Division Concerns and Focus

The Commissioner of Revenue appointed an eleven member rule-making committee that represented permittees, operators, MBPs, distributors, vendors, the public and the Division. Using the proposed regulations as a working document, the committee held nine meetings over five months in Anchorage, Fairbanks and Kenai to take public testimony, review, discuss and draft new proposed regulations. The committee issued its final report on July 31, 2002. The report reflected consensus on every provision of its proposed regulations, except the issue of whether a person who manages more than one permittee must become an operator, and the provision that a distributor cannot be a lessor of property used to conduct gaming activity. The vote on these provisions was nine for and two against.

In August 2002, the Division held public hearings on the revised regulations in Fairbanks, Anchorage, Soldotna and Juneau. The Division considered the testimony and comments and adopted regulations that became effective January 1, 2003.

persons who served in the Alaska Territorial Guard. (In 2002, this category included licensees such as American Legion Posts in various locations, Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts in various locations, and the Alaska National Guard Enlisted Association.)

NOTE: The specific organizations listed above are provided for demonstration purposes only.

The sub-committee does not recommend that the statutory exception allowing "Charitable Gaming" be changed. However, the sub-committee does recommend the full committee review the list of permitted gaming groups for the purpose of considering changes that would assure that pull-tab licensees fulfill some charitable purpose. For example, the sub-committee recommends that the full committee examine whether or not participants such as municipalities, political organizations, chambers of commerce or native villages should be beneficiaries of pull-tab income from Alaska's "charitable gaming" exception. However, because of the not-for-profit status of the currently qualified organizations, the sub-committee recommends that raffle licenses continue to be granted to all the current gaming groups.

PROXIMITY

As stated above, during the 2003 full Committee hearings, it became evident that some permittees domiciled in one community operate their pull-tab licenses in other communities. Hence, so-called "charitable gaming" revenue from pull-tab gambling in some communities did not benefit those communities at all. Rather, that revenue went to organizations in communities sometimes hundreds of miles distant. This led to the question of whether or not the legislature should institute a geographic proximity limit for the operation of pull-tab licenses.

The sub-committee found that there are a number of reasons pull-tab permittees operate in distant locations. For example:

- some organizations (i.e., the American Red Cross) have a state-wide presence and mission;
- some rural permittees do not have a very large population base and have found it more profitable to operate in urban locations;
- some operators conduct gaming activities for multiple permittees in multiple communities. Because games for each permittee are played in each location, revenue travels from community to community;

- some communities charge sales tax on pull-tab sales and permittees have found they can net more by operating in communities that do not have a sales tax; and
- some communities are saturated with pull-tab operations and there was entry opportunity in some other community.

The sub-committee did not reach a unified recommendation regarding specific action to address this proximity question. However, the members agree this matter begs for continued discussion in the full committee and would benefit from further public testimony before a final decision is reached.

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

In the course of the sub-committee hearings there was testimony regarding other elements of the "charitable gaming" industry. It became clear that many permittees depend on gambling revenue as either "a" or "the" major source of their revenue. Therefore, they fear that any change in the gaming structure would have devastating effects on their operations.

Operators testified that they operated on small margins and that changes could easily put them out of business.

Gerry Richards, a CPA from Fairbanks whose company, Richards, Johnson and Granberry, audits several gaming operations, provided testimony to the sub-committee that presented several suggestions for simplifying and or clarifying gaming statutes. For example, Mr. Richards suggested that the Legislature allow licensed operators to pool gaming activities of all their permittees. Pooling is currently allowed for Multiple Beneficiary Permittees and, if extended to operators, would result in operators spreading the sales between more permittees, which would result in a more even flow of the net proceeds throughout the year. A copy of Mr. Richard's testimony is attached hereto.

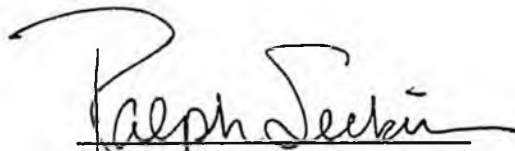

SUMMARY

Gaming in Alaska is big business. In calendar year 2002, the total amount gamed by the public exceeded $358,000,000. After prizes were paid out, approximately $85,000,000 was available for gaming expenses and net proceeds to benefit municipalities and qualified organizations.¹

As more and more municipalities and qualified organizations turn to gambling as a revenue source, the pie is sliced thinner and thinner. That competition makes it harder and harder for small organizations to effectively compete for any share at all.

