Please enter into the record my testimony to the Senate Resources committee name committee on IFQs, dated 1/29/92
bill/subject

I am a 10 year resident of Homer. I live here with my wife and two boys. I have fished for 15 years and would like to continue to fish. However, the IFQ proposal threatens my future as fisherman and completely eliminates any chance my boys might have had to fish commercially.

I also believe it is foolish for the state to relinquish any control over to the Federal government. And that is exactly what would happen if IFQs are adopted. Another Federal Bureaucracy would ~~lose~~^{gain} a stranglehold on an Alaskan resource.

I urge you to Pass SJR no. 38 Thank you

Dear Sirs:

Whereas my family returned to Alaska again 10 months ago in order to be able to afford a living in diversified fishing, after 10 years in Ballard;

Whereas freezer trawlers will more than likely be able to pay 50 years' worth of halibut or blackcod value in order to grant themselves fishing extensions at six digits per day, thereby eliminating longliners and pot fishermen; and,

Whereas the Ballard schooner fleet survived as an economically viable fishery from the turn of the century to the present through long periods when not only were there no limited access or IFQ's, but there were no restrictions whatsoever on unlimited foreign fleets which pounded our resources;

I salute the Senate resolution, SJR 38, the courage and wisdom of its authors, Zharoff, Adams, and Hoffman; and, I thank each one of you from the bottom of my heart.

Best Regards,

Bruce Hendrickson

(She ain't much, but she's paid for-- which is a heck of a lot more than you can say for the giant freezer trawlers, many of which were overcapitalized for their average daily fishing range from the day they were deployed.)

Re: HJR No. 61 and SJR No. 38

Good afternoon,

I am an Alaskan resident, have been halibut longlining for 8 years, and employed in commercial fishing for 17 years. I support HJR No. 61 and SJR No. 38 against the PPFMC's ITQ advisory proposal. This proposal is unethical and possibly illegal. It would privatize a public resource forever, creating a tiny class of wealthy fishermen and a huge class of "have never" fishermen, resulting in the devastation of coastal communities around Alaska.

Traditional fishing management techniques need to be examined and executed before such drastic measures as ITQ's are made law. Trip limits, gear restrictions, outlawing crucifiers, use of only snap on gear, shorter more frequent openers--these are just a few partial solutions to the problems faced by the present day derby system.

If there must be a quota share system implemented it should be absolutely NON-TRANSFERABLE and EQUITABLE TO ALL HISTORICAL PARTICIPANTS in the fishery. Under this type of system all vessel owners, hired skippers, and deckhands would receive an equal share, then when a person left the industry the share would be returned to a fund and be issued to the next deserving person working in the industry. Hired skippers and deckhands are self-employed contractors earning a share of the catch. The vessel owners have not paid taxes, unemployment benefits, nor workmen's compensation on us so why shouldn't our share be recognized as ours in a quota share policy? Any closure of the free access system should be a right to fish earned by working in the industry not a marketable private resource.

I implore you to do what ever possible to avoid the fast-food chain scenario; one rich owner and some minimum-wage employees. This proposal can make the difference between a wealthy middle class fishing population and a series of coastal ghost towns.

Thank you,

Anna Berland

Mr. Chairman and members of the Senate Resources Committee;

I have fished shellfish out of Homer for twenty one years. Both in Kachemak Bay and Cook Inlet. First as a deckhand and since 1973, owner/ operator of my own boats.

I am opposed to any individual quota system for Alaska's fisheries. These IFQ systems have very little to do with protecting the resource and a lot to do with protecting the pocketbooks of a few. I do however, believe we do need limited entry for Alaska's fisheries.

I'm not asking for a limited entry permit worth "A lot of money", but I am asking for a level playing field. I am a crab fisherman surrounded by salmon fishermen and their limited fisheries. The system worked fine when each fishery had product to catch and everybody tended to their own knitting. It started to unravel when the salmon fishermen made so much money they needed a tax write-off. They bought crab pots. Any prudent person has to realize that these Federal fisheries being discussed are going to be limited under some form of limited entry within a few years. When this happens, I am going to be in the unhappy situation of watching everybody fish "my" crab, but on a bad year I can't fish their stocks.

