Appendix A: The Sentinel Network

The Identity Theft Data Clearinghouse was launched in November 1999 and is the sole national repository of consumer complaints about identity theft. The Clearinghouse provides specific investigative material for law enforcement and larger, trend-based information providing insight to both private and public sector partners on ways to reduce the incidence of identity theft. Information in the Clearinghouse is available to law enforcement members via Consumer Sentinel, the secured, password-protected government Web site. This access enables law enforcers to readily spot identity theft problems in their own backyards, and to coordinate with other law enforcement officers where the data reveals common schemes or perpetrators.

Econsumer.gov was created in April 2001 to gather and share cross-border e-commerce complaints in order to respond to the challenges of multinational Internet fraud, and enhance consumer confidence in e-commerce. The multilingual public Web site provides general information about consumer protection in all countries that belong to the International Consumer Protection and Enforcement Network (formerly called the International Marketing Supervision Network), contact information for consumer protection authorities in those countries, and an online complaint form. All information is available in English, French, German, Korean, and Spanish. Using the existing Consumer Sentinel network, the incoming complaints are shared through the government Web site with participating consumer protection law enforcers from 19 nations.

Military Sentinel, which was established in September 2002, is a project of the Federal Trade Commission and the Department of Defense to identify and target consumer protection issues that affect members of the United States Armed Forces and their families. Military Sentinel also provides a gateway to consumer education materials covering a wide range of consumer protection issues, such as auto leasing, identity theft, and work-at-home scams. Members of the United States Armed Forces can enter complaints directly into Consumer Sentinel. Through Consumer Sentinel, the government password-protected Web site, this information is used by law enforcement agencies, members of the JAG staff, and others in the Department of Defense to help protect armed services members and their families from consumer protection-related problems.

3 BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF ALASKA:

4 * Section 1. The uncodified law of the State of Alaska is amended by adding a new section
5 to read:

6 INTENT; FINDINGS. (a) It is the intent of the legislature to further the important
7 state interest of deterring and punishing persons who commit crimes against the elderly.

8 (b) The legislature finds that

9 (1) the number of the elderly is rapidly growing in this state and will double,
10 or possibly triple, by 2018;

11 (2) the elderly are particularly vulnerable to crimes against the person under 12 AS 11.41;

13 (3) the elderly suffer more physical and emotional harm from these crimes
14 than do younger victims;

1 (4) theft and fraud are serious problems in this state, and certain types of
2 schemes that defraud, such as telemarketing fraud, are specifically targeted at the elderly;

3 (5) the elderly are often on fixed incomes with a limited financial ability to
4 recover from fraud, leaving them vulnerable to larger fiscal effects of schemes, such as loss of 5 a home or inability to pay creditors; and

6 (6) being a crime victim can have a devastating emotional impact on the 7 elderly in the state.

8 * Sec. 2. AS 11 is amended by adding a new chapter to read:

9 Chapter 32. Enhanced Penalties.

10 Sec. 11.32.100. Penalties for crimes against the elderly. (a) If a person
11 commits a crime specified in (b) of this section with reckless disregard that the victim

18 (b) The provisions of (a) of this section apply to the following crimes:

19 (1) a misdemeanor violation of AS 11.41;

20 (2) theft in violation of AS 11.46.100 - 11.46.210;

21 (3) fraudulent use of an access device in violation of AS 11.46.285;

22 (4) obtaining an access device or identification document by fraudulent
23 means in violation of AS 11.46.290;

24 (5) burglary in violation of AS 11.46.300 - AS 11.46.310;

25 (6) forgery in violation of AS 11.46.500 - 11.46.510;

26 (7) obtaining a signature by deception in violation of AS 11.46.540;

27 (8) criminal impersonation in violation of AS 11.46.565 - 11.46.570;

28 (9) scheme to defraud in violation of AS 11.46.600;

Sectional Analysis of HB 132 (Crimes Against Seniors)

(Prepared by the Department of Law, March 1, 2005)

HB 132 would increase the penalties for certain offenses committed against persons 65 or older.

Sec. 1: Intent and findings. Section 1 sets out the intent and findings.

Sec. 2: Increase in penalty for certain crimes against seniors. Section 2 adds a new section to the chapter that provides that for certain listed crimes, the seriousness of the offense is raised one level if the offender committed the offense with reckless disregard that the victim was a person 65 years of age or older. For example, assault in the fourth degree, normally a class A misdemeanor, would be a class C felony if the offender acted with reckless disregard that the victim was 65 years of age or older.

