Va. Code Ann. § 65.2-402.1 (2006)

§ 65.2-402.1. Presumption as to death or disability from infectious disease

A. Hepatitis, meningococcal meningitis, tuberculosis or HIV causing the death of, or any health condition or impairment resulting in total or partial disability of any (i) salaried or volunteer firefighter, paramedic or emergency medical technician, (ii) member of the State Police Officers' Retirement System, (iii) member of county, city or town police departments, (iv) sheriff or deputy sheriff, (v) Department of Emergency Management hazardous materials officer, (vi) city sergeant or deputy city sergeant of the City of Richmond, (vii) Virginia Marine Police officer, (viii) game warden who is a full-time sworn member of the enforcement division of the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries, (ix) Capitol Police officer, or (x) special agent of the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control appointed under the provisions of Chapter 1 (§ 4.1-100 et seq.) of Title 4.1 who has a documented occupational exposure to blood or body fluid; shall be presumed to be occupational diseases, suffered in the line of government duty, that are covered by this title unless such presumption is overcome by a preponderance of competent evidence to the contrary. For purposes of this section, an occupational exposure occurring on or after July 1, 2002, shall be deemed "documented" if the person covered under this section gave notice, written or otherwise, of the occupational exposure to his employer, and an occupational exposure occurring prior to July 1, 2002, shall be deemed "documented" without regard to whether the person gave notice, written or otherwise, of the occupational exposure to his employer.

B. As used in this section:

"Blood or body fluids" means blood and body fluids containing visible blood and other body fluids to which universal precautions for prevention of occupational transmission of blood-borne pathogens, as established by the Centers for Disease Control, apply. For purposes of potential transmission of hepatitis, meningococcal meningitis, tuberculosis, or HIV the term "blood or body fluids" includes respiratory, salivary, and sinus fluids, including droplets, sputum, saliva, mucous, and any other fluid through which infectious airborne or blood-borne organisms can be transmitted between persons.

"Hepatitis" means hepatitis A, hepatitis B, hepatitis non-A, hepatitis non-B, hepatitis C or any other strain of hepatitis generally recognized by the medical community.

"HIV" means the medically recognized retrovirus known as human immunodeficiency virus, type I or type II, causing immunodeficiency syndrome.

"Occupational exposure," in the case of hepatitis, meningococcal meningitis, tuberculosis or HIV, means an exposure that occurs during the performance of job duties that places a covered employee at risk of infection.

C. Persons covered under this section who test positive for exposure to the enumerated occupational diseases, but have not yet incurred the requisite total or partial disability, shall otherwise be entitled to make a claim for medical benefits pursuant to § 65.2-603, including entitlement to an annual medical examination to measure the progress of the condition, if any, and any other medical treatment, prophylactic or otherwise.

D. Whenever any standard, medically-recognized vaccine or other form of immunization or prophylaxis exists for the prevention of a communicable disease for which a presumption is established under this section, if medically indicated by the given circumstances pursuant to immunization policies established by the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices of the United States Public Health Service, a person subject to the provisions of this section may be required by such person's employer to undergo the immunization or prophylaxis unless the person's physician determines in writing that the immunization or prophylaxis would pose a significant risk to the person's health. Absent such written declaration, failure or refusal by a person subject to the provisions of this section to undergo such immunization or prophylaxis shall disqualify the person from any presumption established by this section.

E. The presumptions described in subsection A of this section shall only apply if persons entitled to invoke them have, if requested by the appointing authority or governing body employing them, undergone preemployment physical examinations that (i) were conducted prior to the making of any claims under this title that rely on such presumptions, (ii) were performed by physicians whose qualifications are as prescribed by the appointing authority or governing body employing such persons, (iii) included such appropriate laboratory and other diagnostic studies as the appointing authorities or governing bodies may have prescribed, and (iv) found such persons free of hepatitis, meningococcal meningitis, tuberculosis or HIV at the time of such examinations. The presumptions described in subsection A of this section shall not be effective until six months following such examinations, unless such persons entitled to invoke such presumption can demonstrate a documented exposure during the six-month period.

F. Persons making claims under this title who rely on such presumption shall, upon the request of appointing authorities or governing bodies employing such persons, submit to physical examinations (i) conducted by physicians selected by such appointing authorities or governing bodies or their representatives and (ii) consisting of such tests and studies as may reasonably be required by such physicians. However, a qualified physician, selected and compensated by the claimant, may, at the election of such claimant, be present at such examination.

