The Honorable Bettye Fahrenkamp
Alaska State Legislature
Senate
Pouch V
Juneau, Alaska 99811

Dear Senator Fahrenkamp:

We recently discussed the concept of generating additional revenue for the state by charging fees for the use of state park campgrounds in Alaska. I'm hoping to see a bill introduced into this year's legislative session to authorize state park campground fees. My staff and I have compiled some facts, figures, and projections which I'd like to share with you.

The History of Fees in Public Campgrounds

The federal government began collecting fees in national parks over 50 years ago. Today, Alaska is the only state to not charge for the use of recreational facilities. Of the country's 50 state park systems, only Alaska has no campsite fee program. Here in Alaska, the U.S. Forest Service, National Park Service, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and Municipal campgrounds all charge fees for camping. And, of course, private campgrounds charge.

In 1976, there was a $10.00 annual entrance fee established in the Alaska State Park System. This program was terminated two years later by legislation dealing with motor vehicles [AS 28.10.411(e)] which stated that any vehicle with an Alaskan license plate need not pay State Park fees. To have a campsite fee program in Alaska's 100 state parks will require legislation.

Why Should We Charge Fees Again?

In a few words -- declining revenues and increasing demands. In 1982, there were 2.2 million visitors to our state park system; in 1983, 4.3 million; and last year, about 5 million! Information from other agencies charging fees shows that people desire well-developed, well-maintained camping facilities and they are willing to pay for them. Managers have also found a decrease in vandalism and a number of positive management spin-offs which occur when campsite fees are charged. Although government-operated campgrounds are seldom fully self-supporting, nationwide approximately 10% are. At a minimum, we can reduce the government subsidy of this popular, but nonetheless expensive, program. Developed campgrounds are very expensive to develop and operate. They are also very popular.

How Do People Feel About Campground Fees?

Surprisingly, more than half of facility users will pay without hesitation. The Forest Service here in Alaska reports 77% compliance at more remote facilities and 92% compliance where a volunteer campground host is on the premises. My field staff tells me that many visitors, especially those from Outside, are amazed that no fees are charged in Alaska State Park campgrounds. Owners of private campgrounds are very much in favor of the charge. They are tired of the free competition. Last year, the Alaska Visitors' Association supported a previous attempt at legislation authorizing campsite fees.

How Much Would Be Charged and At Which Facilities?

Fees would be approximately $6.00 per overnight use of a campsite for residents, and approximately $8.00 for non-residents. At first, only those campgrounds with substantial improvements would be included, with a graduated fee being charged for facilities with running water and modern restrooms. A "season pass" should also be made available at between $50.00 and $75.00 per year. Many of the less-developed, more primitive campgrounds would remain free. But generally, the fancier the campground, the higher the fee.

How Would The Fees Be Collected?

The "iron ranger" self-registration fee station has been very successful for other agencies through the years. This is essentially a simple, slotted iron container located near the park entrance into which fees are deposited by visitors who will be overnighing at the campground. The fee station is self-operating and does not require staff. The station issues a camping permit which is placed on each vehicle dashboard. Park staff can then readily determine who has paid while on routine patrol. At larger facilities, a volunteer campground host will welcome each visitor, assisting with nearby facility locations and assuring general compliance with the campsite fee program.

How Much Revenue Would Be Generated and How Soon?

If legislation is passed in the 1985 session, the program could be started in May of 1986 at selected sites. Estimating a visitation rate for this year (1986) of nearly 7 million, initially $400,000 to $500,000 could be realized, increasing considerably each year. Indiana State Parks, for example, now collects 80% of their operating costs through fees and concession revenues.

Along with this proposed camping fee, I hope to work through existing regulations and statutes to generate revenue from programs such as public use cabins, guides and outfitters permits, concessions and tours of historical sites. I feel that with tourism being one of the largest job and revenue producing industries in Alaska, State Parks should be an active member of that industry. And with a declining revenue curve, it is encumbant on me to formulate economic strategies which make money and save money while serving the public.

Dear Rep. Bettisworth:

I am pleased to inform you that the AVA Board of Directors last week voted to support passage of House Bill 486, relating to user fees for parks facilities. As sponsor of the measure, I'm sure you understand how private industry feels about unfair competition the state currently participates in around Alaska.

