Dear Senator Hohman:

The Mabel T. Caverly Senior Center respectfully requests your permission to hold a public hearing on Saturday, March 29th in Anchorage relative to bills concerned with the Elderly (SB 196, SB 219, SB 201 & SB 176).

Our reason for requesting a local hearing is that many Elderly persons wishing to testify are unable to travel to Juneau because of physical disabilities as well as the prohibitive cost of air travel.

May we hear from you at your earliest convenience, so we may alert the Senior Citizens? Thank you for your personal attention.

Sincerely,

Bernice Cease

Dear Senator Hohman:

Our Chamber is planning its annual visitation to Juneau in a short time and hopes to discuss some matters of mutual interest with you. In the meantime, we hope you will consider some items of immediate interest and their possible effect on Greater Ketchikan.

Some of our civic leaders testified before the House Committee on Health, Education and Social Affairs requesting a Pioneers' Home for this area. This project has been under study for several years and there are 800 or more persons over 60 who might qualify, so we do need the Pioneer Home Legislation and the unanimous "do pass" vote from the House Committee. It is hoped you will support this Legislation on its way through the session.

Senators Robert Ziegler and Pete Meland have offered a measure to start planning, the designing a bridge to connect the new international airport on Gravina Island with the city of Ketchikan, which is located across Tongass Narrows. Its construction would lead to development of Pennock Island, which lies between Gravina and Ketchikan, as well as Gravina itself near the airport. The bridge would eliminate a costly and expensive airport ferry service operated by the Gateway Borough and speed up the flow of traffic to and from the airport. The State Highway Department has prepared studies on four proposed routes.

A pending measure on Workmen's Compensation, which would average the payroll income from all Alaskans, would work a hardship on existing industry in Southeastern Alaska. Existing operators and those coming onto the scene from native corporations have a high-cost, high freight rate barrier that excludes them from most stateside markets in some fields, including lumber. The chief buyer of lumber products in recent years, Japan, is suffering from galloping inflation, high fuel costs and high interest rates. Some 3,000 people depend on the timber industry in our area for jobs and the past few months have seen unemployment increasing rapidly due to the depressed market. Anything that can sustain employment in these industries will reduce unemployment costs, keep many Alaskans in a self-supporting situation and maintain schools, utilities and other public services needed in the area. By increasing the cost of doing business in Alaska, we make our basic industry less able to compete for the markets of similar industry down south.

Most coastal towns in Alaska depend on seafoods for major income and with consumers unable to afford king or tanner crab or even canned salmon, any artificial increase in costs of producing these products deals Alaskans a costly blow. The crab fleet has taken a real beating this year due to the falling demand. Prices paid to fishermen in our area must go down as a result of this depressed market. It can hardly be called a wise move to hitch costs of timber and seafood production to a booming demand for oil and natural gas. As a matter of record, Alaskans last fall voted to use part of the petroleum royalty income to help restore waning salmon stocks and even improve timber stands, to assure a varied economy throughout Alaska and a stable continuity for our renewable resource industry.

Since you Legislators are working for a better statewide economy, I know you will consider these factors before reaching decisions on the matters discussed herein. It is better to sustain the industry we have than to contribute to its demise. By averaging in the huge inflated wages of pipeline workers with those of the depressed areas, the depressed industries will suffer. We hope you will vote against this further burden on our renewable resource industries.

Sincerely yours,

Robin Taylor
President

Dear Senator Hohman:

The Older Persons Action Group asks you to direct your personal attention to the enclosed proposed legislation which has been badly needed in Alaska for many years and at this time has become mandatory.

No part of State government represents the elderly. Alaska is far behind in this respect and we strongly solicit your support in this area. Your support is needed in order to accomplish this in the pending legislative session.

Please be assured of our continued cooperation.

ALASKA COMMISSION ON AGING

Every state but Wyoming now has a specific agency dealing with the problems of the aged. However, with increasing numbers of older people, and increasing public understanding of their needs, it may be necessary to modify many of the existing agencies. The proposed statute is important in three ways. First, it presents a more detailed description of the functions a Commission on Aging should perform. Second, the statute extends the structure of the Commission by authorizing local governmental units to establish local Commissions and by providing for assistant directors to assist the local Commissions. Third, it clarifies the division of functions between the Commission and its Director and his staff.

Section 1 establishes the Commission and states its functions. In addition to the more traditional functions of gathering and disseminating information, coordinating services and making proposals, it is provided that the Commission shall evaluate existing programs and stimulate public understanding of the problems of the aging. Commission evaluation should contribute to improving program efficiency. Better public understanding of the needs of the aging will make them easier to meet.

Section 2 details the structure of the Commission. The controlling goal is to insure the awareness and responsiveness of the Commission to the political problems of the executive and legislative branches of the state government while maintaining its independence.