Va. Code Ann. § 65.2-406 (2006)

§ 65.2-406. Limitation upon claim: diseases covered by limitation

A. The right to compensation under this chapter shall be forever barred unless a claim is filed with the Commission within one of the following time periods:

1. For coal miners' pneumoconiosis, three years after a diagnosis of the disease, as category 10 or greater as classified under the International Labour Office Classification of Radiographs of the Pneumoconiosis (1980), is first communicated to the employee or the legal representative of his estate or within five years from the date of the last injurious exposure in employment, whichever first occurs;

2. For byssinosis, two years after a diagnosis of the disease is first communicated to the employee or within seven years from the date of the last injurious exposure in employment, whichever first occurs;

3. For asbestosis, two years after a diagnosis of the disease is first communicated to the employee;

4. For symptomatic or asymptomatic infection with human immunodeficiency virus including acquired immunodeficiency syndrome, two years after a positive test for infection with human immunodeficiency virus;

5. For diseases directly attributable to the rescue and relief efforts at the Pentagon following the terrorist attack of September 11, 2001, two years after a diagnosis of the disease is first communicated to the employee; or

6. For all other occupational diseases, two years after a diagnosis of the disease is first communicated to the employee or within five years from the date of the last injurious exposure in employment, whichever first occurs.

B. If death results from an occupational disease within any of such periods, the right to compensation under this chapter shall be barred, unless a claim therefor is filed with the Commission within three years after such death. The limitations imposed by this section as amended shall be applicable to occupational diseases contracted before and after July 1, 1962, and § 65.2-601 shall not apply to pneumoconiosis. The limitation on time of filing will cover all occupational diseases except:

1. Cataract of the eyes due to exposure to the heat and glare of molten glass or to radiant rays such as infrared;
2. Epitheliomatous cancer or ulceration of the skin or of the corneal surface of the eye due to pitch, tar, soot, bitumen, anthracene, paraffin, mineral oil, or their compounds, products or residues;
3. Radium disability or disability due to exposure to radioactive substances and X-rays;
4. Ulceration due to chrome compound or to caustic chemical acids or alkalis and undulant fever caused by the industrial slaughtering and processing of livestock and handling of hides;
5. Mesothelioma due to exposure to asbestos; and
6. Angiosarcoma of the liver due to vinyl chloride exposure.

C. When a claim is made for benefits for a change of condition in an occupational disease, such as advance from one stage or category to another, a claim for change in condition must be filed with the Commission within three years from the date for which compensation was last paid for an earlier stage of the disease, except that a claim for benefits for a change in condition in asbestosis must be filed within two years from the date when diagnosis of the advanced stage is first communicated to the employee and no claim for benefits for an advanced stage of asbestosis shall be denied on the ground that there has been no subsequent accident. For a first or an advanced stage of asbestosis or mesothelioma, if the employee is still employed in the employment in which he was injuriously exposed, the weekly compensation rate shall be based upon the employee's weekly wage as of the date of communication of the first or advanced stage of the disease, as the case may be. If the employee is unemployed, or employed in another employment, the weekly compensation rate shall be based upon the average weekly wage of a person of the same or similar grade and character in the same class of employment in which the employee was injuriously exposed and preferably in the same locality or community on the date of communication to the employee of the advanced stage of the disease or mesothelioma. The weekly compensation rates herein provided shall be subject to the same maximums and minimums as provided in § 65.2-500.

§ 65.2-407. Waiver

A. When an employee or prospective employee, though not incapacitated for work, is found to be affected by, or susceptible to, a specific occupational disease he may, subject to the approval of the Commission, be permitted to waive in writing compensation for any aggravation of his condition that may result from his working or continuing to work in the same or similar occupation for the same employer.

B. The Commission shall approve a waiver for coal worker's pneumoconiosis and silicosis only when presented with X-ray evidence from a physician qualified in the opinion of the Commission to make the determination and which demonstrates a positive diagnosis of the pneumoconiosis or the existence of a lung condition which makes the employee or prospective employee significantly more susceptible to the pneumoconiosis.

C. In considering approval of a waiver, the Commission may supply any medical evidence to a disinterested physician for his opinion as to whether the employee is affected by the disease or has the preexisting condition.

Va. Code Ann. § 65.2-400 (2006)

§ 65.2-400. "Occupational disease" defined

A. As used in this title, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise, the term "occupational disease" means a disease arising out of and in the course of employment, but not an ordinary disease of life to which the general public is exposed outside of the employment.

B. A disease shall be deemed to arise out of the employment only if there is apparent to the rational mind, upon consideration of all the circumstances:

1. A direct causal connection between the conditions under which work is performed and the occupational disease;
2. It can be seen to have followed as a natural incident of the work as a result of the exposure occasioned by the nature of the employment;
3. It can be fairly traced to the employment as the proximate cause;
4. It is neither a disease to which an employee may have had substantial exposure outside of the employment, nor any condition of the neck, back or spinal column;
5. It is incidental to the character of the business and not independent of the relation of employer and employee; and
6. It had its origin in a risk connected with the employment and flowed from that source as a natural consequence, though it need not have been foreseen or expected before its contraction.