The state will benefit from this legislation and AVA lends it support to efforts to getting the bill passed.

Sincerely,

Dale Fox,
Executive Director

Dear Representative Shultz:

As you have requested, the Department of Natural Resources has reviewed HB 267 which authorizes the collection of fees for use of developed state park campsites.

The department supports this bill because it will generate revenue for the state and help to offset state park operation and maintenance costs. In addition, when recreation user fees are charged, park managers have found that vandalism decreases. Decreases in vandalism would, in turn, save the state money and allow park employees more time for necessary maintenance and supervisory activities.

Please let me know if I may provide additional information about the proposed fee system.

Sincerely,

f Esther C. Wunnicke

Attachment to Bill Analysis
State Park Campground Fees

The bill would authorize camping fees for developed campgrounds in the state park system. Fees would be charged on a daily, per vehicle basis in those campgrounds that offer the highest level of facilities and that are economical in terms of administering the program. The cost of implementing the proposed fee system is $87.4 in FY 86. These funds would provide for the installation of "iron rangers" at self-service fee payment stations at the entrances of state-operated campgrounds. The "iron ranger" is a heavily built iron deposit box that is designed to receive envelopes, providing a very high degree of security. The fiscal note would provide a part-time Accounting Technician for the Division of Management; the Division of Parks and Outdoor Recreation will add time to existing positions for employee overtime to perform the revenue collection tasks, compliance checks, communication with campground hosts, and field accounting functions.

The Division of Parks and Outdoor Recreation would implement the fee collection system through the use of the "Iron ranger" and the use of volunteer camp hosts to insure compliance. The U. S. Forest Service, National Park Service, British Columbia Provincial Park Service and numerous state park systems have found self-collection "iron rangers" vandal proof and to have a very high (80%) public compliance. The contractual service funds would be used to build instructional signs at fee stations and to fund additional vehicle mileage involved with collection, cash deposits, and compliance checks. Supplies funding is needed to purchase the building materials for the self-service collection stations, printing of collection envelopes and field accounting forms. Equipment funds will be used to purchase the safes for remote ranger stations.

The fiscal note reflects the high first year start-up costs of a camping fee program, but assuming that the Division of Parks and Outdoor Recreation does not have a fee system functioning until July 15 and in only nine campgrounds, the expected revenue is $108.6. This revenue will increase substantially over the five-year period forecasted. The investment-return ration becomes substantial following initial start-up costs. Within 4 years, an investment of about $60,000 will return revenues of near half a million.

SELF REGISTRATION IN PARKS A SUCCESS

Will B.C. campers voluntarily register and pay for campground use when there isn't an official there to ask for their money? The answer is an overwhelming "yes", as the Parks and Outdoor Recreation Division showed this year in 52 provincial parks.

Two years ago, the division launched a pilot program of self-registration fee collections in seven parks, then increased it to 11 parks in 1979 and 52 this year. The objective was to monitor both the response of campers and the effectiveness from an operations standpoint. It has proven to be an entirely valid system for both users and operators.

B.C. was the first Canadian province to use the self-registration system, but credit for its organization goes to the U.S. Forest Service, which pioneered it in the early 1970's.

The principle behind self-registration is simple: the responsibility for registering and paying camping fees falls to the camper rather than park staff. The advantage to campers is obvious: convenience. They can now pay their fee when they arrive instead of waiting for a collector to come around at a specified time. They can also pay in advance for as many nights as they wish. Assuming they do (and statistics now show this to be an entirely valid assumption), fee collectors are now free to work in other areas of park operations to improve service to the public.

The implementation of the system is also fairly simple: as campers enter the campground, a sign advises them that attendants do not collect fees. Campers are asked to select a site, then go to the self-registration station and pay. At these fee stations, strategically located in the campground, envelopes are provided, the camper fills in the registration information, puts the fee in the envelope, seals it, and deposits it in a vault, first tearing off the receipt stub. During the evening, park staff check each vault to ensure payment has been received.

During the two year period, the average voluntary compliance rate was over 80% and, when additional information, instructions, or reminders were given, the average was a stunning 96%! This rate is as high as that achieved with traditional methods of fee collection. Based on B.C.'s experimental program, Yoho National Park started a similar system in the summer of 1979. Their volunteer compliance averaged 92% — another indication of the system's viability and people's basic honesty!

