March 9, 1978

Dear Rep. Rudd,

The Junction-Douglas Concert Association is frustrated continually by lack of adequate facilities for concerts in Junction. As a representative of this organization and as a private citizen who enjoys the performing arts, I urge you to support HB 781 and HB 782, now in the Community and Regional Affairs Committee.

Please do all you can to pass these bills out of committee and support them on the House floor.

Thank you for your interest.

Sincerely,

Dear Representative Rudd:

We are asking your support, and that of your committee for the two bills on Cultural Facilities Development, HB 781 and HB 782.

Our experience in Juneau has been that cultural centers are usually at the bottom of the priority list for construction. The Juneau Douglas High School gym was built several years before the school auditorium, but soon the auditorium was so booked with school events that other community activities were crowded out. A church building has been a stopgap for the Little Theater, but it is inadequate. Another need is for exhibition space. The State Museum has its own showings, and there is seldom space for other shows.

The two bills you are considering hold out some hope for Alaska cities to obtain cultural centers, so we are asking that you consider them carefully, and support them if you can see your way to do so.

Thank you for your assistance.

Very truly yours,

Dick & Mary Peter

Dear Representative Rudd;

we would like to urge you to support HB 781 and HB 782 regarding the Cultural Facilities Project. Juneau desparately needs an adequate performing arts facility, as do the other communities in the state involved in the project. Judging from the number of activities going on this spring alone, we're sure that a performing arts facility will be well-used in Juneau.

Jim Duncan's bills provide for community involvement in these cultural facilities projects and the communities will benefit greatly from them. As members of the Juneau Oratorio Choir, the chorus for "CARMEN", and as individuals, we hope that you will give these bills careful consideration and support.

Thank you for your help.

Dear Representative Rudd:

I am writing in regard to HB 781,782, concerning the Cultural Facilities Development Project. I consider this project essential and urge you to pass these bills out of Community and Regional Affairs unanimously.

Here in Juneau, as well as in other communities throughout the state, we have a desperate need for a performing arts center. As a writer I know of many instances in which we here in Juneau found it difficult to set up a literary program because there were no adequate facilities. Those concerned with music, dance, and drama have had an even harder time. If we are to recognize the importance of the arts in all our lives and move forward, culturally, in this state, we must have adequate facilities.

Please vote now to support and move along HB 781,782.

Sincerely,

Sheila B. Nickerson

Dear Rep. Rudd:

Although we are currently travelling, we do wish to express our support for H.B. 781 and 782, co-sponsored by Jim Duncan et al.

The erection of an art center in Sitka and the other towns involved will be an economic as well as cultural contribution to Alaska.

Additionally, it will point out to others that there is more to Alaska than wilderness and pipeline.

We also believe that legislators will someday look upon the cultural centers as one of their more outstanding achievements, when the time goes to completion.

Dear Lisa Rudd:

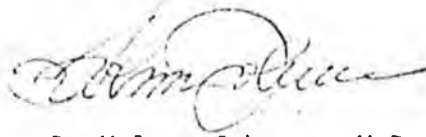

This letter is written to request your support of House Bill #781 and #782.

As a physician, I am concerned with the health of my community as well as other communities and of greater Alaska. In this regard, the bond issues provided for in the above bills would allow the state to assist the communities which have put together developmental plans for civic centers and therefore enrich the sociocultural environment and consequently the "health" of the community in general.

I feel this kind of investment is a sound investment and definitely affords these communities the opportunity to improve their quality of life. I feel that the communities included in the bond issue request have made sound plans for the development of these centers and should be supported.

This is to respectfully request your support.

Dear Bill:

You have many difficult issues facing you and I do not envy you the job of trying to sort through the immensities of both money and implications for the state. It is almost more than can be dealt with, particularly in a year so fraught with pressures of elections and other matters. In spite of what is written about the House or Senate, for that matter, in the press, I feel from my observations that the individuals are really struggling to come up with equitable decisions. I appreciate those like yourself who will not be pressured into a quick decision if you cannot see some aspect of the long range effects.

So many times, people are pushed to make a quick decision on a big project and within a few years it is demonstrated that it was not all that important in the total picture. Waiting a little longer for the waters to clear will not hurt some situations.

But there is one smaller item which may already have come up on the floor which I think deserves passage for numerous reasons and which will have values down the years beyond what many can see now. That is HB 781 and 782. As you know, I have been part of this planning for some time--first with the Bicentennial Commission, then with the Mayor's Advisory Committee and then in conjunction with the state-wide group. It is refreshing to work on something cooperatively where benefits can be gained in more places than just Anchorage, to know that Anchorage votes are vital to its success and to know that we think that's great.