§ 65.2-401. "Ordinary disease of life" coverage

An ordinary disease of life to which the general public is exposed outside of the employment may be treated as an occupational disease for purposes of this title if each of the following elements is established by clear and convincing evidence. (not a mere probability):

1. That the disease exists and arose out of and in the course of employment as provided in § 65.2-400 with respect to occupational diseases and did not result from causes outside of the employment, and

2. That one of the following exists:

a. It follows as an incident of occupational disease as defined in this title; or

b. It is an infectious or contagious disease contracted in the course of one's employment in a hospital or sanitarium or laboratory or nursing home as defined in § 32.1-123, or while otherwise engaged in the direct delivery of health care, or in the course of employment as emergency rescue personnel and those volunteer emergency rescue personnel referred to in § 65.2-101, or

c. It is characteristic of the employment and was caused by conditions peculiar to such employment.

HISTORY: 1986, c. 378, § 65.1-46.1; 1989, c. 502; 1991, c. 355; 1997, cc. 15, 405

§ 65.2-101. Definitions

As used in this title:

"Average weekly wage" means:

1. a. The earnings of the injured employee in the employment in which he was working at the time of the injury during the period of 52 weeks immediately preceding the date of the injury, divided by 52; but if the injured employee lost more than seven consecutive calendar days during such period, although not in the same week, then the earnings for the remainder of the 52 weeks shall be divided by the number of weeks remaining after the time so lost has been deducted. When the employment prior to the injury extended over a period of less than 52 weeks, the method of dividing the earnings during that period by the number of weeks and parts thereof during which the employee earned wages shall be followed, provided that results fair and just to both parties will be thereby obtained. When, by reason of a shortness of time during which the employee has been in the employment of his employer or the casual nature or terms of his employment, it is impractical to compute the average weekly wages as above defined, regard shall be had to the average weekly amount which during the 52 weeks previous to the injury was being earned by a person of the same grade and character employed in the same class of employment in the same locality or community.

b. When for exceptional reasons the foregoing would be unfair either to the employer or employee, such other method of computing average weekly wages may be resorted to as will most nearly approximate the amount which the injured employee would be earning were it not for the injury.

2. Whenever allowances of any character made to an employee in lieu of wages are a specified part of the wage contract, they shall be deemed a part of his earnings. For the purpose of this title, the average weekly wage of the members of the Virginia National Guard, the Virginia Naval Militia and the Virginia State Defense Force, registered members on duty or in training of the United States Civil Defense Corps of this Commonwealth, volunteer firefighters engaged in firefighting activities under the supervision and control of the Department of Forestry, and forest wardens shall be deemed to be such amount as will entitle them to the maximum compensation payable under this title; however, any award entered under the provisions of this title on behalf of members of the National Guard, the Virginia Naval Militia or their dependents, or registered members on duty or in training of the United States Civil Defense Corps of this Commonwealth or their dependents, shall be subject to credit for benefits paid them under existing or future federal law on account of injury or occupational disease covered by the provisions of this title.

3. Whenever volunteer firefighters, volunteer lifesaving or volunteer rescue squad members, volunteer law-enforcement chaplains, auxiliary or reserve police, auxiliary or reserve deputy sheriffs, volunteer emergency medical technicians, members of volunteer search and rescue organizations, volunteer members of community emergency response teams, and volunteer members of medical reserve corps are deemed employees under this title, their average weekly wage shall be deemed sufficient to produce the minimum compensation provided by this title for injured workers or their dependents. For the purposes of workers' compensation insurance premium calculations, the monthly payroll for each volunteer firefighter or volunteer lifesaving or volunteer rescue squad member shall be deemed to be $ 300.

4. The average weekly wage of persons, other than those covered in subdivision 3 of this definition, who respond to a hazardous materials incident at the request of the Department of Emergency Management shall be based upon the earnings of such persons from their primary employers.

