Sponsor Statement SCR 21

Over 300 severely emotionally disturbed Alaskan children are currently receiving treatment in residential facilities in other states. Families are being separated, sometimes for years. The flexibility to provide an appropriate mix of treatment between residential and community based care is lost when children must be sent to out of state for treatment. Millions of state dollars and hundreds of jobs are being exported each year.

Alaska currently lacks the necessary facilities to provide the full continuum of community-based and residential care in Alaska for the treatment of severely emotionally disturbed children. The largest gap in this continuum is the lack of residential treatment beds that can provide the necessary level of care in Alaska. SCR 21 asks the Department of Health and Social Services to work with the Alaska Mental Health Board, the Alaska Mental Health Trust Authority and other interested parties to strengthen this continuum of services and to establish a priority for the development of sufficient in-state residential care to serve emotionally disturbed children who would otherwise be placed in out-of-state facilities.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 21

Supporting the development of adequate in-state treatment capacity for severely disturbed children.

FY 2001 Expenditures:

The Department of Health & Social Services has produced data titled "FY2001: Instate/ out of state Medicaid RPTC Data". This information shows there were 423 (65.48%) out of state placement (unduplicated) for Residential Psychiatric Treatment Centers. (copy attached) The out of state expenditure amount is listed as $17,080,959.00, compared to $8,205,973.00 for instate expenditures.

Another report has indicated that Medicaid expenditures for Residential Psychiatric Treatment Centers is one of the fastest growing categories of Service for a 3 year average.

FY 02 Expenditures: The amount of out of state expenditures is growing:

The Division of Medical Assistance FY02 Mental Health Expenditure Report – Provider Type Summary thru November 2001 (copy attached) indicates paid claims through this period are $9,409,745.41 (72.3%). The instate expenditures for this same period is $3,597,399.02 (27.7%).

Alaskan children are being sent outside Alaska for long term mental health treatment.

Alaskan health care dollars (Medicaid) are being spent in other states.

Alaskan jobs are being lost to the lower 48.

Control of the Medicaid expenditures has been a priority of the legislative branch. Data submitted by the department show the average cost per child:

Instate expenditure:	$36,798.09
Out of state:	$40,380.52

The full continuum of care should be strengthened in Alaska to provide care to our children in state.

Maintain access to health care and to provide health coverage for Alaskans in need.

Medicaid provided access to health care to approximately 118,000 Alaskans in FY 2001.

Alaska's largest Medicaid population is our children. On average, children are the least expensive Medicaid recipients.

Medicaid expenditures have increased an average of 17 percent per year from FY 1999 through FY 2001.

General fund expenditures per Medicaid eligible have decreased by $97 since FY 1999. During that same time period, other fund expenditure per eligible have increased by $856

"State Medicaid programs serve as an important safety net for Americans by providing health and long-term care coverage. Reduced state revenues are placing severe strains on many state budgets and could limit Medicaid at a time when additional coverage and spending is most needed."

- The Kaiser Commission on Medicaid and the Uninsured, Medicaid and State Budgets: An October 2001 Update, October 16, 2001.

The National Conference of State Legislatures, State Fiscal Outlook for FY2002 November Update, December 3, 2001, reports 23 of 51 states that specifically note Medicaid as a "Program Over Budget."

Medicaid -

Medicaid is a means-tested, jointly-funded cooperative effort between federal and state governments that provides health care coverage to persons in need. There are 56 individual Medicaid programs - each state, territory and district determines its own eligibility standards, benefits package, and payment rates within federal guidelines.

Alaska's Medicaid program currently provides medical care coverage to approximately 118,000 Alaskans. Persons eligible to receive benefits include children, caretakers of children, pregnant women, the aged, the blind, and the disabled of low-income that meet certain resource standards. Medicaid does not provide assistance to all low-income persons.

Medicaid continues to grow

In FY 2001, Medicaid enrollment increased by about 7,000 people, or 6 percent, over FY 2000. Medical services provided to recipients in FY 2001 cost $525.7 million - a 13 percent increase over FY 2000. Medicaid's claims payment rate of growth has averaged 17 percent since FY 1999.

The following chart shows eligible and expenditures percentages for the four Medicaid eligibility groups: children, adults, elderly and disabled.

The disabled group in each chart includes children (1.5 percent of the eligible numbers and 6 percent of the expenditures).

Proposed Medicaid re-financing options

Re-financing options will reduce the Medicaid general fund request to $7.9 million, except for the fund source change of $18.7 million GF increase due to federal changes to Alaska's Pro-Share program. The division is proposing the Alaska Medicaid Fair-Share Program. This arrangement will make an additional payment for services to Medicaid-eligible beneficiaries to hospitals operated by Alaskan Tribes, up to the payment limit applicable. The hospitals will return 90 percent of the payment to the Medicaid program as statutory designated program receipts that can be used as match for Medicaid service payments. The result is a net savings of $44.3 million in general fund requirements for Medicaid.