A prime example of this is the 1992 Tanner crab season here in Area H, just recently ended. Last year we had sixty eight boats fish for a 250,000 pound quota. That was bad enough. This year we had one hundred seven (107) boats fish for 350,000 pounds. We had an eighteen hour fishery. One opening for ten hours and four days later, another eight hour opening. One merely has to look at fishing effort and fleet size versus economic return and stock protection to see how astonishingly similar our crab fisheries especially here in Area H are to what the salmon industry was going through twenty years ago.

Twenty years ago when a fishery was placed under limited entry, the displaced boats and crews could move on to another area or fishery. Now areas or viable fisheries are precious few now. We come to the basic problem confronting Alaska's fisheries now. We have a huge fleet of boats without any permits for limited fisheries or much of a catch record in any fishery. This huge fleet is causing economic chaos as they rush back and forth between unlimited fisheries trying to build a catch history. Any unlimited fishery in Alaska now has so much effort only the very skillful or very lucky (cheaters ?) are making a living at these fisheries. Those established fishermen with permits are getting richer and everybody else is getting poorer.

Painful as it is going to be, the total size of the fleet has to be cut. We need to have all of Alaska's fisheries placed under limited entry. Only in this manner can the fishermen and communities involved know where they stand and will be standing in years to come. There simply are not enough fishery products in the sea for everyone.

John DeSylva

The Limited Entry Act needs to be amended to allow for all species and or fisheries in Alaska to be limited. It matters not that a fishery here or a fishery there is limited now. The displaced boats simply move on and cause problems somewhere else. The Limited Entry Commission needs to determine which fisheries are economically distressed and be able to declare a moratorium in those until this mess can be figured out.

Please fund the Limited Entry Commission so that they can draw up a comprehensive plan as to whether or not various fisheries need or want to be limited. This present flap over IFQ's in the halibut and sable fisheries will only be repeated if nothing is changed, everytime some fishery is proposed to be limited. We need a system implemented that will show where everybody will stand in all of Alaska's fisheries. This should have been done twenty years ago as proposed under the original Limited Entry proposal, but better late than never. I sometimes wonder whether us longtime fishermen in established fisheries that have not been limited have grounds for a civil suit against the state.

Thanks for your attention,

John DeSylva

Dear Lloyd,

Individual Fishing Quotas, (IFQ's), are an experimental program developed in Australia, adopted in Canada, and seized on by Clem Tillion as the answer to the growing fleet management problem in the Gulf of Alaska. It has little in common with the Alaska limited entry system he had a part in developing in the 70's.

This program gives ownership rights to two major resources, halibut, and blackcod. Many of us grew up with these fisheries, pulled in our belts when the foreign fleets decimated them and waited until they were rebuilt. The IFQ concept has made it imperative to all fishermen to maximize production in these fisheries at the expense of other more rational fishing decisions. Creating the most poundage has been the top job priority for those with the wit to see that if we catch lots we will own lots. This "race" to maximize poundage has been used to justify all kind of excesses from running too much gear, fishing in unsafe weather, and even fishing illegally. Not only did you sell the catch for a profit but you improved your stake in a free distribution of fish not even living yet. When confronted with their excesses otherwise reasonable fishermen shrugged and exclaimed, "what else could we do?"

Many of us who have spent our lives fishing within the framework of the law and an ethic to fish safely in a manner to conserve resources feel violated by the greed fostered by this proposal.

I say No! The objectives Governor Hickel is seeking will have to be sought another way.

It appears that social engineering of this nature in Canada has put the resource in the hands of a few Corporations. To me, this is a major social failure.

Management of the fisheries is a completely different ball game. Besides not wanting the resources in the hands of people that have played loosely with the system, I am concerned with the fact that the factory trawl fleet believes they need these very same IFQ's for halibut to offset their bycatch problem that is costing them millions each year. What do you think an IFQ share of halibut is worth to a factory trawler who needs a few pounds of halibut to harvest tons of sole or flounder? $1,000 or $2,000 a pound? Where would the bidding begin Lloyd?

