Dear Dr. Walton:

I wish to acknowledge your letter of January 11 pointing out the need to supplement funding for the public school foundation program.

Many of us in the House and Senate have co-sponsored measures which would provide supplemental funding, and in my capacity as chairman of the committee on Health, Education and Social Services, I intend to bring the issue up for public hearing and action in the near future.

I appreciate your courtesy in sharing these views with me.

Dear Senator Josephson:

Due to a shortfall in the funding for the public school Foundation Program, it may be necessary for our district to cut back on programs now in operation unless a supplemental appropriation is approved early in the legislative session.

Our district is currently operating with an $11.4 million deficit. Our school board is considering reduction in science education unless additional funds are forthcoming in the near future. I believe science education is vital for our students. At a time when there is a crisis in science education in the lower 48, it appears that we are going to follow in their footsteps which can not help but be harmful to our State. Please do not let this happen to our citizens.

Dear Senator Josephson:

The Anchorage School District has a Board-appointed group of citizens which works closely with schools, District Administration, and the School Board to provide community input to the Board regarding the needs of schools. The Committee, known as the Citizens' Advisory Educational Concerns Committee, focuses on the special needs of minority students, but also considers the needs of all students K-12 in the District.

The shortfall in funding which has occurred during this school year is causing the Committee a great deal of concern. We deem it to be vitally necessary that the Legislature provide a supplemental appropriation to make up the missing funds. We urge you to pass such an appropriation expeditiously so that benefits to students and the community at-large will not be lost.

We commend the District Administration for its efforts to reduce expenditures without impacting student needs, but the size of the shortfall makes it impossible not to affect the operation of the schools. The Anchorage School District CAECC requests your immediate attention to this critical issue.

ANCHORAGE COMMUNITY COLLEGE IS REQUESTING $50,000 FOR PLANNING OF OFF-CAMPUS
AND OUTREACH TEACHING ACTIVITIES. THE FASTEST GROWING AREAS OF THE MUNICI-PALITY OF ANCHORAGE DURING THE PAST DECADE HAVE BEEN SOUTH ANCHORAGE AND CHUGIAK/EAGLE RIVER. AS A RESULT OF THEIR GROWTH, THE CENSUS TRACTS WITH THE HIGHEST POPULATION ARE NO LONGER THE AREAS NEAR ACC'S PROVIDENCE CAMPUS
AS THEY WERE IN 1970, BUT THE AREAS 20 - 30 MINUTES' DRIVE FROM THAT LOCATION.

COMMUNITY COLLEGES BEST SERVE WHEN THEY OFFER COURSES A SHORT DISTANCE FROM THE POPULATION TO BE SERVED. CONSEQUENTLY, ACC MUST MOVE RAPIDLY FORWARD IN OUR PLANS TO ADEQUATELY SERVE THIS POPULATION. AT THE PRESENT TIME, 45 PER-CENT OF OUR STUDENT BODY IS ENROLLED IN AT LEAST ONE CLASS WHICH MEETS OFF OF
THE PROVIDENCE CAMPUS. OUR ENROLLMENTS AT EAGLE RIVER, WHERE WE ARE PRESENTLY RENTING INADEQUATE SPACE, HAVE GROWN UPWARDS OF 40 PERCENT EACH YEAR IN THE PAST TWO YEARS.

WE ARE REQUESTING PLANNING DOLLARS IN ORDER TO COORDINATE OUR EXPANSION EFFORTS WITH THE ANCHORAGE SCHOOL DISTRICT AND THE MUNICIPALITY OF ANCHORAGE. THESE FUNDS WILL PROVIDE SALARY AND SUPPORT FOR ONE FISCAL YEAR. THIS WILL BE A ONE-TIME REQUEST AND SHOULD NOT REQUIRE ON-GOING FUNDING.

Dear Buki and Richard:

Thank you for your communication regarding SB 18 and SB 19.

After consideration of these bills, I believe that the Committee I chair will report committee substitutes for them later today. Before that occurs, I'll bring the contents of your letter to the attention of the Committee members.

I have always been a strong supporter of the University, at all its campuses. I admire and respect the vigor with which the Greater Fairbanks Chamber of Commerce advocates for the campus at College.

