

following that for which any license has been issued to a licensee, said licensee shall make an affidavit showing the amount of business done during the preceding year under said respective licenses and the points and establishments from which such business was done, which shall be filed with the Clerk of said Court. The licensee shall pay to said Clerk the license fees accrued during such preceding year at the time of filing such affidavit. Unless such affidavit is so filed and fee paid, any licenses outstanding in the name of such licensee which have been issued under Chapter 78 of the Session Laws of Alaska for 1937, as amended, shall be forthwith cancelled by an order of said court. But the failure to file the affidavit or cancellation of any existing license shall not relieve any licensee from paying the fees in this Act prescribed.
