by law to review and approve membership on the LEPCs. The Hazardous Substance Spill Technology Review Council was established within the SERC by HB 566. Seven of its nine members are appointed by the Governor.

The SERC and LEPCs have many planning and coordinating functions imposed by federal and recently passed state statutes (AS 46.13). However, neither has any direct administrative function. Response to hazardous substance and oil spill incidents remains the responsibility of Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC), the Department of Military and Veterans Affairs (DMVA), and other local, state, and federal agencies.

For SERC, the LEPCs, and the Council to be effective in their mission, there must be a large pool of potential members representing the various roles and expertise necessary to prepare an emergency response plan for hazardous substance and oil spill incidents. This is especially true at the local level. SERC policy has encouraged LEPCs to establish strong ties with, and even organize under the auspices of, a local government and the strive for the broadest possible representation on the committee. In many cases, LEPC membership exceeds the minimum number of participants mandated by state and federal law.

This policy encourages the level of public participation necessary to effectively carry out the goals of SARA Title III and HB 566. However, it is jeopardized by growing fears on the part of the local governments and the LEPC members about what, if any, liability may be attached to membership on an LEPC. This uncertainty now extends to the SEPC members as well and impedes our ability to accomplish our statutory duties. Although members of the Council have not yet been appointed, it is reasonable to assume the same questions will arise in relation to its activities and members. This concern may result in some candidates being unwilling to accept appointment without reassurance about the degree of potential liability they may be assuming.

Before narrowing this request to the specific questions, I want you to know that I appreciate the likelihood that most fear of liability is hypothetical. However, the fear is real and no one wants to take any significant chance, or perhaps even a slight chance, of being sued for damages associated with a hazardous substance or oil spill incident. The cost of defense alone, as we well know could bankrupt anyone.

Specifically our questions are:

1. What liability, if any, may exist for the SERC or the Council as state agencies or entities?
2. What liability, if any, do the members of the SERC accrue due to their activities, or inactivity, as SERC members? If there is liability, will the state represent and indemnify the members should an award be made? (It is important to remember that some members are appointed to represent business, local governments, and other specific interests.)
3. If the state will represent and indemnify the SERC members, are there any limits, (for example gross negligence or intentional acts)? If there are such limits, please give examples of what may constitute such acts.
4. Questions 2 and 3 also pertain to the Hazardous Substance Spill Technology Review Council and its members.
5. Where an LEPC is formed under the auspices of a local government, does the local government run the risk of liability?
6. What are the liability risks to an LEPC or its individual members?

July 30, 1990

7. If there are liability risks associated with activities of an LEPC, will the State represent and indemnify the LEPC, the local government under which it is formed, and its members? Are there limits to the coverage for gross negligence or intentional acts? If so what are examples of acts that might trigger a limitation on coverage.

I have not tried to list the duties of the SERC, LEPCs or Council, although it is apparent that the answers to the questions are driven by the duties. The best source is the laws themselves, especially since SARA Title III is still relatively new and HB 566 was just passed by the Governor.

Should your review suggest there is any significant risk of liability for the members of any of these three entities, especially if the state will not fully represent and indemnify them, I would appreciate suggestions for a legislative "fix".
The goals of SARA Title III and HB 566 cannot be met if the participants in the activities, local governments, or the State are subject to liability for their participation.

There are voluminous materials concerning SERC and SARA Title III that may be relevant to liability issues. An attached December 28, 1987, memo from a Kentucky Assistant Attorney General may be particularly helpful. Also attached are memos from two LEPC chairs expressing their liability concerns.

Please feel free to contact me or Camille Stephens of DEC's Spill Prevention, Planning and Management staff at 465-2630.

Thank for your assistance with this important matter.

FROM: GREG HOLMES, ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL gh

RE: ASSESSMENT OF LIABILITY OF STATE COMMISSION AND LOCAL COMMITTEES APPOINTED PURSUANT TO SARA

DATE: DECEMBER 28, 1987

At your request I have prepared the following assessment of the potential liability of the state commission and the local committees appointed pursuant to Title III of the Super Fund Amendments and Reauthorization Act of 1986 (hereinafter "SARA"). This assessment constitutes my legal opinion based on an analysis of existing statutes and case law.

The potential liability of the commission or committee must be thought of in two distinct ways: the liability of the commission or committee itself and the liability of the individual commissioners or committee members. It appears that the commission or committee itself will not be liable unless it fails to comply with a mandatory requirement spelled out in Title III of SARA. For example, should the commission or a committee fail to comply with the time table mandated in the federal statute, and should any future damages to any person or company accrue from such failure, there could be potential liability under the provisions of Title III. Title III does authorize persons to seek injunctive relief (that is orders from the federal courts requiring the commission or committee to undertake a mandated activity or to refrain from a forbidden activity) in matters concerning the enforcement of the provisions of the statute.

With regard to the potential liability of individual commission or committee members, all attorneys with whom I have spoken as well as my own research indicate that while we cannot be certain, it appears at this point that individual commission and committee members would not be liable unless: a) they fail to comply with the mandated requirement as discussed in the paragraph above; and b) such failure was due to gross negligence or willful misconduct.

Finally, it is important to note that commission and committee members, being appointed pursuant to state law to carry out state-mandated functions, are agents of the state with all the attendant immunities from liability conferred by law upon appointees to other state boards, commissions, and agencies.

Dear Ms. Van Houten;

The Prudhoe Bay Area LEPC membership is concerned about the area of liability in regards to their participation and activity within the framework of the LEPC.