Description: RCW 51.32.185 Occupational diseases -- Presumption of occupational disease for fire fighters -- Limitations -- Exception -- Rules. (1) In the case of fire fighters as defined in RCW 41.26.030(4) (a), (b), and (c) who are covered under Title 51 RCW and fire fighters, including supervisors, employed on a full-time, fully compensated basis as a fire fighter of a private sector employer's fire department that includes over fifty such fire fighters, there shall exist a prima facie presumption that (a) Respiratory disease; (b) heart problems that are experienced within seventy-two hours of exposure to smoke, fumes, or toxic substances; (c) cancer; and (d) infectious diseases are occupational diseases under RCW 51.08.140. This presumption of occupational disease may be rebutted by a preponderance of the evidence. Such evidence may include, but is not limited to, use of tobacco products, physical fitness and weight, lifestyle, hereditary factors, and exposure from other employment or nonemployment activities. (2) The presumptions established in subsection (1) of this section shall be extended to an applicable member following termination of service for a period of three calendar months for each year of requisite service, but may not extend more than sixty months following the last date of employment. (3) The presumption established in subsection (1)(c) of this section shall only apply to any active or former fire fighter who has cancer that develops or manifests itself after the fire fighter has served at least ten years and who was given a qualifying medical examination upon becoming a fire fighter that showed no evidence of cancer. The presumption within subsection (1)(c) of this section shall only apply to primary brain cancer, malignant melanoma, leukemia, non-Hodgkin's lymphoma, bladder cancer, ureter cancer, and kidney cancer. (4) The presumption established in subsection (1)(d) of this section shall be extended to any fire fighter who has contracted any of the following infectious diseases: Human immunodeficiency virus/acquired immunodeficiency syndrome, all strains of hepatitis, meningococcal meningitis, or mycobacterium tuberculosis. (5) Beginning July 1, 2003, this section does not apply to a fire fighter who develops a heart or lung condition and who is a regular user of tobacco products or who has a history of tobacco use. The department, using existing medical research, shall define in rule the extent of tobacco use that shall exclude a fire fighter from the provisions of this section. [2002 c 337 § 2, 1987 c 515 § 2] NOTES: Legislative findings -- 1987 c 515: "The legislature finds that the employment of fire fighters exposes them to smoke, fumes, and toxic or chemical substances. The legislature recognizes that fire fighters as a class have a higher rate of respiratory disease than the general public. The legislature therefore finds that respiratory disease should be presumed to be occupationally related for industrial insurance purposes for fire fighters." [1987 c 515 § 1] RCW 41.26.030 Definitions (4) "Fire fighter" means (a) Any person who is serving on a full time, fully compensated basis as a member of a fire department of an employer and who is serving in a position which requires passing a civil service examination for fire fighter, and who is actively employed as such; (b) Anyone who is actively employed as a full time fire fighter where the fire department does not have a civil service examination; (c) Supervisory fire fighter personnel; (d) Any full time executive secretary of an association of fire protection districts authorized under RCW 52.12.031. Asthma - presumption shall apply only to fire fighters that never smoked tobacco or former smokers who last smoked five years or more before date of manifestation of the disease COPD/emphysema/chronic bronchitis - presumption shall apply only to fire fighters that never smoked tobacco or former smoker who last smoked fifteen years or more before date of manifestation of the disease Lung cancer - presumption shall apply only to fire fighters that never smoked or former smoker who last smoked fifteen years or more before date of manifestation of the disease WAC 296-14-310 When does a presumption of occupational disease for fire fighters apply? RCW 51.32.185 specifies a presumption that certain medical conditions are occupational diseases for fire fighters. Those conditions are heart problems experienced within seventy-two hours of exposure to smoke, fumes, or toxic substances; respiratory disease; specific cancers as defined by RCW 51.32.185, and infectious diseases as defined by RCW 51.32.185. It is enacted by the _____ as follows:

SECTION 1. Title _____ of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding thereto the following chapter entitled "Line of Duty Death Benefits for Public Safety Officers."

SECTION 2. Findings.

- a. The _____ finds and declares that by reason of their employment public safety officers, including fire fighters, emergency medical providers and law enforcement officers are required to work in the midst of and are subject to daily hazards that place their lives at risk while performing a public service. Additionally, it is found that the hazards inherent in law enforcement and fire suppression and the current lack of or low level of State and local death benefits might discourage qualified individuals from seeking careers in these fields, thus hampering the ability of communities within the State [Province] of _____ to provide for public safety. Accordingly, it is found that the enactment of this legislation will assist in the recruitment and retention of fire fighters and law enforcement officers.
- b. The _____ further finds and declares that this legislation provides a strong statement about the value the State [Province] of _____ places on the contributions of those who serve their communities in potentially dangerous circumstances.

- c. The _____ further finds and declares that all the aforementioned conditions exist and arise out of or in the course of such employment.

SECTION 3. Definitions. The following terms when used in this Act shall have the meanings herein ascribed:

- e. Line of Duty - Any action that the public safety officer whose primary function is crime control or reduction, enforcement of the criminal law, or suppression of fires is authorized or obligated by law, rule, regulation, or condition of employment or service to perform. Other public safety officers, whose primary function is not law enforcement or fire suppression must be engaged in their authorized law enforcement, fire suppression, rescue squad, or ambulance duties to be eligible under this legislation.
- f. Public Agency - Any public agency including, United States [Canada]; the State [Province] of _____; any unit of local government; any combination of such State [Province] or units; and any department, agency, or instrumentality of the foregoing.
- g. Public Safety Officer - An individual serving a public agency in an official capacity, with or without compensation, as a law enforcement officer, fire fighter, or member of a public rescue squad or ambulance crew.

- h. Volunteer Fire Fighter or Volunteer Rescue Squad/Ambulance Member - An individual that belongs to an officially recognized or is a designated member of a legally organized volunteer fire department, rescue squad, or ambulance crew.

SECTION 4. Line of Duty Death Benefit to Dependents of Deceased Public Safety Officers.

- a. If an active, inactive or retired public safety officer dies from a direct and proximate result of a traumatic injury sustained while active and in the line of duty, as defined herein, the public safety officer's dependent shall be entitled to receive from the State [Province] a Line of Duty Death Benefit of $100,000. Such benefits shall cover deaths from an occupational disease if there is a traumatic injury or single exposure that is a substantial contributing factor in the public safety officer's death.