For six years I have been writing about the abuse of our fishery resources and their habitat by the factory trawlers. I say the North Pacific Fisheries Management Council has spent too much time and resources trying to do what only a few people want. Why? I thought the IFQ program went down last year and the Council would begin the hard work of regulating and conserving the fisheries. Instead a resurrected fish Czar, (Tillier?), has resurrected it and travelled to various fishing organizations offering glowing pictures of the future if they supported his program. I SAY NO!!!!

Dear Senator Jones:

I wish to express to you my support of HJR 61 and SJR 38 which is before you regarding the individual fishing quota (IFQ) program. As I am sure you are aware, Alaskans throughout the entire state are opposed to this plan. There are only a few people in a few areas who are in favor of the plan. This plan, if put into place, will mean the ruin of Alaskan fishermen and bring disaster to coastal communities. All areas of Alaska will then be impacted by this. Please help us by passing the resolution. Thank you.

April 13, 1992

Dear Governor Hickel,

I am writing to express my concern regarding the currently proposed IFQ plan before the Council. It is my belief that this system would be extremely detrimental to Alaskans particularly those residing in the coastal communities. I appreciate the fact that the Governor has expressed his concern about the effects of this system, and I would like to urge the State of Alaska to become more involved in encouraging the Council to rescind the current preferred alternative IFQ plan.

Throughout the analysis provided by the Council and in most of the other available data on the IFQ plan, reference is made to the problem of too many boats in the fishery and the fact that IFQs will solve this problem. There is a basic flaw in this theory which calls for IFQs to shrink the fleet and decrease the race for fish. According to the Council's own data, in the halibut and sablefish fisheries combined, the top 10 percent of the vessels take 73% of the fish and the top 20% of vessels take 85% of the fish. The top 4% of the vessels take over 50% of the total catch. Over and over it is stated that there are too many vessels in the fishery when in fact it is the increase in efficiency of the top producers which is responsible for the race for fish. If the bottom 80% of the fleet were eliminated, there would only be a minimal increase in the length of openings. And the average poundage on which quota shares would be based is much higher for non-Alaskans than for Alaskans. Under the heading Excess Harvesting Capacity, on page 2-52, the Council's analysis alludes to the hope that the less efficient vessels would leave the fishery. Many of these less efficient vessels are active in one or more other fisheries and would add to excessive pressure on other fish stocks if they were to retire from the halibut and sablefish fisheries. And in these times of relatively high unemployment, if they do not have other fisheries to turn to, do they join the ranks of the unemployed or utilize other social services provided by the State of Alaska. The federal management people often talk about the need for efficiency in the fisheries and seem to mean that the least number of vessels harvesting the fish provides the utmost efficiency, and perhaps in the narrow sense this is true. The State of Alaska's Limited Entry Program seems to utilize the opposite perspective by guaranteeing a level of participation in the fishery and thereby assuring the best chance for economic and social well being of the coastal communities.

In the Council analysis, on page 3-7, the final paragraph of 3.2 reads, "Finally, the IFQ program is expected to increase the benefits that can be derived from the fisheries by increasing retained catch, increasing exvessel and wholesale prices, decreasing harvesting and processing costs. Much of the benefits will be captured by the initial recipients of the Qs and some of the benefits will go to those who acquire QS subsequent to the initial allocation. These benefits will increase the wealth of these individuals and, thereby, tend to benefit the communities in which they live." How can it possibly be seriously proposed that increasing the wealth of a few individuals would be of more benefit to a community than having a large number of people gainfully employed in the fishery. For instance, where once you had a hundred people fishing and now you have one, that one individual might continue to live in the community and if he did, he might go out to eat more often and he might buy more toys for his children. But in my experience, many of the big producers tend to do more of their buying in bulk from stores down south. Can there be any question that having 100 vessels active in the fishery would have a more positive effect on the community. And while some of the fishermen are realizing less profit than they had in the past few years, in the Southeast halibut fishery, the catch per unit effort has remained essentially stable in all but the largest boat class. And the Southeast halibut fishery should be used as an indicator because it reached maximum utilization prior to any of the other areas.