Section 3 deals with meetings, quorum and compensation. While the governmental members of the Commission need not be compensated, compensation for non-governmental members may make possible service on the Commission by representatives of the most concerned group of citizens, older persons with fixed and relatively low incomes.

Under Section 4, the Administrative staff consists of the Director and his staff. The staff will include the usual clerical workers and technical advisors, but this section also provides for assistant directors, if necessary, to assist local Commissions.

Section 5 authorizes the Borough and municipalities of the State to establish Commissions which would function as the Commission on Aging does, but on a local level.

Section 6 gives the Commission general power to carry out its functions and duties and specifically grants power to establish special subcommittees, to solicit and accept gifts and grants, and to contract.

(Title, enacting clause, etc.)

SECTION 1. [Establishment of a Commission on Aging; Functions and Duties.]

There is established a Commission on Aging [in the Department of Health Social Services]. The Commission shall:

- (a) gather and disseminate information and conduct hearings, conferences and special studies on problems and programs concerning the aging;
- (b) coordinate, assist, and cooperate with the efforts of State departments and agencies to serve the needs of the aging, especially in the fields of education, employment, health, housing, welfare and recreation;
- (c) develop, coordinate, and assist other public and private organizations which serve the aging;
- (d) propose new programs concerning the aging;
- (e) evaluate existing programs and proposed legislation concerning the aging;
- (f) constitute the designated State agency for administering all programs of the Federal government related to the aged requiring action within the State which are not the specific responsibility of another State agency under Federal law or which have not been entrusted specifically to another State agency;
- (g) stimulate public awareness of the problems of the aging by conducting a program of public education and encourage the Governor and the Legislature to develop programs to deal with these problems;
- (h) conduct training programs for community leadership and service project staff.

SECTION 2. [Membership of the Commission: Chairman].

- (a) The Commission shall consist of:
 - (1) [nine] voting members [one of whom shall be the head of the [appropriate department of the appropriate State University]]. Voting members shall be appointed by the Governor for a term of three years, staggered so that the terms of one-third of the members expire on the [appropriate date] of each year. Initial appointments shall be: one-third of the voting members for a term of one year, one-third for a term of two years, and one-third for a term of three years. Vacancies shall be filled for the remainder of any unexpired term in the same manner as the original appointment. No voting member shall be an elected or appointed official of the State government.
 - (2) [] non-voting members, composed of [one member of the [appropriate upper house of the State Legislature] appointed by the [appropriate body of the upper house] for a term of two years, one member of the [appropriate lower house of the State Legislature] appointed by the [appropriate body of the lower house] for a term of two years; and the heads of the [appropriate concerned State departments or agencies] or their representatives.

(b) A chairman shall be elected from the voting membership of the Commission to serve for a term of one year.

SECTION 3. [Meetings; Compensation.]

(a) The Commission on Aging shall meet at least [four] times a year. The Chairman may call additional meetings when necessary. A majority of voting members shall constitute a quorum.

(b) Voting members shall receive [] dollars per day compensation for work performed as part of their official duties. All members shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties as members of the Commission.

SECTION 4. [Administrative Staff.]

(a) The Commission shall have a Director. The Director shall be appointed by the Commissioner of H.E.W.

(b) The Director is the administrative officer of the Commission and shall serve the Commission by gathering information; disseminating findings of fact and other information; forwarding proposals and evaluations to the Governor, the Legislature, and various state agencies; carrying out public education programs; conducting hearings and conferences; and performing other duties necessary for the proper operation of the Commission.

(c) The Commission may employ in accordance with the [State personnel plan] any subordinate personnel necessary to assist the Director in the performance of his duties, including clerical staff, and technical advisors. The Commission also may employ assistant directors if necessary to develop, assist and cooperate with local commissions on aging.

SECTION 5. [Local Commissions.]

Any Borough, [municipality] of this State may establish a local Commission on Aging.

SECTION 6. [Powers of the Commission.]

The Commission shall have all powers necessary to carry out the functions and duties specified in this Act, including power to establish advisory committees on special subjects, to solicit and accept gifts and grants and to contract with public and private groups to conduct its business.

Re: Needs of the elderly of the Bethel area.

Dear Senator Hohman:

For the past five months this office has been interested in gaining a better understanding of a situation confronting certain elderly individuals in the Yukon-Kuskokwim region - that of having to leave the Bethel area to receive various nursing home services.

We have been wondering just how many elderly persons are leaving; where are they leaving to; why are they leaving; and what alternatives there might be to their having to leave. The purpose of this letter is to share the information that we have been able to obtain up to this point.