It is time for the Alaska Legislature to examine the "charitable gaming" exception to the general gambling prohibition. This sub-committee recommends the legislature start by examining and re-defining whether or not municipalities, political organizations and certain other currently qualified organizations should be permitted to operate pull-tab operations. Additionally, the sub-committee recommends that the legislature consider a geographic proximity limitation that would keep "charitable gaming" revenue in the community where the proceeds are generated.

2002 Current Events and Regulatory Actions

Court Proceedings

Botelho vs. Griffin: The Attorney General brought this action in 1998 to require the defendants, Mark and Sue Griffin and business entities that they either owned or controlled, to give up gaming proceeds received through alleged violations of gaming laws. The suit was originally brought on behalf of 13 permittees that relied upon Sue Griffin to manage their gaming operations. Some of these permittees told the court that they did not want to be part of the case. Another permittee, West High Alumni Association, opted out later and settled its dispute for an unspecified amount of money.

After the permittees opted out, the Griffins obtained an order from the Superior Court that prevented the Attorney General from seeking reimbursement of money owed to beneficiaries of the opted-out permittees. The Attorney General appealed this action to the Alaska Supreme Court. The Supreme Court reversed the lower court, and found that the boards of organizations with gaming permits have a fiduciary duty to ensure that their managers or operators pay them all the gaming proceeds to which they are entitled under the law and then to use those proceeds on behalf of the beneficiaries of their organizations. If the boards fail to meet this fiduciary duty, the Attorney General may pursue damage claims against the Griffins without the consent of the permittees.

Prior to trial, in August of 2002, the case settled under terms that required Mark and Sue Griffin to pay $400,000 in cash for distribution to permittees. The Griffins settled without acknowledging any wrongdoing.

James Stewart vs. Department of Revenue: James Stewart, while a charitable gaming operator in 1995, passed on the cost of pull-tab games to the permittees for whom he was conducting gaming. He also failed to report those costs to the department as gaming expenses. This tactic would have allowed him to increase the amount he charged permittees for his operating fee. The Division's audit found that, when the costs of pull-tabs were included, Stewart exceeded the expense cap by $186,021. The Division ordered him to refund this amount, with interest, to the permittees. Mr. Stewart unsuccessfully appealed this order to the Superior Court and then to the Alaska Supreme Court. In September of 2003, before a Court ruling, the parties settled the case with terms that Stewart pay $200,000 to the permittees.

UMPCO, MCAC, & UCA vs Department of Revenue: In August of 2002, three multiple-beneficiary permittees, United Multiple Permittees Company (UMPC), Multiple Charities Association Co-op (MCAC), and United Charities Association, filed a civil action in Superior Court to prevent the Department from continuing its ongoing MBP compliance project for 2002. The court granted a summary judgment motion and found that the Division must adopt regulations before continuing with its 2002 MBP compliance project.

2002 Current Events and Regulatory Actions

Downtown Bicycle Rental, Inc., and Peter Roberts vs. State of Alaska: Downtown Bicycle Rental, Inc., (DBRI) filed suit in Superior Court on October 3, 2002, alleging the state negligently approved a gaming permit for Earth, a tax-exempt corporation. Earth used money from the permit to operate a free bike program in downtown Anchorage. DBRI contends that Earth's free bike program interfered with its property rights because it lured "affluent pedestrian tourists" away from existing tax-paying bike businesses. The Attorney General filed a motion to dismiss, which the Superior Court granted in part, without prejudice, on December 2, 2002. The case is ongoing and the parties are discussing settlement.

Other 2002 Regulatory Actions

Felony Conviction: As a result of an investigation conducted by the Juneau Police Department involving a loss of gaming funds, a former employee of Tlingit-Haida Community Council Juneau, Cecilia Derose-Noe (Beiery), was convicted of Forgery in the Second Degree. The court imposed a four year prison sentence with two years suspended, ordered Derose-Noe to pay restitution of $16,214 and placed her on probation for 10 years.

American Legion Auxiliary Post 17 (Kodiak): A permittee, the American Legion Post 17 asked the Division to investigate shortages in gaming proceeds. The Division discovered shortages of $57,174 for 1999 and 2000. The Kodiak Police Department and the Gaming Group conducted a joint investigation that found the bookkeeper had collected pull-tab proceeds, completed deposit slips, made deposits to the gaming account and entered deposits into the Auxiliary's check register. Interviews revealed the Auxiliary board members had not reviewed the bookkeeper's work with the gaming account and records since 1997. The District Attorney's office declined to prosecute the bookkeeper. The Division suspended the Auxiliary's gaming permits for 30 days for misuse of net proceeds, failure to deposit pull-tab money into the gaming account and failure to keep adequate records.