In addition, private hospital re-financing options are being considered. The division will make additional payments of $31.7 million to private hospitals up to the aggregate Medicare Upper Payment Limit. The hospitals will retain 5 percent of the payment to pay for state-funded programs previously paid for with direct state grants or contracts. It is anticipated that up to 95 percent of the funds made available, $11.8 million, will be appropriated to the Medicaid Services BRU to cover state match requirements.

Federal funding policy changes

The Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (FMAP) rate was decreased to 57.38 percent for federal fiscal year 2002. Early federal estimates indicate federal fiscal year 2003 will increase slightly to 58.22 percent. These changes are significant and carry with them a projected loss of $10.8 million in federal fund participation if Congressional changes don't continue.

Medicaid Program Incremental Request: $26.6 million general funds, $50.1 other funds, $200.6 federal funds: Total $277.3 million.

SCR 33 – Ovarian Cancer Awareness Month

Sponsor Statement

Senate Concurrent Resolution 33 will designate September as Ovarian Cancer Awareness Month in the state of Alaska. This resolution encourages health care organizations, health care providers, municipalities, private agencies, and individuals to participate in awareness activities throughout the month.

The Alaska Chapter of the National Ovarian Cancer Coalition, founded by Kim Sexton and Deb Donoho in August 2000, respectfully requests this resolution be passed as a commitment to the health of the women of Alaska. The Alaska Chapter hopes to raise awareness about the silent and often misdiagnosed warning signs of ovarian cancer. They are specifically concerned that women may not be aware that:

- In the United States, more women die of ovarian cancer each year than of cervical and endometrial cancers combined.
- The American Cancer Society reports that ovarian cancer accounts for four percent of all cancers among women and ranks fifth as a cause of death.
- The American Cancer Society predicts that approximately 23,000 new cases of ovarian cancer will be diagnosed yearly with 13,000 deaths annually.
- Early detection is key to survival; if the cancer is diagnosed while confined to the ovary the five-year survival rate reaches 93% on average.
- The incidence of advanced stage ovarian cancer is increasing due to the vague symptoms and the lack of a screening test for early detection.

Representatives Dyson, Wilson, Coghill, Stevens, Kohring, Cissna and Joule

Re: SCR33

Esteemed Representatives,

The purpose of my letter today is to ask for your support of SCR33 pertaining to Ovarian Cancer Awareness Month.

The Alaska Division of the National Ovarian Cancer Coalition was formed in August of 2000. Our Mission Statement reads as follows: Our mission is to raise awareness about ovarian cancer and to promote education about this disease. By dispelling myths and misunderstandings, the coalition is committed to improve the overall survival and quality of life from ovarian cancer.

Because each woman diagnosed with ovarian cancer has a different profile, it is impossible to give a general prognosis. If diagnosed and treated early, when the cancer is confined to the ovary, the 5-year survival rate approaches 93 percent (78-98 percent depending upon tumor type, stage, and grade). Unfortunately, due to ovarian cancer's "quiet" symptoms, only 24 percent of all cases are found at this early stage. Because many ovarian cancers are not detected early, the overall 5-year survival rate for women with ovarian cancer is only between 35 percent and 47 percent, depending upon the type of tumor. There are over 30 different types of ovarian cancer.

While the symptoms of ovarian cancer (particularly in the early stages) are often not acute or intense, they are not always silent if you know what to look for. Some symptoms of ovarian cancer include: Pelvic or abdominal pain or discomfort; Vague, but persistent gastrointestinal upsets such as gas, nausea and indigestion; Frequency and/or urgency of urination in absence of an infection; Unexplained changes in bowel habits; Unexplained weight gain or weight loss, particularly weight gain in the abdominal region; Pelvic and/or abdominal swelling, bloating, and/or feeling of fullness; Pain during intercourse; Ongoing fatigue.

No consistently reliable, accurate screening test to detect ovarian cancer exists (the Pap test does not detect it). Only 10-15% of the cases of ovarian cancer are attributed to hereditary causes. While the presence of one or more risk factors may increase a woman's chance of getting ovarian cancer, it does not necessarily mean that she will. A woman should be extra vigilant in watching for early symptoms, however, if she has any of these risk factors: Personal history of breast, endometrial, or colon cancer; Uninterrupted ovulation (infertility, never used birth control pills, or no pregnancies); Increasing age.

At present, there is no known method to prevent ovarian cancer, but some things appear to reduce a woman's risk of developing the disease. They include: Oral contraception: Use of oral contraceptives for a total of five years (does not have to be continuous) can decrease the risk by as much as 60 percent. Breast-feeding and pregnancy: Having one or more children, particularly if the first is born before age 30, plus breast feeding, may decrease a woman's risk. Tubal ligation: Tubal ligation is a surgical procedure in which your fallopian tubes are tied to prevent pregnancy. This procedure does not prevent all or even most cases of ovarian cancer, and therefore should only be done for valid medical reasons, and not solely to reduce the risk of ovarian cancer. Hysterectomy: A woman should not have a hysterectomy exclusively to avoid ovarian cancer risk, but if one is being performed for valid medical reasons and she has a family history of ovarian or breast cancer or is over age 40, she should discuss concurrent ovary removal with her physician. Prophylactic oophorectomy: Oophorectomy is the surgical removal of one or both ovaries. Only recommended for certain extremely high-risk patients, the operation eliminates the risk for ovarian cancer, but not the risk for a less common tumor called Primary Peritoneal Carcinoma. (The reason is that other tissue similar to the ovarian tissue remains in the pelvic cavity and may rarely develop into cancer.)

