

sion Laws of Alaska of 1949, (2) records pertaining to juveniles, (3) medical and related public health records, (4) records required to be kept confidential by any Federal law or regulation or by Territorial law. Every public officer having the custody of records not included in the exceptions is bound to permit such inspection, and to give on demand and on payment of the legal fees therefor a certified copy of such writing or record, and such copy shall in all cases be evidence of the original. Recorders shall permit memoranda, transcripts, and copies of such public writings and records in their offices to be made by photography or otherwise for the purpose of examining titles to real estate described therein, making abstracts of title or guaranteeing or insuring the titles thereof, or building and maintaining title and abstract plants, and shall furnish proper and reasonable facilities therefor to persons having lawful occasion for access thereto for such purposes, subject to such reasonable rules and regulations, in conformity to the direction of the court, as shall be necessary for the protection of such writings and records and to prevent interference with the regular discharge of the duties of such recorders and their employees.

Approved March 16, 1957

CHAPTER 55

AN ACT

Relating to dog control, authorizing reciprocal agreements between public utility districts, incorporated cities, or other units of local government, and the Department of Taxation, for the administration of dog control.

(S. B. 24)

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the Territory of Alaska:

Section 1. Cities, public utility districts, and other political subdivisions of the Territory of Alaska may provide for the licensing, control and regulation of all dogs, and the disposal of dogs deemed to be vicious, dangerous, or otherwise a menace to life or health. This includes the authority of such governmental units to enter into contracts with each other and with the Territory of Alaska, through the Territorial Tax Commissioner to operate within an area to be defined in the contract, and which area may include the land occupied by any combination of the contracting governmental units.

Approved March 16, 1957