Spreading the fleet out over a period of time, perhaps 10 different openings divided by using the last number on the fisherman's gear card in conjunction with trip limits or gear restrictions could address the very real problems in the fishery such as gear conflicts, dead loss, flooding the markets with improperly treated fish and the resultant price problems. This method of managing the harvest, along with a number of other alternatives which have not been given adequate consideration, could alleviate the problems without invoking the economic upheaval and social disturbances found with an IFQ program.

On page 3-11 #4 "... there should be a much better understanding of what one is giving up when he sells his Qs. Therefore, the initial outflow with an IFQ program would tend to be substantially less than that which occurred with the salmon permits." This has not been shown to be true with the newly created Chatham sablefish permits. A number of these permits have already sold and not by "marginal" fishermen.

Unless the Governor's office becomes involved in encouraging the Council to rescind the current preferred alternative, we are about to be locked into an essentially irreversible system of management which is almost certain to have far reaching, negative impacts on the coastal communities and on the economy of the State of Alaska. I've been fishing for halibut and sablefish both as crew and as a permit holder for the last ten years and I strongly agree that there needs to be a change in the management system however, I would urge the consideration of other systems rather than the adoption of IFQs.

Thank you very much for your attention to this matter.

Dear Senator Jones:

I'm writing to urge your support of SJR 38 opposing individual fishing quota management systems.

The resolution language lays out the case against ITQ's well. ITQ's would ruin the coastal communities of Southeast Alaska by concentrating the right to catch fish to those with the greatest wealth and power. Because of the instant wealth created, it would be an irreversible decision.

According to the NPFMC's own analysis, there would be an eventual ninety percent reduction in the longline fleet as quota blocs conglomerate. A fishery which has historically supported a large middle-class population would become one owned by a wealthy few, leaving the ninety percent in the cold.

It would be a crime to put in place such a gargantuan effort at social engineering without a thorough study of the consequences. Please give your support to SJR 38 and help stop this disaster.

Dear Senators,

I was quite disturbed when I heard that my participation and that of many other voters in your recent teleconference on IFQ's was going to be a waste of our time and effort. If it is known to you that one of the committee members has killed the resolution by political manipulation, why put us through a charade as if you desire our opinions and information? I speak of the Seward Downtown Merchant's Association meeting of 2/14/92 at which Mr. Clem Tillion, the Fish Czar, stated that Senator Dick Eliason has the resolution Dead no matter what action you take. Even if some would wish to abandon the constitution, I ask that you assume what responsibility you can, and I reiterate my position below.

IFQ's " give to an individual the right to harvest a definite quantity of fish, expressed either as a fixed amount or as a percentage of the total allowable catch. Privatization of the resource in this manner removes the right of public access to a common property, converting common property to private property." A system that converts a public resource to private property does not fall within the definition of limited entry for the State of Alaska, i.e. limited access to a public resource.

The Alaska Constitution Article VIII section 15 reads "No exclusive right or special privilege of fishery shall be created or authorized in the natural waters of the State". The only exception is the amendment passed in 1972 creating limited entry - but IFQ's are not limited entry under the definitions of the State of Alaska. The proponents of IFQ's are not working on a constitutional amendment to allow ITQ's to be legal, they just ignore the law. The Attorney General's Office on January 15, 1992 wrote "...if an IFQ proposal is made which would violate the "open access" clauses of the state constitution we will recommend against its adoption." There can be no doubt that the IFQ proposal violates open access since that is the exact purpose for which it has been proposed.

X PS. I think it quite important that the wording preventing any State money, agencies or property be prevented from being used to implement or enforce ITQ's be retained in the final resolution.

Please share with the following:

Fred Zaroff, Lloyd Jones, Richard I. Eliason, Jerry Mackie, Cheri L. Davis, Robin Taylor, Ben Grussendorf and Cliff Davidson.

I support HJR 61 and SJR 38. I feel that if implemented this IFQ plan will have extreme long-term detrimental effects on Alaska's Coastal Communities. IFQ's "rationalize" the fisheries by giving a Public Resource held in common trust to a few privileged fishermen. This IFQ plan will eventually replace small family owned fishing businesses, the backbone of Alaska's Coastal Communities with a form of agribusiness. Rick Lauber, chairman of the NPFMC, has testified that the halibut and blackcod stocks are generally healthy. IFQ's will not solve the bycatch or wastage problems. There is no biological reason for IFQ's. They are economic allocations. I urge the House/Senate to pass HJR 61 and SJR 38.