At the same time, you will understand how deeply we from Anchorage feel about the University of Alaska-Anchorage and the Anchorage Community College. We do not begrudge the Fairbanks campus its development. We have no designs on that facility. But housing for Anchorage students is long overdue. I am hopeful that this legislature will meet the needs of both campuses, and I'll be working towards that end. I hope that the friends of the University in Fairbanks and Anchorage can join forces in a mutual effort for both campuses.

Thanks again for writing. Your letter was informative and timely.

Dear Senator Josephson:

The Greater Fairbanks Chamber of Commerce has long supported the University of Alaska system and specifically the University of Alaska-Fairbanks. We are concerned that the Governor has not highlighted UAF's needs in his request for the Legislature. We understand the Legislature's difficult position in view of the State's declining revenues. However, a number of capital items critical to UAF have been excluded from the Governor's budget, including money for residence halls, a classroom laboratory facility and essential instructional equipment.

The Fairbanks Chamber of Commerce supports passage of SB 18 and 19, but urges you to seek amendments to reflect the dollar amounts requested by the University for its priority projects. For example, SB 19 would appropriate $20 million for dormitories in Anchorage and $10 million for student housing in Fairbanks. In its budget, the University requested $11 million for the Fairbanks residence halls, $13 million for the Juneau campus and $5 million to design and plan a residence facility for UAA and ACC.

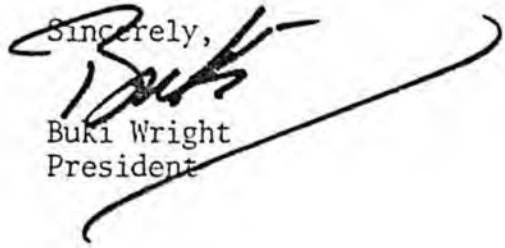

Additionally, both the residence hall and the classroom facility for UAF were requested in F/Y 83 and approved by the Legislature. It was former Governor Hammond's veto of the bond package that prevented implementation. Importantly, the design phase has been completed for the Fairbanks campus dormitory.

Meanwhile, enrollment at UAF continues to increase steadily and this year again new enrollment records have been set, with a seven percent increase projected for next year. Housing has been at capacity for three years. Money for instructional, research and support equipment is also sorely needed at UAF. Many of the Engineering Labs are using outdated equipment, as are Chemistry, Physics and Biology programs. Here again, we urge you to support the University's request of $5.2 million for equipment at UAF. The Governor has not included any equipment money for UAF in his budget.

Finally, we ask that you support funds for grounds improvement and landscaping for UAF. As the oldest campus in the Statewide system, UAF has suffered from much deferred maintenance. At the same time, more and more students and visitors are coming to campus -- some for study, some to access the State's most comprehensive resource and information center and some to view the many exhibits at the University of Alaska-Fairbanks Museum. It's a shame when deteriorating buildings and muddy grounds counter all the quality programs and opportunities offered through UAF. Moreover, the money requested -- $250,000 -- is a small amount that would be well-spent. The Fairbanks campus hasn't seen any new academic buildings for over a decade.

The Fairbanks Chamber of Commerce is proud of its University and recognizes it as one of the most important factors contributing to the economic, cultural and social well-being of the State.

Lawmakers take up fight for UA funding

By DAVID RAMSEUR
News-Miner Bureau

JUNEAU—Following nearly a week of closed-door horse trading last year, state legislators finally agreed on a package to fund new buildings at University of Alaska campuses.

Noticeably absent from the $76 million bond package were dormitories for UA-Anchorage, the result of deals cut by Fairbanks legislators Sen. Don Bennett and Rep. Brian Rogers.

All the work was for naught however, when former Gov. Jay Hammond vetoed the entire package.

Although this year's legislative session is only 11 days old, the continuing battle over which campus should get what building has begun. A major difference this year is a new player, Gov. Bill Sheffield, who has already proposed $64 million worth of new university buildings and for the repair of old ones.

That figure doesn't include another $13 million or so Sheffield last week promised to put in his budget for dorms at the Juneau campus, which is struggling for accreditation.

At the same time, the governor pledged to look into funding dorms on the Anchorage and Fairbanks campuses through bonds, a route that could delay construction at least six months.

But Interior and Southeastern lawmakers say they want the same treatment as UAJ, whose fulltime enrollment is only about 170 students.

"I think I'm the only one being fair about it—equal parts for all campuses," said Rep. Terry Martin, R-Anchorage.