Our first concern was to find out as precisely as possible exactly how many elderly persons have been leaving the Bethel area in recent years to receive nursing home services. We contacted all the existing nursing home and convalescent care facilities in the State of Alaska that we were aware of. The information we received is as follows:

The Fairbanks Pioneers Home, Ketchikan General Hospital (Island View Manor Nursing Home), Cordova Community Hospital, and The Careage North Convalescent Center in Fairbanks have had no referrals or admittances to their facilities of elderly individuals from the Bethel area within the past five years. Harborview Memorial Hospital in Valdez has had no admittances of individuals over the age of 23.

Sitka Pioneer's Home had one admittance in 1974. The individual was from the village of Red Devil.

Wesleyan Nursing Home in Seward had 2 admittances in 1973 from Bethel and Kwethluk. There were 2 admittances in 1974, both from Bethel.

The Careage House in Anchorage had 2 admittances in 1974 from Bethel and Aniak.

The Ridgeview Manor in Anchorage had 2 admittances in 1972 from Bethel, 7 admittances in 1973 from Bethel (3), Aniak, Kotlik, Kalskag and Mountain Village. There was one admittance in 1974 from Bethel.

Glenmore Nursing Home in Anchorage had 3 admittances in 1970 from Bethel (2) and Tuluksak, one admittance in 1971 from Kalskag, 3 admittances in 1972 from Pitkas Point, Kongiganak, and Emmonak; 7 admittances in 1973 from Pilot Station, Sleetmute (2), Kongiganak, Bethel, St. Mary's and Napaskiak, 10 admittances in 1974 from Bethel, St. Mary's (2), Pitkas Point, Russian Mission, Cheforak, Tuntutuliak, Emmonak, Mekoryuk and Kasigluk.

Thus, from the figures we have at this time, the yearly breakdown of admittances is as follows:

- 1970 - 2
- 1971 - 1
- 1972 - 5
- 1973 - 16
- 1974 - 16

We sent out questionnaires to the Health Aides of some 45 villages in the Yukon-Kuskokwim area. We asked them how many elderly people had left their village to go to a nursing home or convalescent care facility within the past five years. We asked them how many of these individuals were unable to take care of themselves, how many needed full time care, and how many just needed a place to live and a little bit of help. Finally, we asked them how the elderly persons on their village felt about the need for a facility for the aged (like a nursing home or an old folk's home) in the Bethel area. We welcomed any additional comments that the Health Aides had.

To date we have received replies from 23 of the village Health Aides. According to these Health Aides, 12 elderly persons have had to leave the village to receive nursing home care within recent years. The Breakdown is as follows:

- Pilot Station.....2
- Tuluksak.....1
- Kotlik.....5
- Chuathbalak2
- Aniak.....2
- Total.....12

These specific village figures do not correlate precisely with received figures from the facilities that we contacted. I suppose that this could be accounted for by the fact that the Health Aide Personnel might have changed in various villages, or that the Health aides themselves were not able to obtain accurate information. Our purpose here was to get information feedback from different sources.

According to the Health Aides, all of those individuals that left the village were unable to take care of themselves, and all but one needed full time care.

When we asked the Health Aides how the elderly in their village felt about the need for a facility for the aged in the Bethel area, 12 Health Aides stated that the responses were negative (these responses varying from vehement statements to mere lack of interest), 7 Health Aides stated that the responses were favorable towards the development of such a facility and 4 Health Aides were not able to answer that question. There seemed to be no correlation between village location and village response. Of the five villages who, according to Health Aides had elderly members leave for nursing home care, three expressed a positive response on behalf of elderly village members, and one expressed a negative response.

Feedback to these questionnaires varied. Some elderly persons feel strongly that they want to stay in the village with family and friends, and that this is the customary and accepted thing to do. Some persons feel that a facility in the Bethel area would be good in that it would allow elderly persons to be close to family and friends, who might otherwise be far away from their community. This is the common motivation expressed by those elderly individuals who were quoted by the Health Aides as favoring some sort of facility in the Bethel area.

In the course of my investigation into this area I had occasion to correspond and speak with many individuals, agency related and otherwise. I was confronted with many opinions regarding the special needs of the elderly persons in this area, some very strongly expressed, and some quite opposed to each other. It is not the purpose of this memorandum to confront these opinions, nor to question them. We at this time are merely interested in providing any information regarding this need area that might prove helpful to others with the same concerns.

It appears that there are three lines of thinking in this area. The first line of thinking is that things should remain pretty much as they now are. If an elderly individual in the Yukon-Kuskokwim region reaches a point where he/she either cannot care for him/herself or has no friends or relatives who are willing or able to provide assistance, then an appropriate agency or individual may make a referral to a nursing home or convalescent care facility.

