SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 9

Relating to the Legislative "Boiler Room".

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE:

WHEREAS during each session of the Legislature thousands of words are spoken and thousands more are written in a seemingly never-ending process; and

WHEREAS the daily operation of the Legislature is dependent, in the last analysis, on the members receiving this myriad of material in printed form day by day; and

WHEREAS in order that this can be accomplished those legislative employees who work in the "Boiler Room" are often times called upon to work through the night or are summoned to work at times when members of the Legislature themselves are long before enjoying the luxury of sleep; and

WHEREAS in the more than five years time that Sam Pekovich has been in charge of the legislative duplication shop, there has never been an instance in which a bill, journal, calendar, status, or what have you has ever failed to be printed and distributed by the time it was needed; and

WHEREAS this phenomenal record has been maintained even on those occasions when duplicating machines and collators have refused to function properly; and

WHEREAS this record maintained by the "Boiler Room" is one of the finest, if not the finest, example of devotion to duty by state employees anywhere;

BE IT RESOLVED that the Alaska State Senate commends Sam Pekovich and his entire crew for service above and beyond the call of duty and expresses its most sincere congratulations on a job well done.

COPIES of this Resolution shall be sent to Sam Pekovich; Jack Koby, Dennis Wähto, Bruce Gleason, Bob McCormick, Gary Mahoney, Sophie McCurry, Donna Peel, Nellie Bennett, Bonnie Longworth and Midge Geary.