PS On 2/5 at the Kenai Chamber of Commerce in response to this question, Clem Tillion told the audience that the Attorney General doesn't know what he is talking about and is just wrong. He also said that since most sablefish have been harvested in federal waters in the past, federal law will supersede State law (the State Constitution). Apparently he is willing to give all the State fish to the feds - but that still will not allow ITQ's to be "authorized in the natural waters of the State" unless he is proposing ceding all State waters to the Feds as well as the fishery resources!

Mr. Tillion obviously has a much stronger federal than State interest in our fisheries and I hope you will have someone with greater State interest on the Council in the future!

RE: SJR 38

Dear Senator Jones:

I would like to go on record as strongly supporting SJR 38, which opposes the IFQ plan currently proposed by the North Pacific Fishery Management Council.

I have lived and commercially fished in Kodiak for years and have long been opposed to the proposed IFQ plan for halibut and sablefish. This plan, if implemented will mean the ruin of the traditional small boat fleet in Alaska and will devastate the coastal communities.

Why is a social impact analysis not being done? Are people afraid of what the results will be? I can tell you clearly that the coastal communities which have depended on deliveries of halibut and sablefish will lose out. It is important that the State of Alaska demand that a social impact analysis be completed. I am seriously concerned that since National Marine Fisheries Service strongly supports IFQs, that any study coming from that agency will be biased and not show the true picture. We need an independent study which is either contracted by the State of Alaska, or at least approved by the State.

We are begging you as our elected representatives to help us on this issue. In my view, it is the most important issue facing us today.

RE: SJR 38

Dear Senator Jones,

I would like to express my support for SJR 38, the resolution opposing the implementation of IFQs. This IFQ plan is just plain bad news for Alaska and needs to be stopped.

I have been attending North Pacific Fishery Management Council meetings for some time and have followed their progress for many years. The IFQ plan was brought up by fishery managers and they have been the ones to continue promoting it to the exclusion of any other management options. This plan is currently being opposed by the large majority of fishermen and communities in Alaska.

We are asking that you quickly approve this resolution and spend time convincing our Governor that this is bad business for Alaska. While we are the majority on this issue, the Governor's advisors seem to be insulating him from public opinion. It is imperative that he get the true story on this issue.

RE: SJR 38 and HJR 61

Dear Sir:

I would like to go on record as supporting the House and Senate resolutions which oppose the IFQ plan currently proposed by the North Pacific Fishery Management Council.

It is extremely important for the people of Alaska to realize that this plan spells disaster for not only the halibut and sablefish resource, but that fishermen and coastal communities will be severely impacted. If we think that we can compete with large corporate interests in buying quota, we are dreaming.

The conservation implications of this plan are frightening. This plan simply does away with the traditional halibut bycatch cap in order to eliminate the race for fish. There is nothing to protect the vast amount of wastage that will result. The black market sales and highgrading of product is a given and this will result in problems with the stocks.

Please understand that we realize there are problems in the current fishery, but that there are solutions within our grasp in the traditional management which have not been discussed at length by the Council or even analyzed. Why take this radical approach which will completely eliminate small boat fishermen, when there are things we can do right now that will be effective.

Jon Smee

Lacey Berns

On behalf of Alaskans for Responsible Resource Management and Area K Seiners Association, I urge the passage of SJR 38. A.R.R.M. led a successful petition and letter-writing campaign from May thru Dec. '91, resulting in ^{well} over 700 signatures from crewmembers, families, operators of vessels, vessel owners, and businesses. The ensuing volume of letters to various officials and agencies opposing IFQ's, has been enormous. The opposition to IFQ's is in all communities -- people are tremendously concerned about their futures, if IFQ's are passed.

The IFQ concept, in its current framework and design, is unwieldy and cumbersome. A scheme which does not have the support of the fishing industry, will prove difficult to manage and enforce. Many fishermen are resentful about the way this scheme has been forced down ~~our~~ ^{their} throats, under the guise of safety, or, fresh halibut year around - it (simply) is a fallacy that IFQ's will provide fresh fish 365 days a year.