To get public reaction to the new system, the division monitored some of the 20,000 camping parties who participated in the 1978 pilot program. At that time, users did not show any strong objections to the system. They were undecided as to whether or not there was a decrease in contact with staff and it was generally felt there were no problems with change, foreign currency (American) or the instructions. They did, however, remark on the appearance of the fee station, because it did not blend with park environment. This response was welcomed because the fee stations and vaults were designed to be easily identified.

As with most new concepts, improvements are an integral part of their success. The self-registration system was no exception. Several recommendations were made by field staff and improvements and modifications were made.

Ron Kerr of the Parks and Outdoor Recreation Division Operations Branch demonstrates the self-registration fee system. Ron is filling out the permit envelope following the instructions on the sign. In the foreground is the vault where Ron will deposit the permit envelope and camping fee.

Re: Parks Fee Bill CS-267

Dear Senator Bennett:

I appreciated the opportunity to visit with you while you were in Fairbanks last week.

As you know, I have been working with the Division of Parks for over two years trying to get a lease or concession on the Chena Wayside Campground. The main problem is the law, which does not allow a charge for use of a State owned park.

It seems with last year's bills, as with this year's bill, that there are some reservations about allowing the State to charge.

With the increased population and a growing tourist industry, the time has come for the State to take a look at the possibility of private operators for parks when feasible. At least the State should have the option of private concessions.

My proposal would give the State the right to consider private concessions but would not in any way force it to do so. I would propose that you amend Sec. 28.10.411(e) to read as follows:

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the fees paid for registering a vehicle under A.S. 28.10.421(b)(1), (2), (5), (6) or (d) shall include all fees required for entry into and use of a state park or campground, except where park or campground is leased or concessioned to a private operator.

DRAFT
Alaska State Park System User Fee Policy

The policy of the Division of Parks and Outdoor Recreation regarding user fees in state park units is:

1. To establish and levy affordable entry, facility use and program fees where it is practical to do so and where the facilities or programs are worthy of the fees charged. Initial fees shall be levied only for high quality and urban adjacent campsites and for tours of the Wickersham State Historic Site.
2. Fees should be charged for highly specialized developments or programs catering to a specific clientele. Fee schedules shall seek to significantly reduce, or if possible eliminate, user subsidies.
3. Some fees may be adjusted annually, effective January 1. The overall percentage fee increase shall not be greater than the rate of inflation for the preceding year and/or a reasonable amount of increase if it is found that a user fee has been artificially low.
4. Fees schedules shall generally be in round dollar numbers to avoid the expense and inconvenience of making change.
5. Fees may be waived for school groups on a reservation basis, when their visit or trip is in conjunction with an educational program for grades K through 12.
6. Where fees are charged on an individual rather than a per vehicle basis, fees may be reduced for visitors under 12 or over 65 years of age.
7. Insofar as possible every effort should be made to insure that user fees do not unreasonably discriminate against economically disadvantaged or other minority groups.
8. Annual use permits may be established and used in lieu of paying daily fees to provide a moderate savings to frequent users of park facilities.

Senator Don Bennett
April 22, 1985

This is a simple change and should meet with very little resistance as this will not allow the State to charge, only private operators.

I would appreciate your response to this proposal and hope you can find the opportunity to do something with this during the present session.

If additional information is needed, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Thank you for taking the time to read and consider this proposal. Also, enclosed per your request, is a copy of planned development and operation of the Chena Wayside Campground.

Sincerely,

Senate Committee on Resources

MEMORANDUM

April 1, 1985

TO: Senate Resource Committee Members

FROM: Senate Resource Committee Staff MEL

RE: Senate CS for CS for HB 273 (Resources)
"An Act relating to extralateral rights of federal lode mining claims; and providing for an effective date"

The doctrine of extralateral rights was first codified under federal law in the Federal Mining Law of 1872. It provides that the owner of a federal lode mining claims is entitled to follow a vein downward outside the vertical boundaries of his claim if the top or apex of the vein is within his claim.

The doctrine only relates to the title to the minerals contained in the specific vein. It does not entitle the owner to any surface use outside his claim, does not relieve the owner from obtaining all the necessary permits required by law before conducting operations, and does not apply to placer claims.