Sponsor Statement

House Bill 200, "Worker's Comp: Disease Presumption"

House Bill 200, "An Act relating to the presumption of coverage for a workers' compensation claim for disability as a result of certain diseases for certain occupations," establishes a presumption in the Worker's Compensation program for professional and volunteer firefighters who have had a qualifying medical exam and have been on the job at least seven years.

It grants benefits to firefighters stricken with certain types of cancer and heart disease due to their exposure to toxic chemicals, and high levels of carbon monoxide. Silent killers like asbestos and benzene can appear after they leave the job. The requirements of this bill are that the claims must be made within five years after the last day of employment.

In addition to firefighters, first responders deserve protection for the health and safety risks they live with in order to keep us safe. HB 200 also includes a presumption that compensation for certain disabilities resulting from blood born pathogens be covered.

Arguments have been made that this coverage would be exorbitantly expensive; however this has not been the case in other states. For example, the state of California has over 30,000 paid firefighters and more than 30,000 volunteers, but the addition of cancer presumptive benefits has had no impact on the actuarial assumptions system for its retirement system.

Firefighters and first responders take great risks every day to protect our lives and the lives of our loved ones. They are regularly exposed to dangerous elements such as carcinogenic substances, carbon monoxide and contaminated blood that can lead to chronic and debilitating illnesses later in their life.

A great deal of thought has been put into this legislation in order to create defined parameters of who qualifies for these benefits. I ask for the committee's favorable consideration for House Bill 200.

HOUSE BILL NO. 200

IN THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF ALASKA

TWENTY-FIFTH LEGISLATURE - FIRST SESSION

BY REPRESENTATIVES DAHLSTROM, Doll

Introduced: 3/14/07

Referred: Labor and Commerce, Judiciary

A BILL

FOR AN ACT ENTITLED

1 "An Act relating to the presumption of coverage for a workers' compensation claim for 2 disability as a result of certain diseases for certain occupations."

3 BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF ALASKA:

4 * Section 1. AS 23.30 is amended by adding a new section to read:

5 Sec. 23.30.121. Presumption of coverage for disability from diseases for 6 certain occupations. (a) There is a presumption that a claim for compensation for 7 disability as a result of the diseases described in (b) and (c) of this section for the 8 occupations listed under (b) and (c) of this section is within the provisions of this 9 chapter. This presumption of coverage may be rebutted by a preponderance of the 10 evidence. The evidence may include the use of tobacco products, physical fitness and 11 weight, lifestyle, hereditary factors, and exposure from other employment or 12 nonemployment activities.

13 (b) For a fire fighter covered under AS 23.30.243,

14 (1) there is a presumption that a claim for compensation for disability

1 as a result of the following diseases is within the provisions of this chapter:

2 (A) respiratory disease;

3 (B) cardiovascular events that are experienced within 72 hours
4 after exposure to smoke, fumes, or toxic substances; and

5 (C) the following cancers:

6 (i) primary brain cancer;

7 (ii) malignant melanoma;

8 (iii) leukemia;

9 (iv) non-Hodgkin's lymphoma;

10 (v) bladder cancer;

11 (vi) ureter cancer;

12 (vii) kidney cancer; and

13 (viii) prostate cancer;

14 (2) notwithstanding AS 23.30.100(a), following termination of service,
15 the presumption established in (1) of this subsection extends to the fire fighter for a 16 period of three calendar months for each year of requisite service but may not extend 17 more than 60 calendar months following the last date of employment;

18 (3) the presumption established in (1) of this subsection applies only to 19 an active or former fire fighter who has a disease described in (1) of this subsection
20 that develops or manifests itself after the fire fighter has served at least seven years 21 and who

22 (A) was given a qualifying medical examination upon 23 becoming a fire fighter or during employment as a fire fighter that did not 24 show evidence of the disease; and

25 (B) with regard to diseases described in (1)(C) of this
26 subsection, demonstrates that, while in the course of employment as a fire 27 fighter, the fire fighter was exposed to a known carcinogen, as defined by the 28 International Agency for Research on Cancer or the National Toxicology
29 Program, and the carcinogen is associated with a disabling cancer.

30 (c) The presumption in this subsection applies to fire fighters covered under 31 AS 23.30.243, peace officers, and emergency medical and rescue personnel. In this

1 subsection, "emergency medical and rescue personnel" means a trauma technician,
 2 emergency medical technician, rescuer, or mobile intensive care paramedic who is a
 3 paid employee of a first responder service, a rescue service, an ambulance service, or a 4 fire department that provides emergency medical or rescue services as part of its
 5 duties; under this subsection,

6 (1) there is a presumption that a claim for compensation for disability
 7 as a result of the following contagious diseases is within the provisions of this chapter:

8 (A) human immunodeficiency virus;

9 (B) acquired immunodeficiency syndrome;

10 (C) all strains of hepatitis;

11 (D) meningococcal meningitis;

12 (E) mycobacterium tuberculosis; and

13 (F) any uncommon infectious disease the contraction of which 14 the United States Secretary of Labor determines to be related to the hazards to 15 which an employee in fire protection activities may be subject.