The important values, however, are on what it will mean to each community to have an adequate center about which creative endeavors can be generated. The fact that the project requires grass-roots statements of individual community needs, that thorough planning is required so that the facility will indeed be correctly designed, that the local government entity has to agree to maintenance and operation--all make it a good project. Buildings alone, of course, don't bring creative activities into being. But good facilities make it possible for those creative souls to carry out their activities in a manner worthy of the effort and they also contribute toward upgrading whatever the programs might be.

The provision for the Advisory Commission is wise. It will help communities work out proper plans and designs and will encourage groups to seek the professional assistance they need to do this.

I believe that creative programs in communities is as vital for the peoples' health as sewers and roads and airports. True, people have to eat and have economic life of some sort. But value is either without some soul-satisfying activity which enlivens the imagination and makes people "feel good?"

Dear Governor Hammond,

We are writing to ask your support of House Bills 781 and 782 for statewide cultural facilities. Having been a visitor to our community, you are probably well aware of the great need for this kind of facility in Cordova. The educational facilities that we have at present are very inadequate. It is difficult to schedule the school-related uses and activities in these facilities, let alone trying to schedule community use of the buildings. A cultural facility designed to meet our particular needs would be a great boost to cultural activities and certainly of much educational benefit.

Re: House Bills 781 and 782

Dear Community and Regional Affairs Committee:

A Performing Arts Center is in great need by the residents and visitors of Juneau, and similar facilities are needed in many other areas of Alaska.

While touring with the St. Paul Singers over a seven year period, visiting approximately eighteen communities, from Ketchikan to Kotzebue, we found very few facilities outside our two largest cities which could easily be used for cultural activities. We "made-do", as Alaskans have for years, but it seems that our communities deserve better facilities than that which they experience at present.

Alaskans need entertainment, whether provided by themselves or guests, and adequate facilities in which to be entertained.

I strongly urge you to unanimously pass House Bills 781 and 782 out of committee, for the benefit of all Alaskans.

Dear Lisa,

I know that our community is very much in need for an auditorium. Our community doesn't have a recreation center for teen-agers, so they don't have anything to do except get into mischief. People have to think about their children's future. What is there that can provide entertainment for our community? NOTHING!! That is the whole problem. There is not a movie hall, there is no teenage recreation center, no museum, or a place where people can just talk and get to know each other. We (Killingham) are trying to support alot of little villages, when we don't have any facilities to support them with. Another big problem is, fishing is our main event in the summer, quite alot of people fall off their boat and drown because they don't know how to swim! We are in need of a swimming pool to save lives!! Please help our communities, by passing this bill number 781 + 782 for a helping hand. Sincerely,

Dear Representative Rudd,

As a student in Dillingham, I think that we really need a place with a nice auditorium. Then we could have good school music, band, and drama concerts and have a nice place for the prom and graduation. So please support House bill No. 781 + 782 for cultural facilities so that you could visit Dillingham and enjoy a nice school program in a big new place. Thank you for your support,

Dear Rep. Riedel

I feel that Dillingham & Bristol Bay needs a Committee Hall. very bad, why? Because the kids disturb the Parents, the whole town gets loud sometimes, very very loud. Some of the students get out of hand ~~about~~ some times they even get in ^{trouble} because of the student have to be sent away because they have nothing to do, so they even try to get past the law. Not even the kids, the parents get out ~~that~~ hand to but not much as the kids but they do. ~~Just that~~ like if you get loud or not, you want to do something I know that you have a Council Hall. Just try putting your self in where there isn't any Committee Hall, We sure need a Committee Hall.

Thank You. Sorry about my writing

Current building costs in Dillingham vary but the recent school gymnasium which included no restroom facilities and minimum equipment cost $150/sq.ft. to build and equip. The estimate of $200/sq.ft. for the Cultural Center is intended to include all equipment.

The preliminary plan is subject to change of use areas to be determined by needs which may arise, but the major areas have remained unchanged since the original plan was drawn in 1975. Dear Ms. Rudd:

We have already corresponded once about HB 781 and 782, and your comment about my concern for the "health" of my community was appreciated. The fact that you put the word in quotes leads me to suspect that I used the word with tongue in cheek. On the contrary, as I presume you are aware, we are learning more and more that the psychological "climate" of the individual has a profound effect on his health and furthermore, the psychological "climate" is largely dependent upon the environmental "climate." In this sense "climate" refers to the terrain, the weather and the physical and biological community. So I really used the word "health" in an un-quote fashion.