Palmer Moose Lodge #793: The Division issued this organization a Notice of Violation and Notice of Suspension for a 30-day period for allowing unlicensed gaming activities (sports boards) to take place on permitted premises. After an appeal of the suspension, the Moose Lodge and the Division agreed to a sanction of two five-day periods of suspension.

Sue Griffin, an operator, conducted an illegal gambling event in the form of a Calcutta at the Anchorage Billiard Palace in conjunction with a billiard tournament during Fur Rendezvous. The Division considers a Calcutta-style event to be illegal gambling because it requires a person to stake or risk something of value upon the outcome of a future event not under the person's control or influence. The Anchorage Police Department, Alcoholic Beverage Control Board (ABC) and the Gaming Group participated in this investigation. ABC served a search warrant for gambling records on the Anchorage Billiard Palace and Hot Rods, both owned by Mark and Sue Griffin. Based on the illegal gambling that occurred at the Anchorage Billiard Palace, the Division issued a seven-day suspension of Ms. Griffin's operator license and the gaming permit for the Northern Lights Bingo Hall, also owned by Ms. Griffin.

2002 Current Events and Regulatory Actions

VFW Post #9365, Wasilla, as a permittee, was authorized to sell pull-tabs and conduct raffles and lotteries. During a routine inspection, a Gaming Group investigator observed that the fraternal organization was conducting two illegal Super Bowl sports boards. The Wasilla Police Department seized the sports boards and $720 in cash. As a result of the illegal activity, the Division suspended the Post's gaming permit for 30 days.

The Sitka Moose Lodge noticed a shortage in pull-tab sales. The Lodge installed surveillance cameras that revealed Joseph Anselm, janitor at the lodge, had a key to the boxes containing the pull-tabs. He had been stealing the pull-tabs over the course of three months and cashing in the winners. The Lodge reported a shortage of $22,373. The Sitka Police Department investigated this case and obtained Anselm's confession of the pull-tab theft. Anselm pled guilty to Theft in the Third Degree and was sentenced to 365 days in jail (suspended), restitution of $22,400 and probation for four years, 80 hours of community work service, and counseling for treatment of gambling addiction.

Native Village of Upper Kalskag. Racheal Wise, Primary Member in Charge for the Native Village of Upper Kalskag, admitted to a Gaming Group investigator that she had purchased pull-tabs from games sold by this organization during the weekend of August 17/18, 2002, winning $1,000 in prizes. As a member in charge of an organization, gaming laws prohibit Wise from making such purchases of pull-tabs because of the likelihood that a member in charge would have knowledge about prizes paid out on pull-tab games. Consequently, the Division suspended the Village's gaming permit for seven days.

Klawock Cooperative Association. Janine Harmon was the Gaming Manager in Klawock whose organization was selling pull-tabs through a permit overseen by the National Indian Gaming Commission. Delores Peratrovich worked at Klawock Liquor, where she sold pull-tabs for the City of Klawock through a permit issued by the State of Alaska. In May of 2002, a joint criminal investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Gaming Group dealt with Harmon and Peratrovich exchanging inside information on pull-tab games sold at each pull-tab shop. Harmon cooperated with the FBI, pled guilty to one count of mail fraud and is scheduled to be sentenced on November 14, 2003. Peratrovich was charged with mail fraud and her trial was pending when she died.

Illegal Gambling Operation: The Fairbanks Police Department received information that an illegal gambling operation was occurring in the Fairbanks area. The investigation revealed that Donald Jennings and Avan Brees were delivering illegal gambling material, including football betting slips, to several bars and businesses. On December 3, 2002, multiple law enforcement agencies and a Gaming Group investigator served 14 search warrants on various locations in the Fairbanks area, including the Big I Bar, the Boatel Bar, the Comet Club, the Gold Rush Saloon, The Hide Away Bar, Fairbanks Elks Lodge, Interior Graphics & Copy, Arctic Fire & Safety and two residences. The investigation continues.

2002 Current Events and Regulatory Actions

Unalaska Community Broadcasting (UCB), a permittee, failed to renew its permit for 2003. In January 2003, UCB purchased a large quantity of pull-tab games from Alaska Bingo Supply in order to have its games sold at the Airport Restaurant and Lounge and the Unisea Inn Sports Bar. UCB also failed to register these two bars as vendors with the Gaming Group. Both bars received 45-day suspensions for selling pull-tabs without a 2003 vendor registration. The Division issued a Notice of Violation to Alaska Bingo Supply for selling pull-tabs to an organization that did not possess a current-year permit to sell pull-tabs. UCB submitted a 2003 gaming application in September 2003; the application was denied based upon the violation of gaming laws and the denial will remain in effect for at least six months.