16 (2) the presumption established in (1) of this subsection applies only to 17 fire fighters covered under AS 23.30.243, peace officers, and emergency medical and 18 rescue personnel who were given a qualifying medical examination upon becoming or 19 during service as a fire fighter, peace officer, or provider of emergency medical or 20 rescue services who did not show evidence of the disease.

21 (d) The provisions of (b)(1)(A) and (B) of this section do not apply to a fire 22 fighter who develops a cardiovascular or lung condition and who has a history of 23 tobacco product use as established under (e)(2) of this section.

24 (e) The department shall, by regulation, define

25 (1) for purposes of (b)(1) - (3) and (c)(1) - (2) of this section, the type 26 and extent of the medical examination that is needed to eliminate evidence of the 27 disease in an active or former fire fighter; and

28 (2) for purposes of (d) of this section, the nature and quantity of a 29 person's tobacco product use; the standards adopted under this paragraph shall use or 30 be based on existing medical research.

31 (f) In this section, "fire fighter" has the meaning given in AS 09.65.295.

1 * Sec. 2. The uncodified law of the State of Alaska is amended by adding a new section to 2 read:

3 APPLICABILITY. The presumption of coverage established by this Act applies to 4 claims made on or after the effective date of this Act, even if the exposure leading to the 5 occupational disease occurred before the effective date of this Act.

Dear Representative Nancy Dahlstrom:

The Alaska Fire Chief's Association is in support of HB 200 which would provide presumption coverage for our fire fighters for respiratory disease, heart attacks and cancers that are occupational hazards in the fire service.

The fire chiefs of Alaska see the need to provide this coverage for our employees that are protecting Alaska, in order to provide for those that have served our communities in their time of need. We encourage the passage of House Bill 200 with the endorsement of the Alaska Fire Chief's Association.

RE: Oppose HB200

Dear Representative Olson and committee members:

The Alaska Municipal League Joint Insurance Association (AMLJIA) opposes HB200.

The AMLJIA is a joint insurance arrangement organized under AS 21.76. With approximately 152 member municipalities and school districts pooling for workers' compensation coverage, these local government entities bear the single largest exposure to changes in workers' compensation law as it applies to employees such as firefighters, EMTs, and police.

HB200 creates a presumption of workers' compensation coverage for firefighters for cardio/respiratory problems, as well as a variety of cancers for firefighters with seven or more years of service. All of these are chronic diseases that often have genetic and lifestyle choices as their cause.

HB200 further appears to add a presumption of workers' compensation coverage for several contagious diseases for these same employees whether or not their jobs include contact with bodily fluids.

The presumptions are unnecessary and potentially very costly. Present fire fighting technology and procedures call for use of personal protective equipment such as respirators and breathing dams. When following best practices and department procedures, the risk of contracting illnesses such as those listed in the bill is greatly reduced.

Currently, if a firefighter contracts a respiratory or heart disease and claims that it is work-related, it is up to the employer to demonstrate that it is not. These claims are covered by workers' compensation already. By creating a strict presumption, the claim will most often be covered by the workers' comp. system, even when it is not work-related.

PROTECT

A service of the ALASKA MUNICIPAL LEAGUE

The communicable disease provisions are also problematic. When EMTs, firefighters and others properly use personal protective equipment, the incidence rate of bloodborne diseases should be lower than the general population, not higher. In addition, exposures to blood and needlesticks are events that are generally indentifiable. There should be no doubt as to what day a firefighter gave mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to a victim or an EMT is accidentally stuck by a syringe. Therefore, the present system covers the work-related events just fine. Providing a presumption is unnecessary and would provide workers' compensation coverage to people who contract hepatitis, TB, HIV, AIDS or meningitis through more conventional means such as poor hygiene, unprotected sex, or even a dirty needle at a tattoo parlor.

These protections are offered once employees are cleared of pre-existing diseases by a medical screening. This presents a two-fold problem. One, the screenings may not be effective for latent diseases such as cancer. Two, depending upon the patient's age, the cost of such screenings approach $1,000 a piece, according to the Fairbanks Fire Department. Since the municipality would be required to bear the cost of such an exam, the overall costs of initial screenings statewide are estimated at $8 million, with annual recurring costs after that.

The National Council on Compensation Insurance (NCCI) promulgates the starting rates for all carriers and pools in Alaska. The NCCI estimates the cost to municipalities for the affected job classes to increase 10 to 20 percent, based on the presumptions in the bill. Worse yet, the bill is retroactive in nature, providing coverage for claims "even if the exposure leading to the occupational disease occurred before the effective date of this Act." These claims were never contemplated in the calculation of rates in the past and would be unfunded

There is no more expensive way to pay for an injury or illness than our current workers' compensation system. Health programs are able to control medical costs through negotiated agreements with health care providers. Workers' compensation can not. It is interesting to note that both workers' compensation and the health benefits are generally provided by the employer, at least with respect to the career firefighter.

