

CHAPTER 14.

AN ACT

[S. B. 21]

To amend Sections 1059 and 1060 of the Compiled Laws of Alaska, 1913, relating to motions and affidavits for new trials, and providing for extension of time for filing the same.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the Territory of Alaska:

Section 1. That Section 1059, Compiled Laws of Alaska, 1913, be, and the same hereby is, amended so as to read as follows:

Motion for new trial when filed, and determined.

“Section 1059. A motion for a new trial, with the affidavits, if any, in support thereof, shall, except as hereinafter provided, be filed within three days after giving the verdict or other decision sought to be set aside; but the court may, upon satisfactory showing, extend the time for filing such motion and affidavits. When the adverse party is entitled to oppose the motion by counter affidavits, he shall file the same within three days after the filing of the motion, or within such further time as the court may allow. A motion shall be heard and determined during the term unless the court continues the same for advisement or want of time to hear it.”

Section 2. That Section 1060, Compiled Laws of Alaska, 1913, be, and the same hereby is, amended so as to read as follows:

Upon trial by the court and decision in vacation.

“Section 1060. Upon a trial by the court, when the decision is given in vacation, a motion and affidavits for a new trial shall be filed within twenty days from the time of filing such decision, but the court or judge thereof may, upon proper showing, extend the time for filing such motion and affidavits.”

Court may extend time.

Approved April 4, 1923.