Extralateral rights are clearly applicable to all uplands in the United States, including Alaska. The law is not clear, however, on whether the doctrine applies to lands underneath navigable waters, such as tidelands and submerged lands.

The purpose of the proposed legislation is to clarify the law in Alaska and confirm that owners of federal lode mining claims located prior to statehood, are entitled to extralateral rights under shorelands, tidelands, and submerged lands. This will ensure that the owners of such claims have secure title to these deposits so that they may obtain development financing.

The principal areas in the State which will be affected by this legislation are Southeast and Prince William Sound, although the legislation will also have some impact on the Interior and other regions where veins may trend under bodies of navigable water.

The proposed Senate CS would replace the house bill's language with wording from SB 237 plus an immediate effective date. SB 237 is an extralateral rights companion bill that this committee introduced and it is believed to possess slightly superior wording. A letter in this packet from Legislative Counsel speaks to this issue.

Also in this packet, is a zero fiscal note from the Department of Natural Resources; the section of federal law dealing with extralateral rights; a five page discussion of extralateral rights furnished by supporters of the bill; and, the relevant section of a 1901 court case that is the only known court case to deal with this issue.

CS HB 273 (Resources) passed the House this past Thursday with forty votes.

Upon review of CSHB 273 (Resources) I recommend deleting from page 1, line 15 the following phrase: "subject to AS 38.05.275". This is necessary because AS 38.05.275 applies only to mining locations made on state land and CSHB 273 (Resources) applies only to mining locations on federal land.

30 USC § 26

§ 26. Locators' rights of possession and enjoyment

The locators of all mining locations made on any mineral vein, lode, or ledge, situated on the public domain, their heirs and assigns, where no adverse claim existed on the 10th day of May 1872 so long as they comply with the laws of the United States, and with State, territorial, and local regulations not in conflict with the laws of the United States governing their possessory title, shall have the exclusive right of possession and enjoyment of all the surface included within the lines of their locations, and of all veins, lodes, and ledges throughout their entire depth, the top or apex of which lies inside of such surface lines extended downward vertically, although such veins, lodes, or ledges may so far depart from a perpendicular in their course downward as to extend outside the vertical side lines of such surface locations. But their right of possession to such outside parts of such veins or ledges shall be confined to such portions thereof as lie between vertical planes drawn downward as above described, through the end lines of their locations, so continued in their own direction that such planes will intersect such exterior parts of such veins or ledges. Nothing in this section shall authorize the locator or possessor of a vein or lode which extends in its downward course beyond the vertical lines of his claim to enter upon the surface of a claim owned or possessed by another.

Purpose and Effect of Proposed
Extralateral Rights Legislation

SUMMARY

The purpose of the proposed extralateral rights legislation is to clarify the law in Alaska and confirm that the owners of federal lode mining claims located prior to statehood may pursue their extralateral rights into lands under navigable waters which are owned by the State ("submerged lands"). The effect of the proposed legislation will be to remove a potential cloud on the title to many lode claims located prior to statehood in Alaska, thereby facilitating additional private investment in the exploration and development of such claims.

DISCUSSION

Extralateral rights are the rights granted to the owner of a lode mining claim located under the federal mining laws to follow and mine any vein or lode the apex of which lies within the surface boundaries of his claim, notwithstanding that the down-dip course of the vein of lode may so far depart from the perpendicular as to extend into lands outside of and beyond the sidelines of his claim.

Not all federal mining claims are entitled to extralateral rights. Extralateral rights attach only to a lode deposit contained within an identifiable vein or lode structure having (1) a definite downward dip and (2) its apex within a properly located federal lode claim. Extralateral rights do not exist in connection with placer deposits, flat-lying lode deposits, or disseminated lode deposits not contained within an identifiable vein or lode structure.

It is important to note that the doctrine of extralateral rights relates only to the title to the minerals contained in the vein or lode structure. A claimowner who is entitled to extralateral rights is not entitled to use the surface of any lands outside his claim, nor is he relieved from obtaining all necessary permits required by law before conducting operations.

The current extralateral rights provision of the federal mining laws was enacted as part of the General Mining Law of 1872, and has been in effect for over 100 years. Even before this, the early mining laws and customs of England, Germany, France, Spain, and Mexico recognized extralateral rights in one form or another. Extralateral rights were also recognized in the miners' rules and customs adopted in California in the mid-1800's prior to the enactment of the federal mining laws. That Congress saw fit to recognize extralateral rights when it enacted the General Mining Law of 1872 shows that Congress believed extralateral rights to be an important attribute of federal lode mining claims.