Illegal Gambling Operation: The Native Village of Barrow (NVB) operated an illegal pull-tab business for years, buying its pull-tabs from various pull-tab distributors in the Lower 48, who bootleg-shipped them to Barrow in violation of illegal gambling laws and the Gaming statutes and regulations. On June 30, 2003, a Gaming Group investigator assisted the Alaska State Troopers in the execution of search warrants at the pull-tab shop and the business office of the NVB. This resulted in the seizure of 2,500 pounds of pull-tabs and computer records related to the illegal operation. The investigation continues.

The United Cook Inlet Drift Association, a permittee in Soldotna, used the Vagabond Inn as a vendor to sell pull-tab games on behalf of its organization for four years. Alaska gaming laws limit the amount of profit to the vendor for each pull-tab game sold to 30% of the ideal net from each game. In follow-up to a complaint, an investigation showed that the Vagabond Inn received additional monetary rewards in the form of airline tickets and lodging at a hotel for a two-year period that amounted to $2,162. The permittee received an Advisory Notice for this violation and the vendor agreed to return the excess amount.

The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks #1351 (BPOE) is located in Anchorage. The Division issued them a permit in 2000 to conduct gambling in the form of pull-tabs and raffles. On October 11, 2000 while following up on a complaint that illegal gambling activities were taking place, two Gaming Group investigators observed six illegal gambling machines on the premises. The Anchorage Police Department seized these machines because they believed that an illegal gambling operation existed at the club. A member of the organization released gambling records to Gaming Group investigators which later showed BPOE profited $486,519 from these illegal machines. On February 6, 2003, the BPOE pled guilty to one count of Possession of a Gambling Device which resulted in a fine of $4,730, one year probation and 80 hours of community service. Because the organization was convicted of an illegal gambling law, it will not be authorized to conduct any form of legalized gambling for ten years.

A. Overview of Gaming Activities

Section 05.15 of the Alaska Statutes and the related departmental regulations provide guidance for certain organizations to conduct games of chance and skill. The most popular games of chance are Bingo, Pulltabs and Raffles. Other common games of chance or skill permitted by Alaska Statutes and recognized by the Department of Revenue include Canned Salmon Classics, Deep Freeze Classics, Dog Musher's Contests, Dog Musher's Sweepstakes, Fishing Derbies, Goose Classics, Ice Classics, King Salmon Classics, Mercury Classics, Race Classics, Rain Classics, Salmon Classics, Snow Machine Classics and Special Draw Raffles.

This outline will concentrate primarily on Bingo, Pulltabs and Raffles.

1. Permittees - municipalities or qualified organizations are eligible for a permit to conduct games of chance or skill. A Permittee must hold a valid permit under AS 9 05.15.690

(1) Department of Revenue provides a form for annual permit application
(2) Annual fee of $20 to $100 depending on amount of prior year gross receipts is submitted with application. Annual fee of 1% of the net proceeds is submitted with an annual report.	1

(5) Copy of bylaws or charter with a provision that provides for disposition of net proceeds from charitable gaming to another qualified charitable organization
(6) Certification that applicant has at least 25 members who are state residents

(8) Must be in existence for 3 years and submit documents to prove it
(9) Must submit 2 copies of application to each city or borough in the location applicant seeks to conduct a gaming activity.
(10) Applicant must designate an individual as "member in charge" and an "alternate member in charge"	1

4. The most common forms of conducting bingo pulltabs and raffles are as follows:

(a) Self Directed - Permittee conducts the games using its own volunteers or paid employees.