To get back to the principal reason for this letter, I write to discourage any amendment to propose legislation that would increase the local participation requirement. It should be kept in mind that the community is already supplying the land (in our case six acres) a sum computed by a formula based on the population (in our case two hundred sixty-six thousand dollars) and a plan for management of the facility which insures that there will be no on-going expenses to the state. To me this is a way of saying that the cultural facilities grant is a "seed grant" which is the most sensible kind of investment. The State sows the "seed" and the community supplies the soil, the work, the fertilizer and sees to it that it results in a full grown and self perpetuating plant. I cannot see how any of the communities can be expected to come up with more local support than is already required.

Our Cultural Facilities Committee met a few days ago to discuss the Consortium Agreement with the agencies involved in the Management Board, the City's agreement with the architect, the advanced planning and the local promotion of the facility and the possible forthcoming bond issue. We feel confident that the legislature will support the issue but do not feel as confident that the Governor will endorse it. We know he feels the investment a worthy one but it will remain to be seen whether he feels it as worthy as many other issues that are also

Dear Mr. Ehrich,

I appreciate your telegram in support of the cultural facilities legislation, HB 781 and HB 782. I do not believe the amendment you suggested is really needed, however. The legislation has been drafted to be fairly flexible so that communities will be able to build facilities with community meetings and conventions in mind, as I know several of them intend to do. The emphasis on the cultural aspects of the facilities protects those uses from being entirely overtaken by the other uses you described, but nothing precludes convention uses being included in the facility.

Unfortunately, the legislation has been bottled up in the Senate Community and Regional Affairs Committee, chaired by Senator Orsini, and from all indications he does not intend to let it out of committee.

March 17, 1978

Lisa Rudd, Chairman
Community & Regional Affairs Committee
House of Representatives
Pouch V
Juneau, Alaska 99811

Dear Ms. Rudd:

The Lynn Canal Community Players, Inc. is one of the oldest little theatre groups in SE Alaska, having given its first production in 1957. Since that time, its members have been the prime movers in bringing cultural entertainment to the Chilkat Valley and producing many theatrical productions of their own.

This group was instrumental in initially establishing a cultural facility in the Haines area during the Centennial year, when funds were made available for such a project. By using one of the large unused buildings at old Ft. Wm. H. Seward, the Chilkat Center for the Arts took form. However, this building is in sad need of renovation, as well as enlargement. The Alaska State Drama Festival takes place here every other year (1979 will be next), and present facilities are woefully inadequate.

We wholeheartedly support the proposed bond issue which will make facilities available to many other communities. The emergence of adequate cultural facilities in the cities and towns of Alaska will spark an upsurge in all phases of the arts, bringing the 49th state in line with many other states which are considerably ahead in the fostering of arts and cultures.

Let us not let this opportunity slip by! These centers will have multiple uses, such as meeting rooms, convention centers, dinners, art shows and displays, and adequate facilities for visiting artists, both in the performing and visual arts fields. Alaska is attracting tourism--now a major industry. How much more could be done for the visitor were such centers available?

We support HB 781 & 782, but not the bill proposing matching funds, as this immediately kills the possibility of ever having such centers in communities. We sincerely urge you to get it out of committee with a "do pass".

Sincerely,

Dear Representative Rudd:

The Sitka Fine Arts Committee would like to urge your support of HB 781 and 782. These companion bills, introduced by Representative Jim Duncan and several others, represent the needs of our community as well as the eleven other communities planning arts facilities.

There are two points which these two bills cover that are not covered by other legislation dealing with the subject; first, a match based on community size and including land as part of the match, and second, an Advisory Board which would advise the Department of Commerce and Economic Development about funding priorities.

It is essential that land be part of the match and that the cash match be related to community size. Without such consideration, many communities would be unable to participate in the project. It is equally important that an advisory board be included in the program. The facilities that have been planned by the participating communities reflect several years of effort by those communities. Their plans represent careful thought and thorough research, and the resulting designs are based on community arts needs. Obviously the present bond issue will not serve all the above communities. It is essential that community funding be based on priorities. An advisory board, as outlined in the Duncan legislation, could state those priorities.

As your committee considers these pieces of legislation, we respectfully request that you consider HB 781 and 782 as the legislation that best meets our needs.