For the most part, the lode claims and mines which have utilized the doctrine of extralateral rights have been situated on federal land well removed from the coastlines and navigable rivers of our country. This especially has been the case in the Rocky Mountain states, where hardrock mines have been developed entirely on uplands. The applicability of the doctrine of extralateral rights on uplands is clear and not disputed.

In Alaska, many hardrock mines are situated immediately adjacent to navigable waters along Alaska's extensive coasts. The owners of these mines have consistently held and developed their claims with the understanding and belief that the federal mining laws afforded them extralateral rights, regardless of the direction their lode deposits may take in their downward course. Naturally, some of these lode deposits extend into submerged lands, and in the years prior to statehood a great deal of mining was conducted in Alaska under submerged lands by miners exercising their extralateral rights (e.g., Treadwell Mine at Juneau).

The good faith activities and beliefs of these claimowners notwithstanding, the law is unclear on whether extralateral rights can be asserted in submerged lands. In the only case addressing the issue, the Federal District Court for the Territory of Alaska stated that:

the law giving a party the right to follow all veins, the apices of which are within the limits of his claim, even outside of the sidelines thereof, (should) permit him to go below the waters of the sea in following such vein without trespassing any law of property existing in the United States.

Alaska United Gold Mine. Co. v. Barbridge, 1 Alaska 311, 329 (1901). This early lower court decision has not been overruled, but it is inadequate assurance of the current state of the law for any claimowner seeking to make a substantial investment in developing a mine where ownership of the valuable minerals may depend in part on the existence of extralateral rights.

The Legislature is in a position today to clarify this uncertainty in the Law because on January 3, 1959, title to all submerged lands in Alaska vested in the State. In 1960 the Legislature enacted similar legislation which confirmed and granted title to the surface of submerged lands to those persons who in good faith had occupied or developed the lands before statehood. AS 38.05.820 (1984). Now with lode mining making a significant comeback in Alaska, the Legislature can enact a comparable law governing extralateral rights. By enacting the proposed legislation the State will recognize that the owners of federal lode mining claims located prior to statehood are entitled to extralateral rights under state-owned submerged lands.

The areas of the State which will be most affected by this legislation are Southeast and Prince William Sound, although the Interior and other regions of the State where veins or lodes may trend into submerged lands also may be affected if federal lode claims were located on the veins or lodes prior to statehood.

THE ALASKA GOLD MIN. CO. V. BARBRIDGE. 311

§ 16, subd. 1, C. C. A. 1900 Fed. also provides that respondent docket the case in the Circuit Court of Appeals and file a transcript of the record there, any time after the appeal has been perfected in the lower court and have the same heard upon its merits. It would enable the plaintiff in this cause to have determined the question of the appeal, the nature of the order confirmed of upon the failure of the appellants to perfect their appeal within the 30 days. The attorneys who now seek to vacate the order allowing the appeal have been the respondent's attorneys since April 6th, and could have adopted the correct practice during the open season, but did not do so. The reason for the cause has been regularly appealed to the Circuit Court of Appeals, and the want of jurisdiction to do so in this court is a very competent to overrule the motion to vacate, and leave the respondent his remedy in the Circuit Court of Appeals. The motion to vacate is denied.

1. TIDE LANDS—MINES AND MINING.

Lands lying below ordinary high tide on the shore of the ocean and arms of the sea in the District of Alaska are not subject to location under the mining laws of the United States.

2. MINES AND MINERALS—EVIDENCE—PATENT.

As a general rule the recitals in a mining patent are conclusive evidence of the extent and boundaries of the claim; other evidence may be admitted to determine the location of the monuments and boundaries called for by the patent.

3. INJUNCTION—TRESPASS.

One who, within the District of Alaska, trespasses upon the tide lands not subject to location under the mineral laws of the United States, may be enjoined from sinking shafts thereon, and case, the court is compelled to the conclusion that the defendants should be restrained and enjoined from further continuing the sinking of their shaft, or further interfering in this behalf with the rights of the plaintiff.