(b) Multiple Beneficiary - Up to 6 Permittees join together to form a partnership for the purpose of conducting gaming. Profits from the operation are distributed to the Permittees. 11 05.15.145

(c) Operator - Permittee contracts with an Operator to conduct the gaming activity on its behalf. An Operator must pay an annual fee of $500 and post a bond equal to $25,000 per Permittee, not to exceed a total of $100,000. The Operator collects the gross receipts, pays out the prizes, pays operating costs, including a fee to him or herself, and pays the balance to the Permittee. For Pulltabs, the Operator must pay out at least 30% of adjusted gross income to the Permittee. For Bingo or Raffles, the Operator must pay out at least 10% of the adjusted gross income to the Permittee. Adjusted gross income means gross receipts, less prizes paid out, less taxes calculated on gross receipts. 13 05.15.160

(d) Vendor - Permittee contracts with a Vendor to conduct the sale of Pulltabs on its behalf. The maximum amount a Vendor can charge to a Permittee is 30% of the ideal net (gross receipts - gross prizes). In other words, the Permittee receives 70% of the ideal net from the Vendor when the game is delivered to the Vendor. The Permittee must purchase and deliver the pulltab games to the Vendor. The Permittee incurs the cost of purchasing the game, the State Tax of 3% of the ideal net, and the Federal Excise tax on Wagering. After the Permittee pays the 30% to the Vendor, and pays for the cost of the games, etc. they are usually left with about 19-20 05-15-188

The choice of methods used by Permittees to conduct gaming activities as described above, depends on the Permittee, and how actively involved they want to be in the fundraising process.

The Operator provides the Permittee organization a chance to receive usually from $30,000 to $40,000 per year, depending on the percent of profit on the games sold, with minimal involvement. Many charities like this as it does not distract them or their volunteers from their charitable purpose. Prize limits for pulltabs when you use an Operator are $500,000 per year.

The Vendor provides the Permittee the chance for more funds because they have higher prize limits per organization and they return a higher percent of the ideal net profit to the organization. The Permittee using a Vendor must have volunteers in the organization willing to be involved in purchasing and delivering the pulltab games, and the record keeping is a little more detailed as they have to report sales from specific games purchased. A Permittee maximizing his prize limit of $1,000,000 would net about $120,000 to $135,000 depending on the percentage of profit on the games sold.

The Multiple Beneficiary Permittee is a business partnership between 2 to 6 Permittees. It operates very similar to an Operator, and has the same requirements for returning 30% of pulltabs and 10% of bingo adjusted gross income to its Permittees. However, the prize limits for the MBP are double what an Operator can do per Permittee, and the Operator fee is retained by the organization to pay for management. Any remaining profits are distributed to the Permittees. The MBP provides the Permittee with the opportunity to increase the amount of money they receive annually, if the business is successful.

Some Permittees conduct charitable gaming on their own, however most organizations find that it distracts from their primary purpose if they do much more than just raffles.

5. The State of Alaska currently taxes 3% of ideal net, which is gross receipts less prizes in any given set of pulltabs.

Certain municipalities also charge sales tax of 3 to 5%. Some charge the tax on the gross receipts and some charge the tax on the ideal net or adjusted gross. For the municipalities that charge the tax on the gross sales, it takes a very large portion of the profit margin out of pulltabs, and it makes it more difficult for Operators and MBP's to return the required minimums to the Permittees. For instance, Juneau has a sales tax of 5% on the gross sales. That is the same as taxing 25% of the ideal net. In order for MBP's and Operators to meet their minimum payouts to their Permittees, they have historically ventured into other parts of the state to open operations where they do not have a sales tax. This allows them to blend their sales from within Juneau area with sales outside of Juneau, and perhaps meet the minimum payout requirements of 30% of adjusted gross.

When Permittees from one geographic region venture into other regions, this can and has caused bad results. The most recent example in Fairbanks was a couple years ago when an Operator from Juneau opened up a bingo parlor in Fairbanks. This competition upset the market and resulted in existing Permittees that had run clean operations for years suddenly found they could not meet the minimum payouts. The result is that one of the long-standing Permittees in Fairbanks has recently gone out of the Bingo business.

AS 05.15.040 prohibits a municipality from conducting gaming activities outside the geographic boundaries of the municipality. However, there are no restrictions on Permittees, Operators or MBP's from conducting gaming activities outside of their geographic area.

Limiting an organization to geographic boundaries is somewhat troublesome for Permittees that are organized on a statewide basis, and that do not necessarily have a physical presence or office in a community, but clearly do on a state-wide basis.

I believe it is very unfair to tax gross receipts, because such a high percentage of the sales is paid back out to the players as prizes. Also the "playback " phenomenon is very mis-understood by those not directly involved in the gaming industry. The basis of the "playback" phenomenon is that there is a limited amount of money that is spent on gaming on an annual basis. This pool of money that is spent by the players, is basically used in the following areas:

A player buys pulltabs. He has some winners, which he cashes in and plays them back to try to win more. Sometimes the winners are turned in to cash which is used to fund gaming activities on another night.