I thank you for your consideration of SCR33, and look forward to your favorable recommendation to the full House.

Respectfully,

Kim Sexton

SPONSOR STATEMENT FOR SJR 21

Urging the United States Congress to Extend the Authorization Date
for Supplemental Block Grants to the State of Alaska under the Federal Temporary Assistance to Needy Families Program

The Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) block grant established in the 1996 federal welfare reform law, the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act (PRWORA), included modest supplemental grants for 17 relatively poor or rapidly growing states. Alaska's TANF program, Alaska Temporary Assistance, was awarded a "high population" supplemental grant because the state's population grew by more than 10 percent between April 1, 1990 and July 1, 1994.

These supplemental grants included in the 1996 law were authorized only through fiscal year 2001, while PRWORA was authorized through fiscal year 2002. This means that beginning October 1, 2001, the state of Alaska will face a reduction of $6.9 million in TANF funding, or 13% of its block grant.

The term "supplemental grant" is misleading in that these grants were never intended to be merely add-ons. They were designed by the architects of welfare reform as an integral part of the formula used to determine each state's block grant allocation. Alaska is currently using these funds for employment-related and supportive services that are helping to move people off welfare and into self-sufficiency. TANF funds also support a variety of essential services to non-welfare recipients including childcare, child protection and the Head Start program. The elimination of the supplemental grant will force the Department of Health and Social Services to scale back on these efforts compromising the ongoing success of welfare reform.

Many policymakers in Washington D.C. are aware of this issue and the American Public Human Services Association, the Center for Budget and Policy Priorities and the National Governor's Association support the continuation of the supplemental grants.

SJR 21 is addressed to Alaska's congressional delegation and all other members of Congress. Action to extend the supplemental grants will need to be taken by Congress this year before the new federal fiscal year begins in October.

ANALYSIS: (Attach a separate page if necessary)

The federal TANF grant funds cash benefits as well as a variety of services to recipients of the Alaska Temporary Assistance Program including case management, job readiness training, supportive services, short-term job training and pregnancy prevention education. Alaska's high population supplemental TANF grant in the amount of $6,887,000 has become an integral part of the state's block grant and its loss will negatively impact the state's efforts to move recipients from welfare to work. The expiration of the supplemental grant will also result in loss of TANF funding for essential services to non-ATAP families including Head Start, Healthy Families and child protection.

WASHINGTON, DC 20510

March 9, 2001

The Honorable George W. Bush
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

We are writing to call your attention to a program, which has been critical to the success of welfare reform in our states. The Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) block grant established in the 1996 welfare law included modest supplemental grants for 17 relatively poor or rapidly growing states, such as Texas and Florida. These grants were intended to reduce the very large disparity between poorer and wealthier states in TANF funding that resulted from the basic TANF funding formula. These grants have afforded states, like ours, a more adequate opportunity to achieve TANF goals.

While TANF is scheduled to be reauthorized in 2002, the supplemental grants included in the 1996 law were authorized only through October, 2001. This means that under current law, the 17 states currently eligible for these grants will face a reduction in their TANF funding of as much as 10 percent of their block grant starting on October 1 of this year. The other, wealthier, lower growth states will experience no reduction.

These grants are not supplemental in the sense of being add-ons; they were designed as an integral part of the TANF allocation formula and are critical to the success of our states, and many others', TANF programs. These grants have allowed states to expand their welfare and related programs - such as child care and job training initiatives- to include a broader range of services that enable all welfare recipients to become self sufficient. Without the TANF supplemental grants these programs could not have been made available to individuals moving from welfare to work.

For these reasons, we are requesting that a one year extension of the TANF supplemental grants be included in your budget recommendations for fiscal year 2002. This step will help to ensure that high growth states can continue their welfare reform efforts and will enable the supplemental grants to be considered as part of the overall TANF reauthorization next year.

We look forward to working with you to ensure that the accomplishments that states have made in helping people move from public assistance to independence can continue throughout the nation.

Sincerely,

President Bush

The President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

As you know, the historic welfare reform agreement of 1996 will need to be reauthorized during the 107th Congress and the nation's Governors look forward to working with you toward that end. As you prepare to submit your budget recommendations for fiscal year 2002, we want to bring to your attention a key provision of the welfare reform agreement that must be addressed this year. Without an extension of the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) supplemental grants, 17 states will face a reduction in TANF funding in fiscal year 2002.

The TANF supplemental grants were designed to address the needs of states with especially high population growth or historically low welfare benefits. These grants represent a significant portion of the overall level of TANF funding for the 17 states receiving supplemental grants. Cuts of this magnitude would have a significant effect on continued state implementation of welfare reform. The TANF supplemental grants are not provided to states in the form of a bonus, but rather are calculated as an integral part of the states' allocation.