It may be said in this connection that the situation of the parties plaintiff and defendant are not the same. The plaintiff has a lawful location, and, under the mining laws of the United States, a lawful right to pursue its vein on its dips beyond the side lines of its claim and wherever it may run; and while, as before observed, the lands below mean high tide are reserved from sale, it is believed that the law giving a party the right to follow all veins, the apices of which are within the limits of his claim, even outside of the side lines thereof, would permit him to go below the waters of the sea in following such vein, without trespassing any law of property existing in the United States.

The temporary injunction heretofore issued under the order of this court will therefore be made perpetual, and the plaintiffs are awarded their costs and disbursements.

I'm a second generation Alaskan River fisherman and family member. In regards to Senate Bill # 231 it is a necessity that this bill be pushed through. The economy of Alaska and all fishermen need this, it's crucial. I ask that you waive SB # 231, and not hinder it's progress.

A Summary of Federal Acts from 1870 - 1925 allowing taking of Alaska animals for food or clothing.

1870: An Act.

Unlawful to kill fur seals on St. Paul and St. George Islands except from June to October.

EXCEPTION: Natives may kill "such young seals as may be necessary for their own food or clothing" during other months.

1902: An Act.

Prohibits "wanton destruction" of wild game.

Allows killing of game animals by native Indians or Eskimo, miners, explorers, travelers "when in need of food".

1908: An Act.

Amends 1902 Act. Prohibits "wanton destruction" of non-game wild animals and birds (except of eagles, ravens and cormorants).

Allows killing of any game animal or bird for food or clothing at any time by Natives, miners, explorers "when in need of food".

1910: An Act.

Allows Natives of Pribilof Islands to kill young seals "as may be necessary for their own food and clothing" and old seals "as may be required for their own clothing and for the manufacture of boats for their own use".

1925: An Act.

Allows an Indian or Eskimo, prospector or traveler to take animals or birds during the closed season "when he is in absolute need of food and other food is not available".

1940: An Act.

Allows Natives to take birds and animals out of season "when...in need of food and other sufficient food is not available".

Jan. 24, 1986:

Alaska Fish and Wildlife Federation v. Jantzen.

"In order to reconfirm that the 'need' exception was intended to apply to subsistence hunting, Congress amended section 10 of the 1925 Act to allow Natives to take birds and animals out of season 'when...in need of food and other sufficient food is not available'. Act of October 10, 1940, ch. 845, 54 Stat. 1103-4." (Page 16).

"In the absence of regulation to the contrary, subsistence hunting of migratory birds for nutritional (as opposed to cultural or other) needs remains legal." (Page 22).

LETTER OF INTENT -- HE 288

It is the intent of the Legislature that the needs criteria provided for in Section 16.05.262 be consistent with the customary and traditional language provided for in federal legislation and with customary and traditional uses of wild food resources by those in need as evidenced by An Act to Prevent the Extermination of Fur-bearing Animals in Alaska, ch. 139, 16 Stat., 180 (1870); An Act for the Protection of Game in Alaska, ch. 1037, 32 Stat., 327 (1902); An Act for the Protection of Game in Alaska, ch. 162, 35 Stat., 102 (1903); An Act to Protect the Seal Fisheries of Alaska, ch. 183, 34 Stat., 326 (1910); An Act to Establish an Alaska Game Commission, ch. 75, 43 Stat., 744 (1925).

I suggest that in view of the current financial state of the state that your committee determine how much income the state lost last year by bases on non-residents from hunting in certain areas and how much it will lose under this legislation

Senate panel OKs subsistence bill

By SUE CROSS
The Associated Press

JUNEAU — A bill that would re-establish priority subsistence hunting and fishing rights for rural Alaskans passed Tuesday through the Senate Resources Committee, which once was thought to be its last major hurdle.

Senate leaders now say the subsistence bill (SCS CSHB288) will be considered in at least two more committees before it can be voted on the Senate floor, and say it may not be voted on until near the end of the session.

The Resources Committee, in its last look at the measure, adopted an amendment offered by Sen. Vic Fischer, D-Anchorage. The amendment specifies that the Board of Fisheries must consider personal-use fishing along with sport and commercial fishing when drafting regulations.

Fischer said the amendment does not give personal use fishing priority over commercial or sport uses, or even require that it be considered equally with the other uses.

However, it does create a specific category for personal use, which is the catching of fish for personal or family consumption by methods more efficient than rod and reel, as are used in sport fishing.