Said Republican Bennett: "I will push very hard to get Fairbanks dorms built and going this year."

At least two bills have already been introduced this session to finance dorms. Rep. Walt Furnace, R-Anchorage, has sponsored a measure (HB32) to provide $15 million for UAA dorms while Senate President Jay Kerttula's bill (SB19) would set aside $20 million for UAA dorms and $10 million for UAF dorms.

University President Jay Barton said last week he is pleased with all the attention to student housing, which is number five on the priority list of the Board of Regents.

Barton said he'll take dorm construction money any way he can get it but prefers cash in the capital budget: "The nice thing about direct funding is that it comes quick."

General obligation bonds must go before a public vote and the earliest bond sale is not slated until 1984. Revenue bonds would take an estimated six to eight months to sell, effectively missing one construction season, according to state revenue officials.

Officials and students on all three campuses say student housing is desperately needed. However, in the competition for state dollars, Fairbanks has a head start.

Lawmakers in 1981 OK'd $500,000 to design UAF dorms and those plans were approved by regents last week. All they need now is $11 million in construction money.

An extra advantage for Fairbanks, according to Bennett, is that food service facilities are in place but would have to be built on the other two campuses.

However, Fairbanks lawmakers admit Anchorage has the legislative clout this year with 25 of the 40 seats in the Legislature to secure dorm money for UAA.

Casting a long shadow over dorms on all three campuses is the regional rivalry that has plagued the UA system for years. Many Fairbanksans fear Anchorage is trying to slowly move the university's main campus to the state's largest city while Anchorage officials complain Fairbanks has stalled progress on the UAA campus.

Bennett says he's trying to uphold long-standing agreements made between legislators years ago to keep Fairbanks the university's main campus and maintain UAA as a commuter campus for Anchorage residents.

"They already have a mattress," Bennett said of UAA students.

PROJECT DESCRIPTION 8

This supplemental appropriation request covers UAA/ACC student housing funds for architectural, engineering design and site preparation. It would allow such work to begin immediately. Thereby, major construction could go to bid as soon as construction funding is obtained in the FY 84 capital improvements budget. This supplemental appropriation would provide seriously needed student housing for approximately 450 students 1 year earlier.

Providing student housing as soon as possible will keep Alaska students in the State; free up private rental housing in Anchorage, which has a near zero vacancy rate; and aid students financially with school year rental agreements as contrasted with financially committing themselves to 12-month private landlord leases.

The facilities will be located in the vicinity of an existing shopping center on the south side of the campus. The projected building site is currently owned by Alaska Pacific University and leased for purchase by the State.

MEMORANDUM

To: Senator Joe Josephson
Chairman
Senate HESS Committee

From: Senator Don W. Selman

Subject: Requested Amendment to SB 19
(U of A Dormitory Complexes, ED)

I am requesting an amendment to SB 19 for design and engineering money for student housing at Kenai Peninsula Community College (KPCC)

KPCC offers many programs which attract students statewide. Research has shown that over 40% of full-time students come from outside the Kenai/Soldotna area. Housing shortages in the area necessitate student housing to become part of the KPCC facilities.

The many attached resolutions show wide support from the large area which KPCC serves. I have also provided the Committee with copies of the housing study prepared in 1981-1982 which resulted in local hearings in which strong support was expressed for this project. These hearings took place January 22, 1982 when the Board of Regents Community College Subcommittee met with the Community College Council, Chancellor Bickerstaff, Dr. Vierro, representatives of Kenai City Council, Soldotna City Council, Kenai Peninsula Borough, and several private businesses and individuals.

I would offer the following language for:

New Section 3

"The sum of $580,000 is appropriated to the University of Alaska for Kenai Peninsula Community College student housing for engineering and architectural design."

This language is identical to that in CCSSB 876 which passed both Houses last session. As you will recall, this bill was vetoed by Governor Hammond.

Members of the Alaska State Legislature
Juneau, Ak. 99801

Sirs:

The Board of Directors of the Homer Chamber of Commerce would like to voice unanimous support for the requested legislative appropriation of $5,200,000 for the construction of housing units for the Kenai Peninsula Community College.

The Kenai Community College serves the Soldotna/Kenai area, the remainder of the Peninsula and many students from other areas of the state and even "outside". Their unique course offering, including instruction in the fields of oil, industry, mining and secretarial sciences attracts students from many geographic locations. As the state's industrial base continues to grow, so to will the Kenai Peninsula Community College.