We recognize that this will be one of many TANF funding issues that will be debated within the context of welfare reform reauthorization next year. But in the interim, the nation's Governors are concerned that allowing the supplemental grants to expire while reauthorization is being discussed puts a number of states at a serious disadvantage. On many occasions since the enactment of the 1996 welfare reform package, Governors have voiced strong opposition to actions that would alter the nature of the original agreement. The expiration of the TANF supplemental grants without the benefit of full debate during the reauthorization process would be a violation of the historic agreement.

On behalf of the nation's Governors, we urge you to extend the TANF supplemental grants through fiscal year 2002.

Sincerely,

Governor Harris N. Glendening

Governor John Engler

C: Secretary Tommy G. Thompson

February 26, 2001

The Honorable George W. Bush
 President of the United States
 The White House
 Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear President Bush:

As you decide on the priorities of your Administration for the next four years, the National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL) urges you to give careful consideration to a number of issues within the U.S. Departments of Health and Human Services and Agriculture that are extremely important to state legislators. As a bipartisan organization whose members are keenly aware of how federal decisions impact the lives of America's families, we are ready to work with you on the issues raised below.

The Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) Block Grant

The bold reform of welfare in 1996 has been very successful. Welfare caseloads have declined by more than 50% since the implementation of PRWORA (the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act). More recipients are in the labor force. This success is the result of a federal and state partnership. Making use of the flexibility given us in the 1999 TANF regulations, states have implemented creative strategies to assist both TANF recipients and the working poor. We hope that you will firmly support full funding for the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) block grant.

* { The TANF supplemental grants were designed to ensure that certain states with rapidly growing populations had adequate resources to carry out the goals of the TANF program. TANF supplemental allocations should be made for the next fiscal year to ensure that states can continue the progress of welfare reform and to allow time to deal with this issue during welfare reform reauthorization.

As the 2002 reauthorization approaches, state legislators will have TANF funding and flexibility to administer the TANF program as their highest priorities. A key feature of the law was the devolution to the states of decision-making authority. NCSL requests that members of your domestic policy staff and HHS officials meet with a small group of legislators early in the reauthorization process. This would be an ideal opportunity to discuss state issues and concerns before you finalize your reauthorization proposal.

The Social Services Block Grant (SSBG, Title XX of the Social Security Act)

SSBG funds are a vital part of the delivery of community and home-based services to the most vulnerable segments of society including the disabled, elderly, and children in need of protective services. NCSL urges you to fund the SSBG at the $2.38 billion level as agreed to as part of the enactment of the 1996 welfare reform act. In addition, it is critical that the amount states can transfer from their TANF grants to the SSBG remains at 10% and is not reduced.

Restoration of Benefits for Legal Immigrants

NCSL urges you to restore food and health benefits for legal immigrants and end a cost-shift to the states. The 1996 welfare reform law denied food stamps to all legal immigrants and their children and denied Medicaid to certain legal immigrants and their children. While NCSL supported the 1996 welfare reform law, NCSL opposed these particular provisions. NCSL believes that in so doing, the federal government abdicated its responsibility to fund the consequences of its decisions regarding immigration. To their credit, states rose to the challenge. Many states, for example, created their own food assistance programs or increased state funding to food banks. The 1996 immigration provisions had nothing to do with the fundamental goals of the Temporary Assistance to Needy Families program— to promote self-sufficiency and family stability through a work-first, time-limited program. Efforts to restore food stamp benefits and ensure an option for states to provide Medicaid and SCHIP have bipartisan support. NCSL asks you to consider including funding for the restoration of benefits in your budget as way of helping hard-working new Americans and restoring equilibrium to the state/federal partnership.

Food Stamps

The food stamp program is in need of reform. NCSL is concerned that many working families whose income makes them eligible for food stamps are not receiving them. From 1994 to 1998, the participation rate fell from 71% of 59% of eligible individuals. Federal law is often a barrier to state innovation. Many times federal food stamp provisions are in conflict with state welfare reform efforts. While numerous factors influence the participation rate, NCSL believes that state outreach is hampered by fear of quality control errors. We urge you to consider changes in this program and to include NCSL in the discussion.

Waivers

As a general principle, NCSL encourages you to support waiver programs at U.S. Departments of Health and Human Services and Agriculture that allow states to implement innovative approaches to the delivery of human services programs. Waivers allow states to address the unique needs of their populations, and help the federal government discern best practices. Policy flexibility will result in better outcomes for our families and children.

Thank you for your attention to NCSL's concerns. NCSL is well aware that as a former governor, you understand the need for flexibility and partnership in delivering services that benefit Americans in need. If you wish to discuss these issues further, please contact Sheri Steisel, Federal Affairs Counsel, in our Washington office. Sheri can be reached at (202) 624-8693, or at sheri.steisel@ncsl.org.