Area K Seiners Association
P.O. Box 2399 Kodiak, Alaska 99615
Phone 907/486-4686 FAX 907/486-7655

The halibut/blackcod stocks are currently healthy, so the conservation of the resource is not an issue.

The issue is, that managers and the "fish gas" would rather see "100 propionas & wealthy fishermen than 1000 fishermen" competing on the grounds. JED's are designed to eliminate numbers of boats, which in turn eliminates crewmembers, operators, and JOBS, from our coastal communities.

We support a simplified, desirable management plan which utilizes traditional management tools -- gear & trip limits, time & area closures, etc. need to be utilized before a drastic, plan such as IFQ's, is needlessly forced onto our fisheries --

The N.P.F.M.C. needs to consider public opinion before making such a monumental decision - especially before socio-economic analyses are studied by the public.

Sincerely,

Jacoby Berno

Honorable Senator Lloyd Jones,

I am James Brown and live in Anchorage and have fished in Kodiak waters since 1969.

I oppose the IFQ system that is currently proposed and ready for implementation in the Alaskan halibut fishery for the following reasons.

1. As proposed it will, over time, reduce the current halibut fleet from some 4000 vessels to as few as a couple hundred vessels. This poses a great economic loss to Alaskan communities that support this sizable fleet.

2. As proposed the granting of quotas is based on a flawed system which rewards those who have cheated by the use of prohibited crucifiers to speed the retrieval of gear and fish at a great cost to juvenile halibut and other species of by catch. It also rewards those who have set gear early and fished after the scheduled closures. As proposed it favors large boats that were able to fish the foul weather of early spring and fall when the openings were scheduled.

3. As proposed the small boat quotas will be acquired over time by larger vessel interests who are capable of taking their catch directly to points south, by passing Alaskan shore facilities altogether.

Once the proposed IFQ system is implemented the halibut resource as a block in the Alaskan economic foundation will be irretrievably lost. I urge you to pass SB 38 and to take whatever steps are necessary to prevent this economic disaster to Alaskan coastal communities and to Alaska as a whole.

I believe that there are numerous avenues that can be taken to maximize the the economic benefit to our communities while still addressing the negatives that are so apparent in the current derby system without adopting such a flawed system as the proposed IFQ system.

Thank you for your time.

DEAR GOV. HICKEL,

I AM 60 YEARS OLD AND HAVE BEEN COMMERCIAL FISHING SALMON AND HALIBUT SINCE 1963.

I AM REALLY ANGRY ABOUT THE IFQ PROGRAM BEING FORCED THRU THE NPFMC WITHOUT CONSIDERATION OF THE MAJORITY OF FISHERMAN! IN 28 YEARS OF HALIBUT FISHING, I HAVE NEVER BEEN ASKED FOR MY INPUT, NEVER BEEN SENT A QUESTIONNAIRE. WHY DON'T THIS COUNCIL WANT MY INPUT?

I WOULD LIKE AN IMMEDIATE EXPLANATION FROM YOU WHY CLEM TILLION IS VOTING AGAINST THE MAJORITY OF ALASKANS?

THERE ARE MANY WAYS TO CONTROL THE HALIBUT FISHERY AND DELIVER FRESH FISH TO MARKET A LONG PERIOD OF TIME. FOR YEARS THE NPFMC HAS IGNORED THESE SOLUTIONS, BECAUSE A SMALL NUMBER OF LARGE BOATS HAVE INPUT TO THE BOARD.

HERE ARE SOME IDEAS WHICH WILL CONTROL THE HALIBUT FISHERY AND DELIVER FRESH FISH ALL SPRING AND SUMMER.

#1 - GEAR LIMITS. A MAJORITY OF FISHERMEN I KNOW FAVOR BEING ABLE TO MAKE LESS PER FISHING PERIOD OVER THE EXISTING SYSTEM.

GEN. LIMITS ARE NOW BEING USED IN PAGE 2
ALMOST ALL ALASKA FISHERIES.

#2 - TRIP LIMITS - THIS RESTRICTION ALONE
COULD SAVE THE FISHERY!