Fischer also expressed what seemed to be the committee's opinion in forwarding a bill that has been rewritten numerous times since the Senate began considering it in January.

"I think we've come a long way toward creating a bill that, while it may not please everybody, is something we can live with," he said.

The committee also adopted an amendment offered by Sen. Jack Coghill, R-Nenana, that includes bison as an example of stocks that would not be identified as subsistence stocks by the Board of Game. Coghill said he just wanted an extra assurance that bison would be hunted only under nonsubsistence regulations.

Sen. Pat Rodey, D-Anchorage, said he could not predict what kind of reception the bill will get in the Judiciary Committee, which he heads and which is to look at the bill next.

"I have no specific plans at this time," Rodey said.

(1) Past use, (2) present need should be the only criteria for subsistence use

Dear Senator Pat Robey;

I am very concerned about the new subsistence ruling. If it is not changed back to rural, it could wipe out Cordova's economy this year.

As you know, Cordova survives from commercial gillnetting on the Copper River Delta. Commercial fishing is our only industry. If gillnetting is cut back or discontinued it will spell disaster for Cordova this summer. We have no winter industry or fishing.

It is very important for Cordova that emergency legislation be completed before May 15-85. Please do all you can to support S.B. #231.

I see S.B. #231 is getting bogged down in various committees. Please help. We can't afford to lose this year's gillnet season.

Re: HB 288

Dear Sir,

My name is Lee Stephan, I'm an Alaska Native Leadership participant (ANLP) for the 1985-1986 session. We were present in the Senate and House floor's and were individually introduced during the week of March 10, 1986. I am from Eklutna Village/Chugiak Area district unknown. I am writing in regards to HB 288, " An Act relating to the taking of fish and game for subsistence and personal use." My personal opinion of this bill is it attacks all Alaska Natives rights to be who they are. It sets a precedent to the beginning of eliminating the traditional Alaska Native life style no matter where we are located.

In the recent efforts to retain our culture, tradition, heritage and life style this bill strives to do the opposite. How would you appreciate someone telling you, you can't eat beef, chicken or pork you must eat seal, whale and fish? The foods eaten by native people has also to do with our general health, availability of alternative resources, how wealthy one is does not consider this aspect.

In the Constitution of the United States of America it says something to this effect, "We the people whom are created equal...".

On behalf of the people who developed this constitution Mr. Stewart signed the Treaty of Cessions which stated something to this effect, the aboriginal people of this territory shall be left alone as they always were. I believe they were referring to life style, traditions, culture, ect.

Again on behalf of the U.S. of America Mr. Nixon signed the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (ANCSA) which stated about the same thing(1971).

And still yet American National Interest Lands Conservation Act (ANILCA) this commitment was again reaffirmed on behalf of the people whom abide by the U.S. of A. constitution.

But now (1986) that a hand full of people whom do not abide by their word have a seemingly loud voice, our law makers are considering breaking still another agreement with native people.

From what I have learned while in Juneau the subsistence question seems to break down into four parts. 1) Geographical Area hense urban & rural 2) Traditional, Customary 3) Wealth, availability of alternate resources and, 4) Local residency.

I am of the belief that Alaska Natives, be they Inupiak, Yupik, Aleut, Athabascan, Tlingit, Haida, Tsimpshian have superseding precedence no matter of our wealth, tradition, location, or residency. (See U.S. of A. Constitution, Treaty of Cessions, ANSCA, and ANILCA.)

What question you are trying to settle here is subsistence used by other nationalities who migrated to Alaska and settled either urban or rural areas.

Subsistence uses are defined by state law as the "customary and traditional uses in Alaska of wild, renewable resources for direct personal or family consumption as food, shelter, fuel, clothing, tools, transportation, for the making and selling of hand crafted articles out of non-ateable byproducts of fish and wildlife resources taken for customary trade, barter or sharing for personal or family consumption."

Yes I grant you that in this day of over population and the western idealisms and values you should identify fish populations and games stock which are customary and traditionally used for subsistence and implement harvesting regulations. Native value was to take only what you need, kill only what you will eat but the western world introduced completely different values.

But to begin making different classes of native people by inserting rural goes against what America stands for. (See AS 16.05.330 Section 7. You people can't seem to get over the notion there should be different classes of people.)

