EXPERIENCE:

In my early twenties I pursued political activism. It was my training ground for leadership, public speaking, organizing, peer-counseling, crisis line work and consciousness raising. Since then, I have continued to use these skills. I have complimented this growth with work in individual and group therapy, family of origin and spiritual study. I have done 12 step work, critical incident stress debriefing, regression therapy training, and have participated in and facilitated many workshops.