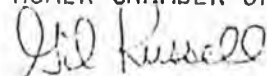

There are many factors leading to the need for college housing at the facility. There is a housing shortage in the Kenai/Soldotna area. Thus students are often forced to take isolated or sub-standard housing situations. More likely, they are discouraged from even considering attendance due to the problems of finding suitable housing. The housing that is available, because of the shortage, is expensive and this puts an additional burden on the student. There is no public transportation so the students who are able to secure housing must also invest in a car.

Campus housing would alleviate these problems. It would encourage attendance by those who have stayed away because of the housing situation. It would facilitate students from Homer, Anchor Point and other out-lying areas of the Peninsula in obtaining their core education. Dormitory housing on the campus would be of benefit to every peninsula community and many other communities not within our borough. We have reviewed the findings by the College staff and feel that they have proven that the housing would be used to capacity and that it is a needed addition to continue the growth and service of the college.

We urge that the appropriation be passed during the upcoming legislative session.

Sincerely,

Representative Terry Martin

SUBJECT: Dormitories for the University of Alaska, Anchorage Campus

Dear Representative Martin:

I am pleased to provide the following information to support the construction of dormitories for the University of Alaska, Anchorage.

As the manager of the Division of Environmental Health, I supervise the Air Quality Program for the Municipality of Anchorage. I also represent the director of the Municipal Department of Health and Environmental Protection on the Southcentral Clean Air Authority and on the AMATS Technical Advisory Committee.

The Federal Clean Air Act contains provisions requiring compliance with mandatory federal standards. Anchorage is a "non-attainment" area under the standards, and as such must come into compliance with the standards by July 1, 1985. To do so, the Municipality must implement severe and immediate measures to control carbon monoxide. These measures will include mandatory inspection and maintenance of automotive vehicles, increases in the use of public transportation, carpooling and other measures. However, even with the full implementation of these measures, the analysis shows that Anchorage will not be able to comply with the standards. We must therefore look at every available possibility to reduce carbon monoxide concentrations.

Almost all of the carbon monoxide problem comes from the exhaust of gasoline-powered vehicles. A reduction in the use of automotive vehicles will help in reaching the attainment standards of the Clean Air Act.

LETTER, REPRESENTATIVE TERRY MARTIN
NOVEMBER 30, 1982

This department therefore endorses the construction of dormitories at the the University campus in Anchorage. At the present time, students who attend the University must live off campus, and this will necessitate the use of a car to attend school. Once a student has purchased a car, there is no reason not to use it for other purposes such as shopping, visiting friends, etc.

If the same student lived on campus, however, the prime motivation for owning a car would be eliminated. The student would then use public transportation for shopping and other purposes.

I don't want to understate the importance of achieving the carbon monoxide standards in Anchorage. The impact on the health of those persons in the community susceptible to respiratory diseases has been well-documented, and a serious health hazard may result if levels are not brought down to acceptable values.

I hope this information is of assistance to you in your deliberations.

Sincerely yours,

Stan Brust, Director
Division of Environmental Health

SB.L2/su/D27

STATEMENT OF NEED

Prince William Sound Community College, established in 1978, began operation with two staff members and 16 students working out of a small local office building . The staff increased by 26 people and moved twice over the next three years. Today the college has 28 staff members and a student enrollment of 1000. It has become a vital, active force in the community.

Current facilities include 3 buildings formerly used as low income housing by the State of Alaska. Some partitions have been removed to create larger spaces but nothing can disguise the fact that these buildings were designed as small apartments, not administrative or instructional facilities.

There are no laboratories which limits programs and courses which could otherwise be offered. PWSCC is the only community college in the University of Alaska Community College system with no laboratory space.

The former living rooms are the only areas large enough to accommodate regular classes which must be limited to 10 or 12 persons. There is no space in these rooms for practical hands-on experience. High school rooms are used in the evenings but as programs in office occupations and marine technology have grown they now require a more traditional daytime curriculum. These high school rooms are not available for college use during the day.

PWSCC needs a facility that will provide the science laboratory space, typing room, art rooms, home economics room, welding shop and other specialized facilities that make a comprehensive program of instruction possible.

PROGRESS TO DATE

Thus far, efforts to obtain the necessary funding for an adequate community college facility in Valdez have been unsuccessful.