Subject: TANF Supplemental Grants

EFFORTS UNDERWAY TO SUPPORT CONTINUATION OF TANF SUPPLEMENTAL GRANTS
 3/22/2001

TANF supplemental grants were awarded to 17 states and are set to expire this year. Efforts are now underway to try to extend this grant until reauthorization of the welfare reform law next year. Under the 1996 welfare reform law, supplemental grants were provided to states with high rates of population growth and with historically low levels of welfare spending per capita. Referred to formally as the "Population Growth and Poverty Adjuster", a total of $800 million was authorized for FY 1998 to FY 2001 for the TANF supplemental. Without Congressional action, the TANF supplemental will expire at the end of FY2001.

The 17 states are Alabama, Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Idaho, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nevada, Texas, Florida, Georgia, Montana, New Mexico, North Carolina, and Tennessee.

NCSL included support for a one year extension of the TANF supplemental in a recent letter to President Bush on welfare-related budget issues (<http://www.ncsl.org/statefed/humserv/bushltr2.htm>). On March 9, a group of US Senators sent a letter to President Bush urging him to support a one year extension of the TANF supplemental grants in his budget recommendations for FY2002. The Senators signing the letter were Bob Graham, Kay Bailey Hutchison, John Ensign, Thad Cochran, Ted Stevens, Jeff Sessions, Harry Reid, John Breaux, Blanche Lincoln, Larry Craig, Fred Thompson, Jeff Bingaman, Jesse Helms and Conrad Burns. If you would like a copy of the letter, please contact Lee Posey at NCSL at 202/624-8196 or Lee.Posey@NCSL.org

This is a good time for states to contact their House and Senate delegations to support a one-year extension of the TANF supplemental grant. For further information, please contact Sheri Steisel at sheri.steisel@ncsl.org or Lee Posey at NCSL.
How States Qualify for Funding Under the TANF Supplemental

Under the "automatic qualification" criteria for grants, states qualified for full supplemental grants in all four fiscal years if the level of state welfare spending per poor person by the state in FY 1994 was less than 35% of the national average or the state's population increased by more than 10 percent between April 1, 1990 and July 1, 1994. States automatically qualified for TANF supplemental grants are Alabama, Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Idaho, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nevada, Texas, and Utah.

Under the "general eligibility qualification" criteria, states qualified for a grant for a fiscal year if the level of welfare spending per poor person in the state for the previous fiscal year is less than the national average and the state's population growth in the most recent year for which data are available is greater than the national average population for all states in the same period. These states receive supplemental grants in subsequent years, but amount of the grant they can receive depends on whether or not the state remains qualified for that particular year. States that met the general eligibility criteria in FY 1998 (and thus are eligible for subsequent fiscal years) are Florida, Georgia, Montana, New Mexico, North Carolina, and Tennessee.

SPONSOR STATEMENT FOR SJR 21

Urging the United States Congress to Extend the Authorization Date
for Supplemental Block Grants to the State of Alaska under the Federal Temporary Assistance to Needy Families Program

The Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) block grant established in the 1996 federal welfare reform law, the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act (PRWORA), included modest supplemental grants for 17 relatively poor or rapidly growing states. Alaska's TANF program, Alaska Temporary Assistance, was awarded a "high population" supplemental grant because the state's population grew by more than 10 percent between April 1, 1990 and July 1, 1994.

These supplemental grants included in the 1996 law were authorized only through fiscal year 2001, while PRWORA was authorized through fiscal year 2002. This means that beginning October 1, 2001, the state of Alaska will face a reduction of $6.9 million in TANF funding, or 13% of its block grant.

The term "supplemental grant" is misleading in that these grants were never intended to be merely add-ons. They were designed by the architects of welfare reform as an integral part of the formula used to determine each state's block grant allocation. Alaska is currently using these funds for employment-related and supportive services that are helping to move people off welfare and into self-sufficiency. TANF funds also support a variety of essential services to non-welfare recipients including childcare, child protection and the Head Start program. The elimination of the supplemental grant will force the Department of Health and Social Services to scale back on these efforts compromising the ongoing success of welfare reform.

Many policymakers in Washington D.C. are aware of this issue and the American Public Human Services Association, the Center for Budget and Policy Priorities and the National Governor's Association support the continuation of the supplemental grants.

SJR 21 is addressed to Alaska's congressional delegation and all other members of Congress. Action to extend the supplemental grants will need to be taken by Congress this year before the new federal fiscal year begins in October.

ANALYSIS: (Attach a separate page if necessary)

The federal TANF grant funds cash benefits as well as a variety of services to recipients of the Alaska Temporary Assistance Program including case management, job readiness training, supportive services, short-term job training and pregnancy prevention education. Alaska's high population supplemental TANF grant in the amount of $6,887,000 has become an integral part of the state's block grant and its loss will negatively impact the state's efforts to move recipients from welfare to work. The expiration of the supplemental grant will also result in loss of TANF funding for essential services to non-ATAP families including Head Start, Healthy Families and child protection.