#3 CREATE A COASTAL FISHERY, INCLUDING ALL
WATERS INSIDE THE 12 MILE LIMIT, USE SEVERE GEAR LIMITS, MAYBE 6 SKATERS ON BOARD.

HAVE EXCLUSIVE REGISTRATION FOR THIS FISHERY
EACH YEAR. ASSIGN A PERCENTAGE OF QUOTA, MAYBE 40%.

#4 - DIVIDE THE FLEET IN 4 GROUPS,
EACH GROUP FISHING 1 WEEK OUT OF 4.
EACH FISHERMAN AND BOAT WOULD HAVE TO REGISTER IN 1 AREA EACH YEAR.

I KNOW YOU HAVE MANY IMPORTANT ISSUES
TO DEAL WITH, BUT PLEASE MAKE GOOD ON YOUR STATE OF STATE ADDRESS PLEDGE TO STOP
FEDERAL INTRUSION INTO STATE RIGHTS AND KEEP THESE SMALL MINDED GUYS FROM TAKING

Dear Legislators:

The halibut fishery is a good example of how big money has controlled our fisheries in the recent past, sometimes subtly and sometimes blatantly.

Although I am as concerned about the other fisheries, I shall confine most of my remarks to halibut.

I'll start with a thumbnail historical sketch of the recent halibut fishery.

Open seasons have been getting shorter and shorter due to the increasing number of participants.

What is not so well known by those who are not connected closely to the Alaskan fishing industry, is that [except for 2 areas where the total allowable catch is low] openings have ~~been~~ progressively been timed so that large boats are favored more each succeeding year. This has happened by timing the openings in early spring and fall when the weather is traditionally rough, with less openings each year during summer when the weather is traditionally more calm. Until we arrived at 1991 when there were only 2 openings; spring and fall (at least in Area 3A).

IN 1991 AREA 3A had
48% of the TOTAL U.S. & CANADIAN ^{ALLOWABLE} CATCH or 56% of ALASKA'S T.A.C.
& APPROXIMATELY 50% OF ALASKA'S POPULATION

The IFQ's are based on the catches in these years of less and less openings, so the catch rates (or IFQ's) are already skewed in favor of the larger boats.

This IFQ proposal is an economic issue. Because, if implemented, it will create instant riches for some. And it will mean the end of an income to many small boat fishermen & women, and to the businesses and communities they support.

However, we are told that the IFQ

proposal is: 1. to conserve the resource;
2. to make it safer for fishermen & women;
and 3. to supply fresh fish to the consumer more often.

Now!

If fresh fish to the consumer were the issue, trip limits, area registration, and opening timing could solve it!

If safety were the issue, timing could solve it!

If conservation were the issue, it could be accomplished by such things as, gear limitation, trip limits, area registration, and maybe non-transferable limited entry (with a waiting list for those who wish to enter the fishery)!

And if the Council were really concerned about conservation, how about outlawing trawlers and crucifiers? That's where most bycatch mortality comes from.

According to the International Pacific

Halibut Commission, for 1990 the legal commercial limit was 58.4 million pounds of halibut. The allowed halibut mortality thru bycatch in other fisheries was 18.0 million pounds. That's more than 1 pound out of 5 that was thrown back into the sea, dead, ... wasted!

Few people, if any, will argue that our present system is ok. and should not be changed. But I am totally convinced that IFQs are not the answer. They have not performed well in the two countries that have adopted them!

Besides that, the tools are available right now to control the fisheries, without such a public resource giveaway.

To sum up: I repeat; the IFQ proposal is not a safety, fresh fish, or conservation issue; it's an economic issue. And I am one, among many who are against IFQs.

③

Thank you:

Chair, Senate Resources Committee
Alaska State Legislature

Dear Sir,

I have lived in Alaska 54 years and have fished halibut for 20 years. I am opposed to the present halibut I.F.Q. plan. I believe it would be bad for thousands of Alaskan small boat owners and crewman. The vast majority of people oppose it. The ones who do favor it are mostly outside big boat owners. Also I believe it violates our State Constitution.

I am also opposed to the present two 24 hour per year periods. In place of this "kamakazie derby", I'd like to suggest a radical reduction in the amount of gear permitted on a boat. My suggestion would be to allow no more than 10 hooks per foot of boat length.