Preliminary architectural studies have been conducted based on meetings with local community members, students, faculty and staff. A two phase plan has resulted from these meetings. The first phase would provide administrative and classroom space as well as specialized areas for the TV studio, marine technology and office occupations programs. The second phase, which follow in the next budget year, would include shop facilities in a separate facility. The following cost estimates would provide funding for Phase I of the two phase plan:

Laboratory/specialized areas

8,064 square feet at $163/square foot $1,314,432.00

Administrative and classroom space

29,928 square feet at $144/square foot $4,309,632.00

Subtotal $5,624,064.00

(x 9% inflation, 3% construction management, 10% design, 10% contingency = 32% increase) TOTAL $7,750,000.00

Both the City of Valdez and the Valdez Chamber of Commerce list this new community college facility among their highest priorities.

RE: SB 19 Appropriations to the University of Alaska for construction of dormitory complexes

Attached please find an explanation and budget breakdown for construction of a dormitory complex for Kuskokwim Community College. I would greatly appreciate your support in amending SB 19 to include this project.

As the attached letter indicates, student housing is the most serious problem Kuskokwim Community College faces.

Thank you for your consideration of this proposal.

Dear Tony:

As we have discussed on numerous occasions, student housing is the single most important need at Kuskokwim Community College. The ability of the College to meet the post-secondary educational needs of this region is dependent upon the provision of stable, student housing in Bethel. Your support for our student housing project is greatly appreciated.

Over the past two months I have been working with local contractors and the University's Division of Facilities Planning to develop cost estimates for the proposed housing complex. We are still working with two design concepts: duplexes or a single dormitory building. Our Community College Council will make a final decision on the type of housing desired following further discussion with faculty, students, and community members. In the interim, we have developed cost estimates that would allow for the construction of a single dormitory or duplexes to house approximately 40-45 students. These costs are as follows:

|-------------------------------------|--------------|
| Design planning and engineering.... | $185,000.00 |
| Construction..... | 1,807,500.00 |
| Equipment and occupancy costs..... | 97,500.00 |
| Construction management costs..... | 110,000.00 |

TOTAL COST $2,200,000.00

Life cycle cost information, comparing duplex vs. dormitory construction, is being developed by the Division of Facilities Planning. This information will be used by the College Council in making a final decision on the design of the housing project.

If you have any questions regarding the cost estimates or if you need additional information, please contact me.

Sincerely,

Fred Ali, Campus President

SUMMARY

The Kenai Peninsula Community College is the fastest growing rural community college in the State of Alaska. The main mission of the community college has been to serve a vast number of people seeking education in the fields of Petroleum Technology and Process Instrumentation. Students from all over the State of Alaska travel to the Kenai Peninsula to take advantage of the offerings here. No other community college offers comprehensive petroleum classes such as these. The placement of petroleum graduates in Industry has been 83% over the last 12 years thus attesting to the success of the programs.

In the fall of 1981, 26,000 sq. ft. of new facilities including classrooms, shops, and offices were placed under construction with an occupancy date of Fall, 1982. The addition of these facilities will greatly add to the ever increasing student body enrollment thus presenting a problem of adequate housing.

Surveys indicate a shortage of housing in the local area. This report will detail the need for student housing and suggest funding in the amount of $5,200,000.00 through either direct legislative appropriation or bond issue at the 1982 statewide election.

AN INTRODUCTION TO KENAI PENINSULA COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Kenai Peninsula Community College is one of the 12 community colleges presently operating under the University of Alaska Statewide System. The Kenai Peninsula Community College began as an adult education program in 1963 with 65 parttime students. It was first contracted as a community college under the University of Alaska in 1964 with the offering of five credit classes. In the fall of 1970, the first full-time daytime vocational training classes were implemented and in the spring of 1971, some 30 full-time students began studies in secretarial sciences and petroleum technology.

Today the College has grown to a student body enrollment of 260 full-time students and an unduplicated head count of nearly 1,000 persons coming from all over the State to take advantage of classes being offered. In 1971 the entire faculty and staff of the program consisted of the director, the coordinator, one secretary and one full-time faculty member. Today the faculty consists of 24 full-time members, 56 parttime members and some 22 administrative and staff personnel as well as several parttime and workstudy students.