Sec. 3: Applicability. Section 3 makes the changes set out in sec. 2 applicable to offenses committed on or after July 1, 2005.

Sec. 4: Effective date. Section 4 sets out an effective date of July 1, 2005.

The Honorable Lesil McGuire, Chair
House Judiciary Committee
Alaska State Capitol, Room 118
Juneau, Alaska 99801-1182

RE: HB 132 (Stoltze)--Support

Dear Chair McGuire:

On behalf of the AARP members in Alaska, we ask that you and your colleagues on the House Judiciary Committee support HB 132, authored by Representative Bill Stoltze and co-sponsored by you.

The intent of HB 132 is to increase the penalties for some crimes committed against a victim over 65 years of age. This includes crimes like burglary as well as fraud and identity theft. Crime can have more severe consequences for older people than for younger persons, including injuries that may need medical attention. Although violent crime receives the most media attention, fraud and identity theft are becoming increasingly more serious and more prevalent and older people are often the targets. The loss of even modest amounts of money may be devastating to a retired victim living on a low, fixed income.

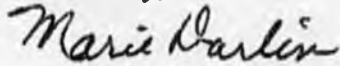

Older people experience the lowest rates of violent crime among all age groups. However, the fear of crime adversely affects the behavior of many older people, and national surveys show that older people protect themselves by leaving their homes less often than younger persons. According to AARP's research, one-third of people age 50 and older avoid going out at night because they are concerned about crime.

We believe HB 132 may have some impact to deter those who prey on older victims, whether through violent crime, property crime, or fraud and identify theft. Any lessening of crime among older persons will help restore their freedom and help prevent them from becoming prisoners in their own homes.

Should you have any questions about our position, please feel free to contact me or Patrick Luby (907-762-3314), AARP Alaska Advocacy Director.

Thank you for your consideration.

Marie Darlin, Coordinator

House Bill 132

Crimes Against Elderly

"An Act relating to sentencing for certain crimes committed against the elderly; and providing for an effective date."

The population of older citizens in Alaska is growing rapidly, as are the crimes that affect them. The physical, emotional, and financial impact of crimes against the person, and theft and related crimes, on the elderly can be devastating. House Bill 132 would increase the penalty one level for certain crimes against a person and for theft and related crimes, if the perpetrator acted with reckless disregard that the victim was an older citizen.

The provisions of HB 132:

- Increase the penalties for crimes against the elderly one level. For example, assault in the fourth degree, a class A misdemeanor, would be a class C felony if the assault was committed to a person 65 years of age or older.

I ask for your consideration and support of HB 132 to better protect the older citizens of our state.

The legislation raises criminal penalties for crimes committed in violation of AS 11.41 and AS 11.46 when the victim was 65 years of age or older at the time of the crime. There is no statewide data readily available to indicate the number of victims in Alaska who were 65 years of age or older at the time the crime was committed in the offense categories covered by the legislation. It is presumed that because the legislation does increase the penalties for crimes committed in violation of AS 11.41 and AS 11.46, the passage of the legislation will have some fiscal impact on the department, but due to the lack of available statistical information, the department is unable to determine whether the impact will be significant or insignificant. Therefore, the fiscal impact to the Department of Corrections is indeterminate.

This bill seeks to enhance penalties for numerous crimes against a person 65 years or older. From the 2002 census, it indicates people over 65 comprise 6% of Alaska's population. There are more than 25 crimes listed for enhancement if a victim is 65 or older. The Agency was appointed in over 6600 (6% of 6606 = 396 crimes against elderly) of these crimes in 2004, with over 73% (4851) of them involving misdemeanor crimes that would become felonies. Felonies are much more costly to defend than misdemeanors. American Bar Association national standards provide that an attorney should not handle more than 400 misdemeanor cases a year, or 150 felonies a year. This shift from misdemeanor to felony will increase the Agency workload by one full-time position, factoring in support staff. The additional operating costs to address this increased workload are based on a full-time attorney and support staff in Bethel, where the highest number of these cases exist.

This bill would enhance penalties for persons convicted of committing certain crimes against the person, or a theft or related financial crime, against a person 65 years of age or older. The bill raises the level of these offenses if the defendant was reckless in regard to the victim being 65 years of age or older. The Department of Law does not anticipate a fiscal impact from passage of this legislation.

This bill adds a new penalty section for crimes committed against the elderly. The new section outlines an increase in criminal classifications (B misdemeanor is a class A misdemeanor, etc.) which apply to a number of specific Title 11 offenses listed in the bill when the victim was 65 years of age or older at the time of the crime.

No fiscal impact on the Department of Public Safety is anticipated.