This would virtually eliminate the present disgraceful waste resulting from the untold miles of lost and abandoned gear which continues to catch and kill fish for no one knows how long. Fish could be properly cared for in a timely manner. Instead of the present method of piling thousands of pounds of uncleaned fish into holds to be cleaned days later.

Many more people could profit from the fishery rather than a few big boat owners. There could be many more fishery periods. Fresh fish would be available more of the season. It would be constitutional since no one would be denied access to the fishery.

I hope no one says it would be too difficult to enforce! Since when do we say we can't do something simply because its difficult. It would require laws with teeth that would discourage anyone from cheating. But I think that this beats anything else that has been suggested.

Sincerely,

Lionel Haakenson

SITKA FISHERMEN CONCERNED ABOUT THE IFQ PROPOSAL

We the undersigned Sitka fishermen and concerned affected individuals oppose the proposed IFQ plan currently before the NPFMC. We have serious concerns with the following aspects of the proposal;

1. Public hearings have been lacking in the affected communities.
2. Article F2 in this management plan has the potential to permit the trawl fleet to obtain IFQ's for their bycatch.
3. There is no quota for a directed hook & line rockfish fishery which is important to the Sitka economy.
4. We believe this proposal may lead to the reduction of the fleet to it's theoretical minimum of 100 boats in area 2c with a resulting detrimental social and economic effect to the coastal communities.
5. Costs of administrating and enforcing this plan have not been adequately examined.
6. Crewmen are not adequately represented in this proposal.

We petition the NPFMC to delay or withdraw the above mentioned proposal. p. 12

SITKA FISHERMEN CONCERNED ABOUT THE IFQ PROPOSAL

P. 8

We the undersigned Sitka fishermen and concerned affected individuals oppose the proposed IFQ plan currently before the NPFMC. We have serious concerns with the following aspects of the proposal;

1. Public hearings have been lacking in the affected communities.
2. Article F2 in this management plan has the potential to permit the trawl fleet to obtain IFQ's for their bycatch.
3. There is no quota for a directed hook & line rockfish fishery which is important to the Sitka economy.
4. We believe this proposal may lead to the reduction of the fleet to it's theoretical minimum of 100 boats in area 2c with a resulting detrimental social and economic effect to the coastal communities.
5. Costs of administrating and enforcing this plan have not been adequately examined.
6. Crewmen are not adequately represented in this proposal.

We petition the NPFMC to delay or withdraw the above mentioned proposal.

SITKA FISHERMEN CONCERNED ABOUT THE IFQ PROPOSAL

We, the undersigned Sitka fishermen and concerned affected individuals oppose the proposed IFQ plan currently before the NPFMC. We have serious concerns with the following aspects of the proposal;

1. Public hearings have been lacking in the affected communities.
2. Article F2 in this management plan has the potential to permit the trawl fleet to obtain IFQ's for their bycatch.
3. There is no quota for a directed hook & line rockfish fishery which is important to the Sitka economy.
4. We believe this proposal may lead to the reduction of the fleet to it's theoretical minimum of 100 boats in area 2c with a resulting detrimental social and economic effect to the coastal communities.
5. Costs of administrating and enforcing this plan have not been adequately examined.
6. Crewmen are not adequately represented in this proposal. p13

We petition the NPFMC to delay or withdraw the above mentioned proposal.

SITKA FISHERMEN CONCERNED ABOUT THE IFQ PROPOSAL

We the undersigned Sitka fishermen and concerned affected individuals oppose the proposed IFQ plan currently before the NPFMC. We have serious concerns with the following aspects of the proposal;

1. Public hearings have been lacking in the affected communities.
2. Article 22 in this management plan has the potential to permit the trawl fleet to obtain IFQ's for their bycatch.
3. There is no quota for a directed hook & line rockfish fishery which is important to the Sitka economy.
4. We believe this proposal may lead to the reduction of the fleet to it's theoretical minimum of 100 boats in area 2c with a resulting detrimental social and economic effect to the coastal communities.
5. Costs of administrating and enforcing this plan have not been adequately examined.
6. Crewmen are not adequately represented in this proposal.

We petition the NPFMC to delay or withdraw the above mentioned proposal.