The second line of thinking is that some sort of nursing home facility might be constructed somewhere in the Bethel region to meet the needs of those individuals who would otherwise have to leave the Bethel area to receive services. The major questions here are whether the people of this area really want such a facility, exactly what sort of individual would it serve (Qualifications for acceptance), and of course, where would the funding come from.

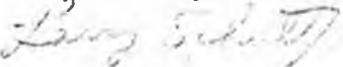

The third line of thinking is that perhaps something can be set up by which those elderly individuals who would normally be forced to leave their home to receive special nursing home or convalescent care can be allowed to remain in their home village. This would involve some sort of special support system catering to these individuals. This is not a new line of thinking. I have had occasion to correspond with Dove M. Kull, Director of Alaska Home Health Aide Services Inc. Apparently up until the recent past there were funds available to provide various individuals in the villages with homemaker and home health aide services. In fact, one of the purposes of this program was to strive to allow elderly individuals to remain at home. Mrs. Kull informs me that at one time there were eleven home helpers spread throughout the villages of Hooper bay, Mt. Village, Akiachak, St. Mary's, Pilot Station and Bethel. They received wage payment for their services. We sent questionnaires to these individuals, asking them for their impressions of the services they were providing. All six of those that responded stated that although their work had been demanding, they had seen it as being necessary and worthwhile.

Mrs. Kull further informs me that as of late, their funding has been precarious. Titles IV and XVI funds have been withdrawn, which reduces the Federal matching for the existing contract, which I gather has been with the Department of Health and Social Services. Interesting comparisons between costs of Homemaker-home health aide and alternative forms of service can be found in a pamphlet entitled "Costs of Homemaker-Home Health Aide and Alternative Forms of Services", which is published by the National Council for Homemaker-Home Health Aide Services Inc. For instance, this pamphlet states that in 1971-72 the average cost per case for such services was $467.79 per year. It would be interesting to compare related costs for that sort of care for the Bethel area recipients against cost of care in nursing home and convalescent care facilities in the State of Alaska.

It is our hope that this information may prove useful in future considerations regarding meeting the needs of the elderly individuals of the Yukon-Kuskokwim region. It goes without saying that we are all interested in seeing these members of our community receive their rightful and necessary services and benefits.

Respectfully Submitted,

Larry Schultz

Dear Governor Hammond:

The Borough is concerned about the adequate legal counsel for the low-income people in our area. It appears that there is sufficient need here to warrant a full-time representative of Alaska Legal Services.

Some years ago full-time representation was available. however in the past year, the community residents of Kodiak have once again been placed at a disadvantage.

Your assistance in obtaining this service would be appreciated.

Dear Sir:

I would like to request your assistance in establishing an Alaska Legal Service in Kodiak on a full-time basis. As Kodiak is the fifth largest city in Alaska and an island community, it would greatly benefit the lower income population if their legal problems could be handled more rapidly and by a resident in the area.

Your consideration in this matter will be greatly appreciated.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I believe that the assignment of a full-time member of the Alaska Legal Services to the Kodiak area would be an asset to the area and help solve many problems for the low income group in this area.

This should be considered a priority item for the organization dispensing these services as it seems foolish that the fifth largest city in Alaska is not able to furnish such a service.

Re: Funding Proposal for Legal Aide

Dear Sir(s):

I am writing at this time to lend my support to a proposal to reestablish a full-time legal assistance office in the Kodiak area. This proposal is being prepared by the Kodiak Area Community Development Corporation. Such a service is certainly needed in this area.

As director of the local senior citizen program I have had the opportunity of working closely with the staff attorneys of Alaska Legal Services. From time to time individual senior citizens have needed legal advise.on various matters including wills, disposition of property, civil suits, etc. I have found the staff of Alaska Legal Services to be most cooperative, and many times to go beyond the call of duty to give assistance. However, the Kodiak area is grossly understaffed. At present, a lawyer is available only one to three days each month, and this is dependent on weather and other court commitments elsewhere in the state.

One priority area of concern for me has been the preparation of wills. Although I have received some information from the Alaska Legal Services office, I have been unable to implement any tangible program. This has been due, in part, to the amount of workload the lawyer has and the length of his stay.

I believe more senior citizens would utilize this valuable resource if it would be more readily available. Under the present circumstances there is no way that Alaska Legal Services can hope to meet the need adequately.

I would like to see a permanent office established as a separate entity which will serve all of Kodiak Island with significant time spent on the urban area of the community of Kodiak.

Your assistance in making this a reality for Kodiak would be greatly appreciated by the low-income elderly of the Island.