The College contributes heavily to the local economy through its payroll, purchases of goods and supplies, contractual services, and through the infusion of tens of thousands of dollars in scholarships, student grants, State and Federal loans and other funds. Much of the money introduced into the economy comes from students who come to the College from other parts of the State to enter into studies of petroleum technology.

In addition to the community college, the facilities also serve as the headquarters for the University of Alaska Statewide Extension Service whose services are offered to every section of the Peninsula. The Statewide Petroleum Extension Service is also headquartered here with responsibility for offering classes all over Alaska in petroleum technology as well as coordinating all petroleum classes being taught by all other sectors of the University, the community college's Statewide, and the Seward Skill Center.

The college campus has served many times in the past as a forum for political candidates, the meeting place for the governors' "town hall meetings" and as a stage for some of the numerous productions of Pier One Theatre and other theatrical and musical groups as well as a showplace for many art shows where citizens from all over Alaska have publicly shown their artistic talents in painting, sculpturing, photography and music and a variety of other areas.

Being the only member of the entire Statewide System to offer a full and comprehensive degree program in Petroleum Technology and Process Instrumentation, the College has an ever expanding commitment to the people of the State of Alaska to furnish training in these areas and to provide those students arriving here with the necessary elements to obtain an education and thus become productive members of our society.

Institutional Goals

1. To help the student find his place in today's rapidly changing society.
2. To increase the student's desire for knowledge, and to sharpen his methods of acquiring that knowledge.
3. To develop leadership qualities and responsibilities to allow the student to cope with the problems of today's free society.

Objectives

1. To locate instruction so that college courses will be available to residents of the entire Kenai Peninsula Borough according to need and/or demand;
2. To offer career and technological education and training for persons entering or re-entering the labor market, and for upgrading the work-skills of those presently employed;
3. To provide opportunities for credits that may be transferred to other colleges and universities, or may be used to obtain KPCC degrees or certificates;
4. To establish, support and fund programs of financial aid to assure that needy individuals will be able to take advantage of college services;
5. To recruit and to encourage those individuals with inadequate levels of education to return to school, and to provide effective basic education courses;
6. To coordinate upper division and graduate classes given for credits that may be applied to Baccalaureate or graduate degrees for professional certification;
7. To offer general interest or personal self-improvement courses designed to enrich the quality of living of an individual and of the community;
8. To offer academic, career counseling and testing services for students, and an advisement program aimed at placing students in appropriate courses in relation to their interests, goals, and capabilities;
9. To encourage, sponsor and participate in cultural activities, including significant discussions, debates, athletic events, theatrical productions, seminars, conferences, gatherings and forums;
10. To maintain effective relationships with all segments of the community, to assure that future community needs will be met;

Accreditation

"Kenai Peninsula Community College was accredited in 1974 by the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges as part of the University of Alaska, Southcentral."

HOUSING NEEDS

IDENTIFIED

The need for student housing at Kenai Peninsula Community College has long been evident. Student enrollment continues to grow and more students are electing to do their first two years of College here at Kenai Peninsula Community College because of financial restraints and the high cost of education in the "Lower 48". Continued growth of the State population and of the oil industry will most assuredly lead to further enrollment in classes now being offered. All petroleum classes have been filled, several have had added second and third sections and still students are being placed on the waiting list. Accommodations for further increases in student enrollment are now developing - the new training facility will be under construction shortly and a dramatic increase in student enrollment is predicted upon its completion.

There is an additional percentage of students in our local service area who also need housing (i.e., recent high school graduates wanting to attend college, but live away from parents' home). There are also the students who commute from areas such as Anchor Point and Cooper Landing who would prefer to live locally rather than make the treacherous winter drive, but are discouraged by housing problems.

There is no public transportation so when students do secure housing, they are then faced with necessity and expense of purchasing and maintaining a car.

Due to housing shortage, some students are forced to take isolated housing situations such as cabins with no water or electricity, and we frequently find these students suffering from such problems as depression, isolation and loneliness.

Students are discouraged from attending the College due to inavailability of housing. Many times students from outside the local area will give up plans to move and attend the College due to shortage of housing for the families.

The transitional stress which accompanies the decision to attend College and make a move is further compounded by the frustrations in trying to find housing.

Because of the shortage of housing, the housing that is available is quite expensive and this puts an additional burden on the student. This is especially true for the married student who is attending school fulltime and needs family housing.