In either case, the player still has a set amount of money available to spend. Assuming the player had $10,000 over the course of a year. If a player purchased pulltabs only with that money, and the prizes paid out on the games was 80%, then the player would have received back $8,000 of the original $10,000 that he played. Much as is the concept in Los Vegas, most people play until they lose thier stake of money then they have to quit. If you win $8,000, then you have that much left to play with. Now when you spend you $8,000 you soon find that you have $6,400 to play with as the prize payout was 80% again. Our hypothetical player does this again and again until he has used up his pot of money. The result is that the sales or gross receipts generated by this original $10,000 is almost $50,000 or 5 times what is originally started out as. Games with higher prize payouts will result in higher multipliers, and games with lower prize payouts will result in lower mulipliers.

Taxing the gross receipts or sales at 5% in this example would generate $2,500 of taxes on $50,000. This is really a 25% tax, since the player only had $10,000 to start with.

For Pulltabs, ideal net is similar to adjusted gross income when there are no other taxes involved. There is a Federal excise tax of .0025 of gross receipts, however it has been ignored for simplicity of this example.

These examples assume that a player of bingo and pulltabs has a fixed pool of $20,000 to play with. Most players playback their winnings in one form or another, either buying more pulltabs or playing more bingo games. It is very similar to Las Vegas. If you go there with $100 and you lose it, you quit playing and go home. If you have a 5% tax on gross, then you still quit playing when you lose your money.

A higher minimum payout on Pulltab games was suggested as a way to offset the tax that was being proposed on Pulltabs last year. If that was implemented, it would have the same effect. The player is not going to pay more money because he has a limited pool. In fact he may play less because his odds of winning are a 25% less if you increase the ideal net from 20% to 25%. Clearly the player will have 5% less available for playbacks also.

In example B, if the operating expenses do not change from example A, then the Permittee will be out of compliance and will lose his right to conduct gaming activities.

In Example C, if the operating expenses are decreased, then the Permittee can remain in compliance with the minimum requirements. However, in many cases, the Permittee is directly effected by the expenses of operation whether he is self-directed or acting as an MBP. Therefore it is ultimately the Permittee that will be paying any tax on Gross.

B. Ideas for simplifying and or clarify gaming statutes
1.	Allow licensed operators to pool gaming activities of all their Permittees. MBP's currently pool their activities. In other words, they combine their daily sales and expenses in one pot and distribute it pro-rata at the end of each month. An Operator on the other hand must keep a separation for each game he conducts for a Permittee and likewise each expense. Operators tend to limit the number of Permittees they conduct games for because of the record keeping requirements. I believe allowing pooling would result in operators spreading the sales between more Permittees and it would result in a more even flow of the net proceeds throughout the year.	41		AAC160.27
2.	Change the required minimum payout for Operators and MBP's to a fixed payout. The current law reads that authorized expenses shall not exceed 70% for pulltabs and 90% for bingo. Permittees only in rare instances receive more than the required minimum for operators or MBP's. By changing the Statute to read a fixed %, then you could do away with much of the complex reporting that currently is required on monthly, quarterly and annually. Eliminates all disputes over allowable expenses.	13	05.15.160
3.	Eliminate the spousal equivalent rules currently in the State Regulations. They serve no purpose when the Permittee is receiving the 30% required minimum on pulltabs. They have no negative effect on the Permittee.	86		AAC160.954
4.	In many cases gaming operators also own bars and liquor stores that hold beverage dispensary licenses. Operators should be permitted to sell pulltabs in these establishments under their licensed authority as an operator, rather than requiring them to be vendors. As operators they pay higher licensing fees, they provide cash bonds, and they are required to submit a reviewed financial statement annually. Current law needs clarification on this issue.	28	05.15.690

Dear Senators:

The City of Dillingham Senior Center is a non profit organization. Elders in Dillingham and 32 surrounding villages in Bristol Bay benefit from our services and programs.

The NTS Grant that drives our program was cut more than $200, 000.00 for FY04. Our Pull Tab operation has helped us supplement a large percentage of the most needed of services in Bristol Bay, others have been dropped.

Our association with the City of Dillingham has many benefits in the form of lower prices on gas; heating fuel; propane and freight. The city extends "In Kind" services to us in the form of building maintenance; snow removal; vehicle maintenance; personnel services and volunteers. The City of Dillingham takes an active role in our programs as well as programs in the school and would like to see them continue and grow for our Elders and the future of our children.