Sincerely yours,

Dennis Murray

Dear Governor Hammond:

Koniag, Inc. is very concerned about the lack of a full-time legal counsel for the low-income people in our area. It appears to us that there is a great need for this type of service on a day-to-day basis here in our community. For this reason, we would like to request that a representative of the Alaska Legal Service be sent to Kodiak on a permanent basis rather than coming to Kodiak once a month.

We believe that the low-income people be given an equal chance under the law by having a representative of Alaska Legal Service here full time and would appreciate anything that you can do to accomplish this.

Thank you for your assistance in this matter.

The low-income people in our area are in desperate need of having such services as the Alaska Legal Services here in Kodiak. Dear Steve:

It has been brought to my attention that your office is preparing a grant application for submission to the Campaign for Human Development. It is my understanding that the purpose of the application is to secure legal representation for the low-income residents of Kodiak Island.

I wish to preface my remarks by stating I fully support your proposal and endorse it's purpose to the fullest extent.

As the State program representative of ACTION Volunteer Programs I have had over three years experience with the legal needs of the Kodiak area. My experience derived from ACTION's assigning law volunteers to Alaska Legal Services Corp. which in turn assigned them to the Kodiak field office.

These assignments to Kodiak ceased when the legal needs of other areas of Alaska escalated. Most program resources were diverted from areas such as Kodiak to priority areas established by the regional representatives of the A.L.S.C. board. A critical factor in establishing priority areas was the costs of providing services in ratio to the number of people served. With this consideration the Kodiak legal office was closed and all operations transferred to the Anchorage office. A.L.S.C. now provides as much service as possible within its budget constraints but this falls far short of what is needed by the citizens.

I personally view the matter as being primarily one of economics. If a means were secured for defraying the expenses of maintaining a regional law office I am sure it would be possible to once again establish the services so desperately needed by the people of your area.

If I may assist you in any way toward helping your office achieve this most important goal please feel free to call upon me.

January 29, 1974

Campaign for Human Development
1312 Massachusetts Ave. N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20005

Dear Persons:

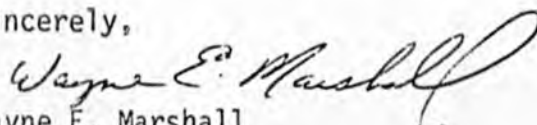

In October of 1974 the Alaska State Commission for Human Rights made tentative plans for the establishment of a branch office in Kodiak so as to provide a more effective delivery of the Commission's services to the Island's people. Plans for the obtainment of office space were finalized in early April of 1974, and on April 30 I was assigned to Kodiak with the responsibility of establishing a branch office.

The subsequent months have demonstrated an office in Kodiak has improved the quality of the Commission's services in the following areas: a greater awareness of equal employment opportunity on Kodiak Island, a larger number of individual complaints having been filed, a shorter period of time in processing complaints, and more satisfaction between both complainants and respondents in the Commission's services. Also, as I am generally recognized by many individuals as being in a position of legal authority, numerous persons (at least two a week) have stopped by my office and asked for assistance in matters I was unable to handle because the Commission did not have jurisdiction under state antidiscrimination law. The vast majority of the matters could have been handled by an Alaska Legal Services Attorney, however one is available only 3 short days a month, 36 days a year.

Through the problems I have encountered as a Commission representative, I feel the establishment of a full-time legal services attorney is essential in attempting to meet the myriad of legal problems experienced by the low-income people of Kodiak Island. I have personally observed the remarkable services an attorney is able to provide in the short span of three days, and can only begin to envision what could be accomplished by a full-time legal services attorney.

The low-income people of Kodiak Island have only Alaska Legal Services to turn to when they encounter a legal problem, and I feel a full-time attorney is the only way adequate services can be provided. It is my hope the Campaign for Human Development recognizes the desperate need for the project described in this grant and is able to provide funding.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Cole,

I am enclosing a petition signed by the Old Harbor residents in regards to hiring Matt Jaman to be stationed in Kodiak to better serve the people.

I remember in the past as a Board Member of KADC and KANA, we always try to get a resident Alaska Legal Service Attorney stationed in Kodiak.

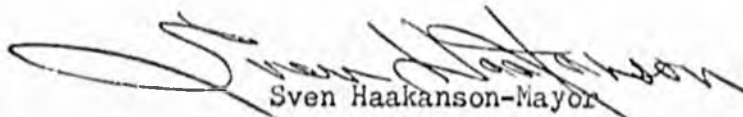

I know from experience that the villagers dislike writing down their problems and mailing them away. They would rather wait until the Alaska Legal Service Aid comes to the village to sit down and discuss their cases.

When there was a Legal Service Aid in Kodiak, some of the people were able to travel to Kodiak, which helped, although, in many cases many people weren't able to go to Kodiak to see Matt Jaman due to the weather.

I hope you can express my feelings to Alaska Legal Services concerning this matter.