As coordinator, I have been requested to query SERC and relay a response regarding potential liability in the following areas:

1. What is the nature of liability coverage for LEPC members?
2. What is the extent of liability coverage?
3. Who is responsible for liability coverage for members?
4. When is the membership covered and how?
5. Is the membership covered professionally and personally?
6. Is the membership covered against civil or criminal liability?

I understand that the question of liability for LEPC membership is an area yet to be completely clarified. However, the subject remains a timely concern for the Prudhoe Bay Area membership. I appreciate your address to this topic. Our next meeting is scheduled for April 23, 1990. If your schedule permits, please respond before this date. If I can be of further assistance to you, please contact me at your convenience, 852-2611, ext. 247.

TO: Commissioner Dennis Kelso, Chair
State Emergency Response Commission

FROM: Steven O'Connor, Interim Chair
Kenai Peninsula Local Emergency Planning Committee

SUBJ: LEPC Budget and concerns

DATE: January 10, 1990

The Kenai Peninsula Local Emergency Planning Committee would like to submit a draft budget for consideration by the State Emergency Response Commission. This budget is just a preliminary draft as we have not had time to develop a workplan. As soon as the workplan is complete we will have a better idea of our fiscal needs.

Our LEPC has met and established a steering committee to draft bylaws and look at short term work objectives. The next full meeting of the Kenai Peninsula LEPC is scheduled for January 22, 1990. At that meeting the draft bylaws will be presented for consideration along with this budget. Dave McDowell is also scheduled to review the SERC workplan with the group with an emphasis on how the SERC workplan will provide guidance for the development of our local workplan. I have attached an agenda for your consideration.

Also attached are some concerns that have come up that the LEPC would appreciate your office or the State Emergency Response Commission addressing for us. These questions may have already been addressed in other areas. If you have any questions to clarify the attached questions please feel free to call Ross Kinney, Finance Director or Phil Reeves, Assistant Borough Attorney for the Kenai Peninsula Borough at 262-4441.

At this time I intend to be present at the SERC meeting scheduled for January 12, 1990 to answer any questions. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Steven O'Connor, Interim Chair
Kenai Peninsula Local Emergency
Planning Committee

QUESTIONS FOR SERC REGARDING LEPC FINANCING
AND LIABILITIES OF MEMBERS OF A LEPC

1. Will the SERC account for and allocate funding/expenditures of the LEPC's or will the LEPC's control their own finances? If the latter, we propose that the Borough administer LEPC finances as an agency fund; i.e., account for receipts and disbursements of funds based on the LEPC's budget which remains under the LEPC's discretion and control. This will allow the LEPC to meet the State and Federal single-audit requirements without additional expense.

2. LEPC members are apparently covered by the State of Alaska workmen's compensation coverage under AS 23.30.242. Will volunteer subcommittee members of the LEPC who are not LEPC members; approved by the State be covered by State worker's comp policies, and what will be the procedure for notification and acceptance of such subcommittee members by the CERC for such compensation coverage?

3. Are LEPC members (and subcommittee members) covered under the State's general liability coverage particularly for automobile liability? Are there any particular insurance requirements which the State will impose upon LEPC and subcommittee members for utilization of their personal automobiles in connection with their LEPC service?

4. Are LEPC members covered by any state public officials liability coverage? Will the State commit to providing legal defense for LEPC members in the event they are named defendant in a legal action based upon their LEPC service?

Comment. AS 09.50.250 provides immunity for the State and its agencies from tort actions arising from discretionary activities. This is obviously a limited immunity, and our Borough Risk Management policy is to insure our elected officials who are covered by a similar (but broader) municipal immunity under AS 09.65.070. AS 26.20.140 provides a much broader immunity for the State, its agents and representatives in activities under that chapter on civil defense. There is no similar immunity provided under AS 26.23 which is the Alaska Disaster Act. While we are aware that some people have cited AS 26.20.140 in discussing immunity provisions for disaster actions, we question this interpretation particularly considering AS 26.23.210 which sets out the relationship of the Alaska Disaster Act to the civil defense statute by stating: "The Alaska civil defense statute (AS 26.20), applies to preparedness, response, and recovery from disasters caused by enemy attack and other hostile military or paramilitary action. The provisions of this chapter [AS 26.23], other than AS 26.23.130, apply to preparedness, response, and recovery in cases of natural and nonmilitary man-made disasters." It would seem that AS 26.23.210 expressly denies application of AS 26.20.140 immunities to actions undertaken under AS Chapter 26.23.

corporation, is an employee of the corporation under this chapter. However, an executive officer of a corporation may waive coverage under this chapter, subject to the approval of the commissioner of labor, notwithstanding AS 23.30.245(b). Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, an executive officer of a municipal corporation or of a charitable, religious, educational, or other nonprofit corporation may be brought within the coverage of its insurance contract by the corporation by specifically including the officer in the contract of insurance. The election to bring an executive officer within the coverage continues in force for the period the contract of insurance is in effect. During that period an executive officer brought within the coverage of the insurance contract is an employee of the corporation under this chapter. (§ 2(8) ch 193 SLA 1959; am ch 146 SLA 1962)

(g) Other rights. Nothing in this section shall restrict or expand any right which any person (or class of persons) may have under any Federal or State statute or common law to seek enforcement of any requirement or to seek any other relief (including relief against the Administrator or a State agency).

(h) Intervention. (1) By the United States. In any action under this section the United States or the State, or both, if not a party, may intervene as a matter of right.

(2) By persons. In any action under this section, any person may intervene as a matter of right when such person has a direct interest which is or may be adversely affected by the action and the disposition of the action may, as a practical matter, impair or impede the person's ability to protect that interest unless the Administrator or the State shows that the person's interest is adequately represented by existing parties in the action.