The taxes that the city charges on Pull Tab sales goes into the city's general fund which is distributed to various department that run our city, one of which is our school district, who has a budget of over 6.0 million dollars a year, of which the city provides 1.1 million from our general fund.

Having listened to last weeks work session, I'm extremely concerned that your committee may take the pull tab operation away from our Elders, school age children and other non profit organizations. Please give serious consideration of what may happen to our Alaska Senior Centers and Public Schools, as well as our communities.

Sincerely,

Lauralee Mitchell
Director, City of Dillingham Senior Center

Topics to Keep under Consideration for Pulldown Discussion

(per Con, February 5, 2004)

1. Change the name of "charitable gaming" to something that is more representative of the current industry (Steve Borcharding)
2. Increase penalties for infractions....put teeth into the law (S.B.)
3. Eliminate "authorized expenses" verbage from statute (S.B.)
4. Create a Bingo "user fee" (folks pay $1 each time they come in to play a bingo session) per Jack Powers

Re: Charitable Gaming Statutes and Regulations

Dear Senator Seekins and Members of the Committee,

I regret that I will be unable to testify in person or via teleconference at your work session on Thursday February 5, at 1:30, due to conflicting appointments with my business. Ms. Jane Alberts did contact me by telephone, and I informed her that I would write a letter addressing a couple of issues that she mentioned would likely be discussed.

Accountability - In my opinion, the current Gaming Statutes and Regulations do hold Operators accountable for the following reasons:

1. An Operator is required to post a bond of $25,000 per permittee up to a maximum amount of $100,000. (AS 05.15.125) The State can, and has, in the past withheld amounts from these bonds to satisfy amounts due to Permittees.
2. An Operator is required to keep a daily summary of activity which is to include gross receipts and prizes awarded during the day on behalf of each permittee, gross receipts and prizes awarded for each pull-tab series conducted during the day, date that each pull-tab series was put into play, and the serial number of each pull-tab series withdrawn from sale during the day. (Regulation 15 ACC 160.240)
3. An Operator must submit monthly, quarterly and annual financial reports to the Permittees and quarterly and annual financial reports to the State. (AS 05.15.083 and 05.15.087 and Regulations 15 ACC 160.250 and 160.290)
4. An Operator must submit an annual CPA reviewed financial statement to the State (Regulation 15 AAC 160.310)
5. An Operators' license is renewable annually. If there is an accountability issue, then the State has regulatory authority to deny the issuance of the Operator's license. Likewise, the State has the authority to suspend or revoke an Operator's license under AS 05.15.128 for failure to comply with Gaming Statutes or Regulations.

For the reasons stated above, I believe the Operator is the most closely regulated Licensee under the Gaming Statutes and Regulations, and in my opinion is the most accountable of all the permittees or other licensees. The Operator also has the most to lose if he or she is not accountable, because of the requirement to post a bond of up to $100,000.

Senator Ralph Seekins and
Members of the Senate Labor and Commerce Committee
February 2, 2004

There will undoubtedly be instances where a particular Operator does not abide by the gaming Statutes or the Regulations. However, I would be willing to bet that there are many more violations by Multiple Beneficiary Permittees or by Permittees, because the Statutes and Regulations do not require the same level of accountability for them that is required by Operators.

The most accountable class of Licensees is the Vendor. This is because the Vendor is supposed to prepay to the Permittee 70% of the ideal net when the pull-tab game is purchased and put into play. An example of this would be if a game had 4,000 tickets costing $1.00 each, and it had $3,200 of prizes to be awarded, then the ideal net would be the difference or $800. In this situation, a vendor pays 70% or $560 to the Permittee. As a result, the Permittee realizes the maximum amount immediately upon delivery of the pull-tab series to the Vendor. With zero loss attributed to the Permittee, this in my mind makes the Vendor situation the most accountable.

I think this same concept could be applied to Operators and MBP's. If an Operator or an MBP was required to make an advance payment of 30% of the ideal net to a Permittee upon putting a pull-tab series into play or upon purchasing such a series, then you would achieve the same level of accountability that the Vendor situation demands. To do this however the wording of the Statutes would require a major change in philosophy. That is, the wording would need to be changed to state that a Permittee would receive a fixed percentage (30%) of an ideal net profit, instead of the current wording that states that authorized expenses cannot exceed 70% of adjusted gross for pull-tabs and 90% of adjusted gross for bingo, raffles and other authorized games. (AS 05.150.160) The wording of the current Statutes requires that a Permittee be paid at least 30% of adjusted gross income for pull-tabs and 10% for bingo and other games. The reality is that Permittees currently only receive 30% and 10% and only in very rare cases do the net proceeds paid out to Permittees exceed these percentages.