As being Mayor of Old Harbor, President of the Old Harbor Native Corp., Koniag Board Member, Kodiak Island Borough Presiding Officer, Board Member of KADC, KANA and, CEDC and, living with the problems of the island low income families, I strongly recommend you to do everything possible for this action.

STATEMENT OF THELMA CASE

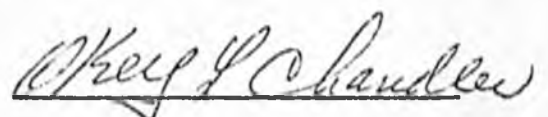

I would personally like to say that a Legal Service representative is really needed full time in Kodiak. There just isn't enough time to see him when he comes in town once a month. I went to him and was quite rushed through everything, and left very confused. If he was stationed in town permanently, there would be time to see him and leave understanding everything he had said and done. Plus, the proceedings could be sped up without a lot of personal hassle.

STATEMENT OF OKEY L. CHANDLER

I, Okey Chandler, would like to state that it would mean an awful lot for me and my friends in Kodiak to have a representative from Alaska Legal Service down here full-time in Kodiak. The lawyer that comes down here right now just doesn't have enough time to spend with everyone who has legal problems. We are rushed about, and when he leaves, there are quite often a lot of things not taken care of. I somehow get the feeling, as do my friends, that we do not have the same rights of equal process under the law as do others outside of Kodiak. I furthermore feel that there is a critical need for a full-time Alaska Legal Service lawyers down here to take care of Native land allotments; I can say personally that I know of several cases that would be taken care of a lot faster if an ALSC representative were down here all the time. What more can I say, but that the need is certainly here?

GENERAL MERCHANDISE SINCE 1903

The State, Borough and City Governments have done much to relieve the financial burdens of the poor and aged.

An area that has been previously covered to everyone's satisfaction, and then withdrawn, except for periodic calls, is the position of the Legal Aid Advisor.

I feel that this important office should be reinstated on a full time basis in Kodiak to aid the many people who could not otherwise afford such a basic function.

It would be another way of showing our Senior Citizens that we want them to stay here in their retirement, rather than "outside".

It behooves all of our citizens of Kodiak to continue to push for this most needed office.

PETITION: FOR FULL TIME LEGAL SERVICE
PROGRAM FOR KODIAK ISLAND

We, the undersigned, are residents of the island of Kodiak, and would like to make known our belief that one of the most important needs of the low-income people here is a legal aid office where someone can come in and get free legal services if they can't afford to hire a lawyer because they're poor. As it is now, the only legal service available to the poverty stricken people of Kodiak Island is the Alaska Legal Service representative, but he can only make it down here once a month; and for only three days at that. We somehow get the feeling at times that the low-income people who live here are being denied their Constitutionally-guaranteed legal rights as citizens of this country. If there was a fulltime attorney available here, so many of the problems of the poor people would be straightened out faster. The villages would get an even greater opportunity then, too, since the ALSC lawyer hardly gets a chance to come out to the villages lately. We implore that you do something to help the poverty-stricken people out here on Kodiak Island. Thank you.

Dear Commissioner Williamson:

I have recently become aware of Alaska Legal Services request for a Title XX contract with your department and implore you to release any available funds to their Corporation. As I am largely unfamiliar with the legal needs of low-income people in other areas of Alaska, although I am certain they are similar and as numerous as those experienced here, I will confine my comments to the demonstrated need for legal services in the Kodiak Island area.

Kodiak Island has been extremely fortunate this past year as the combined efforts of numerous conscientious individuals and organizations in the community resulted in the establishing of a permanent Alaska Legal Service office in Kodiak. The long-sought-after funds were obtained in an effort to provide a better quality of legal assistance to the Island's low-income population, as the past policy of a staff attorney "visiting" the Island once or twice a month (usually once) for a three day period was grossly inadequate, particularly to those people living in the Island's isolated villages. Alaska Legal Services Corporation has always been aware of Kodiak Island's pressing legal needs, however insufficient funding mandated the prioritizing of service areas in Alaska and Kodiak Island was excluded from receiving full-time assistance. If the desperate legal needs of Kodiak Island's people did not warrant a full-time legal services program, I am unable to conceive the pervasiveness of low-income people's legal needs throughout the other areas of the State.

A permanent office in Kodiak has brought about much needed expanded delivery of services, however the accessibility to regular legal assistance has resulted in a massive influx of new clients and cases, thus the reoccurring problem of understaffing has already developed. Also, current funding levels will diminish within the next year as approximately one-third of the present budget is obtained through a nonrenewable Campaign for Human Development grant. Just to maintain the present quality of services alternative funding sources must be discovered, and all reports indicate an increase in the budget and the number of staff will be required to meet the Island's low-income people's everincreasing needs. Hopefully the people who have no other place to turn to for legal assistance will not be forced to survive with the antiquated delivery of services system which has plagued their lives in the past, however without new sources of additional funding the future appears bleak.