As you likely know, Alaska's workers' compensation rates are the highest in the nation. This continued crisis in workers' compensation costs contributes to some local governments and businesses closing their doors. Now is the time to fix our workers' comp. problem, not make it worse by expanding benefits. Please consider the negative financial impacts this legislation would have on the State's political subdivisions.

Thank you.

I am pleased to provide you specific information regarding the claims experience of States that currently have presumptive cancer legislation.

As you are aware, I represent the 274,000 members of the International Association of Fire Fighters (IAFF) for occupational health, medicine and safety issues. I have been with the IAFF for over 28 years. Additionally, I have been personally involved in every state and provincial effort to obtain cancer compensation benefits for our members, whether through direct testimony or developing data and information to support legislative efforts.

During this vast experience, it became quite obvious to me that the fiscal impact and other financial information provided by opponents to fire fighter cancer legislation might be incomplete. This is not surprising since fire fighters throughout the United States are not universally covered by State Worker's Compensation Programs. Many states, by statute, allow fire departments to cover their employees for worker compensation benefits through the individual retirement systems. Hence, any claims made and or paid would not be recorded by the State Worker Compensation Bureau, but would be recorded by the individual retirement system. This would be the case in a number of other states that currently have cancer presumptive legislation. This data is more easily obtainable from those States that have statewide fire fighter pension systems, since the system collects and records the data. The only exception would be when the employer challenges the presumptive nature of the claim. In this case the State Worker Compensation program would record the claim.

We believe that it is reasonable to suggest that there would be some claims experience related to this type of coverage. Therefore, we were able to obtain some additional numbers on fire fighter disabilities and cost experience from around the country.

In the State of California, which has the largest career sector of fire fighters in the country (30,000) and one of the largest volunteer sectors (33,000) the addition of cancer presumptive benefits has had "no impact" on the actuarial assumptions or funding of the state's fire fighter retirement system (Assemblyman Sal Cannella, California Legislature). An actuary for the California Public Employee Retirement System (CALPERS), the largest retirement system in the United States, has declared that the addition of presumptive cancer benefits for fire fighters has had "minimal effect" on the actuarial costs to the retirement system. In fact, the financial implications were so minimal, that CALPERS never had to perform an actuarial impact study after the implementation of the benefit by the California legislature (David DuBois, Contract Services Department, CALPERS). During the first three years, an average of 45 annuitant claims were paid for cancer related disabilities. This is .07% of the active fire fighting workforce. The average claim for total cancer benefits was $14,075.00.

In 1984, the State of Illinois added cancer presumption language to its worker compensation statute. The City of Chicago employs over 50% of the 10,700 career fire fighters in the State of Illinois. During the 6 year period following the implementation of the statute the average number of beneficiaries receiving occupational disability benefits was 8.3% lower than the average number of beneficiaries in the six years prior to passage. Thus the inclusion of cancer benefits in 1984 obviously had no impact on the funding requirements for the occupational disability benefits portion of the Chicago Firemen's Annuity and Benefit Fund (Firemen's Annuity and Benefit Fund of Chicago Actuarial Statement).

In the first six years that they had fire fighter cancer legislation in Oklahoma, they had 22 claims paid statewide or 6% of the 378 disability claims paid. This averages to 4 claims per year for a rate of cancer claims of .03% at an average cost to the pension system of $10,409.00 per total cancer claim (Bob Hollander, Executive Director, Oklahoma Firefighters Pension and Retirement System). There are 3,420 career fire fighters and 9,000 volunteer fire fighters.

In Nevada, there were 3 cancer claims paid in the first four years that the legislation was enacted. None of these cases include lung cancer, which is covered under separate legislation (S. Mark Balen, President, Nevada Fire Fighters Association). There are 1,790 career fire fighters and 2,200 volunteer fire fighters in Nevada. This averages to less than 1 claim per year for a rate of cancer claims of .02%.

In Rhode Island, which passed the legislation in 1986, there were 6 claims paid in the first 8 years. This averages to less than 1 claim per year for a rate of cancer claims of .02% (Theodore Scripsack, Chairman, Rhode Island Firefighter's Relief Board). There are 2,200 career fire fighters and 2,800 volunteer fire fighters in Rhode Island.

In the first four years that they had cancer legislation in Massachusetts, there were 34 cancer claims paid (15 disability and 19 death benefits). (Joseph Martin, Deputy Director, Public Employee Retirement Agency). This averages to less than 9 claims per year at a rate of .03% of the active fire fighting workforce.

December 18, 2006

There are 14,500 career fire fighters and 11,400 volunteer fire fighters in Massachusetts.

In Florida there 22,445 active career fire fighters. Using the assumption that Florida has a rate that does not exceed the average of the above States' cancer related disabilities -- .034% of the active fire fighting workforce -- the expected number of annual cancer claims for career fire fighters would be 8 fire fighters.

Based on the above information on actual experience, the cost per cancer claim for those states having presumptive occupational disease statutes is substantially less than the unsubstantiated figures asserted by other parties. The reason for this, unlike benefits for other occupations, is the higher mortality rate and significantly shorter life expectancy associated with fire fighting. Fire fighters are dying too quickly from cancer and other occupational diseases, unfortunately producing a significant pension annuity saving for states and municipalities.