A great deal of energy and expense is currently wasted by the Operator, the MBP and the State trying to track and document authorized expenses by Permittee, and in the reporting on these various expenses. Everything would be extremely simplified under this scenario prepay a fixed percentage for each game, as authorized expenses would no longer matter. It would be up to the Operator or MBP to monitor expenses and run as efficient an operation as he could. The State would no longer be concerned with this issue. All of the State's efforts could be focused on being sure the payments were made at time of purchase, and on whether or not the permittees were authorized and expending the net proceeds according to the Statutes and Regulations.

Members of the Senate Labor and Commerce Committee
Page 3
February 2, 2004

The following are the pros to implementing this proposal:

1. The accountability would be the same for Vendors, Operators and MBP's.
2. The Permittees would get their proceeds quicker.
3. The Permittees would receive more money. Under the current system, if there is employee theft or shortages, the Permittee ends up paying for 30% of them because these types of shortages never get recorded as gross income. Accordingly, the Permittee loses the 30% on these items, as they never get included in adjusted gross income.
4. The paperwork would be greatly reduced for Operators, as there would no longer be a need to track sales and prizes on the detailed level currently required in the Gaming Statutes and Regulations.
5. Monitoring by the State would be greatly simplified.
6. The Operator's expenses should be less because of simplified reporting.
7. An Operator would have more incentive to use more Permittees because the paperwork and bookkeeping would be simplified. This would help to solve a very serious current problem of there being too many Permittees and not enough Operators.
8. Pooling is currently allowed by MBP's, but is not allowed by Operators. This proposal would make pooling a mute point and would allow Operators to run their operations much more efficiently and not have to worry about pulling games in play and storing the prize winners, etc.
9. The need for the bond would be eliminated, which would free up working capital to allow for the advance payments on purchasing the pull-tab series.

The cons of the proposal would be as follows:

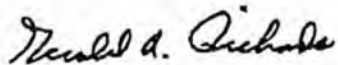

1. It may be harder to become an Operator because of the greater financial commitment to pay for large blocks of pull-tabs up front before they are sold. I think this is mitigated by AS 05.15.110 that states that the activities authorized by the Gaming Statutes are permitted as a privilege and do not confer a right upon any person to conduct the activities. It would also be mitigated by item 8. above, as the bond would free up necessary working capital to pay the Permittees in advance.
2. Advance payments may require financing. The financing would cost the time value of money, or interest, if financed by a loan from a bank. This would be mitigated by the cost savings of the reduced and simplified paperwork and reporting.

Senator Ralph Seekins and
Members of the Senate Labor and Commerce Committee
February 2, 2004

I have been exposed to Gaming Statutes and Regulations for the past 15 years, and I have sat on two separate task forces to look at and study the Gaming Statutes and Regulations. Most changes benefit one party to a transaction at the expense of another party to transaction. For instance, if the State raises the taxes on pull-tabs, it benefits at the expense of Operators and Permittees. However, in my professional opinion, this proposed change, would result in benefits to all parties, the Operator, the Permittee and the State.

I would be pleased to meet with you or members of the Division of Charitable Gaming to further discuss this concept if there is interest in pursuing it further. Thank you in advance for considering my opinions and suggestions.

Sincerely,

Gerald A. Richards, C.P.A.

MEMORANDUM

DATE: Friday, March 05, 2004

TO: All members of the Senate Labor and Commerce Committee

FROM: Senator Con Bunde, Chair, Senate Labor and Commerce

RE: Confirmation Hearings

Dear Committee Members:

We have scheduled confirmation hearings for Tuesday, March 16 at our usual time, 1:30pm in the Beltz Room. We are cautioned, however, that because of that week being "set aside" for the legislature to deliberate issues regarding fiscal policy, this meeting could be delayed or even cancelled, depending on the issues of that particular day.

For this reason, we are going to consider these confirmations in a different manner than in the past. Rather than having all the appointees calling in and possibly being subjected to a meeting cancellation, I request that you review their attached resumes in advance.

My aide, Jane Alberts, will soon be contacting you to inquire whether or not you have any concerns with any of the appointees and if any one of them may need to be considered individually. If there are any such concerns, Jane will contact that particular person and ask them to be available for the meeting to field any of your questions. If there are no objections to the appointments, we will have our meeting, confirm these folks who have stepped up to volunteer their service to Alaska and pass them on for approval by the body.

Thank you.