If HB 288 is approved, AS 16.05.258(b) "Reasonable opportunity to satisfy the subsistence uses." Again you impose upon us your domination, consider whom is on the board whom decides if there has been a reasonable opportunity when they would permit this so called reasonable opportunity and this section is contradictory to why this law is being introduced.

I suppose subsistence reg's. would only be imposed upon the findings that the resource was low. But in the same breath you say you would then allow for others lower priority uses also.

Some peoples reasonable opportunity definition may be "one day" and then you "allow".

AS 15.05.258(c)

Tier II We in Eklutna Village, 27 miles N.W. of Anchorage have customary and sometimes direct dependency, are local residence and at times have alternatives depending on cash flow, but are under the, "personal use", category which is not to our best interests.

Tier II also hits the nail on the head! Quote the effect of this will be to leave more game for sports hunters unquote. This bill is not for subsistence users but for the sports hunters benefits.

AS 16.05.330 the boards are required to adopt a permit program when the subsistence preference requires reduction in the harvest by non-subsistence users. Think of the things a basically white dominated board can do with that.

Section 9 AS 16.05.940 "Personal Use fishing", we have a commercial fishing sign, but put up fish (subsistence), and sell some of it. We fish below Eklutna Village in the Knik River and hook and line also. Under personal use, when fish and game gets low we; Eklutna, Cooper Center, Minto, Mentasta, Keniatze, and other chesi Tribes, shall have to have the second opportunity to feed our families after, "rural subsistence", preference has been "reasonably" exercised, along with the now majority uses. (ie; sports hunters, catch and release, ect..) We in these areas, (see Ak. Dept. of Fish and Game, Div. of subsistence, traditional resource uses in Knik Arm area: History & Contemporary patterns, Technical paper #25 by James A. Fall, Juneau office) Live the traditional life style, with these days of shrinking job opportunities, welfare, food stamps, social services, ect.. you take away our traditional right we basically starve. (See native hire statistics present time then project.)

What is also disturbing is you are trying to regulate what I can give away, and if I can give away anything. Availability of Alternative resources is a good line. When times were bad we would eat squirrels and not moose, because there was no moose. Think on that a while.

My personal recommendation as a registered voter in this state and a Alaska Native, of the Athabascan tribes is to rewrite or vote against this bill.

Thank you for your kind consideration pertaining to this matter.

ATTN: Senator Patrick Rodey

Dear Senator Rodey:

Recently, Statewide Village Delegates gathered in Juneau for the annual "Village Participation Workshop", sponsored by Rural Cap, to discuss common problem areas and methods that Village Councils could use to voice their concerns and actually gain recognition.

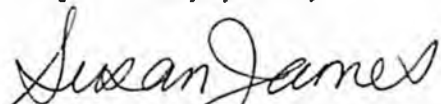

One of the major issues was SUBSISTENCE, Alaskan Natives are deeply concerned about the possibility of "traditional Hunting and Fishing" becoming absorbed into a single, statewide system. Rural Alaskans would no longer be given priority for SUBSISTENCE Hunting and Fishing.

Traditionally, the Alaskan Natives have depended on - and still depend on - Fish and Game as a source of Bartering and Trading; Food; Tools; Clothing; Equipment (sleds, snowshoes, canoes, etc.); Cash for items otherwise unobtainable. No true Alaskan Native would wantonly harvest Fish and Game. The harvesting of Fish and Game occurs seasonally or "in time of need". To take Fish and Game for any purpose other than SUBSISTENCE, such as Sports or Trophy Hunting, would be contrary to the very fabric of Native Lifestyle.

We urge our State leaders, those people who have within their power to decide what SUBSISTENCE is and can control the harvest of Fish and Game to take into consideration, that rural Alaskans are not wealthy, the majority of us live in remote areas, most rural Alaskans are economically deprived; therefore, we must be able to subsist for our livelihoods as we have done for centuries. SUBSISTENCE is an economy to rural Alaskans; Bartering and Trading natural resources provides Social and Economic ties between communal groups. If the right to subsist is taken from us, you will have removed an integral part of the Alaskan Native Culture.

We, as people of the land, ask that you take into consideration the tradition of hunting and fishing by Alaskan Natives, and understand that you dealing with the very economical ~~state~~ of our society.