I feel it is imperative that the Dept. of Health and Social Services release any contract funds available to the Alaska Legal Services Corporation so their past record of maximum utilization of funds and unexcelled dedication to the low-income people of Alaska can continue, and hopefully be expanded.

Sincerely,

Wayne E. Marshall

Francis S.L. Williamson, Commissioner
Department of Health and Social Services

Dear Commissioner Williamson:

It has recently been brought to my attention that the Alaska Legal Services Corporation (ALSC) has applied to the State Department of Health and Social Services for additional funding under Title XX of the Social Security Act. As the continued operation of an ALSC office in Kodiak has always been of the utmost importance not only to me personally, but more importantly to the low-income people of Kodiak Island. I am writing to you today to strongly urge you to favorably consider their funding request so that the proposed contract may be ratified and monies dispersed accordingly.

A little over a year ago, our office took it upon itself to do something about the inadequate legal services provided to Kodiak's low-income population. The Alaska Legal Services Corporation at that time, was operating at a funding level that was incapable of providing (full-time) regional offices in all the project areas in Alaska. Kodiak had been established as a low-priority area, and therefore only enough funds to bring one ALSC staff attorney to Kodiak every month for three days could be mustered. This simply was not enough as the one ALSC representative in Kodiak was in such a demand during those three days that most low-income people in need of legal assistance were unable to receive any help at all.

As a preliminary measure in establishing a more comprehensive legal aid program, our office conducted a study throughout the island to assess the legal needs and desires of the villagers. The results were overwhelming; almost 500 people from the island vocalized their support of an expanded legal aid program in petitions and letters of support. Several weeks later we submitted a grant proposal to the Campaign for Human Development (CHD) to set up such a Legal Aid Program. The proposal was favorably received and now with the help of monies from CETA and CHD, the Alaska Legal Services Corporation was able to open a regional office in Kodiak last September.

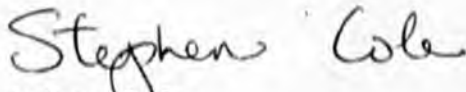

February 18, 1976

Since then, the ALSC staff attorney in Kodiak, Matt Jamin, has been doing remarkably well in making legal aid programs available to the poor, and as such has won the admiration and acclaim by all the towns people as one of the top young attorneys in the state. Present estimates indicate however, that an increase in the budget and in the number of staff will be required in order to meet the ever-increasing needs of Kodiak's low-income populace.

Although the Kodiak Island Legal Aid program as it exists today is rapidly becoming more responsive to the needs of the poor, there is still much concern over its future. The Campaign for Human Development grant is non-renewable and therefore, if additional funding is not found, the ALSC regional office could be moved back to Anchorage and Kodiak's poor would once again be faced with having to cope with an antiquated system of legal services that has plagued them in the past.

The Alaska Legal Services office in Kodiak has done wonders in safeguarding the Constitutionally-guaranteed rights of Kodiak's disadvantaged. Let's not place those rights in jeopardy again. The Alaska Legal Services Corporation needs the Title XX monies to keep offices like Kodiak open. I urge you to do whatever you can to insure that ALSC is looked favorably upon when awarding the contract. If you need anymore information, please feel free to contact me at any time. I am enclosing letters of support and petitions with 500 signature to demonstrate our communities feelings towards a legal service program here (and throughout the rest of the state). Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter.

Yours truly,

Stephen Cole

Dear Senator Ferguson:

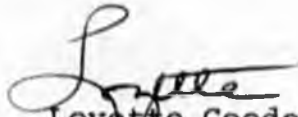

I want to thank you for your help in inserting Alaska Legal Services into the Senate budget last week. Your support means a great deal to the program and to me personally.

I visited Kotzebue on Thursday and Friday of last week to work with the staff in our new office. I met with Mauneluk to talk about the future of the Kotzebue office. I told them of the possibility that funds from the state would soon be available to help continue the office. The people of Kotzebue have done an extraordinary job in garnering the funds to get the Kotzebue office of Alaska Legal Services established. No other community in the state has provided so much local support. Their example is truly outstanding, and I shall do everything I can to secure funds to enable the office to continue in the future.

Again thank you sincerely for your support.

Sincerely,

NATIONAL ADVISORY COUNCIL on ADULT EDUCATION

February 25, 1976

Chairman
Senate Education Committee

Dear Mr. Chairman

The results of a multi-year examination of adult functional competencies were recently released by the University of Texas at Austin. The Adult Performance Level (APL) Project was completed under provisions of the federal Adult Education Act which permitted expenditure of these funds by the U.S. Office of Education.