WASHINGTON, DC 20510

March 9, 2001

The Honorable George W. Bush
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

We are writing to call your attention to a program, which has been critical to the success of welfare reform in our states. The Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) block grant established in the 1996 welfare law included modest supplemental grants for 17 relatively poor or rapidly growing states, such as Texas and Florida. These grants were intended to reduce the very large disparity between poorer and wealthier states in TANF funding that resulted from the basic TANF funding formula. These grants have afforded states, like ours, a more adequate opportunity to achieve TANF goals.

While TANF is scheduled to be reauthorized in 2002, the supplemental grants included in the 1996 law were authorized only through October, 2001. This means that under current law, the 17 states currently eligible for these grants will face a reduction in their TANF funding of as much as 10 percent of their block grant starting on October 1 of this year. The other, wealthier, lower growth states will experience no reduction.

These grants are not supplemental in the sense of being add-ons; they were designed as an integral part of the TANF allocation formula and are critical to the success of our states, and many others', TANF programs. These grants have allowed states to expand their welfare and related programs - such as child care and job training initiatives- to include a broader range of services that enable all welfare recipients to become self sufficient. Without the TANF supplemental grants these programs could not have been made available to individuals moving from welfare to work.

For these reasons, we are requesting that a one year extension of the TANF supplemental grants be included in your budget recommendations for fiscal year 2002. This step will help to ensure that high growth states can continue their welfare reform efforts and will enable the supplemental grants to be considered as part of the overall TANF reauthorization next year.

We look forward to working with you to ensure that the accomplishments that states have made in helping people move from public assistance to independence can continue throughout the nation.

Sincerely,

President Bush

The President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

As you know, the historic welfare reform agreement of 1996 will need to be reauthorized during the 107th Congress and the nation's Governors look forward to working with you toward that end. As you prepare to submit your budget recommendations for fiscal year 2002, we want to bring to your attention a key provision of the welfare reform agreement that must be addressed this year. Without an extension of the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) supplemental grants, 17 states will face a reduction in TANF funding in fiscal year 2002.

The TANF supplemental grants were designed to address the needs of states with especially high population growth or historically low welfare benefits. These grants represent a significant portion of the overall level of TANF funding for the 17 states receiving supplemental grants. Cuts of this magnitude would have a significant effect on continued state implementation of welfare reform. The TANF supplemental grants are not provided to states in the form of a bonus, but rather are calculated as an integral part of the states' allocation.

We recognize that this will be one of many TANF funding issues that will be debated within the context of welfare reform reauthorization next year. But in the interim, the nation's Governors are concerned that allowing the supplemental grants to expire while reauthorization is being discussed puts a number of states at a serious disadvantage. On many occasions since the enactment of the 1996 welfare reform package, Governors have voiced strong opposition to actions that would alter the nature of the original agreement. The expiration of the TANF supplemental grants without the benefit of full debate during the reauthorization process would be a violation of the historic agreement.

On behalf of the nation's Governors, we urge you to extend the TANF supplemental grants through fiscal year 2002.

Sincerely,

Governor Parris N. Glendening

Governor John Engler

C: Secretary Tommy G. Thompson

February 26, 2001

The Honorable George W. Bush
 President of the United States
 The White House
 Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear President Bush:

As you decide on the priorities of your Administration for the next four years, the National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL) urges you to give careful consideration to a number of issues within the U.S. Departments of Health and Human Services and Agriculture that are extremely important to state legislators. As a bipartisan organization whose members are keenly aware of how federal decisions impact the lives of America's families, we are ready to work with you on the issues raised below.

The Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) Block Grant

The bold reform of welfare in 1996 has been very successful. Welfare caseloads have declined by more than 50% since the implementation of PRWORA (the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act). More recipients are in the labor force. This success is the result of a federal and state partnership. Making use of the flexibility given us in the 1999 TANF regulations, states have implemented creative strategies to assist both TANF recipients and the working poor. We hope that you will firmly support full funding for the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) block grant.

* { The TANF supplemental grants were designed to ensure that certain states with rapidly growing populations had adequate resources to carry out the goals of the TANF program. TANF supplemental allocations should be made for the next fiscal year to ensure that states can continue the progress of welfare reform and to allow time to deal with this issue during welfare reform reauthorization.

As the 2002 reauthorization approaches, state legislators will have TANF funding and flexibility to administer the TANF program as their highest priorities. A key feature of the law was the devolution to the states of decision-making authority. NCSL requests that members of your domestic policy staff and HHS officials meet with a small group of legislators early in the reauthorization process. This would be an ideal opportunity to discuss state issues and concerns before you finalize your reauthorization proposal.

The Social Services Block Grant (SSBG, Title XX of the Social Security Act)

SSBG funds are a vital part of the delivery of community and home-based services to the most vulnerable segments of society including the disabled, elderly, and children in need of protective services. NCSL urges you to fund the SSBG at the $2.38 billion level as agreed to as part of the enactment of the 1996 welfare reform act. In addition, it is critical that the amount states can transfer from their TANF grants to the SSBG remains at 10% and is not reduced.

