I FEEL THAT BY IMPLEMENTING THIS LEGISLATION YOU WOULD BRING A GREATER BURDEN ON FAMILIES WHOSE PARENTS ALREADY HAVE TO WORK LONG HOURS NOW TO MAKE ENDS MEET. THIS WILL ONLY ENSURE MORE TIME AWAY FROM OUR FAMILIES, AND

ALLOW THE BREAKING DOWN OF FAMILY RELATIONS. I OPPOSE THIS LEGISLATION.

I URGE YOUR SUPPORT TO DEFEAT THIS LEGISLATION. THIS WOULD BE A SETBACK OF 50 YEARS FOR THE WORKING MEN AND WOMEN OF OUR STATE. THE WORKING PEOPLE OF OUR STATE DO NOT DESERVE THIS TYPE OF SPECIAL LEGISLATION THAT WOULD STAMPEDE TO ALL OTHER COMPANIES AND INDUSTRIES. VOTE AGAINST THIS PROPOSED BILL. THANK YOU.

(HB 1, AND HB 52) I BELIEVE IT IS VERY IMPORTANT FOR YOUNG PEOPLE TO NEVER START SMOKING. I SUPPORT A TOBACCO TAX AND I BELIEVE THE MONEY FROM A TOBACCO TAX SHOULD BE USED FOR SCHOOLS TO HELP EDUCATE AND PREVENT TOBACCO

USE. THOSE INDIVIDUALS WHO HAVE BEEN SMOKING FOR YEARS NEED TO MAKE THEIR OWN HEALTH CHOICES. THERE ARE MANY PROGRAMS AVAILABLE THAT CAN HELP THEM TO QUIT SMOKING

Proposal would change rules for overtime

Juneau Empire

■ Voluntary plan would let surface miners work up to 12 hours without earning overtime

By CATHY BROWN

THE JUNEAU EMPIRE

A bill that would have let many Alaskans work up to 12 hours a day without earning overtime went too far, its sponsor says. He's rewriting the bill two days after it was introduced to make clear it applies only to surface mine workers.

Rep. Gene Therriault, a Fairbanks Republican, said he's co-sponsoring House Bill 68 at the request of miners at the Fort Knox gold mine in his district. They want to work 12-hour shifts with more days off in between than they have on their current eight-hour shift schedule.

The bill would exempt employers from the normal requirement to pay overtime after eight hours, if employers and employees agreed to a "voluntary work plan" requesting that arrangement and the state approved that plan.

Employers would still be required to pay overtime for work beyond 40 hours a week.

The bill quickly drew criticism from some lawmakers and administration officials who feared it would erode workers' pay in industries other than mining, and that the agreements would not be purely voluntary.

"They're going to be working the same hours and, of course, earning less," said Juneau Sen. Jim Duncan, a Democrat and Senate minority leader.

Therriault said opposition to the bill is not the reason he's rewriting it. He said he never intended it to apply to anyone other than mine workers and he just didn't pay enough attention to the wording of the bill when he introduced it.

Currently Alaska employers, with certain exceptions, have to pay overtime for anything past eight hours worked in a day, even if total hours for the week do not exceed 40.

Therriault said the bill had broad support from workers and management at Fort Knox. Some have a round-trip commute of an hour and a half a day to get to their jobs, he said, and they would prefer to do that commute less often.

Under a schedule proposed if the legislation passes, those employees would work 14 days of 12 hours each every four weeks, instead of 21 eight-hour days every four weeks.

A 12-hour workday would also be more efficient for the company because it would be running two shifts a day, instead of three, Therriault said.

The bill, under proposed changes, would not affect workers at Greens Creek mine on Admiralty Island since there is no contract underground, not on the surface, Therriault said.

The state Department of Labor did not support the original version of the bill, said Dwight Perkins, legislative liaison for the department. He said officials there would take another look at it now that the focus is being narrowed.

Duncan and fellow Juneau Democrat, Rep. Kim Elton, didn't like the original version. Juneau Republican Rep. Bill Hudson said he had no problem with the bill as long as workers and employers agree to the schedule change.

Mine work day could change

Measure has worker, management support

JUNEAU (AP) — A North Pole lawmaker wants to change Alaska's law to allow surface mine employees to work up to 12 hours a day without earning overtime pay.

Rep. Gene Therriault, R-North Pole, said he is introducing legislation at the request of miners at the Fort Knox gold mine near Fairbanks.

The bill would exempt employers from a requirement to pay overtime after eight hours, if employers and employees voluntarily agreed to a state-approved work plan.

Employers would still be required to pay overtime for work beyond 40 hours a week.

Therriault told the Juneau Empire that the bill had broad support from workers and management at Fort Knox. The mine workers want to cut their commutes to the site by working longer hours for less days a week. If the legislation passes, the miners could be scheduled to work 14 long days every four weeks, rather than 21 shorter days in the same time period. That cuts out seven trips to the mine site.

The bill quickly drew criticism from some lawmakers and administration officials who feared it would erode workers' pay in industries other than mining, and that the agreements would not be purely voluntary.

"They're going to be working the same hours and, of course, earning less," said Senate Minority Leader Jim Duncan, D-Juneau.

Therriault said he is rewriting the bill to make clear it applies only to surface mine workers.

The bill would not affect workers at Greens Creek mine on Admiralty Island since ore there is extracted underground, not on the surface, Therriault said.

The state Department of Labor did not support the original version of the bill, said Dwight Perkins, department spokesman. Perkins said the agency would take another look at the new version of the bill.