I hope this information is helpful. If you need any additional assistance, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Dear Representative Nancy Dahlstrom:

The Alaska Fire Chief's Association is in support of HB 200 which would provide presumption coverage for our fire fighters for respiratory disease, heart attacks and cancers that are occupational hazards in the fire service.

The fire chiefs of Alaska see the need to provide this coverage for our employees that are protecting Alaska, in order to provide for those that have served our communities in their time of need. We encourage the passage of House Bill 200 with the endorsement of the Alaska Fire Chief's Association.

My name is Wayne Armstrong and I am a professional Firefighter/Paramedic for Central Emergency Services. I am writing this email asking all of you for your support of HB 200 Presumptive Legislation for Firefighters. This bill addresses very important issues for the protection of all firefighters when it is their time of need. As you may know being a Firefighter/Paramedic is an extremely hazardous job and the hazards vary from running into burning buildings to going to the aid of someone with any number of infectious diseases. Most Firefighters and Rescue personell do their job every day, providing care, transport and possibly saving a families home or a life from a burning building without any second thoughts of "I can't go help that person he may have HIV, or HEP. C" or "I can't go into the building because I may get burned or I may fill my lungs full of a carcinogen filled smoke". They do it because they love doing the job and helping others. They do it even though they know they could end up with a permanent disability or an infectious disease that could kill them. With your help this bill could make it where they don't have to fight for their rights while they may be fighting for their lives.

I would like to encourage you to help push this bill through so you can help those who answer the call when others are in need of help.

Thank you,

Wayne Armstrong

As a retired Correctional Officer who currently is employed by the Alaska Correctional Association I wish to express my appreciation for your sponsorship of HB 200 to provide presumptive coverage for certain diseases for firefighters, peace officers, and emergency medical and rescue personnel. Thank you!

If it is not too late for suggestions, I would ask you to consider changing 1 (c) (1) (F), which currently reads "any uncommon infectious disease the contraction of which the United States Secretary of Labor determines to be related to the hazards to which an employee in fire protection activities may be subject" to "any uncommon infectious disease the contraction of which the United States Secretary of Labor determines to be related to the hazards to which fire fighters, peace officers, and emergency medical and rescue personnel may be subject"

With or without any revisions, I want to personally thank you for sponsoring this bill.

Thank you for your time and consideration for this bill. As a firefighter in the State of Alaska for the past 22 years, I urge you to do all you can to get this bill passed. It will benefit firefighters statewide and open the door to more options than what worker's compensation addresses.

The hazards we face today are much different and much more caustic than of times the past, largely due to technology and product content. While we do more training than ever, and have better personal protective equipment, we are still exposed to greater hazards while fighting fire and in our normal day-to-day response to our communities needs.

Again, thank you.

Dear Senator French and Representative Dahlstrom,

I would like to thank you both for sponsoring Senate Bill 117 and House Bill 200 respectively. History has proven time and again that long after we hang up our helmets and retire from this career we cannot escape the long term health risks and problems associated with this line of work. I am a 49 year old Captain who has been a firefighter with the city of Anchorage for 23 years. I have worried about the future of my health and I'm glad steps are being taken to assist us with health benefits.

I won't make this a long letter but please accept my gratitude and that of my family for moving this bill through the long and tedious process. The Anchorage Fire Fighters will not forget you.

Dear Representative Dahlstrom,

On behalf of the Alaska State Firefighters Association, I would like to thank you for your introduction and support of HB 200. Alaska's fire service is in reality, an "all hazards" service. On a daily basis firefighters respond into situations where there are unknown hazards in an effort to assist the Alaskans we serve. This important legislation will provide presumptive coverage for occupational illnesses such as; respiratory disease, heart attacks, and certain cancers.

State of the art hazard identification and personal protective equipment used by Alaska firefighters, while effective, do not and can not protect us from all hazards. The Alaska State Firefighters Association endorses the passage of House Bill 200.

HB 205 helps clarify and strengthen a number of items in the current statutes and increases consumer protection in the home buying and selling process.

This legislation will:

- The House Finance Committee amended the bill to change the wording describing felonies for which one may lose their license. Removes the term "moral turpitude" from Chapter 88. Refers to brokers, associate brokers, and licensees.
- Require real estate brokers to adopt written policies and procedures that would be available to the public on request. The policies and procedures would require all real estate licensees to:
 - Notify their broker or broker designee in the event of any legal dispute or allegations of wrong doing
 - Maintain regular communication with their broker or broker designee
 - Act fairly and honestly in all dealings
 - Comply with all real estate laws
- Increase the number of education hours before a person can be licensed from 20 hours to 40 hours.
- Increase the continuing education hours from 20 hours to 30 hours
- Clarify the issue of operating multiple offices and the responsibilities of a broker that resides out of state.

The Association of Alaska Realtors strongly supports this bill.