Restoration of Benefits for Legal Immigrants

NCSL urges you to restore food and health benefits for legal immigrants and end a cost-shift to the states. The 1996 welfare reform law denied food stamps to all legal immigrants and their children and denied Medicaid to certain legal immigrants and their children. While NCSL supported the 1996 welfare reform law, NCSL opposed these particular provisions. NCSL believes that in so doing, the federal government abdicated its responsibility to fund the consequences of its decisions regarding immigration. To their credit, states rose to the challenge. Many states, for example, created their own food assistance programs or increased state funding to food banks. The 1996 immigration provisions had nothing to do with the fundamental goals of the Temporary Assistance to Needy Families program-- to promote self-sufficiency and family stability through a work-first, time-limited program. Efforts to restore food stamp benefits and ensure an option for states to provide Medicaid and SCHIP have bipartisan support. NCSL asks you to consider including funding for the restoration of benefits in your budget as way of helping hard-working new Americans and restoring equilibrium to the state/federal partnership.

Food Stamps

The food stamp program is in need of reform. NCSL is concerned that many working families whose income makes them eligible for food stamps are not receiving them. From 1994 to 1998, the participation rate fell from 71% of 59% of eligible individuals. Federal law is often a barrier to state innovation. Many times federal food stamp provisions are in conflict with state welfare reform efforts. While numerous factors influence the participation rate, NCSL believes that state outreach is hampered by fear of quality control errors. We urge you to consider changes in this program and to include NCSL in the discussion.

Waivers

As a general principle, NCSL encourages you to support waiver programs at U.S. Departments of Health and Human Services and Agriculture that allow states to implement innovative approaches to the delivery of human services programs. Waivers allow states to address the unique needs of their populations, and help the federal government discern best practices. Policy flexibility will result in better outcomes for our families and children.

Thank you for your attention to NCSL's concerns. NCSL is well aware that as a former governor, you understand the need for flexibility and partnership in delivering services that benefit Americans in need. If you wish to discuss these issues further, please contact Sheri Steisel, Federal Affairs Counsel, in our Washington office. Sheri can be reached at (202) 624-8693, or at sheri.steisel@ncsl.org.

Subject: TANF Supplemental Grants

3/22/2001

TANF supplemental grants were awarded to 17 states and are set to expire this year. Efforts are now underway to try to extend this grant until reauthorization of the welfare reform law next year. Under the 1996 welfare reform law, supplemental grants were provided to states with high rates of population growth and with historically low levels of welfare spending per capita. Referred to formally as the "Population Growth and Poverty Adjuster", a total of $800 million was authorized for FY 1998 to FY 2001 for the TANF supplemental. Without Congressional action, the TANF supplemental will expire at the end of FY2001.

The 17 states are Alabama, Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Idaho, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nevada, Texas, Utah, Florida, Georgia, Montana, New Mexico, North Carolina, and Tennessee.

NCSL included support for a one year extension of the TANF supplemental in a recent letter to President Bush on welfare-related budget issues (<http://www.ncsl.org/statefed/humserv/bushltr2.htm>). On March 9, a group of US Senators sent a letter to President Bush urging him to support a one year extension of the TANF supplemental grants in his budget recommendations for FY2002. The Senators signing the letter were Bob Graham, Kay Bailey Hutchison, John Ensign, Thad Cochran, Ted Stevens, Jeff Sessions, Harry Reid, John Breaux, Blanche Lincoln, Larry Craig, Fred Thompson, Jeff Bingaman, Jesse Helms and Conrad Burns. If you would like a copy of the letter, please contact Lee Posey at NCSL at 202/624-8196 or Lee.Posey@NCSL.org

This is a good time for states to contact their House and Senate delegations to support a one-year extension of the TANF supplemental grant. For further information, please contact Sheri Steisel at sheri.steisel@ncsl.org or Lee Posey at NCSL.
How States Qualify for Funding Under the TANF Supplemental

Under the "automatic qualification" criteria for grants, states qualified for full supplemental grants in all four fiscal years if the level of state welfare spending per poor person by the state in FY 1994 was less than 35% of the national average or the state's population increased by more than 10 percent between April 1, 1990 and July 1, 1994. States automatically qualified for TANF supplemental grants are Alabama, Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Idaho, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nevada, Texas, and Utah.

Under the "general eligibility qualification" criteria, states qualified for a grant for a fiscal year if the level of welfare spending per poor person in the state for the previous fiscal year is less than the national average and the state's population growth in the most recent year for which data are available is greater than the national average population for all states in the same period. These states receive supplemental grants in subsequent years, but amount of the grant they can receive depends on whether or not the state remains qualified for that particular year. States that met the general eligibility criteria in FY 1998 (and thus are eligible for subsequent fiscal years) are Florida, Georgia, Montana, New Mexico, North Carolina, and Tennessee.

SPONSOR STATEMENT FOR SJR 21

Urging the United States Congress to Extend the Authorization Date
for Supplemental Block Grants to the State of Alaska under the Federal Temporary Assistance to Needy Families Program

The Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) block grant established in the 1996 federal welfare reform law, the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act (PRWORA), included modest supplemental grants for 17 relatively poor or rapidly growing states. Alaska's TANF program, Alaska Temporary Assistance, was awarded a "high population" supplemental grant because the state's population grew by more than 10 percent between April 1, 1990 and July 1, 1994.