The project has defined sixty-five requirements for functional literacy. As a means of assessing how well American adults meet these requirements, five national surveys of American adults were conducted.

The results of the study are rather startling, and the implications for adult and adult basic education are significant for education programs concerning adults in your state.

The Council has thoroughly analyzed the detailed characteristics of the U.S. Census as they reflect the educational traits of adults. Attached are several pages relative to selected information on adults in your state. The target population figure represents the number of adults (at the time of the census) with less than the completion of high school.

The target population figures and the enclosed APL study may aid you and your colleagues as you continue to focus on the pressing educational issue of adult education.

Very truly yours,

Brent H. Gubler
Chairman

RE : Alaska Federation of Natives, Inc. Human Resources Committee
Recommendations on the University of Alaska, Statewide
Higher and Adult Education Delivery System.

The Alaska Federation of Natives, Inc. Human Resources Committee met on Tuesday, April 15, 1975 and after careful deliberation, drafted and approved the following recommendations for the University's Statewide Higher and Adult Education Delivery System:

I. VICE-PRESIDENT FOR RURAL EDUCATION & NATIVE AFFAIRS

Due to uncertainties in funding, the Committee recommends that the Vice-President for Rural Education and Native Affairs have the responsibility to oversee all University programs which purport to serve the higher education needs of rural and Native people, including but not limited to, the existing Community Colleges' services to rural and Native people; the Extension Centers; and, the proposed Regional Centers.

II. REGIONAL CENTERS

The Committee recognizes that the Delivery System would eventually establish 10 Regional Centers within Rural Alaska, but recommends that initially three to five Centers be created to serve as models. The following locations are listed in priority order for the initial Centers:

1. Bethel;
2. Nome/Kotzebue (combined);
3. Dillingham;
4. Point Barrow;
5. Fort Yukon;
6. Sitka.

III. REGIONAL POLICY BOARDA. Powers.

The Committee recognizes that the basic functions of the Regional Policy Boards will vary from region to region and stresses that each Board should not be limited only to the following responsibilities:

1. To carry out the general policies and procedures as established by the Statewide Policy Board;
2. To establish regional procedures for conducting Regional Board business, and to define the geographic boundaries for that particular service delivery area;
3. To make recommendations to the President and to ratify the appointment of the Center Director for that region;
4. To terminate the Center Director for the region if due cause is established;
5. To review and approve proposed budget and budget allocations for the region;
6. To select from its membership, a delegate to represent the region on the Statewide Policy Board;
7. To establish priorities for course offerings;
8. To establish and maintain liaison between the communities served and the Regional Center;
9. To serve as a grievance committee, should the need arise, regarding controversy involving administration, management, student participation or communities associated with the project.

B. Selection.

The Alaska Federation of Natives, Inc. Human Resources Committee recommends that the non-profit corporation(s) of the areas on the priority list for initial Centers (see page 2), be charged with the responsibility of identifying and selecting an interim Regional Policy Board to serve that area. Membership would be constituted from at least six representatives at-large from the service area, including the president, the executive director or chairman of the board of the regional non-profit corporation(s); and, one or two student representatives.

The Committee recommends that the interim Policy Boards be modeled on those utilized after the passage of the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act. The interim boards would be charged with both developing bylaws and establishing guidelines for review and ratification by the permanent Regional Policy Board as well as with making recommendations for permanent Regional Policy Board members to the non-profit organization(s).

IV. STATEWIDE POLICY BOARD

A. Powers.

The purpose of these recommended guidelines is to indicate, within broad parameters, the scope and limitation of Board responsibility and authority. It is not the purpose to describe a rigid and delimiting framework that may be unresponsive to changing conditions or unanticipated situations that may arise. The Committee recommends that the authority of the Statewide Policy Board include, but not be limited to:

1. Establishing general overall Statewide program policies and procedures;
2. Determining Board membership;
3. Establishing procedures for and conducting Board business;
4. Making recommendations to the University and to State and Federal Government agencies regarding the funding of and budget allocations for the Statewide Higher and Adult Education Delivery System;
5. Selecting from among its members a delegate to represent the Statewide Policy Board on the President's Council of the University of Alaska;
6. Providing assistance and support to the Regional Policy Boards;
7. Establishing a curriculum review committee comprised of, but not limited to, Statewide Policy Board members; persons with academic development backgrounds; and, project consumers.

The Committee further recommends that the Vice-President for Rural Education and Native Affairs serve as an ex-officio member of the Statewide Policy Board.

B. Selection.

It was agreed that the Statewide Policy Board must consist, in part, of representatives from the Regional Policy