These supplemental grants included in the 1996 law were authorized only through fiscal year 2001, while PRWORA was authorized through fiscal year 2002. This means that beginning October 1, 2001, the state of Alaska will face a reduction of $6.9 million in TANF funding, or 13% of its block grant.

The term "supplemental grant" is misleading in that these grants were never intended to be merely add-ons. They were designed by the architects of welfare reform as an integral part of the formula used to determine each state's block grant allocation. Alaska is currently using these funds for employment-related and supportive services that are helping to move people off welfare and into self-sufficiency. TANF funds also support a variety of essential services to non-welfare recipients including childcare, child protection and the Head Start program. The elimination of the supplemental grant will force the Department of Health and Social Services to scale back on these efforts compromising the ongoing success of welfare reform.

Many policymakers in Washington D.C. are aware of this issue and the American Public Human Services Association, the Center for Budget and Policy Priorities and the National Governor's Association support the continuation of the supplemental grants.

SJR 21 is addressed to Alaska's congressional delegation and all other members of Congress. Action to extend the supplemental grants will need to be taken by Congress this year before the new federal fiscal year begins in October.

ANALYSIS: (Attach a separate page if necessary)
 The federal TANF grant funds cash benefits as well as a variety of services to recipients of the Alaska Temporary Assistance Program including case management, job readiness training, supportive services, short-term job training and pregnancy prevention education. Alaska's high population supplemental TANF grant in the amount of $6,887,000 has become an integral part of the state's block grant and its loss will negatively impact the state's efforts to move recipients from welfare to work. The expiration of the supplemental grant will also result in loss of TANF funding for essential services to non-ATAP families including Head Start, Healthy Families and child protection.

SENATOR JERRY V [REDACTED]

United States Senate

WASHINGTON, DC 20510

March 9, 2001

The Honorable George W. Bush
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

We are writing to call your attention to a program, which has been critical to the success of welfare reform in our states. The Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) block grant established in the 1996 welfare law included modest supplemental grants for 17 relatively poor or rapidly growing states, such as Texas and Florida. These grants were intended to reduce the very large disparity between poorer and wealthier states in TANF funding that resulted from the basic TANF funding formula. These grants have afforded states, like ours, a more adequate opportunity to achieve TANF goals.

While TANF is scheduled to be reauthorized in 2002, the supplemental grants included in the 1996 law were authorized only through October, 2001. This means that under current law, the 17 states currently eligible for these grants will face a reduction in their TANF funding of as much as 10 percent of their block grant starting on October 1 of this year. The other, wealthier, lower growth states will experience no reduction.

These grants are not supplemental in the sense of being add-ons; they were designed as an integral part of the TANF allocation formula and are critical to the success of our states, and many others', TANF programs. These grants have allowed states to expand their welfare and related programs - such as child care and job training initiatives - to include a broader range of services that enable all welfare recipients to become self sufficient. Without the TANF supplemental grants these programs could not have been made available to individuals moving from welfare to work.

For these reasons, we are requesting that a one year extension of the TANF supplemental grants be included in your budget recommendations for fiscal year 2002. This step will help to ensure that high growth states can continue their welfare reform efforts and will enable the supplemental grants to be considered as part of the overall TANF reauthorization next year.

We look forward to working with you to ensure that the accomplishments that states have made in helping people move from public assistance to independence can continue throughout the nation.

Sincerely,

President Bush

Dear Mr. President:

As you know, the historic welfare reform agreement of 1996 will need to be reauthorized during the 107th Congress and the nation's Governors look forward to working with you toward that end. As you prepare to submit your budget recommendations for fiscal year 2002, we want to bring to your attention a key provision of the welfare reform agreement that must be addressed this year. Without an extension of the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) supplemental grants, 17 states will face a reduction in TANF funding in fiscal year 2002.

The TANF supplemental grants were designed to address the needs of states with especially high population growth or historically low welfare benefits. These grants represent a significant portion of the overall level of TANF funding for the 17 states receiving supplemental grants. Cuts of this magnitude would have a significant effect on continued state implementation of welfare reform. The TANF supplemental grants are not provided to states in the form of a bonus, but rather are calculated as an integral part of the states' allocation.

We recognize that this will be one of many TANF funding issues that will be debated within the context of welfare reform reauthorization next year. But in the interim, the nation's Governors are concerned that allowing the supplemental grants to expire while reauthorization is being discussed puts a number of states at a serious disadvantage. On many occasions since the enactment of the 1996 welfare reform package, Governors have voiced strong opposition to actions that would alter the nature of the original agreement. The expiration of the TANF supplemental grants without the benefit of full debate during the reauthorization process would be a violation of the historic agreement.

On behalf of the nation's Governors, we urge you to extend the TANF supplemental grants through fiscal year 2002.

Sincerely,

Governor Parris N. Glendening
